Re: Bipartisan Campaign Reform Act of 2002

Dear Ms Smith:

It is quite evident that it will be difficult to enforce the Bipartisan Campaign Reform Act of 2002. John Ashcroft has a distorted interpretation of the meanings of words. We have come from "what the meaning of 'is' is" to an administration that believes the words of law do not apply to the Executive Branch.

We must be diligent, aware that there will be great efforts to create loopholes to destroy the spirit and meaning of the Bipartisan Campaign Reform Act of 2002. All of us who believe this is a government 'of, for and by the people' will continue to urge that justice be done by the Federal Election Commission by implementing rules consistent with the spirit and intent of the new law.

Sincerely yours,

Janice P. Johnson
