PUBLIC RECORDS EXTENDS HOURS

WASHINGTON--The Federal Election Commission's Public Records Office, in an effort to provide complete access to campaign finance data, will extend its hours from January 30 thru February 6 to allow for public review of incoming year-end reports. Hours are as follows:

Saturday, January 30	10 a.m.-4 p.m.
Sunday, January 31	12 p.m.-4 p.m.
Monday-Friday, Feb. 1-5	9 a.m.-7 p.m.
Saturday, February 6	10 a.m.-4 p.m.

House, Senate and Presidential campaigns and all political committees registered with the FEC are required to file year-end reports covering their campaign finance activities between the end of the last reporting period and December 31. Those reports are due January 31. If sent by registered or certified mail the reports must be postmarked by January 31.

Presidential candidates' reports are filed with the FEC. Reports for Senate candidates are filed with the Secretary of the Senate, while House candidates' reports are filed with the Clerk of the House of Representatives. Those offices forward the reports to the FEC where, within 48 hours of their receipt by the agency, they are placed on the public record.

Federal candidates' reports also must be filed concurrently with the designated elections office of the state in which they ran or are running.

The Commission's Public Records Office is a library-type facility equipped with computer terminals, microfilm reader-printers, photocopy machines and ample work space. A trained staff is available to assist in locating documents.

Copies of reports may be obtained by calling the Public Records Office at (202) 376-3140 or toll free at (800) 424-9530.
