Dear Mary Dove,

My husband and I have made small contributions through Act Blue for local politicians we've chosen, as well as state and national ones. Act Blue has never endorsed any of them and we have been able to set up our own pages to help encourage friends to donate to politicians that we support. We always assumed that our donations were going directly to the candidates we had chosen and that Act Blue was just like PayPal or Visa/ Mastercard. We sincerely hope that you are not considering making Act Blue a PAC and that any candidate who has raised funds through that conduit cannot get matching Federal Funds. I thought that's why Federal Matching Funds exist—to match small donations to candidates.

Sincerely,

Karen Sarrow
