FEC FINDS CONGRESSIONAL CAMPAIGN SPENDING UP $75 MILLION AS 1992 GENERAL ELECTION APPROACHES

WASHINGTON -- As a sign of this election's volatility, pre-election disclosure reports filed at the Federal Election Commission show campaign spending by U.S. Senate and House general election candidates increased by $75 million or 25 percent more than in 1990.

Overall, general election congressional candidates raised $415 million, spent $380 million and entered the final weeks of the campaign with cash-on-hand of $107 million, according to an FEC review of reports covering financial activity from January 1, 1991 through October 14, 1992.

For all congressional candidates including primary election losers, the FEC found that campaign receipts through September 30 increased 31.5 percent to $499 million while spending grew 44.8 percent to $445 million compared to the previous race.

In Senate general election contests, candidates reported raising $159 million, spending $147 million and having cash-on-hand of $29 million. Political action committees contributed $37 million to Senate candidates. Because Senate elections are for staggered, six-year terms and, at least in this cycle - there are two California contests - comparisons of financial activity are difficult.

In comparing 1992 House general election races to the previous election, campaign receipts increased 24 percent to $256 million and spending rose by 38 percent to $233 million. House candidates reported cash-on-hand of $79 million, of which incumbents accounted for 86 percent. PAC contributions, which totaled $95 million, comprised 37 percent of total House campaign receipts.

Even as the number of House challengers has increased in 1992 this type of candidate's median disbursements have tripled from 1990 to $61,118 for Republicans and more than doubled to $42,504 for Democrats. Median disbursements for House incumbents have increased by $100,000 for Democrats and $64,000 for Republicans. Median disbursements for both Republican and Democratic open seat candidates dropped by 31 percent compared to the previous election.

Increased financial activity in this cycle may have been influenced in part by congressional redistricting and an unusual number of House incumbent departures and retirements, which caused an increase in the number of challengers and open seat races.

Information attached to this report provides race-by-race statistics, candidate rankings and overall summary data by political party as well as by candidate status (incumbent, challenger or open seat). Some charts also compare current activity to that in 1989-90 and 1987-88. Summary tables on Senate candidates include financial activity since 1986. Activity from 1987-90 may relate to debt retirement from prior elections and should not automatically be presumed to have been raised for a candidate's 1992 campaign.

FOOTNOTES

1. Figures in the first two Tables and the detailed listing of candidates cover from January 1, 1991, or whenever the campaign registered during the election cycle, through October 14, 1992, or the last report filed by the campaign, as indicated.

2. Net receipt and net disbursement figures are total receipts and total disbursements, as reported by the campaigns, minus any money transferred between committees of the same campaign.

3. Columns entitled "Other Committees" (also "Other Cmte's") are monies received, as reported by the campaigns, that are comprised mostly of PAC funds, but also include contributions by other candidates' committees and some unregistered entities. On the Senate listings, the column "Non Party Contributions" contains PAC contributions for 1988 and 1990, as reported by the PAC's, and "Other Committee" data for 1992.

4. Open seat races are those in which the incumbent did not seek reelection. As such, both general election candidates in the 14 districts where the incumbent was defeated in the primary are classified as challengers. The two general election candidates in Ohio's 1st district and the 7th district in New Jersey are also listed as challengers. In these two cases, the incumbent decided to retire after receiving his parties nomination for reelection. Districts where special elections have been held at times separate from the regular election calendar (AZ/2; MA/1; IL/15; PA/2; TX/3; and VA/7) have been divided into two races. None of the activity regarding those special elections is included in these tables. Winners of the specials appear here as incumbents, and their activity begins with the first report following the Post Special filing. The district in which a special election is being held in conjunction with the general (old NY /17 which becomes NY/8.; and NC/1) is classified as open seat and has not been divided.

5. Percentage figures in Tables covering several election cycles represent the percentage of net receipts from each source and will not sum to 100, since not all sources of receipts are listed.

6. On the Senate listings, the column titles "Candidate Support" includes contributions by the candidate, as well as loans made or guaranteed by the candidate. The column titles "Trans from other auth" includes monies transferred from House committees of candidates for the Senate, as well as proceeds from joint fundraising activity among several candidates or committees. Contributions from individuals and PAC's made through these joint fundraising efforts are NOT included in the "Individual Contributions" or "Non Party Contributions" columns.

7. Detailed listings of candidates include all those participating in the November 3rd general election, along with those candidates in Louisiana who received at least 50% of the vote in the primary and were therefore declared the winner of the seat.

8. Some House members who are or were running for the Senate in '92 changed their former House campaign committees into their Senate campaign committees. Financial activity related solely to their Senate campaigns cannot be isolated. (See Dorgan, ND and Aucoin, OR).

9. The campaign of Margaret Mueller in Ohio includes debt from a previous congressional campaign.

10. Activity of House Other Party candidates primarily reflects the campaign of Bernard Sanders in Vermont.

2.2.2. Parallel Activity of Senate and House General Election Campaigns
