FEC RELEASES 15-MONTH PAC FIGURES

WASHINGTON — Political action committees raised more than $213 million and spent just over $162 million between January 1, 1987, and March 31, 1988. The figures represent a 7 percent increase in receipts and an 8.4 percent hike in disbursements over the same period in the 1985-86 election cycle. These totals come from financial reports filed by PAC's. In preparing this summary, the Federal Election Commission looked at 4,527 PAC's, of which 2,676, or 59 percent, actually made contributions to federal candidates.

Financial activity increased for all categories of PAC's, except those with no connected organization. Receipts for non-connected committees dropped 17 percent while disbursements were down by nearly 19 percent when compared with the 1985-86 cycle.

Candidates seeking election in 1988, received $56.4 million dollars during the first 15 months of the cycle, a 34 percent increase from two years ago. Contributions to House candidates rose almost 43 percent, to $37 million, while Senate candidates received $19.5 million, an increase of nearly 19 percent from 1985-86.*

The first chart on the following page provides comparative information on PAC finances, by committee type, for the 1985-86 and 1987-88 election cycles. The second chart shows PAC contributions by candidate status (incumbent, challenger, open seat) over a ten year period. A third chart details contributions made by PAC's during the 15-month period ending March 31, 1988, by committee type and candidate status for all candidates and only those seeking election in 1988.

Following the charts are rankings of the 50 largest PAC's, overall and by committee type, in terms of receipts, disbursements, contributions to federal candidates and cash-on-hand as of March 31, 1988.

*Figures and percentages on this release differ from those on the FEC's summary of 15-month Congressional activity. This is because the totals come from different reports. While PAC's may have reported making a contribution, candidate committees may not have to report receipt of those funds until the next filing deadline. Also, the line on candidate reports indicating PAC receipts may include money from other sources, such as state and federal candidates' committees.
