Please adopt Draft B.

This is wrong...
Only the @FEC could think that if the Dem Party buys research for $30,000 uses it and then shares it w/2 candidates, its cost to each is 30k (total of 90k), rather than $10,000 (total of 30k).

Thank you for your time.

Dear FEC,

It is wrong for the @FEC to think that if the Democratic Party purchases research for $30,000, uses it, and then shares it with two candidates, its cost to each candidate is $30k (a total of $90k), rather than $10,000 (total of $30k). This defies accounting methodology.

Thank you,

Lori
It’s wrong!

If the Dem party pays for research, they own that research and can share it with whoever they want.

Hi, FEC!
This is wrong, wrong, wrong, really, really wrong!
(Please see below. Thanks). By the way, what kind of reasoning is behind this "calculation"?
Pay close attention to what Mr. Elias says and writes. Do NOT make his mission more difficult.

this draft is just plain wrong. Who could imagine in elementary school math that $30,000 divided by three results in each person paying $30,000.

Sorry.... this is so far off base.

Respectfully,

FEC,

It is absolutely wrong that if the Democratic Party buys 30K dollars worth of research and shares it with 2 candidates it costs each of them 30K. It should be 10K each.

Hello -

I am writing to express my view that it is wrong to charge each participant $30,000 instead of $10,000 (for a total of $30k v $90k). When people share, it means they split the cost, not that each party pays the entire sum.

Please revise your position on this.

Dear FEC,

I support Draft B ($10k per candidate).

Thanks,
Irina Skylar-Scott
I am writing to urge you to adopt Draft B, as it is just common sense that the cost would be divided rather than multiplied.

Thanks for all the work you do to keep our democracy strong!

Best,
Heidi

Dear Sir or Madam,

I am writing to implore you to adopt Draft B. It’s insane to say if Democrats pay $30K for research and then shares that research with 2 other parties, that the cost to all parties is $30K EACH (total $90K) rather than $10K for each of the three parties. It’s basic mathematics. If I buy a pie, and share the pie with two other people, 1/3 each, then we don’t ALL have to pay for the full cost of the whole pie! That’s insane.

Thank you,

Josephine Trott, PhD
