PEC ANNOUNCES EXTENDED PUBLIC HOURS

WASHINGTON -- The Public Records Office of the Federal Election Commission will be open weekend hours to accommodate press and public wishing to view 1989 year-end campaign finance reports filed by candidates, PAC's and political party committees.

The reports, which will cover activity through December 31, 1989, and which are due January 31, (or must be postmarked by midnight on that date if sent by certified or registered mail), will be available for review and copying. It is expected that the majority of reports will arrive during the weekend and early the following week.

The extended hours will be:

Saturday - February 3 10 A.M. - 4 P.M.
Sunday - February 4 12 P.M. - 4 P.M.

The Federal Election Commission is located at 999 E Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20463. The telephone number for the Public Records Office is (202) 376-3140.
