Dear Mr. Noble:

As treasurer of the Fowler for Senate Campaign Committee, I have been directed by Senator Fowler to disburse all remaining funds. The Committee will be inactive, remaining open only for the purpose of receiving rebates from broadcasters on overcharges and paying taxes and other outstanding obligations of the Committee. We will, of course, continue to file reports as required.

Specifically, Senator Fowler has directed that we receive no further campaign contributions from any source, but to terminate the Committee as soon as possible, when all obligations have been satisfied and rebates received and disbursed.

The Committee, at present, has cash on hand of slightly over $100,000, which Senator Fowler wishes to give to Oglethorpe University for the purpose of establishing a scholarship program for minority students in the name of former Chief Justice of the Georgia Supreme Court and former U.S. Congressman Charles L. Weltner.

We would assume that this is an appropriate use of campaign funds by the Committee under the Commission's charitable gift rules; but out of an abundance of caution, I respectfully request your written acknowledgment of the legality of this gift of campaign funds. I would appreciate your prompt consideration as Senator Fowler is anxious to establish the scholarship and place the Committee on an inactive status, existing only for the purpose outlined above.

Sincerely,

T. Michael Hurley, Jr.
