RE: Iowa Democratic Party Request for Advisory Opinion (AOR 1998-08)

Dear Commissioners:

On behalf of the Iowa Ethics and Campaign Disclosure Board, I would like to thank the Commission and its staff for extending the opportunity to the Iowa Board to comment upon the Request for an Advisory Opinion from the Iowa Democratic Party which is before you.

While the Iowa Board has not had an opportunity to meet formally since the request was filed with the Commission, I have informally polled the Board members, and specifically discussed the issue at a recent Board Subcommittee meeting. Especially since the Board has so recently formally and thoroughly considered the issue (July 15, 1997), there is definite consensus on the part of the Iowa Board in favor of standing by the formal determination made last year.

Respectfully, it is the Iowa Board's opinion and position that the key factors determined by the courts to be necessary for a finding of preemption of federal law over state law have not been established in this context. As stated in the Iowa Board's Declaratory Ruling, the courts have held that the mere fact that a federal law and a state law address the same question with different results is not sufficient to mandate preemption. With regard to extending the federal exemption from the corporate contribution prohibition to state party central committees building activities affecting state and local candidates, at least with respect to the facts as set out in the request by the Iowa Democratic Party, there is no analysis or showing that implied preemption is necessary:

- 1) to advance the Congressional purposes underlying the federal law;
- 2) because the F.E.C.A. regulatory scheme is so pervasive as to require preemption of state law even as to a committee's involvement in state and local elections;
- 3) because the nature of the Commission's regulation of a state party's federal activity demands exclusive and uniform federal regulation, even to the extent of impacting upon the state party's support of state and local candidates; and
- 4) because otherwise the state law would be an obstacle to the accomplishment and execution of the full purposes and objectives of Congress.

I will not here engage in a lengthy restatement of the Board's case law analysis, but will refer you to the Iowa Board's July 15, 1997, Declaratory Ruling to the Republican Party of Iowa, attached. For the purposes of the current inquiry, there does not appear to be any meaningful factual distinction between the circumstances set out by the Iowa Democratic Party in its request to you for an Advisory Opinion, and the facts as set out by the Republican Party of Iowa in their request last year to the Iowa Board for a Declaratory Ruling. I do request that the Commission note that past F.E.C. advisory opinions on this question have not been unanimous in favor of finding preemption; in fact, the dissents in prior Commission opinions have cited the very arguments advanced by the Iowa Board in its 1997 Declaratory Ruling.

On behalf of the Iowa Board, I invite and urge the Commission to thoroughly reexamine the merits of the legal arguments advanced by the Iowa Board as contained in the 1997 Declaratory Ruling, and to conclude that, at least insofar as the particulars as stated in the request for Advisory Opinion from the Iowa Democratic Party, the requirements for preemption by 2 U.S.C. § 431(8)(b)(viii) over Iowa Code § 56.15 regarding corporate contributions for a state central committee building have not been demonstrated.

Respectfully submitted,

Lynette A. F. Donner
Legal Counsel

Enclosure - Declaratory Ruling dated July 15, 1997 in the Matter of the Petition for Declaratory Ruling by the Republican Party of Iowa on certain aspects of Iowa Code § 56.15.

BEFORE THE IOWA ETHICS AND CAMPAIGN DISCLOSURE BOARD

IN THE MATTER OF:

PETITION FOR DECLARATORY, RULING BY THE REPUBLICAN PARTY OF IOWA

DECLARATORY RULING

on certain aspects of Iowa Code § 56.15

Pursuant to Iowa Code § 17A.9 and Iowa Admin. Code § 351-9.1, the Republican Party of Iowa (RPI) has petitioned this Board for a declaratory ruling asking whether Iowa Code § 56.15, which prohibits Iowa committees which support candidates (including RPI) from receiving corporate contributions, is preempted by Federal law insofar as its application to state party central committees (including RPI).

The Board acknowledges the Statement of the Facts set out by RPI in its Petition. As further background, the Board notes that RPI previously petitioned the Campaign Finance Disclosure Commission, the Board's predecessor, for a declaratory ruling on this question in 1983. That Ruling, issued in 1984, declined to opine on the issue of preemption, but rather concluded that the Iowa statute prohibiting corporate contributions applied to prohibit the planned activity, which was the use of corporate contributions to construct a facility for RPI.

The current Petition notes two advisory opinions issued by the Federal Election Commission (the F.E.C.) since 1984 in which a majority of the F.E.C. concluded that the Federal law did supersede state prohibitions similar to that in Iowa Code § 56.15.

THE STATE STATUTE

Iowa Code § 56.15, subsections 1 and 2, provide, in pertinent part:

1. [I]t is unlawful for ... [a] corporation ... to contribute any money, property, labor, or thing of value, directly or indirectly, to a committee, or for the purpose of influencing the vote of an elector ...

2. [I]t is unlawful for a member of a committee, or its employee or representative, ... or for a candidate for office or the representative of the candidate, to solicit, request, or knowingly receive from ... [a] corporation ... any money, property, or thing of value belonging to the ... corporation for campaign expenses, or for the purpose of influencing the vote of an elector ...

THE FEDERAL STATUTE

The Federal Election Campaign Act (F.E.C.A.), 2 U.S.C. 431 (8)(B)(viii) provides, in pertinent part:

(B) The term "contribution" does not include --

(viii) any gift, subscription, loan, advance, or deposit of money or anything of value to a national or a State committee of a political party specifically designated to defray any cost for construction or purchase of any office facility not acquired for the purpose of influencing the election of any candidate in any particular election for Federal office.

ISSUES AND DISCUSSION

I. WHEN DOES FEDERAL LAW SUPERSEDE STATE LAW?

In the Federal system of government enjoyed in these United States, the guiding rule is that an exercise of Federal power generally prevails over state law, and if the laws of a state come into conflict with a Federal statute, the state law must yield.¹ However, there must be an actual conflict between the Federal and state laws which goes to the purpose and intent of the Federal law. The "entire scheme of the federal statute must be considered; and whether Congress and the agencies acting under it have excluded state action depends on the facts in the particular case and the congressional intent ... Thus, the nature of the power exerted by Congress, the object sought to be attained, and the character of the obligation imposed by the law are important in determining whether supreme federal enactments preclude the enforcement of state laws on the same subject."² To effectively preempt state law, Congress must usually be express in its intention; preemption by implied intent is the exception, not the rule.³

A federal law is usually limited in its effect to activities under the jurisdiction of a federal agency, and a state law affecting state level action will not usually be preempted by implication "unless, when fairly construed, the federal [law] on the subject is clearly in conflict with the state [law] on the same subject" ... the repugnance or conflict should be direct and positive so that the two acts cannot be reconciled or consistently stand together."⁵ A state law is deemed to be preempted by implication if under the particular circumstances enforcement of the state law would be an obstacle to the accomplishment and execution of the full purposes and objectives of Congress.⁶

"[I]n determining whether state law has been superseded by federal law, the test is not whether a state law happens to block action which a federal agency may chance to approve, but whether the state law frustrates the operation of the federal law and prevents accomplishment of its purpose, and, if it does, only then must the state law yield."⁷

II. DOES THE F.E.C.A. (IN 2 U.S.C. Sec. 431(8)(B)(viii)) PREEMPT IOWA CODE SECTION 56.15 INsofar AS IT PROHIBITS CORPORATE CONTRIBUTIONS TO A STATE PARTY CENTRAL COMMITTEE FOR THE PURPOSES OF A BUILDING FUND?

Given the above discussion on the guiding principles of Federal preemption, a number of preliminary issues must be reviewed and answers determined. While the Board notes that the two F.E.C. opinions cited by IRP⁸ do make rudimentary reference to the factors to be considered in determining preemption, the Board also notes that in the case of both opinions there was a two-member dissent which contended that the majority's analysis of the preemption issue was incomplete and incorrect.⁹ While the Board may choose to defer to the F.E.C.'s interpretation of the interaction between the F.E.C.A. and the Iowa law, the Board is not jurisdictionally subordinate to the FEC so as to preclude the Board from independently considering the question of preemption.

A. WAS THERE EXPRESS INTENT TO SUPERSEDE CONTRARY STATE LAW WITH REGARD TO PROHIBITING CORPORATE CONTRIBUTIONS FOR STATE PARTY BUILDING FUNDS?

Congress can preempt a field either by express statutory command or by implicit legislative design.¹⁰ When a state law is challenged under the supremacy clause, the courts "start with the assumption that the historic police powers of the States were not to be superseded by the Federal Act unless that was the clear and manifest purpose of Congress."¹¹ The F.E.C. opinions note that the F.E.C.A. expressly "supersede[s] and preempt[s] any provision of State law with respect to election to Federal office." AO 1991-5, 11,696, 11,697; AO 1993-9, 11,892, 11,893. [Emphasis added.] The Board does not question or contest that insofar as a state party central committee's activities to support or oppose candidates for Federal office, the provisions of Iowa Code § 56.15 would not apply to prohibit corporate donations for building purposes. For that matter, the Board has never and would not contend that Iowa Code § 56.15 or any other provision of Chapter 56 would apply to any activity involving any Federal candidate which did not also directly involve a state or local candidate.

⁷ 81A C.J.S. States § 24, p. 332, footnoting to First Iowa Hydro-Elec. Co-op. v. Federal Power Comm'n, 151 F.2d 20 (D.C. Cir. 1945) (Iowa law prohibiting construction of dams in any navigable stream for industrial purposes without a permit was not preempted by the terms of the Federal Power Act which required compliance with state law) reversed on other grounds, 328 U.S. 152, 66 S.Ct. 906, 90 L.Ed. 1143.

The principle issue then becomes whether the provisions of the F.E.C.A. effectively supersede Iowa Code § 56.15 insofar as the state political party's activities relate to state or local candidates. There is no similarly clear language in the F.E.C.A. which expressly states that it was Congress' intent that this permitted activity with relation to Federal candidates was also specifically intended to apply to state party central committees activity with regard to state and local candidates.

B. WAS THERE IMPLIED INTENT THAT THE EXEMPTION FROM THE CORPORATE PROHIBITION APPLY TO STATE PARTY CENTRAL COMMITTEES ACTIVITIES WITH REGARD TO STATE OR LOCAL CANDIDATES?

The courts have applied a test involving four key factors which must be considered in determining that implied preemption has occurred:

(1) the aim and intent of Congress as revealed by the statute itself and its legislative history ... (2) the pervasiveness of the federal regulatory scheme as authorized and directed by the legislation and as carried into effect by the federal administrative agency ... (3) the nature of the subject matter regulated and whether it is one which demands "exclusive federal regulation in order to achieve uniformity vital to national interest." ...; and (4) "whether under the circumstances of [a] particular case [state] law stands as an obstacle to the accomplishment and execution of the full purposes and objectives of Congress."¹²

1. WHAT WAS THE CONGRESSIONAL PURPOSE (AIM AND INTENT) FOR THE FEDERAL EXEMPTION OF CORPORATE CONTRIBUTIONS GIVEN TO A POLITICAL PARTY CENTRAL COMMITTEE FOR BUILDING FUNDS?

The F.E.C. opinions do discuss somewhat the Congressional history of the F.E.C.A.:

The Act and Commission regulations specifically address building fund donations and clearly permit them. ... Congress explicitly decided not to place restrictions upon a subject, the cost of construction and purchase of an office facility by a national or state political party committee, which it might otherwise have chosen to treat as election influencing activity. Because such a facility would be used, at least in part, for Federal election activity, Congress could have decided that the purchase or construction of such facility was for the purpose of influencing a Federal election.

¹² Cosmetic, Toiletry & Frag. Ass'n, Inc. v. State of Minn. 440 F.Supp. 1216, 1220 (Dist. Minn.), aff'd 575 F.2d 1256 (8th Cir. 1978); quoting Northern States Power Co. v. State of Minn., 447 F.2d 1143, 1146-47 (8th Cir. 1971), aff'd, 405 U.S. 1035, 92 S.Ct. 1307, 31 L.Ed.2d 576 (1972).

Instead, it took the affirmative step of deleting the receipt and disbursement of funds for such activity from the specific proscriptions of the Act. In addition, there is no indication the Congress envisioned any sort of limitation on its preemption to some allocable portion of the costs of purchasing or constructing a building. ([In contrast, there are areas of election activity which] specifically sanction[] allocation of expenses for certain exempt party activities).¹³

This analysis, however, does not clearly indicate Congress' aim and intent in specifically allowing corporation donations for a building fund for a committee which is involved in elections for Federal office. Further, the justification for opining that there need not be any allocation between a state party's Federal activity and state activity because "there is no indication that Congress envisioned any sort of limitation on its preemption to some allocable portion ..." reverses the principles of preemption set out above -- rather than implying preemption because of the presence of a Federal directive regarding the subject, the opinion implies preemption of an allocation because of Congressional silence.

The Board could speculate as to what Congress' aim and intent was in enacting the exception for corporate donations for a building fund; however, the Board believes that it is the burden of the Petitioner, IRP, to identify the Congressional aim and intent, and to further show how, given the remaining factors which consider that aim and intent, Federal preemption should be implied insofar as a state party central committee's state and local political activity.

2. HOW PERVASIVE IS THE FEDERAL REGULATORY SCHEME AS AUTHORIZED AND DIRECTED BY THE LEGISLATION AND AS CARRIED INTO EFFECT BY THE FEDERAL ADMINISTRATIVE AGENCY?

The Board concedes that the F.E.C.A. regulatory scheme is completely pervasive as to the financial activities of committees which are involved in elections for Federal office. However, with the possible exclusion of the issue at hand, the Board is aware of only one campaign finance-related provision of the F.E.C.A which clearly applies to candidates at all levels, which is the prohibition against contributions by foreign nationals.¹⁴ The Petitioner has made no showing that the Federal scheme, either overall or with regard to the specific aim and intent underlying the corporate exemption for building funds, is so pervasive as to require preemption of state law even as to committees involved in state and local elections. To this end, there should be a showing that there be no reconciliation between the federal law which allows ¹³ AO 1991-5, 11,696, 11,697; AO 1993-9, 11,892, 11,893-11,894.

¹⁴ 2 U.S.C. § 441e(a): "It shall be unlawful for a foreign national directly or through any other person to make any contribution of money or other thing of value, or to promise expressly or impliedly to make any such contribution, in connection with an election to any political office or in connection with any primary election, convention, or caucus held to select candidates for any political office; or for any person to solicit, accept, or receive any such contribution from a foreign national." [Emphasis added.]

corporate contributions to a political party central committee for building funds and the state law which prohibits both direct and indirect corporate contributions to committees which support candidates for state, county or local office.

The Board is not convinced that the fact that the Federal government may have preempted state law by occupying the field on the question as to whether committees which support Federal candidates can receive corporate donations for a building fund certainly means that there is preemption in the field on the question as to whether corporate donations for building funds for committees involved in state or local elections is allowed.¹⁵ The Board observes that while a state party central committee clearly can and is involved in both Federal and state/local elections, the financial activities for each level of involvement are already conducted under the auspices of separately formed and reporting committees (one with the F.E.C., one with the Board). No argument has been advanced by RPI which would exclude an interpretation which would allow a corporately-funded building to be constructed solely for Federal activity. The Petitioners have not addressed the possibility that the state/local activity be conducted in a separate building, or the possibility that the state/local committee account reimburse the Federal account for a pro-rated fair market rental value of building usage. These are issues which the Board believes appropriate for the Petitioner to respond to in order for the Board to opine in favor of preemption.

3. WHAT IS THE NATURE OF THE SUBJECT MATTER REGULATED AND IS IT ONE WHICH DEMANDS "EXCLUSIVE FEDERAL REGULATION IN ORDER TO ACHIEVE UNIFORMITY VITAL TO NATIONAL INTEREST?"

Similar to the preceding section, the Board believes that the Petitioner has not at this point demonstrated that the provisions of the F.E.C.A. in general or the Federal corporate building exemption in particular are of such a nature as to exclude the possibility of allowing the exemption with respect to the state party central committee's Federal activities, but to defer to the state law prohibition with regard to the party's state and local activity. The Board is not persuaded that the state law prohibition against corporate contributions to a committee [supporting or opposing a state or local candidate] in any way touches upon the regulation or operation of the Federal activities of a state party committee.¹⁶ The Board is not cognizant of any national interest in uniformity on allowing corporate donations to be used for buildings to support the state and local activities of state party committees. "Mere federal permission [for an activity to occur] does not necessarily preclude state prohibition."¹⁷

4. UNDER THE CIRCUMSTANCES OF THIS CASE DOES THE STATE LAW STAND AS AN OBSTACLE TO THE ACCOMPLISHMENT AND EXECUTION OF THE FULL PURPOSES AND OBJECTIVES OF CONGRESS?

¹⁷ Id. at 479.

Again, without a better determination of the aim and intent of Congress in allowing corporate donations for building funds for state party committees, it is difficult for the Board to find that enforcement of Iowa Code § 56.15 poses an obstacle to the accomplishment of those purposes and objectives. It appears conceivable that the immediate goal of allowing such committees to use such funds for a building in which to conduct their Federal election activities can be accomplished and is not impaired by continued enforcement of the Iowa prohibition. The Petitioner has not demonstrated how federal law would be impaired by operation of Iowa Code § 56.15.

Given that the Federal financial activities of the state party central committee are conducted separately from the state and local financial activities of the committee, it is difficult for the Board to conclude that the Federal law is in "direct conflict" with the state statute. Without additional information, the Board must conclude that the laws can be reconciled, and that therefore Federal preemption does not apply.¹⁸

CONCLUSION

The Board finds that the Petitioner, the Republican Party of Iowa, has not provided sufficient authority or information upon which the Board can conclude that the provisions of Iowa Code § 56.15 are preempted insofar as the state and local election activities of the state party central committee.
