Subject: FEC Campaign Finance Reform Act

Hello. I have read a news story about the Finance Reform Act, which stated that comments regarding it were being sought at this address. I am writing to communicate my displeasure with this act. Among other disturbing aspects is the point that, as the story stated, "Under the law, signed by President Bush in March, corporations and labor unions generally may not engage in advocacy for a 'clearly identified candidate for federal election' within 60 days of a general election." To me, this indicates a biased attempt by George Bush to selectively undermine a group that he knows does not traditionally support his political party. This is a clear violation of both the Constitution and the spirit of the Act. As such, I am vehemently against this Act in its present form. I also feel it should cover internet advertising in the same way it covers other media such as television advertising. I urge all voters to speak against these forms of bias, in the hopes of working toward more egalitarian and meaningful Campaign Finance Reform. Thank you.

Sincerely,
Timothy B. Jones
