I understand the draft advisory opinion would allow Joe Miller to use campaign funds to pay a legal judgment stemming from the 2010 Alaskan U. S. Senate race.

I am not in favor of allowing use of campaign funds to pay the legal judgment against Joe Miller.

I believe the lawsuits filed by Joe Miller were filed after he lost the senate race and were therefore filed by Joe Miller, the citizen, not the candidate.

I also believe the use of campaign funds to pay the judgment constitutes conversion of campaign funds to personal use.

The real issue as noted in the FEC draft opinion is the question of integrity and truthfulness of a candidate for the U. S. Senate.
