1996 CONGRESSIONAL FINANCIAL ACTIVITY CONTINUES CLIMB

WASHINGTON -- Congressional campaign spending for the 1996 general election climbed to $626.4 million, an increase of $36.8 million, or 6.3%, from record 1994 levels, according to a Federal Election Commission review of reports covering financial activity from January 1, 1995, through November 25, 1996.

Not included in this spending total is the $16 million spent by candidates involved in special elections, and $100 million spent by candidates who lost in the primaries. These totals represent only direct spending by the candidate's campaigns, they do not include spending by parties and other organizations. Party-coordinated and independent expenditures, along with independent expenditures by other organizations, will be detailed in upcoming releases. The substantial sums of money spent by various organizations in numerous states and districts on so-called "issue advocacy" has not been included since these expenditures were not reported to the Commission.

Overall, a record $659.6 million was raised by Congressional candidates, up 8% from the $611.5 million raised in 1994. Contributions by PACs and other committees increased 13% from 1994 levels of $169.5 million, to $192.2 million, while individual contributions increased 14%, from $335.7 to $381.6 million. Candidate self-funding for 1996 totaled $56.9 million, down 31% from the same period in 1994. Debts were $54.8 million with cash on hand of $85.2 million as of November 25.

House candidates were responsible for the increase in financial activity. Receipts in 1996 grew from $347.4 million in 1994 to $439.6 million, a 27% increase while 1996 spending by House candidates grew from $326.9 million in 1994 to $405.6 million, a 24% increase.

By contrast, financial activity for 1996 Senate candidates declined in spite of the record number of open Senate races. The decline is in part the result of the large number of small population states having races where campaign finance activity has traditionally been less than in the more populated states.

Spending by Republican House and Senate campaigns increased $37.2 million over 1994 to a total of $330.8 million, an increase of 12.7% while spending by Democrats remained unchanged from 1994 at $292 million despite significantly fewer incumbent members. However, growth in financial activity was particularly apparent for non-incumbent House Democrats (i.e. challengers and open-seat candidates).

This release also includes tables showing median amounts spent by House campaigns, comparing different types of campaigns based on the percentage by which candidates won or lost. The largest increases in median spending among House candidates occurred with Democratic challengers and Republican incumbents. Democratic challengers increased median spending by 71% over 1994, to $122,318, while House Republican incumbents increased median spending by 48% over 1994, to $588,706.

From mid-October through late November, general election candidates raised $94.4 million, up 5.5%, and spent $153.7 million, up 10%, from the same period in 1994. The following table summarizes Senate and House activity for the period October 17 - November 25, 1996. Comparable figures are provided for similar periods in 1994 and 1992.

	1996		1994		1992

House candidates increased fundraising by 19%, while spending increased 24% over 1994 levels. Senate candidates raised 13% less while spending was down 8% when compared to 1994.

House Republican incumbents, their Democratic challengers and Senate Democratic challengers report the largest increases. A chart on pages 12-13 provides further detail.

FOOTNOTES

1. Figures in the first two Tables and the detailed listing of candidates cover from January 1, 1995, or whenever the campaign registered during the election cycle, through November 25, 1996, or the last report filed by the campaign.
2. Net receipt and net disbursement figures are total receipts and total disbursements, as reported by the campaigns, minus any money transferred between committees of the same campaign.
3. Columns entitles "Other Committees" (also "Other Cmte's") are moneys received, as reported by the campaigns, that are comprised mostly of PAC funds, but also include contributions by other candidates' committees and some unregistered entities. On the Senate listings, the column "Non Party Contributions" contains PAC contributions for 1992 and 1994, as reported by the PACs, and "Other Committee" data for 1996.
4. Open seat races are those in which the incumbent did not seek reelection. As a result, both general election candidates in the 2 districts where the incumbent was defeated in the primary are classified as challengers. Districts where special elections have been held at times separate from the regular election calendar have been divided into two races. None of the activity related to those special elections is included in these tables. Winners of the specials appear here as incumbents, and their activity begins with the first report following the Post Special filing. The race in which a special election is being held in conjunction with the general election (Kansas Senate) is classified as open seat.
5. Percentage figures in Tables covering several election cycles represent the percentage of net receipts from each source and will not sum to 100 since not all sources of receipts are listed.
6. On the Senate listings, the column titles "Candidate Support" includes contributions by the candidate, as well as loans made or guaranteed by the candidate. The column titles "Trans from other auth" includes moneys transferred from House committees of candidates for the Senate, as well as proceeds from joint fundraising activities among several candidates or committees. Contributions from individuals and PACs made through these joint fundraising efforts are NOT included in the "Individual Contributions" or "Non Party Contributions" columns.
7. Detailed listings of candidates include all those participating in the November 5th general election who reported any campaign receipts, along with those candidates in Louisiana who received at least 50% of the vote in the primary and were therefore declared the winner of the seat. All candidates in Texas districts which held new primaries on November 5 are included in the listings.
8. Some House members who are or were running for the Senate in '96 changed their former House campaign committees into their Senate campaign committees. Financial activity related solely to their Senate campaigns cannot be isolated. (See Craig (ID), Roberts (KS), Durbin (IL), Johnson (SD), Allard (CO), Reed (RI).)
9. The detailed listing for House candidates includes a column labeled "Candidate Support". This includes contributions from the candidate plus any loans made by or guaranteed by the candidate, minus any loan repayments to the candidate during this two year period. This amount will therefore appear as negative in cases where loan repayments were made during 1995 or 1996 for loans taken out in an earlier election cycle, if no new loans were made.
10. Activity of House Other Party candidates primarily reflect the campaign of Bernard Sanders in Vermont.

11. Party abbreviations in the listing of House Campaigns are:

DEM - Democrat	LIB - Libertarian
DFL - Democrat/Farmer/Labor (Minnesota)	PAF - Peace and Freedom
REP - Republican	IND - Independent
RTL - Right to Life	LBL - Liberal
REF - Reform	NLP - Natural Law Party
GRE - Green

12. Many candidates continue to reports debts carried over from past elections, e.g. Norm Sisisky (VA), Eugene Fontenot (TX), Richard Chrysler (MI), Terry Everett (AL), Richard Sybert (CA).

13. Third Party Incumbents in the House include Bernie Sanders in Vermont, Victor Frazer in Virgin Islands, and Carlos Romero-Barcelo in Puerto Rico.

14. Several candidates have reported significant candidate loan repayments. The original loans appear in total receipts and repayments are part of total disbursements.
