CONGRESSIONAL FUNDRAISING AND SPENDING UP AGAIN IN 1996

WASHINGTON -- Congressional candidates raised a total of $790.5 million and spent $765.3 million in the 1995-96 election cycle, representing increases of 7% in receipts and 5% in expenditures from the record-breaking 1993-94 election cycle, and 20% and 12% over the previous Presidential cycle of 1991-92.

The analysis of 2,605 candidates by the Federal Election Commission covers Congressional campaigns' financial activity from January 1, 1995, through December 31, 1996. In the 1993-94 election cycle 2,376 candidates for House and Senate seats raised $740.5 million and spent $725.2 million, which was a 12% increase in receipts and 6% increase in spending over 1991-92.

Summary Financial Activity - All Congressional Campaigns (millions of dollars)

	1995-96	1993-94	1991-92	1989-90	1987-88	1985-86	1983-84	1981-82

No. of Candidates	2605	2376	2950	1759	1792	1873	2036	2240

Campaigns for House seats accounted for the increases in monies raised and spent, with 2,289 candidates raising $505.4 million and spending $477.8 million. This was a 20% increase in receipts and an 18% increase in spending over 1993-94 House levels. Republican candidates, numbering 853, raised $266.9 million and spent $251.4 million, a 32% increase in financial activity over 1993-94. This increase partially stems from the increased number of Republican incumbents seeking reelection. At the same time, 827 Democrats registered an increase of 8% in receipts, to $233.1 million, and a 4% increase in spending, to $221.2 million, despite fewer incumbent members running (172 in '96 vs. 232 in '94). The 609 candidates representing other parties raised $5.4 million and spent $5.3 million.

Senate candidates raised $285.2 million and spent $287.5 million in 1995-96, down from $319 million raised and spent in 1993-94.

Contributions from individuals in the 1995-96 elections were up 10% over 1993-94, hitting $444 million. They represented 56% of total receipts by all Congressional candidates: 59% in Senate races and 55% in House contests. Contributions from individuals of less than $200 each have historically totalled more than those in other categories listed on page 16. For the first time, in 1995-96, this category was rivaled by contributions in amounts of over $749 each, with both categories totalling $158.5 million.

Candidate loans and contributions to their own campaigns totalled $106.6 million. This amount is down 13% from the $122.6 million reported in 1993-94. Senate candidates used $56.7 million of their own funds, while House races were fueled by $49.8 million in candidate funds.

PAC contributions to all federal candidates last cycle reached $201.4 million, up 12% from 1993-94's $179.5 million. PACs directed $106.7 million to Republicans, $93.9 million to Democrats, and $781,837 to candidates from other parties. Contributions to incumbents far outpaced monies given to other types of candidates. Incumbents received $133.3 million, while challengers received $28.3 million and open-seat races, $39.8 million. PACs contributed more substantially to House races, where PAC receipts of $155.8 million represented 31% of receipts compared to Senate races, where $45.6 million in PAC money accounted for only 16% of monies raised.

The chart below provides amounts (in millions of dollars) and percentages of PAC contributions in Congressional campaigns for the past four election cycles:

FOOTNOTES

1. Figures in the first two Tables and the detailed listing of candidates cover from January 1, 1995, or whenever the campaign registered during the election cycle, through December 31, 1996, or the last report filed by the campaign, as indicated.

2. Net receipt and net disbursement figures are total receipts and total disbursements, as reported by the campaigns, minus any money transferred between committees of the same campaign.

3. Columns entitled "PAC Contributions" are monies contributed to campaigns as reported by the PAC's making contributions. For candidates who won special elections in 1995 or 1996, these contributions have been divided between the special and regular election processes based upon the date of the contribution. If that date is more than 20 days after the special election, then the contribution is included in the regular election information for that candidate.

4. Open seat races are those in which the incumbent did not seek reelection. as such, both general election candidates in the 3 races where the incumbent was defeated in the primary are classified as challengers (See Kansas Senate, Michigan 15, and Texas 14). Districts where special elections were held at times separate from the regular election calendar (OR/3, CA/15, CA/37, IL/2, MD/7) have been divided into two races. Special election activity appears in tables referring to all campaigns and is included in the open seat category. Regular election activity of winners of the specials appear in the incumbent category, and their activity begins with the first report following the Post Special filing. This is also true of Gordon Smith in Oregon, who ran in the Senate special in 1995 and also in the different Senate race in 1996.

5. Percentage figures in Tables covering several election cycles represent the percentage of net receipts from each source and will not sum to 100, since not all sources of receipts are listed.

6. On the Senate Listings, the column titles "Candidate Support" includes contributions by the candidate as well as loans made or guaranteed by the candidate. The column titles "Trans from other auth" includes monies transferred from House committees of candidates for the Senate, as well as proceeds from joint fundraising activity among several candidates or committees. Contributions from individuals and PACs made through these joint fundraising efforts are NOT included in the "Individual Contributions" or "PAC Contributions" columns.

7. Some House members who are or were running for the Senate in '96 changed their former House campaign committees into their Senate campaign committees. Financial activity related solely to their Senate campaigns cannot be isolated. (See Craig (ID), Roberts (KS), Durbin (IL), Johnson (SD), Allard (CO), and Reed (RI).

8. Activity of House Other Party candidates primarily reflects the campaigns of Bernard Sanders in Vermont, Carlos Romero-Barcelo in Puerto Rico, and Jo Ann Emerson in Missouri.

9. The detailed listing for House Candidates includes a column labeled "Candidate Support". This includes contributions from the candidate plus any loans made by or guaranteed by the candidate, minus any loan repayments to the candidate during this two year period. This amount will therefore appear as negative in cases where loan repayments were made during 1995 or 1996 for loans taken out in an earlier election cycle, if no new loans were made.

10. Party abbreviations in the listing of House campaigns are:

DEM - Democrat	LIB - Libertarian
DFL - Democrat/Farmer/Labor (MN)	PAF - Peace and Freedom
REP - Republican	IND - Independent
RTL - Right to Life	LBL - Liberal
REF - Reform	NLP - Natural Law Party
GRE - Green

11. Many candidates continue to report debts carried over from past elections, e.g. Fontenot (TX), Chrysler (MI), Everett (AL), Sybert (CA), and Tsakanikas (FL).

12. Third party incumbents in the House include Bernard Sanders in VT, Victor Frazer in VI, and Carlos Romero-Barcelo in PR.

13. Many candidates have reported significant candidate loan repayments. The original loans appear in total receipts and repayments are part of total disbursements.
