Contributions: Public Funding

Gabriella Miller Kids First Research Act of 2014

- ▣ Terminated public funding for Presidential nominating conventions:
 - Directed U.S. Treasury to transfer former convention funds to a 10-Year Pediatric Research Initiative Fund
 - President signed the Act into law on April 3
 - In 2014, Treasury transferred $37.8 million

I. Contributions – National Party Accounts (including Public Funding of Presidential Elections, National Political Party Committee Accounts and Party Committee Independent Expenditure Accounts)

A. Legislative Update

1. Gabriella Miller Kids First Research Act, Public Law 113-94, 128 Stat. 1085 (2014)
 - a. This Act terminated public funding for Presidential nominating conventions.
 - b. This Act also directed the U.S. Treasury to transfer the funds formerly known as convention funds to a fund known as the 10-Year Pediatric Research Initiative Fund.
 - c. Introduced by Rep. Gregg Harper (MS-3), with a bipartisan group of 152 co-sponsors, H.R. 2019 passed the House of Representatives by a vote of 295 to 103, and passed the Senate by unanimous consent. The President signed it into law on April 3, 2014.
 - d. In 2014, U.S. Treasury transferred $37.8 million to the Fund, of which $12.6 million has been appropriated for use by the National Institutes of Health.

Contributions: National Party Accounts

- ▣ AO 2014-12 (DNC and RNC)
 - The DNC and the RNC jointly asked if they can raise funds under a separate contribution limit to finance 2016 presidential nomination conventions
 - AO allows national party committees to establish convention committee to raise funds under separate limit

B. Policy Update

1. AO 2014-12 (Democratic National Committee (DNC) and Republican National Committee (RNC))

- a. In August 2014, the DNC and the RNC jointly asked if they can raise funds under a separate contribution limit to finance expenses for their 2016 presidential nominating conventions.
- b. This AO concluded that they may establish convention committees to raise funds under a separate limit.

Contributions: Public Funding

Marked Up

H.R. 412

Rep. Tom Cole (OK-4)

- ☐ Terminates Presidential public funding programs
- ☐ Directs US Treasury to transfer $88M from Presidential Election Campaign Fund (PECF) to the 10-year Pediatric Research Initiative Fund, with the balance of the PECF to the general treasury

C. Legislative Update

1. H.R. 412, Rep. Tom Cole (OK-4)

- a. Marked up by Committee on House Administration on March 4, 2015 and ordered to be reported to House of Representatives.
- b. Terminates the presidential public financing programs.
- c. Directs the U.S. Treasury to transfer $88 million from the Presidential Election Campaign Fund (PECF) to the 10-Year Pediatric Research Initiative Fund, with the balance of the PECF (approximately $180 million) to the general treasury.
- d. Also referred to the Committee on Ways & Means.

Contributions: National Party Accounts

Consolidated and Further Appropriations Act of 2015

- ▣ Provisions of “cromnibus” permit national party committees to establish new accounts for:
 - Presidential nominating conventions
 - Election recounts and other legal expenses
 - Party headquarters buildings
- ▣ Contribution limit = 300% limit to national party
 - $45,000/yr – multicandidate committees
 - $100,200/yr – all other contributors (2015-16)

D. Legislative Update

1. Consolidated and Further Continuing Appropriations Act, 2015, Div. N, § 101, Public Law 113-235, 128 Stat. 2130, 2772-73 (2014).
 - a. One provision of the “cromnibus” provides that national party committees may establish accounts to defray certain expenses incurred with respect to:
 - (1) presidential nominating conventions;
 - (2) election recounts and other legal proceedings; and
 - (3) headquarters buildings.
 - b. The contribution limits applicable to these accounts are 300% of the limit on contributions to national party committees, which means that the accounts may accept up to $45,000 per year from multicandidate committees and $100,200 per year from all other contributors during the 2015-2016 election cycle.
 - c. Descriptions of these provisions appear in the Congressional Record: 160 Cong. Rec. H9286 (daily ed. Dec. 11, 2014) (statement of Rep. Boehner) and 160 Cong. Rec. S6814 (daily ed. Dec. 13, 2014) (statement of Sen. Reid).
 - d. Relevant articles:

Contributions: National Party Accounts

H.R. 154, Close the Floodgates Act

Rep. Derek Kilmer (WA-6)

- ▣ Would repeal “cromnibus” provisions that permit national parties to establish accounts for presidential nominating conventions, party headquarters buildings and recounts and other legal expenses

2. H.R. 154, Close the Floodgates Act, Rep. Derek Kilmer (WA-6)
 - a. Introduced on January 6, 2015.
 - b. A bill to repeal the provision of the Consolidated and Further Continuing Appropriations Act, 2015, that amended FECA to establish separate contribution limits for contributions made to national parties to support presidential nominating conventions, party headquarters buildings, and recounts and other legal proceedings.
 - c. Referred to the Committee on House Administration.

E. Policy Update

1. Future Rulemaking Possible

Commission is assessing the impact of the Consolidated and Further Continuing Appropriations Act on existing regulations.

Election Assistance Commission

Marked Up

*H.R. 195, Election
Assistance Termination Act*
Rep. Gregg Harper (MS-3)

- ▣ Terminates Election Assistance Commission (EAC)
- ▣ Transfers duties under the Voter Registration Act of 1993 (“Motor Voter”) to the FEC
- ▣ In 112th Congress, H.R. 3463 passed in House by vote of 235 to 190 on December 1, 2011

F. Legislative Update

1. H.R. 195, Election Assistance Termination Act, Rep. Gregg Harper (MS-3)
 - a. Marked up by Committee on House Administration on March 4, 2015 and ordered to be reported to House of Representatives.
 - b. Terminates the Election Assistance Commission
 - c. Transfers to the FEC only its duties under the Voter Registration Act of 1993, known as the “Motor Voter Act.”
 - d. History:
 - 113th Congress (2013-14): H.R. 1994, Reported by the Committee on House Administration; H.R. Rep. 113-293 (Dec. 12, 2013).
 - 112th Congress (2011-12): H.R. 3463, which would have terminated the presidential public funding programs and the Election Assistance Commission, passed the House of Representatives by 235-190 on December 1, 2011.

Contributions: Party IE Accounts

Rufer v. FEC / RNC v. FEC

- ▣ Plaintiff political parties sought to accept contributions of unlimited amounts in bank accounts for independent expenditures
- ▣ District court found not frivolous but not likely to succeed
- ▣ Stipulated dismissals at Court of Appeals

G. Litigation Update

1. Rufer v. FEC / Republican National Committee (RNC) v. FEC*, ___ F. Supp. 2d ___, 2014 WL 4076053 (D.D.C. Aug. 19, 2014)
 - a. Committees of the Libertarian and Republican parties and persons associated with those parties challenged limits on contributions to the parties as applied to accounts they proposed to use solely for expenditures that are not coordinated with candidates. The court denied the Rufer/Libertarian Party plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction, finding them unlikely to succeed given past Supreme Court cases upholding limits on contributions to political parties.
 - b. The court also considered requests by plaintiffs to proceed pursuant to two special judicial review provisions and found the case inappropriate for one provision that provides for a direct appeal to the Supreme Court. The court found the case appropriate for another special procedure, concluding that the challenges presented substantial, nonfrivolous questions that were sent to the en banc Court of Appeals.
 - c. Plaintiffs in both cases ultimately chose to dismiss their cases.

Contributions: Biennial Aggregate Limits

McCutcheon v. FEC

- ▣ Supreme Court strikes down biennial aggregate limits on overall individual contributions to:
 - Candidates;
 - Party Committees; and
 - PACs

- ▣ Limits violate First Amendment

II. Contributions: Biennial Aggregate Limits

A. Litigation Update

1. McCutcheon v. FEC*, 134 S. Ct. 1434 (Apr. 2, 2014).
 - a. Plaintiffs Shaun McCutcheon and the Republican National Committee challenged the biennial aggregate contribution limits that at the time were codified at 2 U.S.C. § 441a(a)(3) and limited individuals to giving $48,600 to candidates and $74,600 to non-candidate committees, on First Amendment grounds.
 - b. On April 2, 2014, the Supreme Court concluded that the aggregate limits are unconstitutional. The aggregate limits prohibit an individual from fully contributing to all the candidates of a contributor's choosing, and the Court noted that there were impediments to individuals being able to find other ways of expressing support for a number of candidates.
 - c. Aggregate limits do not meaningfully prevent actual or apparent quid pro quo corruption, the court's opinion concluded, because an individual could not make many contributions to other entities in order to have those funds routed to a particular candidate of their choosing. The court found that other rules and practical concerns would prevent that from happening.
 - d. Regarding concerns about the potential for officeholders to solicit and receive large contributions for a number of candidates and committees at once, the Court concluded the aggregate limits restricted more First Amendment activity than necessary to serve that purpose.

Contributions: Biennial Aggregate Limits

Commission Rulemaking

- ▣ Commission amends its regulations to conform to the McCutcheon decision
- ▣ Commission asks for public comment on whether to revise other regulations in light of McCutcheon decision
- ▣ Public hearing held on February 11, 2015

B. Policy Update

1. Aggregate Biennial Contribution Limits, 79 Fed. Reg. 77373 (Dec. 24, 2014) (Final Rule)

- a. To conform its regulations to the McCutcheon decision, the Commission deleted 11 CFR 110.5, which implemented the FECA's aggregate contribution limits.
- b. The Final Rule also made technical and conforming changes to several other regulations.

2. Aggregate Biennial Contribution Limits, 79 Fed. Reg. 62361 (Oct. 17, 2014) (Advance Notice of Proposed Rulemaking)

- a. The Commission asked for public comment on whether to begin a rulemaking to revise other regulations following the McCutcheon decision.
- b. Specifically, the Commission asked whether to revise its regulations regarding earmarking, affiliation, joint fundraising committees, and disclosure.
- c. The Commission received more than 32,000 comments and held a day-long public hearing on February 11, 2015.

Contributions: Per Election Limits

Holmes v. FEC

- ▣ Challenge to contributions limits applied on a per election basis
- ▣ District court found not likely to succeed and denied preliminary injunction

III. Contributions: Per Election Limit

A. Litigation Update

1. Holmes v. FEC, __ F. Supp. 3d __, 2014 WL 5316216 (D.D.C. Oct. 20, 2014)

- a. Two contributors to candidates contend that the then-$2,600, per-election contribution limit in federal law violated their First and Fifth Amendment rights by preventing them from donating $5,200 to candidates after primary elections for use only in connection with general-election campaigns.
- b. On October 20, 2014, the court denied plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction, finding that they were unlikely to succeed on their First Amendment claim because they could have contributed $2,600 to their preferred candidates before those candidates' primary elections, and the per-election limits are closely drawn to reduce corruption or its appearance.
- c. The court also found that federal law does not treat contributors to candidates who ran in uncontested primaries differently from other contributors. The court noted that it is candidates, rather than contributors, who determine how primary-election funds will be spent. The contribution limits are the same for all candidates based on the number of elections in which they run. The court thus found plaintiffs unlikely to succeed on their claim that they had been denied equal protection.

- d. The district court sent constitutional questions to the D.C. Circuit Court of Appeals en banc pursuant to a special judicial review provision. That court returned the case to the district court for record development and frivolousness screening. The district court will complete its consideration of the case by April 24, 2015.

Contributions: Limit to Candidates

H.R. 447

Rep. Michael Capuano (MA-7)

- ▣ Reduces limit on contributions from individuals to $1,000; to be indexed for inflation after 2018

IV. Contributions: Contribution Limit to Candidates

A. Legislative Update

1. H.R. 447, Rep. Michael E. Capuano (MA-7)
 - a. Introduced on January 21, 2015.
 - b. Reduces the contribution limit on contributions from individuals to candidates to $1,000, which would be indexed to inflation after 2018.
 - c. Referred to the Committee on House Administration.

Contributions: Contractors

Wagner v. FEC

- ▣ Challenge to prohibition on contributions by individual federal government contractors under:
 - First Amendment
 - Equal Protection
- ▣ Before the D.C. Circuit Court of Appeals sitting en banc

V. Contributions: Federal Government Contractors

A. Litigation Update

1. Wagner v. FEC*, 901 F. Supp. 2d 101 (D.D.C. Nov. 2, 2012), vacated, 717 F.3d 1007 (D.C. Cir. May 31, 2013), questions certified by, No. 11-1841 (D.D.C. June 5, 2013).

- a. This case is a constitutional challenge to the prohibition on contributions by federal government contractors, 52 U.S.C. § 30119 as applied to individual contractors.
- b. In November 2012, the United States District Court for the District of Columbia upheld the statute. The district court held that the ban does not violate:
 - (1) the First Amendment, because it is closely drawn to serve the government's important interest in preventing actual and apparent corruption, or
 - (2) the equal protection component of the Fifth Amendment, because individual contractors are not similarly situated to other persons who can generally make contributions (specifically federal employees and persons associated with corporations).
- c. In May 2013, the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit vacated the district court's ruling, finding that plaintiffs were required to pursue the case under a special judicial-review provision in FECA, 2 U.S.C. § 437h. The court held that the - parties named in that provision — the Commission, national party committees, and individual voters — must initiate litigation over the constitutionality of the Act under that provision. The unique provision requires the district court to certify nonfrivolous legal questions about FECA to the Court of Appeals sitting en banc.

- d. In June 2013, the district court issued an order certifying the constitutional questions in the case to the en banc D.C. Circuit. Oral argument was held on September 30, 2014.

Notice of Availability

- ▣ FEC Regulations, 11 CFR Part 115
 - Prohibition on “knowingly soliciting” a federal contractor
- ▣ Petition for Rulemaking
 - Include list of factors to determine when entities of same corporate family are distinct business entities

B. Policy Update

1. Notice of Availability

- a. Approved by Commission on March 19, 2015.
- b. Petition for Rulemaking from Public Citizen received Nov. 18, 2014.
 - (1) 11 C.F.R. Part 115 prohibits federal contractors from making contributions or expenditures to any political party, political committee, or federal candidate, or to any person for any political purpose or use. 11 CFR 115.2(a)
 - (2) Regulations also prohibit any person from knowingly soliciting a contribution from any federal contractor. 11 CFR 115.2(c)
 - (3) MUR 6726 (Chevron Corporation): complaint involving corporate contractor parent and corporate non-contractor subsidiary
 - (4) Petition asks Commission to promulgate specific factors for determining whether entities of the same corporate family are distinct business entities for purposes of these prohibitions.
- c. Comment period closes 60 days after publication in Federal Register

Contributions: Hybrid SSFs

Stop This Insanity, Inc. Employee Leadership Fund, et al v. FEC

- ▣ DC Circuit Court:
 - The First Amendment does not require that SSFs be permitted to set up an independent expenditure account without contribution or solicitation restrictions

VI. Contributions: Hybrid SSFs

A. Litigation Update

1. Stop This Insanity, Inc. Employee Leadership Fund v. FEC, 761 F.3d 10 (D.C. Cir. Aug. 5, 2014), cert. denied 83 U.S.L.W. 3242 (U.S. Jan. 12, 2015) (No. 14-391).
 - a. The separate segregated fund (“SSF”) of Stop This Insanity, Inc., a corporation, sought to establish a non-contribution account and to solicit unlimited contributions from members of its restricted class, as well as other persons, in order to fund independent expenditures.
 - b. Stop This Insanity, its SSF the Leadership Fund, and a group of potential contributors challenge the application of contribution and solicitation restrictions to their proposed non-contribution account of an SSF as an unconstitutional limit on their First Amendment rights of freedom of speech and association.
 - c. The Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit rejected the plaintiffs’ First Amendment challenge. The Court noted that there are solicitation restrictions on corporate PACs, and that corporations are permitted to fund the establishment, administration, and solicitation costs of their PACs without disclosure. The court also noted that PACs are no longer necessary for corporate involvement in independent expenditures; following Citizens United, corporations are permitted to make such expenditures with their general treasury funds.

- d. By seeking to finance independent expenditures through its separate segregated fund rather than directly with corporate funds, the court concluded that Stop This Insanity, Inc. was voluntarily choosing a more burdensome alternative. Because of the substantial overlap between the political speech of Stop This Insanity, Inc. and its separate segregated fund, the court held there was no substantial burden on the entities' First Amendment rights.
- e. In the alternative, even assuming a separate segregated fund's First Amendment rights should be viewed in isolation from its sponsoring organization, the Court found that disclosure requirements for solicitations furthered the governmental interest in preventing quid pro quo corruption.
- f. On January 12, 2015, the Supreme Court denied the plaintiffs' petition for certiorari.

Contributions: Multicandidate Status

Stop Reckless Economic Instability caused by Democrats PAC v. FEC

- ▣ District Court rejected First and Fifth Amendment challenges to:
 - Six-month waiting period for multicandidate status
 - Limits on contributions from multicandidate PACs to federal party committees

VII. Contributions: Multicandidate Status

A. Litigation Update

1. Stop Reckless Economic Instability caused by Democrats PAC, et al. v. FEC, Civil No. 1:14-397 (AJT-IDD) (E.D. Va. filed Apr. 14, 2014)
 - a. Stop Reckless Economic Instability caused by Democrats PAC (“Stop PAC”), Tea Party Leadership Fund, the Alexandria Republican City Committee, and American Future PAC claimed that the limits infringe upon their First Amendment rights of association and expression and the Fifth Amendment’s guarantee of equal protection.

- b. They sought to have:
- (1) the six-month waiting period for multicandidate PAC status struck down, so that the limit on contributions from Stop PAC to candidates would be raised from $2,600 per election (and indexed for inflation) to $5,000 per election;
 - (2) the limit on contributions from multicandidate PACs to state party committees raised from $5,000 per calendar year to $10,000 per calendar; and
 - (3) the limit on contributions from multicandidate PACs to national party committees raised from $15,000 per calendar year to $32,400 per calendar year.
- c. In each case, they seek whichever contribution limit is higher between 2 U.S.C. § 441a(a)(2) (the statutory limits for multicandidate candidate committees; now at 52 U.S.C. § 30116(a)(2)) and 2 U.S.C. § 441a(a)(1) (the statutory limits for other persons; now at 52 U.S.C. § 30116(a)(2)).
- d. On February 27, 2015, the court rejected plaintiffs' First Amendment challenge because contribution limits do not directly restrain speech and the new PAC in the case was free to engage in independent expression and organize volunteer efforts in support of candidates. The court also rejected plaintiffs' equal protection challenge, finding that new PACs pose a greater danger of circumvention of contribution limits and are not similarly situated to older PACs.
- e. Plaintiffs' time to appeal has not yet lapsed.

Libertarian National Committee v. FEC

- ▣ Challenge to limit on contributions to national party committees as applied to bequests
- ▣ D.C. Circuit: In general, limiting bequests to national party does not violate First Amendment
- ▣ On March 26, 2014, D.C. Circuit dismissed as moot as-applied challenge re: $217,734 bequest to LNC

VIII. Contributions: Bequests

A. Litigation Update

1. Libertarian National Committee v. FEC, 930 F. Supp. 2d 154 (D.D.C. Mar. 18, 2013), aff'd in part, 2014 WL 590973 (D.C. Cir. Feb. 7, 2014).

- a. Challenge to the annual limit on contributions to national party committees, then codified at 2 U.S.C. § 441a(a)(1)(B) (now 52 U.S.C. § 30116(a)(1)(B)), and in the amount of $32,400 (but indexed for inflation) as applied to bequests.
- b. In 2007, a Libertarian National Committee (“LNC”) supporter bequeathed about $217,000 to the LNC. The LNC wanted to accept that entire amount immediately instead of in annual amounts complying with the contribution limit.
- c. In March 2013, the United States District Court for the District of Columbia held that, generally, the contribution limit is constitutional as applied to bequeathed contributions to national party committees. In February 2014, a three-judge panel of the D.C. Circuit summarily affirmed this portion of the district court’s ruling.

- d. In a separate portion of its March 2013 ruling, the district court asked the D.C. Circuit sitting en banc (all active judges) to consider whether the particular $217,000 bequest to the LNC could validly be limited given the party's limited contact with the donor before he passed.
- e. On March 26, 2014, the en banc D.C. Circuit dismissed as moot the as-applied challenge re: $217,734 bequest to LNC.

IX. Contributions: Foreign Nationals

A. Policy Update

1. Advisory Opinion 2014-20 (Make Your Laws PAC)

- a. Nonconnected political committee (“requestor”) jointly owned rights to certain intellectual property relating to the requestor’s website and brand. All services in creating the intellectual property were provided by unpaid volunteers who were U.S. citizens. Volunteers signed agreements transferring all rights and ownership in the intellectual property to the requestor.
- b. Commission determined that the requestor can accept the same kind of unpaid services from foreign nationals under the volunteer services exemption from the definition of “contribution”.

UPDATES ON REPORTING AND DISCLOSURE

Reporting: Electioneering Communications

Van Hollen v. FEC

- ▣ Challenge to rules on contributors:
 - Disclosure of contributors to corporations and unions making electioneering communications
- ▣ Alleges:
 - Regulation requires too little disclosure
 - Only persons giving “for the purpose of furthering electioneering communications” must be disclosed
- ▣ District court struck the regulation down

I. Reporting: Electioneering Communications

A. Litigation Update

1. Van Hollen v. FEC, __ F. Supp. 3d __, 2014 WL 6657240 (D.D.C. Nov. 25, 2014), appeal docketed, Nos. 15-5016, 15-5017 (D.C. Cir.).
 - a. Challenge to FEC regulations on the disclosure of donations given to fund electioneering communications.
 - b. Representative Van Hollen claims that 11 CFR 104.20(c)(9) is contrary to FECA. The regulation requires the disclosure of any donation of $1,000 or more to corporations (including nonprofits) or labor organizations when the donation “was made for the purpose of furthering electioneering communications.”
 - c. Van Hollen argues that FECA requires corporations and unions to disclose all donations they receive of $1,000 or more unless the donations for electioneering communications have been segregated in a separate bank account.

- d. The district court initially found that FECA clearly requires every person who funds electioneering communications to disclose all contributors, but the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit reversed and found that the Act's disclosure requirement is ambiguous and the Commission had some room for interpretation. The matter returned to the district court for a determination of whether the FEC had reasonably exercised its discretion.
- e. On November 25, 2014, the district court found the Commission's rationale for the regulation unreasonable and unsupported by the evidence in the rulemaking record, and also found that the regulation frustrated the statute's disclosure objective. The court vacated the regulation.
- f. Intervenor-defendants Center for Individual Freedom and Hispanic Leadership Fund have appealed the decision.

B. Legislative Update

1. H.R. 430, Disclosure of Information on Spending on Campaigns Leads to Open and Secure Elections Act of 2015 (DISCLOSE 2015 Act), Rep. Chris Van Hollen (MD-8)

- a. Introduced January 21, 2015.
- b. Provides for additional disclosure requirements for corporations, labor organizations, Super PACs, 501(c) and 527 organizations.

- c. Specifically, covered organizations would be required to disclose campaign-related disbursements, which would include electioneering communications, independent expenditures and related transfers.
 - d. Additionally, the bill would:
 - (1) Extend the definition of “independent expenditure” to functional equivalent of express advocacy;
 - (2) Expand the electioneering communications time period;
 - (3) Extend “stand by your ad” disclaimer requirements to include top five funders;
 - (4) Require corporate disclosure to shareholders; and
 - (5) Expand lobbyist disclosure of campaign expenditures under Lobbying Disclosure Act of 1995.

Independence Institute v. FEC

- ▣ Challenge to rules on communication content
- ▣ Disclosure requirements valid as applied to advertisements that do not attack or oppose the referenced federal candidates

C. Litigation Update

1. Independence Institute v. FEC __ F. Supp. 3d __, 2014 WL 4959403 (D.D.C. Oct. 6, 2014), appeal docketed, No. 14-5249 (D.C. Cir.)
 - a. The Independence Institute, a nonprofit organization, challenged the application of federal disclosure requirements for “electioneering communications” to a radio advertisement it planned to air that it contended was a “genuine issue ad” which did not attack the referenced federal candidate.
 - b. On October 6, 2014, the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia court awarded judgment to the Commission, finding that the Supreme Court had rejected an attempt to limit application of the disclosure requirements to express advocacy and its functional equivalent in Citizens United.
 - c. Independence Institute has appealed.

II. Reporting: Administrative Fines

A. Policy Update

1. Extension of Administrative Fines Program

(79 Fed. Reg. 3302, Jan. 21, 2014) Extends AFP to cover reporting periods through December 31, 2018.

- a. Implements Public Law 113-72, 127 Stat. 1210, sec. 1 (Dec. 26, 2013), which also authorizes Commission to expand scope of AFP to cover additional categories of reporting violations.
- b. Future rulemaking will address possible expansion.

Reporting: Administrative Fines

- ▣ Expansion may include:
 - IE reports filed by individuals and others (Form 5)
 - Certain FEA reports filed by parties (Form 3X)
 - Electioneering Communication reports (Form 9)
 - 24- and 48-Hour IE reports filed by political committees (Schedule E) and by individuals and others (Form 5)
 - Lobbyist bundling reports (Form 3L)
 - Convention reports filed by convention/host committees

Reporting: Administrative Fines

Notice of Availability

- ▣ Expand AFP program
- ▣ Revise forms and instructions
 - Streamline Form 3X
 - Super PACs
 - Hybrid PACs
 - Corporate/labor contributions to Super PACs
 - Separate form for political party committees

2. Notice of Availability
 - a. Commission approved on March 19, 2015

- b. Petition for Rulemaking received January 23, 2015. Asks Commission to make changes including:
 - (1) Expand scope of AFP to the areas approved for expansion by Congress
 - (2) Use approach that considers the criteria in currently penalty schedule at 11 CFR 111.43 and similar factors but eschews strict formulaic penalty
 - (3) Revising forms and instructions to: 1) streamline Form 3X for reporting in-kind contributions; 2) reflect existence of Super PACs; 3) reflect existence of hybrid committees (Carey accounts); 4) reflect that corporations and labor organizations may make contributions to Super PACs and hybrid committees; 5) create separate reporting form for political party committees
- c. Comment deadline 60 days after publication in Federal Register

Reporting: Administrative Fines

Kuhn for Congress v. FEC

- ▣ Court rejected challenge to FEC administrative fine assessed for late filed report
- ▣ Inexperienced treasurer, birth of treasurer's baby and accountant errors do not excuse late filing.

B. Litigation Update

- 1. Kuhn for Congress v. FEC, No. 2:13-CV-3337-PMD, 2014 WL 7146910 (D.S.C. Dec. 15, 2014)
 - a. Kuhn for Congress filed an FEC report late, did not participate during the FEC's administrative fine process, and was assessed an $8,800 civil penalty. The committee filed a petition seeking review of the administrative fine with the U.S. District Court for the District of South Carolina.

- b. On December 15, 2014, the court found that plaintiff had waived its arguments against the fine by not challenging the fine before the FEC.
- c. The court also found that plaintiff's defenses failed to show that it had used "best efforts to file in a timely manner" but was prevented from doing so "by reasonably unforeseen circumstances" beyond its control. Its alleged difficulties included finding an experienced and knowledgeable person to serve as treasurer, the 12-day premature birth of the treasurer's baby, and alleged errors by the Committee's accountant.
- d. The court granted the FEC's motion to dismiss.

A. Litigation Update

1. Public Citizen v. FEC, No. 14-cv-00148 (D.D.C. filed Jan. 31, 2014)

- a. Plaintiffs Public Citizen, Craig Holman, ProtectOurElections.org, and Kevin Zeese challenge the Commission's dismissal of their allegation that Crossroads GPS, an entity organized under Section 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code, violated FECA by failing to register and report as a political committee.
- b. Plaintiffs contend that the group of Commissioners whose votes prevented the Commission from moving forward with an investigation acted contrary to law.
- c. The case raises a number of issues regarding the determination of political committee status, including whether it was reasonable for the controlling group of Commissioners to decline to count ads that were not express advocacy towards political committee status and whether it was reasonable to examine Crossroads GPS's spending according to the entity's fiscal year rather than by calendar year.
- d. Crossroads GPS has sought to intervene in the case and that request is pending before the D.C. Circuit Court of Appeals. The district court proceedings are stayed pending a decision on whether Crossroads GPS is permitted to intervene.

2. Citizens for Responsibility and Ethics in Washington v. FEC*, No. 14-cv-01419-CRC (D.D.C. filed Aug. 20, 2014)
- a. Plaintiffs Citizens for Responsibility and Ethics in Washington (CREW) and its executive director, Melanie Sloan challenge the Commission's dismissal of their administrative complaints alleging that two entities violated FECA by failing to register and report as political committees: American Action Network and Americans for Job Security.
 - b. The case raises the same issues discussed in regard to Public Citizen, above.
 - c. CREW also contends that the Commission has issued policies and/or a "de facto regulation" regarding these issues without following the procedural requirements of notice and an opportunity to comment for making regulations.

UPDATES ON PERSONAL USE OF CAMPAIGN FUNDS

Personal Use of Campaign Funds

FEC v. Craig

- ▣ Campaign funds spent for personal legal expenses
- ▣ $242,535 required to be paid to the US Treasury

I. Personal Use of Campaign Funds

A. Litigation Update

1. FEC v. Craig*, __ F. Supp. 3d __, 2014 WL 4823874 (D.D.C. Sept. 30, 2014), appeal docketed, No. 14-5297 (D.C. Cir. Nov. 28, 2014)
 - a. This case is an FEC enforcement action alleging that former Senator Larry Craig and his campaign committee violated FECA's ban on the personal use of campaign funds, 2 U.S.C. §439a(b). The Complaint alleges that defendants spent more than $200,000 in campaign funds to pay for then-Senator Craig's personal legal expenses resulting from an arrest for disturbing the peace in an airport.
 - b. On September 30, 2014, the United States District Court for the District of Columbia found that the campaign funds at issue were converted to Senator Craig's personal use because the legal bills would have existed irrespective of his duties as an officeholder.
 - c. The court ordered Senator Craig to disgorge $197,535 and pay a civil penalty of $45,000 to the United States Treasury.
 - d. Defendants have appealed.
