Subject Docket Comments - April 08, 2004

Greetings from the Regulations.gov website!

As part of our public service to increase participation in federal government regulatory activities, the federal government's central online rulemaking portal, Regulations.Gov, accepts public comments on federal agency rulemakings open for public comment and transmits these comments once per day to the proper agency.

This message transmits public comments and related documentation submitted on your agency's rulemakings through the Regulations.Gov website. Comment files and attachments have been compressed into a zip file to ease transmission through agency e-mail systems. An Unzip program will be required to extract the attached files.

Please distribute these comments to the appropriate rulemaking dockets. If you have questions, please send e-mail to: comments@comments.regulations.gov.

Thank You!

I beleive that Inaugural Committee should be able to register by simply submitting a letter in order to cut down on government beauracracy and paperwork. I also feel that disallowing donations from foreign nationals is an act that will "cut off the nose to spite the face." Although it sounds like a very patriotic action, it will not stop the overriding problem it attempts to address which is the undue influence of foreign nationals in the American Public Policy system. I question wether the FEC is overstepping its boundaries by involoving itself in the enforcement of Inaugural Activities, which is typically addressed by the local government of Washington D.C.
