

HONESTY
INTEGRITY
TRUST

June 31, 2004

Federal Election Commission
999 E Street, NW
Washington, DC 20463

RECEIVED
FEDERAL ELECTION
COMMISSION
GENERAL
OFFICE
CO. JEL

2004 AUG -4 A II: 4b

RE: Michael Jaliman; New York 19th Congressional District

Dear Sirs:

Attached please find a copy of a complaint, filed on behalf of Friends of Janine Selendy, with supporting documentation. It is our belief that one Michael Jaliman is in violation in multiple instances of federal election requirements.

An expedited response is requested. Should you have any questions, please feel free to reach me at the contact information included at the bottom of this page.

Sincerely Yours,
Michael J. Morey
Campaign Manager

RECEIVED
FEC MAIL
OPERATIONS CENTER
2004 AUG -4 A 10: 58

Paid for and authorized by Friends of Selendy for Congress.
97 Bogtown Rd. North Salem, NY 10560 Phone: 914-382-1762
Please feel free to visit us at: www.selendy.com/2004 or contact us at: morey@selendy.com

COMPLAINANT: Friends of Selendy for Congress
97 Bogtown Road
North Salem, NY 10560
914.382.1762

RESPONDANT: Michael Jaliman
9 Blossom Lane
Brewster, NY 10509

MUR# 5508

RECEIVED
FEDERAL ELECTION
COMMISSION
OFFICE, NEW YORK
GENERAL
CO., LL

2004 AUG - 4 A 11:46

COMPLAINT

Janine Selendy and Friends of Selendy for Congress, by campaign manager, Michael J. Morey, as and for Janine Selendy and Friends of Selendy for Congress respectfully alleges upon information and belief that:

AS FOR A FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

1. Michael Jaliman, potential Democratic candidate, is soliciting support for a possible candidacy on the letterhead of Innovation Consultants, a company that is incorporated in New York State. (See attatched Letter labled "A"). Said solicitation is in direct violation of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (herein referred to as "Act").

2. Innovation Consultants, through use of their letterhead, is offering their goods and services to Michael Jaliman for use in his campaign. Such solicitation can be defined as an "in-kind" contribution, i.e. "a contribution of goods, services or property offered for free or at less than the usual and normal charge." (Title II of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) 100.52(d))

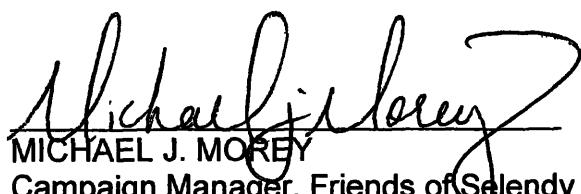

3. Contributions from incorporated businesses are not permitted. (CFR 114.2(a) and (b)) Therefore, Innovation Consultants in-kind contributions to potential candidate, Michael Jaliman are in violation.

AS AND FOR A SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

4. Michael Jaliman has exceeded the five thousand dollar threshold ($5,000.00) in expenditures, which would require him to file with the Federal Election Commission as a candidate. ((CFR) 100.72(b) and 100.131(b)

5. Michael Jaliman has made clear his intent to campaign and has exceeded the necessary limit by sending out numerous mailings (See "A"), making numerous phone calls, petitioning to gain ballot access (See "B"), paying for campaign assistance, travel throughout the 19th Congressional District and to the Democratic National Convention in Boston, and actively campaigning as a "candidate for Congress". Therefore, he is in violation of FEC policies by not filing.

WHEREFORE, the undersigned respectfully requests the Federal Election Commission investigate the prospective campaign of Michael Jaliman and the above-mentioned violations.

MICHAEL J. MOREY
Campaign Manager, Friends of Selendy for Congress

SWORN TO BEFORE ME
THIS 30th DAY OF July, 2004

NOTARY PUBLIC

(Affix Seal Here)

CATHRYN M. ADLER
NOTARY PUBLIC, State of New York
No. 04AD6093819
Qualified in Dutchess County
Commission Expires 6/9/07

Dear Neighbor:

Hello! My name is Michael Jaliman and I am running for Congress for our 19th Congressional District. Allow me to introduce. I moved to Putnam County with my family from Long Island in July 2000, attracted by pristine nature, a safe environment, quality education, and proximity to NYC and Stewart airport. We feel blessed to call this beautiful county home. My decision to run for Congress came in part in wanting to safe guard some of things we hold precious about this beautiful lower Hudson Valley Watershed.

One concern we might share (which offers political opportunity for Democrats to elect Democrats to the County Legislature) is the rapid increase in property assessments. The Republicans in Putnam boast that they have not raised taxes. But by raising assessments they accomplish the same result: increasing the tax burden on homeowners.

While local taxes are a matter for local government, the Federal government can play a role by providing assistance for an economic development plan for the Hudson Valley. Congressional staff can play a role by working to attract business and environmentally friendly and fiscally sound development to the county. Preserving the environment will in the long run, maintain not only our quality of life but the value of our homes. With selected new construction our homes will appreciate in value faster. As residents for us to benefit from rising house values we must put a stop to the continual revision of assessments every year based on market values.

With a balanced economic plan we can attract the right industry providing jobs for our citizens and expanding the tax base. I will work to protect the environment, protect the value of our homes, provide jobs and expand the tax base with appropriate development.

As your Congressman or even as a candidate from Putnam, I can use my skills as an organizational consultant to help build the Democratic party in our district, develop campaigns to increase voting among our party and work to establish rules of decorum for competition within the party to attract good people to win elections. From my experience, Democratic Party politics in Wisconsin politics (where I was active) was focused on issues and Democratic rivals treated each other in a civil and fair manner.

In the last two weeks I have competed in two county conventions. As a virtual newcomer, I was able to win close to 50 % of the vote. In Orange my candidacy received 47% (without speaking to the convention) and in Dutchess slightly better. I tied my opponent in her home committee, and lost 7 to 5 in another Westchester town. I am sufficiently pleased with the results to make the decision to move forward with a candidacy for Congress. As there is much to get done in little time to win, I must make choices and focus my efforts. I will not be competing at the Putnam convention and will shift to building a campaign to win the primary and the election against Sue Kelly.

Although I have not met most of you yet, I intend to over the next months. I look forward to learning more about your concerns and aspirations and I would be honored to serve our county as a candidate for Congress.

I am deeply grateful to Susan Spear and to Bob Bennett. Without their early encouragement I would not be a candidate for Congress. I would also like to thank you for the contribution that you make to the political life of our county.

With your support, I look forward to giving Sue Kelly the toughest race of her career.

Sincerely,

Michael Jaliman

P.S. A short bio follows

Michael Jaliman

Michael Jaliman, managing director at Innovation Consultants, is a seasoned organizational and strategic consultant who fosters innovation and aligns organizational dynamics to implement strategic initiatives for major corporations and non-profits. Previously, as senior managing director at Fujitsu Consulting he headed the regional financial services practice and led a consulting team guiding the merger of North American operations of three Japanese banks. Mr. Jaliman was director of strategic planning at KPMG Asia Pacific where he served as an adviser to business and government leaders and developed strategy for one of the largest consulting and accounting firms in the world.

He developed a strategy for the chief of staff of the office of the President of Taiwan to improve relations between the US and Taiwan, which led to a successful multimillion dollar initiative by the Taiwan government to build relations with the US Congress. Mr. Jaliman advised the two major political parties in Taiwan, encouraging peaceful competition between bitter adversaries. As a result of the trust he developed with both parties, he was able to organize and moderate the nation's first election debate between leaders of the National Legislature. The debate were televised and covered on the front pages of leading newspapers. He later held a debate on Constitutional reform between leaders of the National Assembly.

He organized a conference on Strategies for Feeding Humanity for Buckminster Fuller and founded the Jonas Salk Institute for Applied Creativity which collected surplus computers and donated them to needy students at selective NYC high schools. Michael founded the Wisconsin Hunger Project and obtained increased funding for WIC. He organized Citizens for Human Rights, a pro-choice advocacy group that successfully lobbied to sustain the veto of an anti abortion bill that prevented abortions even in cases of rape and incest. He founded the Free School which became the Village School a degree granting alternative public high school and successfully provided strategy to prevent the construction of a sewage plant off the coast of Massachusetts.

Michael's wife of 25 years Kathryn Jaliman is a painter who exhibits internationally. His son David is a senior at Brewster High School. They live in the town of Patterson in Putnam County.

Mr. Jaliman has a BA with honors in economics from the University of Wisconsin, Madison (1978) where he was student body president. He has an MBA from Harvard University (1982) where he founded the Harvard Business School Leadership Forum.

A2

INNOVATION
CONSULTANTS

Dear Fellow Democrat:

With your support, we can send Sue Kelly back to Katonah full-time this November, and we can put the 19th District at the forefront of national efforts to take back the House for the Democrats.

I am Michael Jaliman. I live in the town of Patterson and I am running for Congress in New York's 19th Congressional District. Sue Kelly and the Republican leadership think this is a "safe seat" for them. They are wrong.

While defeating Kelly would be a major upset (and none of us are under any illusions that this will be an easy task), in my career as a management consultant, I have been involved in numerous instances where studied analysis, careful planning and proper execution have accomplished what had been thought impossible.

I have studied Kelly and her record, especially her performance as it benefits the 19th District, and I believe she can be defeated. Her support is not deep. Her voting record is too conservative for the district. She is disliked by many of her Democratic colleagues in the New York Congressional Delegation who can be mobilized to campaign against her.

Senator Schumer, Elliot Spitzer and Charlie Rangel each told me personally at the NY State Democratic Convention in May that they would come to the district and actively campaign against Sue Kelly (if I am the Democratic nominee).

To win the support of important public figures in the state and national party we need a credible candidate. Do not expect party leaders to be actively involved with my opponent Janine, a candidate who already lost to Sue Kelly by a margin of 44%. In 2002 Janine had 26% to Kelly 70%. Kelly spent close to a million dollars Janine spent about $16,000.

To beat Kelly will require serious money. As a strategic and organizational consultant to major corporations and Wall Street firms (as well as non-profits and small businesses), I have developed a network of contacts necessary to raise the money we will need. Classmates from Harvard Business School on my finance committee will help raise money from Democratic donors in the business world.

As a life long Democrat who is proficient in economics and holds an MBA from Harvard Business School, I can speak directly to the Bush policies which are harmful to the prosperity of our nation and raise serious money from the Democratic donor base in the business world. Janine cannot. The Bush policies are not only bad for the little guy; they are also bad for many businesses. Bush delivers for some giant corporations like drug companies that donate generously to the Republican Party.

To have a shot at winning we will need to tap into the dissatisfaction of many Independents and Republicans. With my long and practical career in business I will be able to do that. Janine cannot.

But Michael, you ask, defeating Janine your fellow Democrat is one thing but just how can we beat Sue Kelly?

Kelly has misled the voters on the issues-- posing as a moderate, when in truth she is a loyal vote for DeLay and Bush. Whether it's the economy, international affairs, eroding the rights of labor, neglecting health care for many Americans, degrading the environment, clean and honest financial markets, or a woman's right to chose, Sue Kelly is with Tom DeLay and the President-- and AGAINST the interests of our district and our nation, time and time again. It's time she held these aberrant views on her own time, and not as our representative in Congress.

My campaign will do something that no Democratic candidate has accomplished -- communicate Kelly's record to the voters. We will make the voters aware that she is more than a sweet looking grandmother posing with civics organizations in the local newspaper. Sue Kelly was a loyal vote for this administration's outrageous tax cuts that rewarded the largest Republican campaign contributors. The Republicans are so out of touch they portrayed repealing the dividend tax as a moral issue.

I will drive home to the voters Kelly's negative voting record while championing issues that can energize voters. I will challenge the Nuclear Regulatory Commission to do their job and investigate fully the reports of experts who question the safety record of the plant (this company is not one of America's best), the lack of an evacuation plan, and the vulnerability to terrorist attack by storing used radioactive fuel rods in open unshielded pools on the premises of the nuclear plant. It's this District's residents who face catastrophe if there is a mishap at Indian Point. What would have happened to our district if one of the planes that flew over Indian Point on the way to the World Trade Center had smashed into the nuclear power plant? The company says the plant is built to withstand a plane crash. Many experts say that claim is completely false. I will raise this issue with voters and believe the severity of the risks will wake up Republicans and Independents in the district. The nuclear regulators are asleep at the wheel and I will challenge them.

The Administration perpetuates the illusion that massive trade and budget deficits don't matter. Where will the future jobs come from for our people? How can we continue to buy hundreds of billions more from other nations than we sell year after year? How can we continue to borrow hundreds of billions of dollars year after year without driving up interest rates dramatically and ruining our nation's credit? I believe that I can effectively energize voters to think about long term dangers to our nation's prosperity.

I am running for Congress because I believe this nation is heading in the wrong direction. Instead of trying to steer us back to the right course, Sue Kelly and the rest of her friends in the Republican leadership (and the Christian Coalition) are stepping on the accelerator. I am running because I believe the difficult problems facing America: war with Islamic terrorists, disastrous environmental policies, policies eroding the rights of working people and the right of a woman to choose, are just too important to continue to let Sue Kelly rubber stamp the views of Bush and DeLay.

As a Congressman I will use my training in Business and Economics to develop and fund an economic development plan for the Hudson Valley that provides jobs and alleviates the constant pressure of higher assessments and higher taxes on homeowners, and do so in a manner that is environmentally sound. Karen Keogh, Hillary Clinton's State Director paid me the compliment of saying that I had thought more deeply about the issues than most members of Congress. My staff will work from the federal to the local level to implement an economic development program that develops tourism, high technology and environmental industries to provide jobs and enhance the tax base, while preventing uncontrolled development and sprawl. Development can increase the budget for services and increases taxes. Not all development is good for the people of Putnam.

Our best shot at Sue Kelly is to get a candidate who can represent our party and our district-- who can rapidly assemble a top-notch campaign team, can rapidly undertake big-time fundraising, and can bring the high profile national party figures to this district. As a consultant I am experienced at moving into a new organization and rapidly developing a plan, bringing people together and creating results and I can transform this election race. Janine boasts about her great campaign organization and many endorsements. Though I have been campaigning in this race for less than three weeks, in the first County Convention in Orange I got more than 47% of the vote. I am supported by numerous party officials disenchanted with Janine's poor performance in the last election who encouraged me to run. In the coming days I will get their formal endorsement.

This could be the watershed year that we see a Democratic landslide. In the next five months events at home and abroad could force the American people to wake up to the dangerous failures of the Bush administration in both domestic and foreign policy, and realize that both the President and his entire party must pay for their catastrophic mistakes. Sue Kelly and many other Republicans smugly holding on to their "safe seats" will be the ones who have to worry about whether they will be giving concession speeches in November.

We can chose business as usual-- and lose this seat-- as usual (in 2002 against Kelly Selendy lost by a margin of 44%; she may be a nice lady but she cannot win) -- or we can recognize the watershed opportunity hat 2004 presents us. Anyone associated with this President-- including Sue Kelly -- can be defeated this year with a viable Democrat. Professor Walt Jablonsky of Marist College and Vassar, who has helped candidates win elections in this Congressional district, said that if a candidate gets only 26% of the vote, she should not expect the nomination a second time.

I would be grateful for your support at the upcoming county convention on Tuesday June 8. If you cannot come in person, please give a proxy to one of your colleagues. Vote for Jaliman and we will send Sue Kelly back to Katonah full-time this November.

Thank you.
Michael Jaliman

Michael Jaliman

Michael Jaliman, managing director at Innovation Consultants, is a seasoned organizational and strategic consultant who fosters innovation and aligns organizational dynamics to implement strategic initiatives for major corporations and non-profits.

Previously, as senior managing director at Fujitsu Consulting he headed the regional financial services practice and led a consulting team guiding the merger of North American operations of three Japanese banks. Mr. Jaliman was director of strategic planning at KPMG Asia Pacific where he served as an adviser to business and government leaders.

He developed a strategy for the chief of staff of the office of the President of Taiwan to improve relations between the US and Taiwan, which led to a successful multimillion dollar initiative by the Taiwan government to build relations with the US Congress. Mr. Jaliman advised the two major political parties in Taiwan, encouraging peaceful competition between bitter adversaries. As a result of the trust he developed with both parties, he was able to organize and moderate the nation's first election debate between leaders of the National Legislature and later held a debate on Constitutional reform between leaders of the National Assembly. Mr. Jaliman was the elected Chair of the US Democratic Party Abroad in Asia and the Vice Chair in Taiwan

He also worked with Renaissance Consulting, McKinsey & Company and CSC Index. He organized a conference on Strategies for Feeding Humanity for Buckminster Fuller and founded the Jonas Salk Institute for Applied Creativity which collected surplus computers and donated them to needy students at selective NYC high schools. Michael ran as a Democrat for Secretary of State of Wisconsin. He founded the Wisconsin Hunger Project and obtained increased funding for WIC. He organized Citizens for Human Rights, a pro-choice advocacy group that successfully lobbied to sustain the veto of an anti abortion bill. He founded the Free School which became a degree granting public high school and provided a successful strategy to block the construction of a sewage plant off the coast of Massachusetts.

Michael's wife of 25 years Kathryn Jaliman is a painter who exhibits internationally. His son David is a senior at Brewster High School. They live in the town of Patterson in Putnam County.

Mr. Jaliman has a BA with honors in economics from the University of Wisconsin, Madison (1978) where he was student body president. He has an MBA from Harvard University (1982) where he founded the Harvard Business School Leadership Forum.

Mr. Jaliman can be reached at mj@innovationconsultants.com

A3

INNOVATION
CONSULTANTS

Michael Jaliman

Michael Jaliman, managing director at Innovation Consultants, is a seasoned organizational consultant who fosters innovation and aligns organizational dynamics to implement strategic initiatives for major corporations and non-profits.

Previously, as senior managing director at Fujitsu Consulting he headed the regional financial services practice and led a consulting team guiding the merger of North American operations of three Japanese banks.

Mr. Jaliman was director of strategic planning at KPMG Asia Pacific where he served as an adviser to business and government leaders. He advised the major political parties in Taiwan, and organized and moderated the nation's first election debate (which was televised and covered on the front pages of newspapers) and a debate on Constitutional reform for the National Assembly. He also worked with Renaissance Consulting, McKinsey & Company and CSC Index. He organized a conference on Strategies for Feeding Humanity for Buckminster Fuller and founded the Jonas Salk Institute for Applied Creativity which collected surplus computers and donated them to needy students at selective NYC high schools.

Mr. Jaliman has a BA with honors in economics from the University of Wisconsin, Madison (1978) where he was student body president. He has an MBA from Harvard University (1982) where he founded the Harvard Business School Leadership Forum.

Michael Jaliman's Congressional Campaign Objectives:

- Mobilize Democratic Party constituencies: environmentalists, labor, pro-choice, minorities, and seniors dependent on government programs.
- Mobilize support for John Kerry, Chuck Schumer and the Democratic ticket.
- Register new Democratic voters and increase party turnout.
- Strengthen the Democratic party in the 19th Congressional District.
- Position the district to deliver a majority for Hillary in 2006, when Republicans might draft Giuliani.
- Build alliances to prevent sprawl, protect the environment in the watershed, and shut down Indian Point.
- Promote environmentally sensitive development.
- Bring the Bush- Delay- Kelly record to the attention of voters and contrast it with Democratic positions on health care, education, jobs, taxes, the economy, terrorism, Iraq, international relations and the environment.
- Develop an innovative strategy for electing Democrats in Republican districts.
- Build a top campaign team to raise a war chest and execute strategy.
- Attract national democratic leaders to campaign in the district.
- Defeat Sue Kelly

But Michael, you ask, defeating Janine your fellow Democrat is one thing but just how can we beat Sue Kelly?

Kelly has misled the voters on the issues-- posing as a moderate, when in truth she is a loyal vote for DeLay and Bush. Whether it's the economy, international affairs, eroding the rights of labor, neglecting health care for many Americans, degrading the environment, clean and honest financial markets, or a woman's right to chose, Sue Kelly is with Tom DeLay and the President-- and AGAINST the interests of our district and our nation, time and time again. It's time she held these aberrant views on her own time, and not as our representative in Congress.

My campaign will do something that no Democratic candidate has accomplished -- communicate Kelly's record to the voters. We will make the voters aware that she is more than a sweet looking grandmother posing with civics organizations in the local newspaper. Sue Kelly was a loyal vote for this administration's outrageous tax cuts that rewarded the largest Republican campaign contributors. The Republicans are so out of touch they portrayed repealing the dividend tax as a moral issue.

I will drive home to the voters Kelly's negative voting record while championing issues that can energize voters. I will challenge the Nuclear Regulatory Commission to do their job and investigate fully the reports of experts who question the safety record of the plant (this company is not one of America's best), the lack of an evacuation plan, and the vulnerability to terrorist attack by storing used radioactive fuel rods in open unshielded pools on the premises of the nuclear plant. It's this District's residents who face catastrophe if there is a mishap at Indian Point. What would have happened to our district if one of the planes that flew over Indian Point on the way to the World Trade Center had smashed into the nuclear power plant? The company says the plant is built to withstand a plane crash. Many experts say that claim is completely false. I will raise this issue with voters and believe the severity of the risks will wake up Republicans and Independents in the district. The nuclear regulators are asleep at the wheel and I will challenge them.

The Administration perpetuates the illusion that massive trade and budget deficits don't matter. Where will the future jobs come from for our people? How can we continue to buy hundreds of billions more from other nations than we sell year after year? How can we continue to borrow hundreds of billions of dollars year after year without driving up interest rates dramatically and ruining our nation's credit? I believe that I can effectively energize voters to think about long term dangers to our nation's prosperity.

I am running for Congress because I believe this nation is heading in the wrong direction. Instead of trying to steer us back to the right course, Sue Kelly and the rest of her friends in the Republican leadership (and the Christian Coalition) are stepping on the asecelerator. I am running because I believe the difficult problems facing America: war with Islamic terrorists, disastrous environmental policies, policies eroding the rights of working people and the right of a woman to choose, are just too important to continue to let Sue Kelly rubber stamp the views of Bush and DeLay.

As a Congressman I will use my training in Business and Economics to develop and fund an economic development plan for the Hudson Valley that provides jobs and alleviates the constant pressure of higher assessments and higher taxes on homeowners, and do so in a manner that is environmentally sound. Karen Keogh, Hillary Clinton's State Director paid me the compliment of saying that I had thought more deeply about the issues than most members of Congress. My staff will work from the federal to the local level to implement an economic development program that develops tourism, high technology and environmental industries to provide jobs and enhance the tax base, while preventing uncontrolled development and sprawl. Development can increase the budget for services and increases taxes. Not all development is good for the people of Putnam.

Our best shot at Sue Kelly is to get a candidate who can represent our party and our district— who can rapidly assemble a top-notch campaign team, can rapidly undertake big-time fundraising, and can bring the high profile national party figures to this district. As a consultant I am experienced at moving into a new organization and rapidly developing a plan, bringing people together and creating results and I can transform this election race. Janine boasts about her great campaign organization and many endorsements. Though I have been campaigning in this race for less than three weeks, in the first County Convention in Orange I got more than 47% of the vote. I am supported by numerous party officials disenchanted with Janine's poor performance in the last election who encouraged me to run. In the coming days I will get their formal endorsement.

This could be the watershed year that we see a Democratic landslide. In the next five months events at home and abroad could force the American people to wake up to the dangerous failures of the Bush administration in both domestic and foreign policy, and realize that both the President and his entire party must pay for their catastrophic mistakes. Sue Kelly and many other Republicans smugly holding on to their "safe seats" will be the ones who have to worry about whether they will be giving concession speeches in November.

We can chose business as usual— and lose this seat— as usual (in 2002 against Kelly Selendy lost by a margin of 44%; she may be a nice lady but she cannot win) -- or we can recognize the watershed opportunity hat 2004 presents us. Anyone associated with this President— including Sue Kelly — can be defeated this year with a viable Democrat. Professor Walt Jablonsky of Marist College and Vassar, who has helped candidates win elections in this Congressional district, said that if a candidate gets only 26% of the vote, she should not expect the nomination a second time.

I would be grateful for your support at the upcoming county convention on Tuesday June 8. If you cannot come in person, please give a proxy to one of your colleagues. Vote for Jaliman and we will send Sue Kelly back to Katonah full-time this November.

Thank you.
Michael Jaliman

A4

Dear Fellow Democrat:

With your support, we can send Sue Kelly back to Katonah full-time this November, and we can put the 19th District at the forefront of national efforts to take back the House for the Democrats.

I am Michael Gilman. I live in the town of Patterson and I am running for Congress in New York's 19th Congressional District. Sue Kelly and the Republican leadership think this is a "safe seat" for them. They are wrong.

While defeating Kelly would be a major upset (and none of us are under any illusions that this will be an easy task), in my career as a management consultant, I have been involved in numerous instances where studied analysis, careful planning and proper execution have accomplished what had been thought impossible.

I have studied Kelly and her record, especially her performance as it benefits the 19th District, and I believe she can be defeated. Her support is not deep. Her voting record is too conservative for the district. She is disliked by many of her Democratic colleagues in the New York Congressional Delegation who can be mobilized to campaign against her.

Senator Schumer, Elliot Spitzer and Charlie Rangel each told me personally at the NY State Democratic Convention in May that they would come to the district and actively campaign against Sue Kelly (if I am the Democratic nominee). or any Democratic candidate?

To win the support of important public figures in the state and national party we need a credible candidate. Do not expect party leaders to be actively involved with my opponent Janine, a candidate who already lost to Sue Kelly by a margin of 44%. In 2002 Janine had 26% to Kelly 70%. Kelly spent close to a million dollars Janine spent about $16,000.

To beat Kelly will require serious money. As a strategic and organizational consultant to major corporations and Wall Street firms (as well as non-profits and small businesses), I have developed a network of contacts necessary to raise the money we will need. Classmates from Harvard Business School on my finance committee will help raise money from Democratic donors in the business world.

As a life long Democrat who is proficient in economics and holds an MBA from Harvard Business School, I can speak directly to the Bush policies which are harmful to the prosperity of our nation and raise serious money from the Democratic donor base in the business world. Janine cannot. The Bush policies are not only bad for the little guy; they are also bad for many businesses. Bush delivers for some giant corporations like drug companies that donate generously to the Republican Party.

To have a shot at winning we will need to tap into the dissatisfaction of many Independents and Republicans. With my long and practical career in business I will be able to do that. Janine cannot.

we can put the 19th District at the forefront of national efforts to take back the House for the Democrats.

I am Michael Jaliman. I live in the town of Patterson and I am running for Congress in New York's 19th Congressional District. Sue Kelly and the Republican leadership think this is a "safe seat" for them. They are wrong.

While defeating Kelly would be a major upset (and none of us are under any illusions that this will be an easy task), in my career as a management consultant, I have been involved in numerous instances where studied analysis, careful planning and proper execution have accomplished what had been thought impossible.

I have studied Kelly and her record, especially her performance as it benefits the 19th District, and I believe she can be defeated. Her support is not deep. Her voting record is too conservative for the district. She is disliked by many of her Democratic colleagues in the New York Congressional Delegation who can be mobilized to campaign against her.

Senator Schumer, Elliot Spitzer and Charlie Rangel each told me personally at the NY State Democratic Convention in May that they would come to the district and actively campaign against Sue Kelly (if I am the Democratic nominee).

or any Democratic candidate?

To win the support of important public figures in the state and national party we need a credible candidate. Do not expect party leaders to be actively involved with my opponent Janine, a candidate who already lost to Sue Kelly by a margin of 44%. In 2002 Janine had 26% to Kelly 70%. Kelly spent close to a million dollars Janine spent about $16,000.

To beat Kelly will require serious money. As a strategic and organizational consultant to major corporations and Wall Street firms (as well as non-profits and small businesses), I have developed a network of contacts necessary to raise the money we will need. Classmates from Harvard Business School on my finance committee will help raise money from Democratic donors in the business world.

As a life long Democrat who is proficient in economics and holds an MBA from Harvard Business School, I can speak directly to the Bush policies which are harmful to the prosperity of our nation and raise serious money from the Democratic donor base in the business world. Janine cannot. The Bush policies are not only bad for the little guy; they are also bad for many businesses. Bush delivers for some giant corporations like drug companies that donate generously to the Republican Party.

To have a shot at winning we will need to tap into the dissatisfaction of many Independents and Republicans. With my long and practical career in business I will be able to do that. Janine cannot.

47K miles
on 16K where is the 47K

5/18/2002 10:12 AM Page 35 2.9-176

212-979-2607
Attn: Eileen
FAX

Michael Jaliman

Michael Jaliman, managing director at Innovation Consultants, is a seasoned organizational and strategic consultant who fosters innovation and aligns organizational dynamics to implement strategic initiatives for major corporations and non-profits.

Previously, as senior managing director at Fujitsu Consulting he headed the regional financial services practice and led a consulting team guiding the merger of North American operations of three Japanese banks. Mr. Jaliman was director of strategic planning at KPMG Asia Pacific where he served as an adviser to business and government leaders.

He developed a strategy for the chief of staff of the office of the President of Taiwan to improve relations between the US and Taiwan, which led to a successful multimillion dollar initiative by the Taiwan government to build relations with the US Congress. Mr. Jaliman advised the two major political parties in Taiwan, encouraging peaceful competition between bitter adversaries. As a result of the trust he developed with both parties, he was able to organize and moderate the nation's first election debate between ~~leaders of the National Legislature~~ and later held a debate on Constitutional reform between leaders of the National Assembly. Mr. Jaliman was the elected Chair of the US Democratic Party Abroad in Asia and the Vice Chair in Taiwan.

He also worked with Renaissance Consulting, McKinsey & Company and CSC Index. He organized a conference on Strategies for Feeding Humanity for Buckminster Fuller and founded the Jonas Salk Institute for Applied Creativity which collected surplus computers and donated them to needy students at selective NYC high schools. Michael ran as a Democrat for Secretary of State of Wisconsin. He founded the Wisconsin Hunger Project and obtained increased funding for WIC. He organized Citizens for Human Rights, a pro-choice advocacy group that successfully lobbied to sustain the veto of an anti abortion bill. He founded the Free School which became a degree granting public high school and provided a successful strategy to block the construction of a sewage plant off the coast of Massachusetts.

Michael's wife of 25 years Kathryn Jaliman is a painter who exhibits internationally. His son David is a senior at Brewster High School. They live in the town of Patterson in Putnam County.

Mr. Jaliman has a BA with honors in economics from the University of Wisconsin, Madison (1978) where he was student body president. He has an MBA from Harvard University (1982) where he founded the Harvard Business School Leadership Forum.

Mr. Jaliman can be reached at mj@innovationconsultants.com