Dear Mr. Van Hecke:

The Federal Election Commission has reviewed the allegations of your complaint dated March 6, 1986 and determined on August 19, 1986, that on the basis of the information provided in your complaint and information provided by the Respondents there is no reason to believe that a violation of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as amended ("the Act") has been committed. Accordingly, the Commission has decided to close the file in this matter. The Federal Election Campaign Act allows a complainant to seek judicial review of the Commission's dismissal of this action. See 2 U.S.C. § 437g(a)(8).

Should additional information come to your attention which you believe establishes a violation of the Act, you may file a complaint pursuant to the requirements set forth in 2 U.S.C. § 437g(a)(1) and 11 C.F.R. § 111.4.

GENERAL COUNSEL'S REPORT

I. SUMMARY OF ALLEGATIONS

The complainant alleges that Jefferson Marketing, Inc. ("JMI") 1/ made a corporate contribution and Bedford Printing Company made an excessive contribution to the 1982 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee by not attempting to collect the debts owed to

1/ The complaint (filed March 12, 1986) names Jefferson Marketing, Inc. as a respondent in this matter; it does not name the National Congressional Club (NCC). As the Commission is aware, the Commission entered into a consent order with NCC and JMI on May 17, 1986. In that order, JMI and NCC admitted that, for purposes of the FECA, they were a single entity from December 1978 through December 1982, and that NCC should have included in its reports filed pursuant to 2 U.S.C. § 434, JMI's receipts and disbursements. NCC and JMI contended that they changed JMI's structure and operations in January of 1983 to alter the relationship between NCC and JMI and to separate the two. The Commission contended that the changes by JMI in 1983 were not sufficient to relieve NCC of the requirement to include in its reports filed pursuant to section 434 the receipts and disbursements of JMI from 1983 to the present. Also in that order, the Commission agreed that all claims or causes of actions it has or may have against JMI and NCC with respect to these issues are satisfied, discharged and settled.

The extensions of credit by JMI in the case now before the Commission which the complainant alleges to be contributions occurred during 1982. Although in MUR 1503 and 1792 the Commission took the position that NCC and JMI were a single entity at that time, the Office of General Counsel is naming only JMI as a respondent in this matter. The allegations in the present complaint are outside the scope of the issues considered by the Commission in MURs 1503 and 1792. Thus the Commission's consideration of the complaint is appropriate notwithstanding the May 17, 1986 consent order.

them by the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee. 2/ By early 1984, the 1982 Bill Cobey Committee owed $43,865.07 to Bedford Printing and $50,430.37 to JMI. According to the complaint, JMI and Bedford Printing continued to provide services during 1984 to the 1984 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee despite the outstanding debts and, what the complaint calls, few significant payments by either the 1982 or 1984 Cobey Committee.

After the 1984 election, the 1984 Cobey Committee assumed the debts of the 1982 Committee and the 1982 Committee terminated. The 1984 Committee reduced the debts owed to Bedford Printing to $18,138.40 and to JMI to $17,241.22. Bill Cobey filed his Statement of Candidacy for the 1986 election on June 28, 1985. The 1986 Cobey Committee began raising funds, however, according to the complaint, it has not paid off the debts owed to JMI and Bedford Printing.

The Office of General Counsel sent notice of the complaint to the respondents on March 18, 1986. We received a response from one respondent while two of the respondents requested an extension until April 21st, a two week extension, to respond to the Commission's notice. The Office of General Counsel granted the requested extensions and so notified the respondents.

II. FACTUAL AND LEGAL ANALYSIS

Section 441a(a)(1)(A) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as amended (the "Act" or "FECA"), prohibits a person

2/The Commission considered previously these same allegations against JMI in Pre-MUR 130. In January of 1985, the Commission voted 4-2 not to open a MUR and to close the file in the matter.

from making contributions to a candidate and his authorized political committee with respect to any election for Federal office aggregating in excess of $1,000. Section 431 defines the terms "person" and "contribution." The term "person" includes an individual, partnership, association, corporation, or any other organization or group of persons, among other things. 2 U.S.C. § 431(11).

According to Thomas A. Farr, counsel for Bedford Printing Company, Bedford Printing was a proprietorship owned by Archie Ray Bedford during 1982 and 1984. The phrase "any other organization or group of persons" in the definition of the term "person" encompasses a sole proprietorship, thus bringing Bedford Printing within the purview of section 441a(a)(1)(A).

A "contribution" is, among other things, a gift, loan, advance, or deposit of money or anything of value. 2 U.S.C. § 431(8)(A). The Commission's regulations state further: "The extension of credit by any person for a length of time beyond normal business or trade practice is a contribution, unless the creditor has made a commercially reasonable attempt to collect the debt. (See 11 C.F.R. 114.10)." 11 C.F.R. 100.7(a)(4).

Section 441a(f) prohibits a candidate or political committee from knowingly accepting a contribution in violation of the provisions of section 441a.

Section 441b makes it unlawful for a corporation to make a contribution or expenditure in connection with an election at which a Representative in Congress is to be voted for or in connection with a primary election held to select a Congressional candidate. 2 U.S.C. § 441b(a). It also is unlawful for a candidate or political committee knowingly to accept or receive any contribution from a corporation and for a director of a corporation to consent to a contribution by the corporation prohibited by section 441b. Id. For purposes of section 441b, the term "contribution" includes, among other things, a loan, advance, any services, or anything of value to a candidate or his or her campaign committee. 2 U.S.C. § 441b(b)(2).

Section 114.10 allows a corporation to extend credit to a candidate or political committee in connection with a Federal election provided the corporation extends the credit in the ordinary course of the corporation's business and the terms are substantially similar to extensions of credit to nonpolitical debtors of similar risk and size of obligation. 11 C.F.R. 114.10(a).

Jefferson Marketing, Inc. is a corporation and thus subject to the prohibitions of section 441b. Bill Cobey sought election to the House of Representatives in 1982, unsuccessfully, in 1984, successfully, and is seeking reelection this year. Mr. Cobey and his principal campaign committees therefore are also subject to section 441b and to section 441a(f).

The issue then is whether Bedford Printing Company and Jefferson Marketing, Inc. have made contributions to the 1982 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee. The complaint alleges that, at the conclusion of Representative Cobey's unsuccessful 1982 Congressional campaign, the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee owed approximately $80,000 to JMI and Bedford Printing. The complainant asserts that during 1983 the 1982 Cobey Committee made no payments to JMI and only nominal payments to Bedford Printing, despite the Committee's receipt of $50,778.50 in contributions in 1983. (See Exhibits B and C to the complaint). According to the complaint, at a time when the Cobey Committee owed $34,185.06 to JMI and had not made any payments on its debt for over thirty days, JMI advanced an additional $16,734.43 in services or goods to the 1982 Cobey Committee. (See Exhibits A and B to the complaint).

The complaint asserts that Bedford Printing apparently took no action to collect the debt owed by the 1982 Cobey Committee even though Bedford Printing received only a nominal payment during the more than two years after Bedford extended the credit. The complaint maintains that Bedford had a policy of attempting to collect bad debts after 90 to 180 days, citing a statement by Archie R. Bedford quoted in a newspaper article. (See Exhibit D to the complaint).

The complaint states that the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee owed $43,865.07 to Bedford Printing and $50,430.37 to JMI at the beginning of 1984. (See complaint and Exhibits D and E). When Mr. Cobey sought election to Congress in 1984, he set up a separate campaign committee and "virtually ignored his debts to Bedford Printing Company and Jefferson Marketing, Inc." Page 5 of the complaint.

According to the complaint, the 1984 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee raised $404,254.73 in 1984 through the general election reporting period. (See complaint and its Exhibit F). Prior to the 1984 general election, the complaint states, the 1984 Cobey Committee paid only $7,985 on the debt owed to JMI. Following Mr. Cobey's election, the 1984 Cobey Committee paid $2,216.30 to Bedford Printing from the Committee's surplus campaign funds. No payments were made to JMI from surplus funds, the complainant maintains. (See complaint and its Exhibits F, G and H).

The complainant compares the 1984 Cobey Committee's payments to Bedford Printing and JMI with the payments to Mr. Cobey himself. According to the complaint, Mr. Cobey was repaid fully for the $8,000 loan he made to the 1982 Cobey Committee. (See complaint and its Exhibits F and G). The complaint asserts that the 1984 Committee repaid Mr. Cobey first, even though it owed a balance in excess of $65,000 to JMI and Bedford Printing.

The complaint maintains that there is further evidence that the extensions of credit by Bedford Printing and JMI were not in the ordinary course of business. The evidence is the fact that both JMI and Bedford Printing provided services to the 1984 Cobey Committee even though there were "significant" debts outstanding owed to both Bedford Printing and JMI and there were "no significant payments" by either the 1982 or 1984 Cobey Committee. (See p. 6 of the complaint and its Exhibits Q, R and S).

The complaint notes that JMI wrote off a $21,339 campaign debt owed by Mr. Cobey's committee prior to 1982 when Mr. Cobey ran for Lt. Governor of North Carolina. JMI extended new credit to Mr. Cobey for his 1982 campaign despite the fact he had been unable to pay the debt from his campaign for Lt. Governor. By 1983, JMI had extended more than $50,000 of new credit to the 1982 Cobey Committee, which the 1982 Cobey Committee did not repay. (See complaint and its Exhibit T). The complainant asserts that these facts raise questions as to whether the Cobey Committees and JMI "are bargaining at arms-length in the ordinary course of business." (Page 7 of the complaint).

The 1984 Cobey Committee assumed the $101,281 in debts of the 1982 Cobey Committee. The 1982 Committee then terminated. The complaint states that, during 1985, the 1984 Committee raised $93,366.70 and reduced the debts to Bedford Printing to $18,138.40 and to JMI to $17,241.22. (See p. 7 of the complaint and its Exhibits J and K). The complainant maintains that, even though Representative Cobey filed a Statement of Candidacy for the 1986 race for the House of Representatives on June 28, 1985, and formed the 1986 Reelection Committee, as early as January 1985, the 1984 Cobey Committee was separating contributions for use in the 1986 campaign from contributions to pay past debts. (See pp. 7-8 of the complaint and its Exhibits M and N).

The complainant asserts that the 1986 Reelection Committee raised $46,830.53 in 1985, enough to pay fully the 1982 debts, however, the 1986 Reelection Committee has not paid off the debts. This is despite a reported cash-on-hand surplus of $16,760.61 as of December 31, 1985. (See p. 8 of the complaint and its Exhibit M). Representative Cobey and his committees are raising funds, which the complainant maintains could be used to pay the debts which are over four years old, however, the Committees have not chosen to pay off the debts. The complainant concludes that "[t]he Bill Cobey Committees' decision not to pay these debts is clearly willful and deliberate and the failure of Jefferson Marketing, Inc. or Bedford Printing Company to take any action to collect payment for these debts is not commercially reasonable." (Pages 8-9 of the complaint).

Bedford Printing Company

Counsel for Bedford Printing Company has responded to the complaint. According to the response, Bedford Printing was a proprietorship fully owned by Mr. Archie R. Bedford during the period of time at issue in the complaint. Because Bedford Printing is not a corporation, it could not have made corporate contributions to the 1982 Cobey Committee. If a violation of the Act has occurred, it would be an excessive contribution rather than a corporate contribution.

Bedford Printing argues that no violation has occurred. Bedford Printing has dealt with the 1982 Cobey Committee, according to the response, in a commercially reasonable manner.

In 1980, when Representative Cobey was an unsuccessful candidate for Lieutenant Governor of North Carolina, Bedford Printing charged Mr. Cobey's Committee $12,246.71. The committee fully paid the charges by April 15, 1981. Bedford Printing states that, based on the reliable payment record of the 1980 Committee during 1980 and 1981, it was "clearly commercially reasonable for Bedford Printing to extend credit in 1982 to the 1982 Committee." Page 2 of Bedford Printing's response, Attachment 2.

Bedford Printing's charges during 1981 and 1982 to the 1982 Cobey Committee totalled $67,121.42. According to Bedford Printing's records, the 1982 Cobey Committee made the following payments on its debt:

1982		$20,844.67
1983		1,994.87
1984		10,201.90
1985		14,532.03
1986		3,994.06
	Balance	($15,553.89)
	Total	$67,121.42

Bedford Printing states that 11 C.F.R. 114.10(c) authorizes the settlement of campaign debts on commercially reasonable terms. Bedford Printing argues that the Cobey Committees have been making diligent efforts to pay fully its 1982 debt.

Bedford Printing disagrees with the complainant's statements that Bedford Printing extended credit or services to the 1984 Cobey Committee. Bedford Printing provided services based on the assurances that the 1984 Cobey Committee pay the bills promptly. On March 19, 1984, Bedford Printing provided services to the 1984 Cobey Committee for $3,225.86. The 1984 Committee paid the bill in full on May 18, 1984. Bedford Printing states the services were the only work it performed for the 1984 Committee.

The complaint also is incorrect, according to Bedford Printing's response, in stating that the 1986 Committee has asked Bedford Printing to render services. Should the 1986 Committee make such a request, Bedford Printing will require terms similar to those for the 1984 Committee, that is, payment within two months of billing.

Bedford Printing states that the complaint implies that Bedford Printing has a policy of filing court proceedings to collect debts not paid within 90 to 180 days. According to the response, Mr. Bedford never sued a delinquent client to collect a debt. Instead, he contacted delinquent clients. In the case of the 1982 Committee, he was assured on several occasions that the 1982 debt would be paid.

Finally, Mr. Bedford died on March 17, 1986. Mr. Bedford's wife, Edna Bedford, is the administratrix of his estate. Bedford Printing's response argues that neither Mrs. Bedford nor any of the other heirs of Mr. Bedford can be penalized for the transactions between Mr. Bedford and the Cobey Committees. Respondent maintains that since assuming responsibility for Bedford Printing's assets, Mrs. Bedford has conducted the affairs of Bedford Printing in a commercially reasonable manner. The response argues that Mr. Bedford's conduct with respect to the Cobey Committees was commercially reasonable as well, including any decision not to sue the 1982 Cobey Committee over the debt. A suit was unnecessary based on Representative Cobey's record of repaying debts. A lawsuit would have depleted both Bedford Printing's resources as well as those of the 1982 Cobey Committee. The resources, the response argues, could be better spent reducing the 1982 Committee's debt to Bedford Printing.

The 1982 Cobey Committee incurred a debt to Bedford Printing in 1982. In 1986, over $15,000 is still owed to Bedford Printing. Thus, Bedford Printing has extended credit to the Cobey Committee for over four years. Section 100.7(a)(4) states that the extension of credit for a length of time beyond normal business or trade practice is a contribution, unless the creditor makes commercially reasonable attempts to collect the debt. An extension of credit for more than four years is a length of time beyond normal business practice. The burden is on the respondent to show that the extension of a credit is in the ordinary course of business. With respect to whether Bedford Printing made any commercially reasonable attempts to collect the debt, Bedford Printing's response states only that Mr. Bedford contacted the Cobey Committee about the debt and was assured the debt would be paid. The response offers no evidence of how Mr. Bedford dealt with other delinquent customers, what actions he took with regard to the Cobey Committee and whether he dealt with the Cobey Committee as he did with other debtors.

The extension of credit for over four years is beyond normal business or trade practice where there is little evidence that Bedford Printing made a commercially reasonable attempt to collect the debt. Therefore, the Office of General Counsel recommends that the Commission find reason to believe that Bedford Printing violated 2 U.S.C. § 441a(a)(1)(A).

The Office of General Counsel has prepared Interrogatories and Request for Production of Documents to determine, among other things, whether Mrs. Bedford intends to keep the business going. If she plans to continue to operate the business, then Mr. Bedford's death should not affect the outcome of this matter.

JMI

Counsel for JMI responded to the complaint. JMI argues that the complaint's claims, which involve the unsuccessful

1982 campaign of Mr. Cobey for Congress, are stale and that the staleness handicaps JMI's ability to respond fully to the allegations. The response argues "JMI will suffer substantial prejudice if it is forced to defend in 1986 actions taken by JMI in 1980 and 1982." Page 2 of JMI's response, Attachment 3.

As of January 1, 1983, the 1982 Cobey Committee owed JMI $48,558.44. JMI argues that, based on information available to it before the 1982 general election, JMI acted in a commercially reasonable manner in extending credit to the 1982 Cobey Committee. JMI states that Mr. Cobey had established, by 1982, "a proven track record of raising money for his political campaigns and a history of dealing with political vendors on a good faith basis." Page 2 of JMI's response. A poll indicated Mr. Cobey was 26 percentage points ahead of his incumbent opponent on October 12, 1982. A poll taken on October 26, 1982 showed Mr. Cobey 12 percentage points ahead of his opponent. Based on these polls, it was reasonable for JMI to conclude, according to JMI's response, that Mr. Cobey was a good credit risk.

JMI's past experience indicated that successful candidates have paid fully any debts they have owed JMI. JMI concluded, based on the polls, that Mr. Cobey would win the election and then would be better able to raise funds to pay his debts to JMI, including the 1980 committee's debt from his campaign for Lieutenant Governor.

JMI disagrees with the complaint's allegation that JMI wrote off, prior to 1982, a $21,399 campaign debt from Mr. Cobey's campaign for Lieutenant Governor in 1980. JMI states that in November 1983, it agreed to forgive a $19,830.90 balance in exchange for all of the assets owned by the 1980 committee. The assets included contributor lists, voter lists, voter information, volunteer lists, voter canvass materials, coordinator and co-chairman lists, research data, television ads, other media production, campaign fliers, press releases, administrative files, notes and all other campaign-related materials. JMI states the debt was settled on commercially reasonable terms after the 1982 general election.

According to the response, "Mr. Cobey has made a substantial effort to reduce the debt" his 1982 Committee owes to JMI. The 1982 Committee has made the following payments:

1983	$ 9,261.40
1984	25,560.80
1985	4,886.61
1986	12,928.65
Balance	$15,885.04

Regarding extensions of credit since 1982, JMI's response states that JMI extended credit to the 1982 Committee only where the 1982 Committee used the extension of credit to raise money to reduce the debt. JMI officials, the response maintains, have discussed the 1982 debt with Mr. Cobey several times. Mr. Cobey has promised "repeatedly" he intends to pay the debt fully.

JMI disputes the complaint's allegation that JMI extended substantial credit to the 1984 Committee. Instead, "JMI played a very minor role in Mr. Cobey's 1984 campaign." Page 3 of JMI's response. The 1984 Committee prepaid for most of the $2,872.01 in services JMI performed for the 1984 Committee. JMI owed the 1984 Committee a $636.07 credit on May 31, 1985. Later in 1985, JMI sold office furniture to the 1984 Committee. The 1984 Committee owes JMI $494 currently.

JMI disagrees with the complainant's conclusion that JMI's failure to initiate a collection action against the Cobey Committee is commercially unreasonable. JMI argues that it believes Mr. Cobey intends to repay the debt fully and that he will raise funds sufficient to pay the debt. JMI bases its conclusion on past dealings between the parties and the schedule of payments that the Cobey Committee has made already. To initiate a lawsuit would deplete unnecessarily the Cobey Committee resources as well as those of JMI. The resources instead could be used to pay the debt. JMI has concluded also that a collection action would inhibit its ability to attract clients and should be pursued only if there is no other possible recourse.

JMI has argued that the allegations in the complaint are stale because they involve extensions of credit from 1982. As discussed in footnote 2, supra, the Commission, in January of 1985, considered these same allegations against JMI. Now, over a year later, and four years after JMI and Bedford Printing initially extended the credit, the Cobey Committee still has not paid fully the debts it owes to JMI or Bedford Printing. The Committee owes over $15,000 to each vendor. Section 100.7(a)(4) states that the extension of credit for a length of time beyond normal business or trade practice is a contribution, unless the creditor makes commercially reasonable attempts to collect the debt. An extension of credit for what is now more than four years is a length of time beyond normal business practice. The burden is on the respondent to show that the extension of credit is in the ordinary course of its business. With respect to whether JMI made any commercially reasonable attempts to collect the debt, JMI's response states only that JMI contacted the Cobey Committee about the debt and was assured the debt would be paid. The response offers no evidence of how JMI dealt with other delinquent customers, what actions JMI took with regard to the Cobey Committee and whether JMI dealt with the Cobey Committee as it did with other debtors.

The extension of credit for over four years is beyond normal business or trade practice where there is little evidence that JMI made a commercially reasonable attempt to collect the debt. Therefore, the Office of General Counsel recommends that the Commission find reason to believe that Jefferson Marketing, Inc. violated 2 U.S.C. § 441b(a).

Cobey Committees

Counsel for the Cobey Committees responded to the complaint. The response states that in 1984, services provided by JMI to the Cobey for Congress Committee were on a "pay-as-you-go" basis. JMI has not extended further credit to the Cobey Committee with an outstanding debt still owned by the 1984 Committee. The response adds that the 1986 Cobey for Congress Committee has not made an arrangement for the provision of credit by JMI. The 1986 Committee anticipates that it will not contract with JMI for the provision of "substantial services" but may purchase "lesser services and materials" from JMI.

With respect to Bedford Printing, the response states that Bedford did not extend credit to the 1984 Cobey Committee. The Cobey Committee made payments on a "pay-as-you-go" basis. In addition, the 1984 Cobey Committee made only "nominal purchases" from Bedford Printing. This is because another printer is now located at the site of the 1984 and 1986 Cobey Committees headquarters. The 1986 Cobey Committee does not plan to use Bedford Printing, but, if it should, it will be on a "pay-as-you-go" basis.

The response argues that it is not unusual for a campaign committee, particularly an unsuccessful campaign, to have outstanding debts and obligations. Although debts owed to Bedford Printing and JMI from 1982 remain, the response notes that the Cobey Committee has paid other debts completely and has made "substantial regular progress" in paying the debts to JMI and Bedford Printing. Also, the Cobey for Congress Committee and the creditors have had ongoing discussions about further payments.

The Cobey Committee response quotes Congressman Cobey: "We are systematically paying off our campaign debts to the best of our ability." In the view of the Cobey Committee, a company owed an outstanding debt but which is receiving regular payments would be reluctant to pursue any other action to collect the debt. The efforts to collect the debts, therefore, is commercially reasonable. The Cobey Committee argues that it has not violated 2 U.S.C. § 441a(f) or § 441b.

The Cobey Committee incurred the debts to JMI and Bedford Printing in 1982. In 1986, over $15,000 is still owed to each vendor. Thus, JMI and Bedford Printing have extended credit to the Cobey Committee for over four years. Section 100.7(a)(4) states that the extension of credit for a length of time beyond normal business or trade practice is a contribution, unless the creditor makes commercially reasonable attempts to collect the debt. A extension of credit for more than four years is a length of time beyond normal business practice. With respect to whether JMI or Bedford Printing made any commercially reasonable attempts to collect the debt, the responses state only that the vendors contacted the Cobey Committee about the debt and were assured the debt would be paid. The responses offer no evidence of how JMI or Bedford Printing dealt with other delinquent customers, what actions they took with regard to the Cobey Committee and whether they dealt with the Cobey Committee as they did with other debtors.

The extension of credit for over four years is beyond normal business or trade practice where there is little evidence that JMI or Bedford Printing made a commercially reasonable attempt to collect the debt. Therefore, the Office of General Counsel recommends that the Commission find reason to believe that the Cobey Committee and Robert Powell Holding, III, as treasurer, violated 2 U.S.C. § 441a(f) by accepting a contribution from Bedford Printing Company in the form of an extension of credit for a length of time beyond normal business or trade practice and violated section 441b(a) by accepting a contribution from Jefferson Marketing, Inc. also in the form of an extension of credit for a length of time beyond normal business or trade practice.

III. Recommendations

The Office of General Counsel recommends the Commission:

1. Find reason to believe Bedford Printing Company violated 2 U.S.C. § 441a(a)(1)(A).

2. Find reason to believe Jefferson Marketing, Inc. violated 2 U.S.C. § 441b(a).

3. Find reason to believe the 1984 Cobey for Congress Committee and Robert Powell Holding, III, treasurer, violated 2 U.S.C. § 441a(f) and § 441b(a).

4. Approve and send the attached letters for all respondents and the Interrogatories and Requests for Production of Documents for Bedford Printing Company and Jefferson Marketing, Inc.

RE: Unlawful Contributions to the Cobey for Congress Committees (1982, 1984, 1986)

Dear Commissioner McGarry:

As Chairman of the North Carolina Democratic Party, I write this letter pursuant to the provisions of 2 USC 437g as a formal complaint against the Cobey for Congress Committees (1982, 1984, 1986). I respectfully request that the Commission conduct an immediate investigation of certain debts of the Cobey for Congress Committees to determine if the Committees are the beneficiaries of illegal corporate contributions and excessive contributions from Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company.

UPON INFORMATION AND BELIEF, I ALLEGE:

Parties

The following political committees and corporations are the subject of this complaint:

1. Bill Cobey for Congress Committee (1982) FEC# C00175604; FEC#0099732 (hereinafter referred to as the 1982 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee).

This committee was originally established as the principal campaign committee for Bill Cobey when he sought election to

Congress from North Carolina in 1982. This committee purportedly terminated in 1984 when it transferred its outstanding debts of over $100,000 to another Bill Cobey for Congress Committee that was established to operate Bill Cobey's campaign for Congress in 1984.

2. Bill Cobey for Congress Committee (1984) FEC# C00151589; FEC# 11148 (hereinafter referred to as the 1984 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee).

This committee was established by Bill Cobey as his principal campaign committee when he sought election to Congress from North Carolina in 1984. The 1984 committee coexisted with the 1982 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee. Upon information and belief, the 1984 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee was established to enable Bill Cobey to raise money for his 1984 election bid and to avoid paying the existing debts of the previous campaign with incoming contributions.

3. Cobey for Congress Reelection Committee (1986) FEC# C00202952 (hereinafter referred to as the 1986 Cobey for Congress Committee).

This committee has been established by Bill Cobey as the principal campaign committee for Bill Cobey's bid for reelection to Congress in 1986. Upon information and belief, Bill Cobey has established this Committee to enable him to raise contributions for his 1986 reelection and to avoid using incoming contributions to pay the existing debts of previous campaigns. The 1984 Bill

R7040540028

Cobey for Congress Committee has approximately $35,000.00 of unpaid debts to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company which arose from the 1982 Cobey campaign.

4. Jefferson Marketing, Inc.

Jefferson Marketing, Inc. is a North Carolina corporation that engages in the business of political campaign consulting and advertising. Jefferson Marketing provided credit for direct mail fundraising and campaign services to the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee, the 1984 Cobey for Congress Committee, and upon information and belief, it will provide credit for such services to the 1986 Cobey for Congress Committee. At the conclusion of the 1982 election, the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee owed Jefferson Marketing over $30,000 and that debt remained unpaid at the conclusion of the 1984 election. Campaign services were provided by Jefferson Marketing, Inc. to the 1984 Cobey for Congress Committee despite the large unpaid debt of the 1982 campaign. As the 1986 elections begin, a sum of over $17,000.00 remains unpaid by the Cobey for Congress Committees for direct mail services provided by Jefferson Marketing, Inc.

5. Bedford Printing Company.

Upon information and belief, Bedford Printing Company is a North Carolina corporation that engages in the printing business including the printing of campaign materials for candidates. Bedford Printing Company extended credit to the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee, the 1984 Cobey for Congress Committee, and, upon information and belief, it will provide credit for such services to the 1986 Cobey for Congress Committee for the printing of campaign materals. Bedford Printing Company extended over $40,000.00 of credit to the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee for the printing of campaign materials. Bedford Printing Company received only a nominal payment from the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee for almost two years following this extension of credit. As the 1986 campaign begins, over $18,000.00 of the original credit extended to the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee remains unpaid.

Background

Bill Cobey first sought election to Congress from the Fourth Congressional District of North Carolina in 1982 when he ran unsuccessfully as a Republican candidate against incumbent Democratic Congressman Ike Andrews. Following his unsuccessful bid for election to Congress, the 1982 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee filed their 1982 year end contributions and expenditures report which showed $125,448.23 in debts and obligations owed by the Committee. (See Exhibit A.) Of the total debt owed by the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee, approximately $80,000.00 or two-thirds of this debt was owed to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company. During calendar year 1983, no payments were made against the debts to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and only a nominal payment was made to Bedford Printing Company despite the fact that the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee received $50,778.50 in contributions in 1983. (See Exhibits B and C.) Furthermore, at a time when Jefferson Marketing, Inc. was owed $34,185.06 and had not received any payment against its debt for more than thirty days, Jefferson Marketing, Inc. advanced an additional $16,734.43 in services or goods to the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee. (See Exhibit A and Exhibit B.)

Bedford Printing Company, which has a policy of trying to collect bad debts after they have been on the books from 90 to 180 days, apparently took no action to collect its debt from the 1982 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee even though it received only a nominal payment during a period of more than two years after credit was extended and the debt incurred. (See Exhibit D.)

At the beginning of calendar year 1984, the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee owed $43,865.07 to Bedford Printing Company and $50,430.37 to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. (See Exhibits D and E.) When Bill Cobey again sought election to Congress in 1984 from the Fourth Congressional District of North Carolina, he established a separate campaign committee for his 1984 election bid and virtually ignored his debts to Bedford Printing Company and Jefferson Marketing, Inc.

The 1984 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee raised $404,254.73 during 1984 through the general election reporting period. (See Exhibit F.) Yet, of this sum, only $7,985.00 was paid on the Jefferson Marketing, Inc. debt prior to the 1984 general election. (See Exhibits F, G and H.) After Bill Cobey's election $2,216.30 was paid to Bedford Printing Company from surplus campaign contributions. No surplus campaign contributions were paid to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. after the 1984 election. (See Exhibit F.)

Candidate Bill Cobey received much better treatment during this period than these creditors. Bill Cobey received $8,000.00 in 1984 from his Committee, for payment in full of a loan he made to his 1982 campaign committee. (See Exhibit G and F.) The balance owed to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company exceeded $65,000.00 when the 1984 Cobey for Congress Committee elected to repay their candidate instead of these corporate or business creditors. (See Exhibits G and F.)

Whether Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company were extending credit to the Cobey for Congress Committees in the normal course of business is further brought into question by the continuing role of these companies in Bill Cobey's 1984 campaign effort. Jefferson Marketing continued to provide substantial direct mail services and Bedford Printing Company continued to provide substantial printing services to Bill Cobey when significant debts were outstanding to both corporations and when no significant payments were being made on these debts by the 1982 or 1984 Cobey for Congress Comittees. (See Exhibits Q, R, and S). The cavalier attitude towards these debts by the Cobey Committees and the vendors belies an arms-length business relationship from which credit was extended in the usual and customary course of business for the usual and customary length of time.

(Prior to the 1982 campaign, Jefferson Marketing, Inc. wrote off a $21,339.00 campaign debt arising from Bill Cobey's unsuccessful campaign for Lt. Governor of North Carolina. (See Exhibit T). Jefferson Marketing, Inc. then proceeded to extend new credit for a new campaign to the same candidate or customer who was unable to pay his debts from the previous campaign. By 1983, over $50,000.00 of new credit was extended by Jefferson Marketing, Inc. that remained unpaid by the 1982 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee. These facts raise serious questions concerning whether the Cobey for Congress Committees and Jefferson Marketing, Inc. are bargaining at arms-length in the ordinary course of business.)

After the 1984 election success, the 1982 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee terminated and its $101,281.00 debt was assumed by the 1984 Cobey for Congress Committee. (See Exhibit F.) During 1985, the 1984 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee raised $93,366.70 and reduced the 1982 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee's debt to Bedford Printing Company to $18,138.40 and the debt to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. to $17,241.22. (See Exhibits J and K.) On June 28, 1985 Bill Cobey filed his Statement of Candidacy for the 1986 Congressional race for

Congress in the Fourth Congressional District of North Carolina and a 1986 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee was formed. (See Exhibits L and M.)

However, as early as January, 1985, the Bill Cobey campaign was separating contributions for use in a 1986 campaign from contributions for payment on past debts. (See Exhibits M and N.)

The 1986 Bill Cobey for Congress Campaign raised $46,830.53 during 1985, enough to pay all the 1982 debts in full. (See Exhibit M.) The 1986 Cobey for Congress Committee even reported a surplus of cash on hand in the amount of $16,760.61 as of December 31, 1985. (See Exhibit M.) Today, candidate Bill Cobey and his campaign committees are actively raising contributions which could pay the debts that were incurred almost four years ago but a conscious decision not to pay those debts from incoming contributions has been made. (See Exhibit O.) Candidate Bill Cobey states that "we are systematically paying off our campaign debts to the best of our ability", but his campaign committees have raised over one-half million dollars in campaign contributions over the past four years and the debts to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company remain unpaid.

The Bill Cobey Committees' decision not to pay these debts is clearly willful and deliberate and the failure of Jefferson Marketing, Inc. or Bedford Printing Company to take any action to collect payment for these debts is not commercially reasonable.

LAW

2 USC 431(8) (A) The term "contribution" includes-
(i) any gift, subscription, loan, advance, or deposit of money or anything of value made by any person for the purpose of influencing any election for Federal office.

(a) It is un lawful for any national bank, or any corporation organized by authority of any law of Congress, to make a contribution or expenditure in connection with any election to any political office, or in connection with any primary election or political convention or caucus held to select candidates for any political office, or for any corporation whatever, or any labor organization, to make a contribution or expenditure in connection with any election at which presidential and vice presidential electors or a Senator or Representative in, or a Delegate or Resident Commissioner to, Congress are to be voted for, or in connection with any primary election or political conventions or caucus held to select candidates for any of the foregoing offices, or for any candidate, political committee, or other person knowingly to accept or receive any contribution prohibited by this section, or any officer or any director of any corporation or any national bank, or any officer of any labor organization to consent to any contribution or expenditure by the corporation, national bank, or labor union, as the case may be prohibited by this section.

2 USC 441b (b) (2) For purposes of this section and section 79(h) of title 15, the term "contribution or expenditure" shall include any direct or indirect payment, distribution, loan, advance, deposit, or gift of money, or any services, or anything of value (except a loan of money by a national or State bank made in accordance with the applicable banking laws and regulations and in the ordinary course of business) to any candidate, campaign committee, or political party or organization, in connection with any election to any of the offices referred to in this section. (Emphasis added.)

2 USC 441 a (a)(1)(A) No person shall make contributions to any candidate and his authorized political committees with respect to any election or Federal office which, in the aggregate, exceed $1,000.00.

11 CFR 100.7 (a)(B)(4) The extension of credit by any person for a length of time beyond normal business or trade practice is a contribution, unless the creditor has made a commercially reasonable attempt to collect the debt. (See 11 CFR 114.10.) A debt owed by a political committee which is forgiven or settled for less than the amount owed is a contribution unless such debt is settled in accordance with the standards set forth at 11 CFR 114.10.

11 CFR 114.10 (a) A corporation may extend credit to a candidate, political committee, or other person in connection with a Federal election provided that the credit is extended in the ordinary course of the corporation's business and the terms are substantially similar to extensions of credit to nonpolitical debtors which are of similar risk and size of obligation. Nothing in this section modifies regulations prescribed by the Civil Aeronautics Board, the Federal Communications Commission or the Interstate Commerce Commission issued pursuant to 2 USC 451 or any other regulations prescribed by other Federal agencies with regard to credit extended by the regulated corporations.

(b) Except as specifically provided in paragraph (c) of this section, a corporation may not forgive prior debts or settle debts which have been incurred by a candidate or political committee or other person for use in connection with a Federal election for less than the amount owed on the debt.

(c) A corporation may settle or forgive a debt if the creditor has treated the outstanding debt in a commercially reasonable manner. A settlement will be considered commercially reasonable if -

(1) The initial extension of credit was made in accordance with regulations issued pursuant to 2 USC 451 or paragraph (a) of this section.

(2) The candidate or political committee or person has undertaken all commercially reasonable efforts to satisfy the outstanding debt; and

(3) The corporate creditor has pursued its remedies in a manner similar in intensity to that employed by the corporation in pursuit of a non-political debtor, including lawsuits if filed in similar circumstances.

The corporation and/or the debtor must file a statement of settlement with the Commission including the initial terms of credit, the steps the debtor has taken to satisfy the debt, and remedies pursued by the creditor. This statement must be filed prior to the termination of the reporting status of the debtor and the settlement of the debtor is subject to Commission review.

R704040037

VIOLATIONS

Upon information and belief:

1. Jefferson Marketing, Inc. has made an unlawful corporate contribution to the Cobey for Congress Committees

(1982, 1984, 1986) by extending credit for a length of time beyond the normal business or trade practice and by failing to make a commercially reasonable attempt to collect the debt. Jefferson Marketing, Inc. is an alleged for-profit corporation and it is incredible that any company owed over $50,000.00 would take no legal action against a debtor who made no payments against a debt of that amount for over a year. It is more incredible that a creditor would take no action to collect the total debt owed when the debtor was raising and spending approximately one-half million dollars on a new campaign. The extension of credit by Jefferson Marketing appears to have been made on a "pay us when you feel like it" basis and such credit is not a normal extension of credit by a corporation. Jefferson Marketing, Inc.'s actions amount to an interest-free corporate loan or advance for a period of time surpassing four years. Jefferson Marketing, Inc. has violated 2 USC 441b and 11 CFR 100.7(a)(4).

2. Bedford Printing Company has made an unlawful contribution to the Cobey for Congress Committees (1982, 1984, 1986) by extending credit for a length of time beyond normal business or trade practice and by failing to make a commercially reasonable attempt to collect the debt. Archie R. Bedford, President of Bedford Printing Company, has admitted that his company does not normally carry debts as long as the Cobey debt (See Exhibit P) and that bad debts are normally carried for 90 to

180 days before he tries to collect them. (See Exhibit D.)

Evidently, no attempts to collect the Cobey debt have been made by Bedford Printing Company during the past four years despite the fact that the Cobey for Congress Committee has raised sufficient contributions to pay the debt in full. Bedford Printing Company's extension of credit amounts to an interest-free loan or advance to the Cobey for Congress Committee in excess of the contribution limitations of 2 USC 441(a). Upon information and belief, the extension of credit by Bedford Printing Company also constitutes an unlawful corporate contribution in violation of 2 USC 441b.

3. The Cobey for Congress Committees have knowingly accepted unlawful corporate contributions and excessive contributions from Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company in violation of 2 USC 441a(f) and 2 USC 441b. Over the past four years, two additional Cobey for Congress Committees have been established to enable Bill Cobey and his campaign committees to raise and spend money on new campaigns and to avoid timely payment of substantial debts to corporate creditors. The Committees are aware that these debts exist but campaign contributions are applied as needed and previous campaign debts appear to be the lowest of priorities. The debts at issue receive attention only in off-election periods or when surplus contributions exist. (See Exhibits N, O, F, and G.)

The Cobey for Congress Committees should not be allowed to ignore outstanding debts when the Committees have the ability to satisfy the debts. Contributions are being raised by the 1988 Cobey for Congress Committee which could pay these corporate debts in full and the Commission should demand immediate payment to avoid a continuing mockery of the Federal Election Campaign Act by the Cobey for Congress Committees.

CONCLUSION

As Chairman of the Democratic Party of North Carolina, I respectfully request that the Commission conduct an immediate investigation into these facts to determine if violations of the Federal Campaign Act have occurred. I further request that the Commission act with dispatch so that the 1986 Congressional election in the Fourth Congressional District is not tainted by unlawful contributions.

Times staff writer

William W. Cobey Jr.'s 1982 congressional campaign ran up more than $94,000 in debts in two private contributions tied to the National Congressional Club, Cobey's campaign reports show.

In an interview yesterday, Thomas M. Fetzer, who manages Cobey's 1984 congressional campaign, said much of the 1982 debt remains unpaid. He also said Cobey failed to file a year-end 1983 report listing the debts.

"It was my responsibility to file the (December 1983) report. It was just a mental lapse," Fetzer said.

Fetzer, a former Congressional Club official, said he is preparing a report that will show payment of a portion of the debts for the last half of 1983. But he said it would not reflect a "substantial reduction" of the debt.

Cobey

"We are going to make a continuing effort to retire that debt," he said. "The oldest debts are the hardest to retire. It's harder to raise money."

APR 25 '84 T

Cobey lost the 1980 race to Lt. Gov. James C. Green and challenged incumbent Ike Andrews for the U.S. House seat in 1982. He raised nearly $700,000 in his losing 1982 effort against Andrews.

A report filed in August, covering the first six months of 1983, showed that the Cobey for Congress in '82 Committee still owed $122,844.58 to private companies. Forty-one percent of that money was owed to Jefferson Marketing Inc., a Raleigh-based advertising firm whose stock is owned by Congressional Club officials.

Cobey's 1982 campaign owed another $43,985.07 to Bedford Printing Co., a Raleigh-based printing house that has served Congressional Club-backed candidates. Cobey's campaign also owed $30,700 to Arthur J. Finkelstein Associates Inc., a Mount Kisko, N.Y., company that performs political surveys.

Bedford Printing, chartered in Raleigh in 1975, is owned by Archie B. Bedford. Bedford is a founding member of the Congressional Club.

Bedford said he and other North Carolinians paid $50 dollars in 1977 to start the club to retire the campaign debts of [illegible] Washington, D.C.

The club since has expanded its role to support conservative candidates and causes.

Bedford said he continues to be a dues-paying member of the Congressional Club. But he said his company has done printing work for candidates of many political stripes.

He said he had debts outstanding with several Congressional Club candidates.

"This one (the Cobey campaign) has been the worst," Bedford said. "It's a high-risk business. If a candidate did win, you may have a problem. If he didn't win, you definitely have a problem."

Bedford said he normally carries bad debts on his books from 30 to 180 days before they are put out to be [illegible] to collect them.

Federal campaign regulations specify that "an extension of credit by any person for a period of time beyond normal business or trade practice is a contribution, unless the creditor has made a commercially reasonable attempt to collect the debt."

FEC Public Affairs Director Frederick Eiland said Thursday that the FEC requires the debt to be paid or a settlement submitted to the FEC for approval. But Eiland said the codes do not say how long candidates may go without paying for services provided by private companies.

"We require them to report those debts regularly until the time they are paid," Eiland said. "We want to ensure that those debts are not contributions from the companies."

Cobey also did not include the outstanding debts in a spending report filed last week in his 1984 race against Democrat Andrews.

Eiland said the failure to file the report violates campaign regulations, and the FEC will send Cobey a letter requesting that the report for the last half of 1983 be filed.

Cobey said he was unaware of that the proper documents had not been filed with the FEC.

Fetzer disputed claims that the debt should have been carried over to the new campaign.

"Those are two separate campaigns and two separate committees," Fetzer said.

Ties between the National Congressional Club and JMI are under investigation by the FEC, stemming from a 1982 complaint by Rep. Charles G. Rose III, D-7th District, that JMI provided collusive advertising to two of his opponents in the 1982 races. Rose charged that the Congressional Club used JMI as a contributing arm despite the state and federal ban on corporate giving.

The state Board of Elections plans May 31 to discuss deals made in which JMI wrote off debts owed by Cobey's 1980 campaign for lieutenant governor and the 1980 gubernatorial campaign of Beverly Lake Jr. The debts were erased in exchange for campaign mailing lists from the Lake and Cobey campaigns.

Both state and federal laws prohibit corporations from donating cash or services to political candidates.

Dear Sir:

Enclosed please find the "Thirtieth day report following the General Election on November 6, 1984 in the State of North Carolina" for the Bill Cobey for Congress Committee. This report covers activity for the period October 18, 1984 through November 26, 1984.

In addition, there are several points which need mentioning. The Bill Cobey for Congress 1984 Committee (#11148) is assuming the $101,281.00 debt of the Bill Cobey for Congress 1982 Committee (#099732). The 1982 Committee is hereby terminated. A report designating such action is filed under separate cover.

Since assuming this debt, the Bill Cobey for Congress 1984 Committee has made a total of $10,216.30 in payments -- $4,716.30 in vendor payments (see page 9 of 10 - line 17) and $5,500.00 in repayment of the loan (see page 1 of 1 - line 19). This brings the debt to the current level of $90,565.69. All the above activity is outlined in the report following.

If you have any questions, or if I can be of further assistance, please contact me at the address above.

Dear Sirs:

The enclosed is a photocopy of the Statement of Candidacy and Statement of Organization filed by Representative Bill Cobey for the 1986 re-election campaign. I would like to make a few corrections on this form, but I do not have any blank forms, and I was told to send them with our year end report. Therefore, I will explain our errors in this letter, and file amended statements when I receive new forms.

First of all, we apparently erred when we filled in the FEC identification number. When I called the office yesterday, I was told that the only number assigned to us is the one for our 1984 Committee, and because we filled it in on our Statement of Candidacy we were not assigned a number for 1986. Therefore, please strike our identification number from the statements.

Secondly, we will change the name of the Committee to the Cobey for Congress Re-Election Committee, and the address to P.O. Box 1986, instead of P.O. Box 1984. Apex, NC 27502 remains the same.

All the other information is correct. I hope this will clear up our mistakes. Please assign us a number for our 1986 Committee, and send me FEC Forms 1 and 2 so I can make the changes if you request so. The enclosed year end report is the first one to be filed for this Committee.

Sincerely,

Lisa Sutherlin

Dear Sirs:

The enclosed is a photocopy of the Statement of Candidacy and Statement of Organization filed by Representative Bill Cobey for the 1986 re-election campaign. I would like to make a few corrections on this form, but I do not have any blank forms, and I was told to send them with our year end report. Therefore, I will explain our errors in this letter, and file amended statements when I receive new forms.

First of all, we apparently erred when we filled in the FEC identification number. When I called the office yesterday, I was told that the only number assigned to us is the one for our 1984 Committee, and because we filled it in on our Statement of Candidacy we were not assigned a number for 1986. Therefore, please strike our identification number from the statements.

Secondly, we will change the name of the Committee to the Cobey for Congress Re-Election Committee, and the address to P.O. Box 1986. instead of P.O. Box 1984. Apex, NC 27502 remains the same.

All the other information is correct. I hope this will clear up our mistakes. Please assign us a number for our 1986 Committee, and send me FEC Forms 1 and 2 so I can make the changes if you request so. The enclosed year end report is the first one to be filed for this Committee.

Sincerely,

Lisa Sutherlin

Congressman William W. Cobey, Jr.
North Carolina — 4

Dear Friends:

Just a short note to inform you about our campaign debt situation. Although we finished our winning campaign in '84 with a small surplus, we still have a debt of nearly $80,000 from our 1982 campaign. I hope that you will contribute to this debt elimination effort. If this is a problem, we have activated a 1986 committee for your convenience. Please indicate your preference on the enclosed reply form.

I look forward to seeing you on the 28th.

Cobey launches re-election bid for House seat

By JOHN DRESCHER JR.
Staff Writer

U.S. Rep. William W. Cobey Jr. of Chapel Hill kicked off his re-election campaign Tuesday night, and both he and friends said he was needed in Congress to continue the policies of President Reagan.

"I hope I don't have to say 'minority' too much longer, Trent," Cobey said to one of his guests, fellow Republican U.S. Rep. Trent Lott of Mississippi, the House minority whip.

Cobey, who is seeking his second term, called 1986 a referendum on the future between Reagan's economic growth policies and the liberal welfare state mentality of Democrats.

"We're going to run a very positive, vigorous campaign," he told a crowd of 400 at the James E. Holshouser Building at the N.C. State Fairgrounds. "We're not going to concede anything in this campaign."

Cobey said he would make a pitch for votes from all races. He also stressed the importance of courting Democrats, who outnumber Republicans in the 4th Congressional District by more than 2 to 1.

Among those attending the $15-a-plate barbecue dinner were U.S. Sen. Jesse A. Helms and Gov. James G. Martin. Both Republicans, considered by many as the leaders of different factions in the North Carolina GOP, praised Cobey's conservatism.

"Bill Cobey is needed by Ronald Reagan," Helms said. "Ronald Reagan has told me what he thinks of Bill Cobey. I'm proud of Bill Cobey."

Martin said Cobey had "down-to-earth, conscientious conservatism. You won't lose that and you won't lose because of that."

Helms is considered by many as the leader of the New Right wing of the party, and Martin the leader of the more traditional wing. Each praised the other at the dinner.

Democrats running for Cobey's seat have accused him of being a pawn of the National Congressional Club, a political organization with close ties to Helms.

In an interview, Cobey said he was independent from the club.

"I need the support of all groups, including the Congressional Club," he said. But he added: "Our campaign is independent. They (the Democrats) are trying to ride an issue that's not going to work."

Before the dinner, about 150 people attended a $250-a-couple fund-raiser at the North Raleigh home of Joseph H. Call, a real estate investor. Cobey still owes about $35,000 from his unsuccessful 1982 campaign. Money raised Tuesday will be used to finance Cobey's 1986 campaign, not to pay off the 1982 debt, Daniel C. Hoover, Cobey's campaign manager, said in an interview.

Much of Cobey's debt is owed to Jefferson Marketing Inc., the advertising arm of the Congressional Club. The congressional campaign of Democrat David E. Price has said that Cobey's debt to Jefferson Marketing is evidence of Cobey's ties to the Congressional Club, and that the club has subsidized Cobey's campaign by extending his loan.

Price questions Cobey's 1982 campaign debts

By DAVE SIMPSON
Times staff writer

A Democratic challenger Friday raised questions about two campaign debts totaling about $35,000 that U.S. Rep. William C. Cobey Jr. owes to two corporations with connections to the National Congressional Club.

David E. Price, who's running for the Democratic nomination for 4th Congressional District, said Cobey's 1982 campaign has not paid those debts, violating federal election laws.

"My understanding of the federal election law is that carrying this kind of debt is clearly illegal," Price said in an interview. "It goes far beyond normal business practices and amounts to a large, interest-free loan."

Price said the debts show that Cobey has ties to the Congressional Club.

Cobey, a Republican, said Price "doesn't know what he's talking about."

Cobey said in an interview he was regularly paying off the 1982 debts. He also said he was running a campaign independent of the Congressional Club.

Cobey still owes $35,377 from his unsuccessful 1982 campaign for the 4th District, according to his latest spending report to the Federal Election Commission, Price said. Of that, Price said, $17,241 is owed to Jefferson Marketing Inc., a Raleigh-based advertising firm whose stock is owned by Congressional Club officials, and the remaining $18,136 is owed to Bedford Printing Co., a Raleigh-based printing company that has done work for Congressional Club-backed candidates.

Price, former chairman of the state Democratic Party, said the debt was illegal because it amounted to a corporate contribution. Both state and federal laws prohibit corporations from donating cash or services to candidates.

Federal campaign regulations specify that "an extension of

'My understanding of the federal election law is that carrying this kind of debt is clearly illegal. It goes far beyond normal business practices and amounts to a large, interest-free loan.'

Bedford said that Cobey had taken much longer than expected to retire the 1982 debt. "If I had known it would take so long to pay it off," he said, "I probably would not have printed (campaign materials) for him. We don't normally carry debts this long."

Bedford said Cobey never had asked him to reduce the amount of the debt and that he had no intention of doing so. He said he had done printing for candidates of both parties and that sometimes candidates in unsuccessful campaigns don't pay off their debts. Bedford said he had written off those debts as losses, rather than take court action to try to collect them.

Bedford said Cobey's bill from the 1982 campaign now was "a little under $17,000." Bedford said he received a check nearly every month from Cobey toward paying off the debt.

Cobey said, "We are systematically paying off our campaign debts to the best of our ability and will continue to do that."

Carter Wrenn, executive director of the National Congressional Club, denied that Cobey was getting special favors.

"That's not true and David Price knows it's not true," he said. "It's just a political charge and it's a real shame that he would stoop to that level.

Cobey, like two of his campaign spokesmen, declined further comment. They said Price should be concentrating on the Democratic primary since he is not the printing company that has done work for Congressional Club-backed candidates.

Price, former chairman of the state Democratic Party, said the debt was illegal because it amounted to a corporate contribution. Both state and federal laws prohibit corporations from donating cash or services to candidates.

Federal campaign regulations specify that "an extension of credit by any person for a length of time beyond normal business or trade practice is a contribution, unless the creditor has made a commercially reasonable attempt to collect the debt."

Price said, "It's not a normal business practice for this kind of credit to be extended, and Cobey has done business with these firms since then without clearing up the debt as would be ordinary business practices."

Price said he may file a complaint with the Federal Election Commission to resolve the matter.

Sharon L. Snyder, assistant press officer for the FEC, said the FEC required the debt to be paid or a settlement submitted to the FEC for approval. But she said the codes didn't say how long candidates may go without paying for services provided by private companies.

"When you owe debts to a corporate entity they have to be paid," she said by telephone from Washington. "The length of time a debt is outstanding is certainly a factor in determining whether or not there has been a contribution made to the candidate, but it is not unusual to see campaigns go for long periods of time without being able to pay corporate creditors."

Cobey isn't getting preferential treatment, said Archie R. Bedford, owner of Bedford Printing, which was chartered in Raleigh in 1975. Bedford was a founding member of the National Congressional Club and he continues to be a dues-paying member.

The Raleigh-based Congressional Club is the political organization of U.S. Sen. Jesse A. Helms.

Club, denied that Co. was getting special favors.

"That's not true and David Price knows it's not true," he said. "It's just a political charge and it's a real shame that he would stoop to that level.

Cobey, like two of his campaign spokesmen, declined further comment. They said Price should be concentrating on the Democratic primary since he is not the party's nominee.

"I'd just like the Democrats to get on with their primary so we can have at 'em," said Daniel C. Hoover, Cobey's campaign manager.

Cobey, 46, is seeking a second term for the 4th District, which includes Wake, Orange, Chatham, Franklin and Randolph counties.

He has Republican opposition in the May 6 primary from Jo Ann Austell of Raleigh.

Democrats seeking the nomination are Price; state Sen. Wilma C. Woodard of Garner; Kirsten A. Nyrop of Hillsborough, former executive director of the N.C. Technological Development Authority; and W. Woodard "Woody" Webb, who lives in Chapel Hill and practices law in Raleigh and Chapel Hill.

Deals by Helms groups raise contribution question

By MICHAEL WHITELEY
Times staff writer

Organizations tied to U.S. Sen. Jesse A. Helms, R-N.C., have made campaign financing agreements with one another that raise questions whether state laws banning corporate political contributions have been violated.

The questions arise at a time when the Federal Election Commission is investigating the relationship between the National Congressional Club and Jefferson Marketing Inc., an advertising agency now owned by the Educational Support Foundation Inc. The latter is a non-profit, tax-exempt organization controlled by two officials of the Congressional Club — Thomas F. Ellis, chairman, and R.E. Carter Wrenn, executive director.

JMI took these actions under the agreements:

- Wrote off a $75,229.20 campaign debt in 1982 owed by I. Beverly Lake Jr. in exchange for Lake's campaign mailing list. Lake's 1980 gubernatorial candidacy was backed by the club.
- Wrote off a $21,339 debt from William W. Cobey Jr., the 1980 Republican lieutenant governor candidate, in exchange for his mailing list, a list of volunteer workers and other, unspecified assets of his campaign.

A memo given to The Raleigh Times that bears the name of an accountant who audited JMI's books says JMI continued to provide services to Lake during the 1980 campaign, although club officials said the campaign debt could not be paid. State law and federal election regulations prohibit corporations to give cash or services to political candidates.

Wrenn acknowledged in an interview that the Lake and Cobey mailing lists had been accepted by JMI in lieu of the full amounts of the outstanding debts. Wrenn said no one outside the Congressional Club had appraised the lists.

Wrenn maintained that JMI had done nothing to violate state or federal election laws that forbid private corporations such as JMI to donate cash or services to candidates.

Ruth T. Semaschko, a state Board of Elections member from Hendersonville, said JMI's handling of the Lake debt could have constituted an illegal campaign contribution. She said she would ask the board to investigate the matter at its next meeting, scheduled May 21 in Raleigh.

"It seems to be a definite contribution," she said. "You mean they thought a mailing list was worth $75,000?"

William G. Oldaker, former general counsel of the Federal Election Commission, agreed with her conclusion.

"That would be a pretty clear violation (of prohibitions on corporate giving)," Oldaker said in a telephone interview. "If you had JMI giving services to candidates for which it knew it could not be paid, that would be a contribution."

Oldaker, now practicing law in Washington, has been hired by U.S. Rep. Charles G. Rose III of Fayetteville to handle a 1982 complaint by Rose that JMI provided a cut-rate television advertisement to his opponents during the 1982 elections. It was Rose's complaint that led to the FEC inquiry.

The Congressional Club was formed in 1972 by Helms and Thomas F. Ellis, a Helms strategist. Its purpose was to retire the debts from Helms' 1972 campaign. The club since has grown into a political action committee, which funnels millions of dollars to conservative causes and the campaigns of conservative candidates.

JMI, a private corporation, handles advertising for political campaigns and provides consulting services to candidates. Both the Congressional Club and JMI have offices at 3825 Barrett Drive in Raleigh.

Papers that appear to be accounting records of JMI covering the period from December 1979 to September 1983 were given to The Raleigh Times by a person who expressed concern about the apparent links the records show between JMI and the Congressional Club. The person asked not to be identified.

The Times showed the records to officials of Ernst and Whinney, an accounting firm that has worked for JMI, and to Congressional Club attorneys and officials. They neither would confirm nor deny the authenticity of the records.

But in interviews, Wrenn, Lake and Cobey verified the accuracy of some of the records that detail campaign debts owed to JMI.

Lake and Wrenn gave different answers to who ran Lake's 1980 gubernatorial campaign.

Lake said he had depended on the Congressional Club to operate his campaign. "I don't know if there was a debt," Lake said. "The Congressional Club handled the advertising and the organizational work. I just worked through the Congressional Club."

Wrenn, in a separate interview, said the Lake campaign had been operated by the Campaign Committee, listed in JMI's books as an operating division of JMI.

Lake's campaign reports filed with the state Board of Elections show that during 1979 and 1980 he paid JMI and the Campaign Committee $143,000 for mailing, consulting, computer runs and other services.

Wrenn said JMI had proposed accepting Lake's mailing list in place of the campaign debt and that Lake signed an agreement to that settlement.

Wrenn said JMI now rents the mailing list to the Congressional Club. He refused to say how much JMI is paid for the rental.

The Lake and Cobey mailing lists turned over to JMI were compiled by JMI as part of its services to the two campaigns, Wrenn acknowledged.

But he denied that the settlements involved JMI accepting lists that it already owned.

"Jefferson didn't pay for creating the list," he said. "The actual development of it, the cost, would have been borne by Lake." The lists belonged to the Lake and Cobey campaigns until turned over to JMI, he said.

Wrenn said JMI had drawn the names on the Lake list from several sources, including contributors to the gubernatorial campaigns of Lake's father, I. Beverly Lake, and petitions signed by supporters of conservative causes Lake backed while a state legislator.

A memorandum included in the papers given to The Times says that before JMI accepted the mailing list from Lake, Congressional Club officials worried that doing so could raise questions about ties between JMI and the campaigns. The memo bears the name of P. Ann Buddenhagen, an accountant who worked at the time in the Raleigh office of Ernst and Whinney.

The memo says its purpose is to detail a conversation with Katherine Hardison Waldrop, the Congressional Club bookkeeper, and Rick Miller, a former club employee. The conversation concerned proposed methods for removing Lake's debt from JMI's list of accounts receivable, or unpaid bills.

The memo says the meeting took place on Sept. 25, 1980. That was a little more than a month before the November general election in which Lake lost to Democrat James B. Hunt Jr.

In the meeting, Mrs. Waldrop and Miller rejected the idea of setting up a reserve fund for the Lake debt, the memo says.

"Cathy (Kathy Hardison Waldrop) and Rick were both hesitant to set up such a reserve due to the delicate relationship between JMI and the campaigns," the memo says.

"They feared JMI would be accused of non-arms length transactions because they continued to provide services for the Lake campaign even after it could no longer pay the invoiced billings."

Another memo to the files, dated Sept. 2, 1982, and bearing Miss Buddenhagen's name, recounts a conversation with Wrenn, the Congressional Club's executive director.

The memo says Wrenn rejected the idea of removing the Lake bill as a bad debt.

"Carter Wrenn does not wish to take the bad debt deduction for the $75,000 because he is afraid that such a large bad debt deduction will trigger an audit of JMI, which could in turn disclose the relationship between the campaigns and JMI," the memo says.

When called at home, Miss Buddenhagen said she would have no comment on the memos or the financial records. Ernst and Whinney officials advised her it would be unethical to discuss client business, she said.

Officials of JMI and the Congressional Club at first refused to be interviewed about the matter. But Wrenn agreed to an interview last week, after The Times showed the records to him, Mrs. Waldrop and club attorneys.

Wrenn would not verify the validity of the records but confirmed that he had repeatedly discussed the Lake campaign debt with Miss Buddenhagen.

Of the memo, Wrenn said, "That wasn't my language. That was Ann's summation."

Asked whether Miss Buddenhagen's summary was accurate, Wrenn said, "I don't even remember. I couldn't begin to reconstruct it.

"It struck me as just peculiar language in that everything gets reported," he said. "So how the heck can you not disclose a relationship where you're reporting the contributions?

"You put me in the position of where in a way you want me to in essence say Ann may not have reported truthfully," Wrenn told a reporter. "I don't want to say that. I think maybe in her summation she just summarized it inaccurately."

Wrenn said Miller and Mrs. Waldrop were being cautious about JMI's status with its campaign clients when they talked to Miss Buddenhagen.

"The club and Jefferson Marketing ... have to right much ... go two steps beyond what may be necessary in order to protect their credibility and not be questioned," Wrenn said.

The 1982 memo says that Miss Buddenhagen made another suggestion to Wrenn — that JMI swap its debt for something of value from the Lake campaign.

The memo says that Miss Buddenhagen had suggested the Lake mailing list be valued by an independent appraiser.

Wrenn said that JMI had not had the list appraised because the list was not used for tax purposes.

He said JMI had accepted the lists in full payment for the debts.

Wrenn said JMI officials had conferred with attorneys from the Washington law firm of Covington and Burling about how to dispose of the campaign debts.

Wrenn said club officials had been told that FEC regulations allow private companies to settle debts with candidates after attempts were made to collect them.

He said North Carolina laws, while they prohibit private, profit-making companies from contributing to candidates, do not speak to how companies must collect their debts. (See story above on this page.)

Wrenn said that he had been involved in discussions about accepting the mailing list but that the decision ultimately had been left to Douglas M. Davidson, JMI president, and other JMI officials.

In a separate interview, Davidson said the JMI board would have made the decision.

"I was working for JMI, but I was not on the board at the time," Davidson said.

He refused to comment when asked who had made the decision to accept the mailing lists.

Asked if Wrenn had been an officer or director of JMI at the time, Davidson said he didn't know.

Davidson said he and [illegible] W. Smith, JMI treasurer, serve as the only officers and directors of JMI.

The charter establishing [illegible] filed in 1978 with the Secretary of State, listed no officers or directors.

Charles B. Neely Jr., an attorney with Ellis law firm, and Alejandro Castellanos of Arlington, Va., who has worked for the Congressional Club, were listed as resident agents. Resident agents are commonly attorneys, normally are not decision makers in a corporation.

Wrenn said neither Ellis nor Helms was involved in the decision to settle Lake's debt.

"I don't think Jesse Helms knows about any of this," Wrenn said.

Claude Allen, spokesman for the Helms re-election campaign, also said Helms was unaware of the debt settlements. "He knows nothing about the operations of JMI period," Allen said in an interview. "He has nothing to do with that organization."

JMI is wholly owned by Educational Support Foundation Inc., a non-profit tax-exempt organization chartered as a civic league with the Internal Revenue Service, Wrenn said.

The foundation was chartered in North Carolina in July 1981, after the Lake and Cobey mailing lists were accepted by JMI.

In September, Wrenn told the FEC that the foundation was controlled by a board composed of him, Ellis, the Congressional Club chairman, and Terrence Ray Ellis' son-in-law who has been nominated for a federal district judgeship.

RE: MUR 2147 : Bedford Printing Company
File No. 7576.003

Dear Mr. Steele:

The Chairman of the North Carolina Democratic Party, James Van Hecke has named Bedford Printing Company,("Bedford Printing") as one of the "parties" in MUR 2147. This firm represents Mrs. Edna Bedford in her capacity as Administratrix of the Estate of Archie Ray Bedford. Also named as parties are Bill Cobey for Congress Committee (1982) ("1982 Committee"), Bill Cobey for Congress Committee (1984) ("1984 Committee"), Cobey for Congress Re-election Committee (1986) ("1986 Committee")[1], and Jefferson Marketing, Inc. ("JMI"). This letter will address Mr. Van Hecke's allegations as they relate to Bedford Printing.

Mr. Van Hecke has alleged that Bedford Printing has made illegal "corporate" contributions to the 1982 Committee and the 1984 Committee in violation of 2 U.S.C. § 441b(a). Had Mr. Van Hecke checked the public records he would have discovered that during the period in question Bedford Printing was a proprietorship fully owned by Archie Ray Bedford. Assuming the truth of Mr. Van Hecke's allegations regarding the business transactions between Bedford Printing and the Cobey committees, Bedford Printing cannot be guilty of a corporate contribution if it is not a corporation.

Mr. Bedford died on 17 March 1986. Again assuming the truth of Mr. Van Hecke's allegations, any penalties that might be assessed against Mr. Bedford under the Federal Elections Campaign Act of 1971 (the "Act"), abated upon Mr. Bedford's death. United States v. Dudley, 739 F.2d 175 (4th Cir. 1984). Neither Mrs. Bedford nor any of Mr. Bedford's other heirs can be penalized for transactions between Mr. Bedford and the Cobey committees.

Mrs. Bedford had no authority over the assets of Bedford Printing until she became Administratrix of Mr. Bedford's estate shortly following Mr. Bedford's death. The conduct by Mrs. Bedford has been commercially reasonable under any possible standard. The 1982 Committee currently owes the Estate of Archie Ray Bedford $15,533.98. This firm has advised representatives of Congressman Cobey that Mrs. Bedford expects that the outstanding debt will be paid in full. Congressman Cobey's representatives have in turn informed us of substantial efforts they are undertaking to raise funds to pay the debt. Based upon Congressman Cobey's past history of steady payments, we are confident that Congressman Cobey will fully pay the 1982 Committee's outstanding obligations.

In 1980, Congressman Cobey unsuccessfully ran for the office of Lieutenant Governor of the State of North Carolina. Bedford Printing made charges to Mr. Cobey's 1980 state committee of $12,246.71. All of these charges were fully paid by the state committee no later than 15 April 1981. It was clearly commercially reasonable for Bedford Printing to extend credit in 1982 to the 1982 Committee given Mr. Cobey's reliable payment record established by his state committee in 1980 and 1981.

In 1982 and 1983, Bedford Printing made charges to the 1982 Committee totalling $67,121.42. The records of Bedford Printing indicate the following payment schedule by the 1982 Committee:

8704064 0157

1982	$20,844.67
1983	$ 1,994.87
1984	$10,201.90
1985	$14,532.03
1986	$ 3,994.06
Balance	($15,553.89)
Total	$67,121.42

The settlement of campaign debts on commercially reasonable terms is authorized under 11 C.F.R. § 114.10(c). Instead of following the course taken by many losing campaigns, the record demonstrates that Congressman Cobey has followed a more difficult path and has been diligently making efforts to pay the 1982 debt in full.

Contrary to the allegations made by Mr. Van Heck, Bedford Printing did not extend credit or services in any substantial sense to the 1984 Committee. Bedford Printing's dealings with the 1984 Committee were conditioned upon assurances of prompt payment by the 1984 Committee. On 19 March 1984, Bedford Printing rendered services to the 1984 Committee totalling $3,225.66. This bill was paid in full on 18 May 1984 and represents the only work performed by Bedford Printing for the 1984 Committee.

Mr. Van Hecke has made several other misstatements regarding Bedford Printing. As of the date of this letter, Bedford Printing has not been asked to render services for the 1986 Committee. If such a request is made, Bedford Printing will require terms similar to those negotiated with the 1984 Committee which paid its bill within two months of the billing date.

Mr. Van Hecke also implies that Bedford Printing has a policy of filing court proceedings to collect debts that are not paid within 90 to 180 days. This allegation is simply not true. Mr. Bedford started Bedford Printing in July of 1975. From that date until the time of his death, Mr. Bedford never once sued a delinquent client to collect a bad debt. Mr. Bedford did follow in this matter his regular policy of contacting delinquent clients and had been assured on several occasions that Congressman Cobey fully intends to pay his 1982 debt.

In summary, Mrs. Bedford clearly cannot be penalized for any transactions negotiated by her deceased husband with the Cobey Committee. Since assuming responsibility for the assets of Bedford Printing, Mrs. Bedford's conduct has been commercially reasonable under any possible standard. Finally, the facts demonstrate that Mr. Bedford conducted his affairs in relation to the Cobey committees in a commercially reasonable manner. The facts demonstrate that it was reasonable for Mr. Bedford to decide not to file a lawsuit against the 1982 Committee. Such a lawsuit was unnecessary given Congressman Cobey's record of repaying debts and would have depleted resources of Bedford Printing and resources of the 1982 Cobey Committee that could otherwise have been spent towards reducing the Committee's debt to Bedford Printing.

Based on the foregoing, we respectfully urge that the General Counsel recommend to the Commission that no action be taken against Mrs. Edna Bedford in MUR 2147.

Very truly yours,

MAUPIN TAYLOR ELLIS & ADAMS, P.A.

RE: MUR 2147 : Jefferson Marketing, Inc.
Our File No. 5752.023

Dear Mr. Steele:

The Chairman of the North Carolina Democratic Party, James Van Hecke has named Jefferson Marketing, Inc. ("JMI") as one of the "parties" in MUR 2147. Also named as parties are Bill Cobey for Congress Committee (1982) ("1982 Committee"), Bill Cobey for Congress Committee (1984) ("1984 Committee"), Cobey for Congress Re-election Committee (1986) ("1986 Committee")[1], and Bedford Printing Company ("Bedford Printing"). This firm represents JMI and will address in this letter Mr. Van Hecke's allegations as they relate to JMI.

Mr. Van Hecke raises allegations about Congressman Cobey's unsuccessful 1982 campaign for Congress and his unsuccessful campaign for Lieutenant Governor of the State of North Carolina in 1980. The staleness of these claims substantially handicaps the ability of JMI to fully respond

[1]The Cobey committees are the authorized campaign committees for Bill Cobey. Mr. Cobey lost his race for the Fourth Congressional District of North Carolina in 1982, but was elected to Congress in 1984, and is currently running for re-election.

to Mr. Van Hecke's allegations. While the Federal Elections Campaign Act of 1971 (the "Act") apparently contains no express statute of limitations applicable to non-criminal enforcement actions, the Commission's regulations only require political committees to retain documents that support campaign reports for only three years. 11 C.F.R. § 102.9(c). JMI will suffer substantial prejudice if it is forced to defend in 1986 actions taken by JMI in 1980 and 1982.

There is no dispute that JMI extended credit to the 1982 Committee. As of 1 January 1983, the 1982 Committee owed JMI $48,558.44. The information available to JMI prior to the general election in 1982 demonstrates that JMI acted in a commercially reasonable fashion in extending credit to the 1982 Committee. By 1982, Mr. Cobey had established a proven track record of raising money for his political campaigns and a history of dealing with political vendors on a good faith basis. A poll taken by Mr. Cobey's pollster indicated that Cobey was twenty-six percentage points ahead of incumbent Ike Andrews on 12 October 1982. A poll taken on 26 October 1982 demonstrated that Mr. Cobey was twelve percentage points ahead of Mr. Andrews. It was reasonable for JMI to conclude from these polls that Mr. Cobey was a good credit risk.

Past experience shows that successful candidates for public office have fully paid debts owed to JMI. Based upon Mr. Cobey's 1982 polls, JMI concluded that Mr. Cobey would win the 1982 election and that he would thereafter be better able to raise enough money to pay his debts to JMI including the debt owed JMI by Mr. Cobey's 1980 state committee established to support Mr. Cobey's unsuccessful campaign for Lieutenant Governor.

Contrary to the allegations made by Mr. Van Hecke, JMI did not "write-off" a $21,399.00 campaign debt arising from Mr. Cobey's unsuccessful campaign for Lieutenant Governor prior to the 1982 campaign. In November of 1983, JMI agreed to forgive a balance of $19,830.90 owed by Mr. Cobey's state committee in exchange for all of the assets owned by the state committee including contributor lists, voter lists, voter information, volunteer lists, voter canvass materials, coordinator and co-chairman lists, research data, television ads, other media production materials, campaign fliers, press releases, administrative files, notes and all other campaign-related materials. The settlement of this debt was on commercially reasonable terms and occurred well after the 1982 general election.

Since 1982, Mr. Cobey has made a substantial effort to reduce the debt owed by the 1982 Committee to JMI. The 1982

Committee has made the following schedule of payments:

1983	$ 9,261.40
1984	$25,560.80
1985	$ 4,886.61
1986	$12,928.65
Balance	$15,885.04

Since 1982, JMI has extended credit to Mr. Cobey's 1982 Committee, but only where the extension of credit was used to raise money to reduce the 1982 Committee's debt. Officials of JMI have discussed the 1982 debt with Mr. Cobey several times. Mr. Cobey has repeatedly promised that he intends to pay the debt in full. Similar assurances have recently been given this firm by Mr. Cobey's representatives.

Contrary to Mr. Van Hecke's allegations, JMI did not extend substantial credit to Mr. Cobey's 1984 Committee. JMI played a very minor role in Mr. Cobey's 1984 campaign. JMI rendered services to the 1984 Committee totalling $2,872.01. The 1984 Committee prepaid for most of the services rendered by JMI and in fact was owed a credit of $636.07 on 31 May 1985. Later in 1985, JMI sold office furniture to the 1984 Committee for which the Cobey Committee currently owes $494.00.

Mr. Van Hecke implies that JMI's failure to initiate a collection action against Congressman Cobey is a commercially unreasonable decision. Such a conclusion is not supported by the facts. JMI has reasonably concluded that Mr. Cobey is serious about his promise to repay the 1982 debt in full and that Mr. Cobey will be successful in raising sufficient funds to repay the debt. This conclusion is supported by the past dealings between the parties and the steady schedule of payments that have already been made by Congressman Cobey. The filing of a lawsuit will unnecessarily deplete the resources of JMI and the resources of the 1982 Committee and its successors that could otherwise be used to pay the JMI debt. A lawsuit against the 1982 committe will therefore delay the payment of the 1982 debt and make full payment less probable. JMI has also concluded that a collection action would inhibit JMI's ability to attract other clients and should be pursued only when there is no other possible recourse.

In conclusion, we suggest that Mr. Van Hecke has filed his complaint for purely partisan reasons. Mr. Cobey was a good credit risk in 1982 and JMI acted reasonably in extending credit to him. Both parties have acted in a commercially reasonable fashion since Mr. Cobey's unsuccessful 1982 campaign and Mr. Cobey's steady schedule of payments clearly demonstrates his good faith and ability to eventually repay the debt in full.

Based on the foregoing, we respectfully urge that the General Counsel recommend to the Commission that no action be taken against JMI in MUR 2147.

Very truly yours,

MAUPIN TAYLOR ELLIS & ADAMS, P.A.

Mr. John Warren McGarry, Chairman
Federal Election Commission
1325 K Street NW
Washington, D.C. 24063

Re: Complaint dated March 6, 1986,
MUR 2147

Dear Commissioner McGarry:

Pursuant to the attached statement of designation of counsel, I am herewith providing a response to the above-referenced complaint within the time specified in the notice from the Office of the General Counsel of the Federal Election Commission. For ease of reference, I have addressed pertinent points in the same order in which they are addressed in the complaint dated March 6, 1986.

PARTIES

Although the 1986 Cobey for Congress Committee concurs that the relevant parties are correctly stated under the description of each party contained in the complaint, there are factual inaccuracies in this complaint which bear correction.

The complaint of the Democratic party alleges in subparagraphs 2 and 3 under this heading that the 1984 and 1986 reelection committees were created to "avoid paying the existing debts of the previous campaign with incoming contributions". It is absolutely incorrect. These committees were created in order to provide a better accounting for funds within each campaign effort and were not created in any way to avoid the payment of existing debts from prior campaigns. In fact, as will be noted later in this response, there has been a consistent record of repayment of all existing debts.

Under subparagraph 3 of this heading, it is alleged that approximately $35,000.00 in unpaid debts exists to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company. In fact, the current amount of outstanding obligations is $30,588.00.

Under subparagraph 4 of this heading, it is alleged that Jefferson Marketing, Inc. provided credit for direct mail fund-raising and campaign services to the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee and the 1984 Cobey for Congress Committee, and that it will provide credit for such services to the 1986 Cobey for Congress Committee. In fact, all services provided by Jefferson Marketing, Inc. in 1984 were paid for on a current "pay-as-you-go" basis by the Cobey for Congress Committee Jefferson Marketing, Inc. took the commercially reasonable course of not extending further credit with an outstanding indebtedness due. Additionally, there has been no arrangement for the provision of credit from Jefferson Marketing, Inc. to the 1986 Cobey for Congress Committee. In fact, it is not anticipated that Jefferson Marketing, Inc. will be contracted with by the 1986 Cobey for Congress Committee for the provision of any substantial services, although, the purchase of lesser services and materials from this corporate entity are possible. Based upon dealings with Jefferson Marketing, Inc. in 1984, it is anticipated that any purchases from this corporation by the 1986 Cobey for Congress Committee will be paid for on a pay-as-you-go basis. Consequently, these allegations, which are of critical importance, are simply incorrect.

In regard to subparagraph 5 of this heading, similar corrections for factual inaccuracies are necessary. In fact, Bedford Printing Company extended no credit whatsoever to the 1984 campaign but the Cobey for Congress Committee made payments on a "pay-as-you-go" basis. Also, it should be noted that there were only nominal purchases from Bedford Printing in 1984 inasmuch as another printer located in the Apex area, which was/is the site of the headquarters for the 1984 and 1986 committees. Consequently, the Cobey for Congress Committee in 1986 will not utilize Bedford as its printer, and if there is such utilization, it be on a "pay-as-you-go" basis.

BACKGROUND

The delineation of information in the complaint of the Democratic party conveniently fails to highlight many relevant considerations and additionally, contains false statements.

It is correct that Bill Cobey sought election to the United States Congress in 1982 and was unsuccessful, and that he ran again in 1984, at which time he was elected. Of course, he is running for reelection in 1986. It is also true that the 1982 election committee was strapped with campaign debts and obligations outstanding. There is nothing whatsoever unusual about a campaign committee, particularly one that has been unsuccessful in its effort, being left with outstanding debts and obligations. This is true for a vast number of campaign committees for candidates of both major political parties, not simply the Cobey for Congress Committee or campaign committees of the Republican candidates.

The Democrats' statement of background information provided in their complaint fails to properly outline the significant effort which has been made on a continual basis by the Cobey Committees to repay all outstanding debts. Indeed, two debts do remain from the 1982 effort to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company. However, other debts have been completely paid and substantial regular progress has been made in repaying these two debts despite the attempt of the Democratic party to characterize the various election committees' efforts in repaying these debts as "virtually ignoring" these debts. They have not been ignored but have been paid on on a regular basis from a high of $107,978.00 in January, 1983 to a current balance of $30,588.00. (See Attachment A for schedule of payments)

The complaint of the Democratic party is incorrect in alleging that Jefferson Marketing made substantial direct mail and printing services available to the 1984 Cobey for Congress Committee on a credit basis. First, a reasonable examination of the expenditures with Jefferson Marketing, Inc. in 1984 as compared to expenditures in 1982 refutes the allegation that such expenditures were substantial. Certain expenditures were made with Jefferson Marketing, Inc. However, they were far from substantial in relation to prior years and in relation to other candidates. Additionally, of the utmost importance is that Jefferson Marketing, Inc. required that such efforts and services be paid for on a "pay-as-you-go" basis. This was commercially reasonable given an existing outstanding debt from 1982. Obviously, one would not expect a business to "cut off its nose to spite its face" by turning away new business on a "pay-as-you-go" basis simply because debts exist from the provision of prior services.

There has been anything but a cavalier attitude by these vendors toward these debts owed by the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee. These have been ongoing discussions between the Cobey for Congress Committee and the creditors about further payments.

The complaint of the Democratic Party is absolutely false in regard to the allegation that Jefferson Marketing, Inc. forgave a debt of $21,339.00 from Bill Cobey's unsuccessful campaign for Lieutenant Governor of North Carolina.

Although this transaction, relating to a state campaign, is not within the purview of the Federal Election Committee, it should be noted that this debt was not forgiven. As often happens with vendors at the end of an unsuccessful campaign, they work out accomodations to accept items of value in the satisfaction of outstanding debts. This debt was eliminated by way of Bill Cobey's 1980 Lieutenant Governor election committee selling to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. its statewide list of supporters, donors and political contacts. This was a substantial list which had a substantial value, and the acceptance of this list as satisfaction of the outstanding debt was formalized in a settlement agreement.

In short, Congressman Cobey's statement sums it up that "We are systematically paying off our campaign debts to the best of our ability." In fact, all debts but two have been paid in full and those debts have been substantially reduced. Any company with an outstanding debt such as this that is receiving regular payments would be most reluctant to pursue any other action to collect the debt and consequently, the efforts to collect these debts on behalf of these entities and the efforts to pay this debt on behalf of the Cobey election committees are entirely commercially reasonable.

LAW

The Cobey for Congress Committee concurs that the relevant law to be used in reviewing this matter is set forth in the Complaint.

VIOLATIONS

It is appropriate that Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company respond to the alleged violations regarding themselves as set forth in the Complaint of the Democratic Party.

In regard to the alleged violations in Paragraph 3 of the Complaint, it totally disagrees with the interpretation set forth by the Democratic Party.

The Cobey for Congress Committee has not accepted an unlawful corporate contribution or excessive contribution from Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company respectively. The Cobey for Congress Committee is not in violation of 2 U.S.C. 441A(f) and 2 U.S.C. 441B. All reasonable efforts have been made to repay this indebtedness consistent with maintaining a viable ongoing political effort. Should this ongoing political effort not be maintained, the potential for ever paying back outstanding debts would be significantly reduced. This is simply a political reality that the Democratic Party chooses to ignore in this matter, but seems to take advantage of in regard to numerous Democratic candidates who have refused to repay outstanding indebtedness.

The 1984 and 1986 Cobey for Congress Committees fully recognize the indebtedness existing since 1982 and substantial efforts have been made to repay those debts. In fact, a much larger percentage of the debts have been repaid than remains outstanding. These debts have been repaid, not only in off-election periods but continue to be repaid at present during the current election period.

CONCLUSION

It is respectfully submitted that no factual or legal bases exists in the allegations contained in the complaint of the Democratic Party to justify the relief which is requested. The complaint is motivated purely out of partisan self interest. It is therefore appropriate that the general counsel should recommend that the Commission finds no reason to believe that the complaint sets forth a possible violation of the Federal Election Campaign Act and that accordingly, the Commission should close the file on this matter.

This the 14th day of April, 1986.

Dear Sir:

Enclosed please find the July 15th Quarterly Report for the Bill Cobey for Congress Committee (1984) for the period April 19, 1984 through June 30, 1984.

There is one adjustment concerning the report. Line 23 - cash on hand at beginning of report period is listed as $17,138.09, instead of the $17,143.04 listed on line 27 - cash on hand at close of the reporting period, in the previous Report (twelfth day report preceding the primary election on May 8th). This $4.95 difference is due to deposit errors in the bank in which our committee was not notified of until recently.

If you have any questions, or if I can be of further assistance, please contact me at the address above.

Sincerely,

Dear [illegible]

Dear Sir:

Enclosed please find the "Thirtieth day report following the General Election on November 6, 1984 in the State of North Carolina" for the Bill Cobey for Congress Committee. This report covers activity for the period October 18, 1984 through November 26, 1984.

In addition, there are several points which need mentioning. The Bill Cobey for Congress 1984 Committee (#111481) is assuming the $181,281.99 debt of the Bill Cobey for Congress 1982 Committee (#099732). The 1982 Committee is hereby terminated. A report outlining such action is filed under separate cover.

Since assuming this debt, the Bill Cobey for Congress 1984 Committee has made a total of $10,216.30 in payments -- $4,716.30 in vendor payments (see page 9 of 10 - line 17) and $5,500.00 in repayment of the loan (see page 1 of 1 - line 19). This brings the debt to the current level of $90,565.69. All the above activity is outlined in the report following.

If you have any questions, or if I can be of further assistance, please contact me at the address above.

Sincerely,

George L. Coxhead

RE: MUR 2147 : Bedford Printing Company
File No. 7576.003

Dear Mr. Steele:

The Chairman of the North Carolina Democratic Party, James Van Hecke has named Bedford Printing Company, ("Bedford Printing") as one of the "parties" in MUR 2147. This firm represents Mrs. Edna Bedford in her capacity as Administratrix of the Estate of Archie Ray Bedford. Also named as parties are Bill Cobey for Congress Committee (1982) ("1982 Committee"), Bill Cobey for Congress Committee (1984) ("1984 Committee"), Cobey for Congress Re-election Committee (1986) ("1986 Committee")[1], and Jefferson Marketing, Inc. ("JMI"). This letter will address Mr. Van Hecke's allegations as they relate to Bedford Printing.

Mr. Van Hecke has alleged that Bedford Printing has made illegal "corporate" contributions to the 1982 Committee and the 1984 Committee in violation of 2 U.S.C. § 441b(a). Had Mr. Van Hecke checked the public records he would have discovered that during the period in question Bedford Printing was a proprietorship fully owned by Archie Ray Bedford. Assuming the truth of Mr. Van Hecke's allegations regarding the business transactions between Bedford Printing and the Cobey committees, Bedford Printing cannot be guilty of a corporate contribution if it is not a corporation.

[1]The Cobey committees were the authorized campaign committees for Bill Cobey. Mr. Cobey lost his race for the Fourth Congressional District of North Carolina in 1982, but was elected to Congress in 1984, and is currently running for re-election.

Mr. Bedford died on 17 March 1986. Again assuming the truth of Mr. Van Hecke's allegations, any penalties that might be assessed against Mr. Bedford under the Federal Elections Campaign Act of 1971 (the "Act"), abated upon Mr. Bedford's death. United States v. Dudley, 739 F.2d 175 (4th Cir. 1984). Neither Mrs. Bedford nor any of Mr. Bedford's other heirs can be penalized for transactions between Mr. Bedford and the Cobey committees.

Mrs. Bedford had no authority over the assets of Bedford Printing until she became Administratrix of Mr. Bedford's estate shortly following Mr. Bedford's death. The conduct by Mrs. Bedford has been commercially reasonable under any possible standard. The 1982 Committee currently owes the Estate of Archie Ray Bedford $15,533.98. This firm has advised representatives of Congressman Cobey that Mrs. Bedford expects that the outstanding debt will be paid in full. Congressman Cobey's representatives have in turn informed us of substantial efforts they are undertaking to raise funds to pay the debt. Based upon Congressman Cobey's past history of steady payments, we are confident that Congressman Cobey will fully pay the 1982 Committee's outstanding obligations.

In 1980, Congressman Cobey unsuccessfully ran for the office of Lieutenant Governor of the State of North Carolina. Bedford Printing made charges to Mr. Cobey's 1980 state committee of $12,246.71. All of these charges were fully paid by the state committee no later than 15 April 1981. It was clearly commercially reasonable for Bedford Printing to extend credit in 1982 to the 1982 Committee given Mr. Cobey's reliable payment record established by his state committee in 1980 and 1981.

In 1982 and 1983, Bedford Printing made charges to the 1982 Committee totalling $67,121.42. The records of Bedford Printing indicate the following payment schedule by the 1982 Committee:

8704064025 8

1982	$20,844.67
1983	$ 1,994.87
1984	$10,201.90
1985	$14,532.03
1986	$ 3,994.06
Balance	($15,553.89)
Total	$67,121.42

The settlement of campaign debts on commercially reasonable terms is authorized under 11 C.F.R. § 114.10(c). Instead of following the course taken by many losing campaigns, the record demonstrates that Congressman Cobey has followed a more difficult path and has been diligently making efforts to pay the 1982 debt in full.

Contrary to the allegations made by Mr. Van Heck, Bedford Printing did not extend credit or services in any substantial sense to the 1984 Committee. Bedford Printing's dealings with the 1984 Committee were conditioned upon assurances of prompt payment by the 1984 Committee. On 19 March 1984, Bedford Printing rendered services to the 1984 Committee totalling $3,225.66. This bill was paid in full on 18 May 1984 and represents the only work performed by Bedford Printing for the 1984 Committee.

Mr. Van Hecke has made several other misstatements regarding Bedford Printing. As of the date of this letter, Bedford Printing has not been asked to render services for the 1986 Committee. If such a request is made, Bedford Printing will require terms similar to those negotiated with the 1984 Committee which paid its bill within two months of the billing date.

Mr. Van Hecke also implies that Bedford Printing has a policy of filing court proceedings to collect debts that are not paid within 90 to 180 days. This allegation is simply not true. Mr. Bedford started Bedford Printing in July of 1975. From that date until the time of his death, Mr. Bedford never once sued a delinquent client to collect a bad debt. Mr. Bedford did follow in this matter his regular policy of contacting delinquent clients and had been assured on several occasions that Congressman Cobey fully intends to pay his 1982 debt.

In summary, Mrs. Bedford clearly cannot be penalized for any transactions negotiated by her deceased husband with the Cobey Committee. Since assuming responsibility for the assets of Bedford Printing, Mrs. Bedford's conduct has been commercially reasonable under any possible standard. Finally, the facts demonstrate that Mr. Bedford conducted his affairs in relation to the Cobey committees in a commercially reasonable manner. The facts demonstrate that it was reasonable for Mr. Bedford to decide not to file a lawsuit against the 1982 Committee. Such a lawsuit was unnecessary given Congressman Cobey's record of repaying debts and would have depleted resources of Bedford Printing and resources of the 1982 Cobey Committee that could otherwise have been spent towards reducing the Committee's debt to Bedford Printing.

Based on the foregoing, we respectfully urge that the General Counsel recommend to the Commission that no action be taken against Mrs. Edna Bedford in MUR 2147.

Very truly yours,

SUMMARY OF ALLEGATIONS

The complainant alleges that Jefferson Marketing, Inc. ("JMI") made a corporate contribution and Bedford Printing Company made an excessive contribution to the 1982 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee by not attempting to collect the debts owed to them by the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee. By early 1984, the 1982 Bill Cobey Committee owed $43,865.07 to Bedford Printing and $50,430.37 to JMI. According to the complaint, JMI and Bedford Printing continued to provide services during 1984 to the 1984 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee despite the outstanding debts and, what the complaint calls, few significant payments by either the 1982 or 1984 Cobey Committee.

After the 1984 election, the 1984 Cobey Committee assumed the debts of the 1982 Committee and the 1982 Committee terminated. The 1984 Committee reduced the debts owed to Bedford Printing to $18,138.40 and to JMI to $17,241.22. Bill Cobey filed his Statement of Candidacy for the 1986 election on June 28, 1985. The 1986 Cobey Committee began raising funds, however, according to the complaint, it has not paid off the debts owed to JMI and Bedford Printing.

The Office of General Counsel sent notice of the complaint to the respondents on March 18, 1986. We have received a response from one respondent. Two of the respondents requested an extension until April 21st, a two week extension, to respond to the Commission's notice. The Office of General Counsel granted the requested extensions and so notified the respondents.

Once the Office of General Counsel has received and reviewed all of the responses, it will make a further report to the Commission with recommendations.

RE: MUR 2147 : Jefferson Marketing, Inc.
Our File No. 5752.023

Dear Mr. Steele:

The Chairman of the North Carolina Democratic Party, James Van Hecke has named Jefferson Marketing, Inc. ("JMI") as one of the "parties" in MUR 2147. Also named as parties are Bill Cobey for Congress Committee (1982) ("1982 Committee"), Bill Cobey for Congress Committee (1984) ("1984 Committee"), Cobey for Congress Re-election Committee (1986) ("1986 Committee")[1], and Bedford Printing Company ("Bedford Printing"). This firm represents JMI and will address in this letter Mr. Van Hecke's allegations as they relate to JMI.

Mr. Van Hecke raises allegations about Congressman Cobey's unsuccessful 1982 campaign for Congress and his unsuccessful campaign for Lieutenant Governor of the State of North Carolina in 1980. The staleness of these claims substantially handicaps the ability of JMI to fully respond

[1]The Cobey committees are the authorized campaign committees for Bill Cobey. Mr. Cobey lost his race for the Fourth Congressional District of North Carolina in 1982, but was elected to Congress in 1984, and is currently running for re-election.

to Mr. Van Hecke's allegations. While the Federal Elections Campaign Act of 1971 (the "Act") apparently contains no express statute of limitations applicable to non-criminal enforcement actions, the Commission's regulations only require political committees to retain documents that support campaign reports for only three years. 11 C.F.R. § 102.9(c). JMI will suffer substantial prejudice if it is forced to defend in 1986 actions taken by JMI in 1980 and 1982.

There is no dispute that JMI extended credit to the 1982 Committee. As of 1 January 1983, the 1982 Committee owed JMI $48,558.44. The information available to JMI prior to the general election in 1982 demonstrates that JMI acted in a commercially reasonable fashion in extending credit to the 1982 Committee. By 1982, Mr. Cobey had established a proven track record of raising money for his political campaigns and a history of dealing with political vendors on a good faith basis. A poll taken by Mr. Cobey's pollster indicated that Cobey was twenty-six percentage points ahead of incumbent Ike Andrews on 12 October 1982. A poll taken on 26 October 1982 demonstrated that Mr. Cobey was twelve percentage points ahead of Mr. Andrews. It was reasonable for JMI to conclude from these polls that Mr. Cobey was a good credit risk.

Past experience shows that successful candidates for public office have fully paid debts owed to JMI. Based upon Mr. Cobey's 1982 polls, JMI concluded that Mr. Cobey would win the 1982 election and that he would thereafter be better able to raise enough money to pay his debts to JMI including the debt owed JMI by Mr. Cobey's 1980 state committee established to support Mr. Cobey's unsuccessful campaign for Lieutenant Governor.

Contrary to the allegations made by Mr. Van Hecke, JMI did not "write-off" a $21,399.00 campaign debt arising from Mr. Cobey's unsuccessful campaign for Lieutenant Governor prior to the 1982 campaign. In November of 1983, JMI agreed to forgive a balance of $19,830.90 owed by Mr. Cobey's state committee in exchange for all of the assets owned by the state committee including contributor lists, voter lists, voter information, volunteer lists, voter canvass materials, coordinator and co-chairman lists, research data, television ads, other media production materials, campaign fliers, press releases, administrative files, notes and all other campaign-related materials. The settlement of this debt was on commercially reasonable terms and occurred well after the 1982 general election.

Since 1982, Mr. Cobey has made a substantial effort to reduce the debt owed by the 1982 Committee to JMI. The 1982

8704054026 6

Committee has made the following schedule of payments:

1983	$ 9,261.40
1984	$25,560.80
1985	$ 4,886.61
1986	$12,928.65
Balance	$15,885.04

Since 1982, JMI has extended credit to Mr. Cobey's 1982 Committee, but only where the extension of credit was used to raise money to reduce the 1982 Committee's debt. Officials of JMI have discussed the 1982 debt with Mr. Cobey several times. Mr. Cobey has repeatedly promised that he intends to pay the debt in full. Similar assurances have recently been given this firm by Mr. Cobey's representatives.

Contrary to Mr. Van Hecke's allegations, JMI did not extend substantial credit to Mr. Cobey's 1984 Committee. JMI played a very minor role in Mr. Cobey's 1984 campaign. JMI rendered services to the 1984 Committee totalling $2,872.01. The 1984 Committee prepaid for most of the services rendered by JMI and in fact was owed a credit of $636.07 on 31 May 1985. Later in 1985, JMI sold office furniture to the 1984 Committee for which the Cobey Committee currently owes $494.00.

Mr. Van Hecke implies that JMI's failure to initiate a collection action against Congressman Cobey is a commercially unreasonable decision. Such a conclusion is not supported by the facts. JMI has reasonably concluded that Mr. Cobey is serious about his promise to repay the 1982 debt in full and that Mr. Cobey will be successful in raising sufficient funds to repay the debt. This conclusion is supported by the past dealings between the parties and the steady schedule of payments that have already been made by Congressman Cobey. The filing of a lawsuit will unnecessarily deplete the resources of JMI and the resources of the 1982 Committee and its successors that could otherwise be used to pay the JMI debt. A lawsuit against the 1982 committe will therefore delay the payment of the 1982 debt and make full payment less probable. JMI has also concluded that a collection action would inhibit JMI's ability to attract other clients and should be pursued only when there is no other possible recourse.

In conclusion, we suggest that Mr. Van Hecke has filed his complaint for purely partisan reasons. Mr. Cobey was a good credit risk in 1982 and JMI acted reasonably in extending credit to him. Both parties have acted in a commercially reasonable fashion since Mr. Cobey's unsuccessful 1982 campaign and Mr. Cobey's steady schedule of payments clearly demonstrates his good faith and ability to eventually repay the debt in full.

Based on the foregoing, we respectfully urge that the General Counsel recommend to the Commission that no action be taken against JMI in MUR 2147.

Very truly yours,

Re: Complaint dated March 6, 1986,
MUR 2147

Dear Commissioner McGarry:

Pursuant to the attached statement of designation of counsel, I am herewith providing a response to the above-referenced complaint within the time specified in the notice from the Office of the General Counsel of the Federal Election Commission. For ease of reference, I have addressed pertinent points in the same order in which they are addressed in the complaint dated March 6, 1986.

PARTIES

Although the 1986 Cobey for Congress Committee concurs that the relevant parties are correctly stated under the description of each party contained in the complaint, there are factual inaccuracies in this complaint which bear correction.

The complaint of the Democratic party alleges in subparagraphs 2 and 3 under this heading that the 1984 and 1986 reelection committees were created to "avoid paying the existing debts of the previous campaign with incoming contributions". It is absolutely incorrect. These committees were created in order to provide a better accounting for funds within each campaign effort and were not created in any way to avoid the payment of existing debts from prior campaigns. In fact, as will be noted later in this response, there has been a consistent record of repayment of all existing debts.

Under subparagraph 3 of this heading, it is alleged that approximately $35,000.00 in unpaid debts exists to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company. In fact, the current amount of outstanding obligations is $30,588.00.

Under subparagraph 4 of this heading, it is alleged that Jefferson Marketing, Inc. provided credit for direct mail fund-raising and campaign services to the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee and the 1984 Cobey for Congress Committee, and that it will provide credit for such services to the 1986 Cobey for Congress Committee. In fact, all services provided by Jefferson Marketing, Inc. in 1984 were paid for on a current "pay-as-you-go" basis by the Cobey for Congress Committee Jefferson Marketing, Inc. took the commercially reasonable course of not extending further credit with an outstanding indebtedness due. Additionally, there has been no arrangement for the provision of credit from Jefferson Marketing, Inc. to the 1986 Cobey for Congress Committee. In fact, it is not anticipated that Jefferson Marketing, Inc. will be contracted with by the 1986 Cobey for Congress Committee for the provision of any substantial services, although, the purchase of lesser services and materials from this corporate entity are possible. Based upon dealings with Jefferson Marketing, Inc. in 1984, it is anticipated that any purchases from this corporation by the 1986 Cobey for Congress Committee will be paid for on a pay-as-you-go basis. Consequently, these allegations, which are of critical importance, are simply incorrect.

In regard to subparagraph 5 of this heading, similar corrections for factual inaccuracies are necessary. In fact, Bedford Printing Company extended no credit whatsoever to the 1984 campaign but the Cobey for Congress Committee made payments on a "pay-as-you-go" basis. Also, it should be noted that there were only nominal purchases from Bedford Printing in 1984 inasmuch as another printer located in the Apex area, which was/is the site of the headquarters for the 1984 and 1986 committees. Consequently, the Cobey for Congress Committee in 1986 will not utilize Bedford as its printer, and if there is such utilization, it be on a "pay-as-you-go" basis.

BACKGROUND

The delineation of information in the complaint of the Democratic party conveniently fails to highlight many relevant considerations and additionally, contains false statements.

It is correct that Bill Cobey sought election to the United States Congress in 1982 and was unsuccessful, and that he ran again in 1984, at which time he was elected. Of course, he is running for reelection in 1986. It is also true that the 1982 election committee was strapped with campaign debts and obligations outstanding. There is nothing whatsoever unusual about a campaign committee, particularly one that has been unsuccessful in its effort, being left with outstanding debts and obligations. This is true for a vast number of campaign committees for candidates of both major political parties, not simply the Cobey for Congress Committee or campaign committees of the Republican candidates.

The Democrats' statement of background information provided in their complaint fails to properly outline the significant effort which has been made on a continual basis by the Cobey Committees to repay all outstanding debts. Indeed, two debts do remain from the 1982 effort to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company. However, other debts have been completely paid and substantial regular progress has been made in repaying these two debts despite the attempt of the Democratic party to characterize the various election committees' efforts in repaying these debts as "virtually ignoring" these debts. They have not been ignored but have been paid on on a regular basis from a high of $107,978.00 in January, 1983 to a current balance of $30,588.00. (See Attachment A for schedule of payments)

The complaint of the Democratic party is incorrect in alleging that Jefferson Marketing made substantial direct mail and printing services available to the 1984 Cobey for Congress Committee on a credit basis. First, a reasonable examination of the expenditures with Jefferson Marketing, Inc. in 1984 as compared to expenditures in 1982 refutes the allegation that such expenditures were substantial. Certain expenditures were made with Jefferson Marketing, Inc. However, they were far from substantial in relation to prior years and in relation to other candidates. Additionally, of the utmost importance is that Jefferson Marketing, Inc. required that such efforts and services be paid for on a "pay-as-you-go" basis. This was commercially reasonable given an existing outstanding debt from 1982. Obviously, one would not expect a business to "cut off its nose to spite its face" by turning away new business on a "pay-as-you-go" basis simply because debts exist from the provision of prior services.

There has been anything but a cavalier attitude by these vendors toward these debts owed by the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee. These have been ongoing discussions between the Cobey for Congress Committee and the creditors about further payments.

The complaint of the Democratic Party is absolutely false in regard to the allegation that Jefferson Marketing, Inc. forgave a debt of $21,339.00 from Bill Cobey's unsuccessful campaign for Lieutenant Governor of North Carolina.

Although this transaction, relating to a state campaign, is not within the purview of the Federal Election Committee, it should be noted that this debt was not forgiven. As often happens with vendors at the end of an unsuccessful campaign, they work out accomodations to accept items of value in the satisfaction of outstanding debts. This debt was eliminated by way of Bill Cobey's 1980 Lieutenant Governor election committee selling to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. its statewide list of supporters, donors and political contacts. This was a substantial list which had a substantial value, and the acceptance of this list as satisfaction of the outstanding debt was formalized in a settlement agreement.

In short, Congressman Cobey's statement sums it up that "We are systematically paying off our campaign debts to the best of our ability." In fact, all debts but two have been paid in full and those debts have been substantially reduced. Any company with an outstanding debt such as this that is receiving regular payments would be most reluctant to pursue any other action to collect the debt and consequently, the efforts to collect these debts on behalf of these entities and the efforts to pay this debt on behalf of the Cobey election committees are entirely commercially reasonable.

LAW

The Cobey for Congress Committee concurs that the relevant law to be used in reviewing this matter is set forth in the Complaint.

VIOLATIONS

It is appropriate that Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company respond to the alleged violations regarding themselves as set forth in the Complaint of the Democratic Party.

In regard to the alleged violations in Paragraph 3 of the Complaint, it totally disagrees with the interpretation set forth by the Democratic Party.

The Cobey for Congress Committee has not accepted an unlawful corporate contribution or excessive contribution from Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company respectively. The Cobey for Congress Committee is not in violation of 2 U.S.C. 441A(f) and 2 U.S.C. 441B. All reasonable efforts have been made to repay this indebtedness consistent with maintaining a viable ongoing political effort. Should this ongoing political effort not be maintained, the potential for ever paying back outstanding debts would be significantly reduced. This is simply a political reality that the Democratic Party chooses to ignore in this matter, but seems to take advantage of in regard to numerous Democratic candidates who have refused to repay outstanding indebtedness.

The 1984 and 1986 Cobey for Congress Committees fully recognize the indebtedness existing since 1982 and substantial efforts have been made to repay those debts. In fact, a much larger percentage of the debts have been repaid than remains outstanding. These debts have been repaid, not only in off-election periods but continue to be repaid at present during the current election period.

CONCLUSION

It is respectfully submitted that no factual or legal bases exists in the allegations contained in the complaint of the Democratic Party to justify the relief which is requested. The complaint is motivated purely out of partisan self interest. It is therefore appropriate that the general counsel should recommend that the Commission finds no reason to believe that the complaint sets forth a possible violation of the Federal Election Campaign Act and that accordingly, the Commission should close the file on this matter.

This the 14th day of April, 1986.

Dear Ms. Brown:

Enclosed is a statement of designation of counsel entered in this MUR by Jefferson Marketing, Inc. ("JMI"). All future inquiries on this matter should be directed to our attention. JMI first received your letter of 18 March 1986 informing JMI that a complaint had been filed against it on 28 March 1986. We therefore request that JMI be given an extension until Monday, 21 April 1986, to respond to your letter.

Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

Dear Ms. Brown:

On Thursday, March 20th, we received a letter from Kenneth A. Gross, associate general counsel for the FEC, officially informing the Cobey for Congress Committee of a complaint filed against it with the FEC.

The letter was addressed to "Robert Powell Hodding III, Treasurer, Cobey for Congress Committee." That could refer to Robert P. Holding III who was campaign treasurer for 1982. I have included a copy of our FEC filing showing George Coxhead as the present campaign treasurer.

Also, Mr. Gross's letter indicated an enclosure of a copy of the complaint and an outline of FEC procedures. Unfortunately, the envelope contained only two pages of the letter.

I request that you forward a copy of the complaint, which this campaign has not yet had an opportunity to review and the outline of FEC procedures. In addition, I ask that the 15-day period for filing a response not begin until receipt of the items promised, but not included in Mr. Gross's letter.

Sincerely Yours,

RE: Unlawful Contributions to the Cobey for Congress Committees (1982, 1984, 1986)

RECEIVED
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY
86 MAR 12 P2:31

Dear Commissioner McGarry:

As Chairman of the North Carolina Democratic Party, I write this letter pursuant to the provisions of 2 USC 437g as a formal complaint against the Cobey for Congress Committees (1982, 1984, 1986). I respectfully request that the Commission conduct an immediate investigation of certain debts of the Cobey for Congress Committees to determine if the Committees are the beneficiaries of illegal corporate contributions and excessive contributions from Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company.

86 MAR 12 P3:02
RECEIVED
SPECIAL COUNSEL
GENERAL COUNSEL

UPON INFORMATION AND BELIEF, I ALLEGE:

Parties

The following political committees and corporations are the subject of this complaint:

1. Bill Cobey for Congress Committee (1982) FEC# C00175604; FEC#0099732 (hereinafter referred to as the 1982 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee).

This committee was originally established as the principal campaign committee for Bill Cobey when he sought election to

87040540303

Congress from North Carolina in 1982. This committee purportedly terminated in 1984 when it transferred its outstanding debts of over $100,000 to another Bill Cobey for Congress Committee that was established to operate Bill Cobey's campaign for Congress in 1984.

2. Bill Cobey for Congress Committee (1984) FEC# C00151589; FEC# 11148 (hereinafter referred to as the 1984 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee).

This committee was established by Bill Cobey as his principal campaign committee when he sought election to Congress from North Carolina in 1984. The 1984 committee coexisted with the 1982 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee. Upon information and belief, the 1984 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee was established to enable Bill Cobey to raise money for his 1984 election bid and to avoid paying the existing debts of the previous campaign with incoming contributions.

3. Cobey for Congress Reelection Committee (1986) FEC# C00202952 (hereinafter referred to as the 1986 Cobey for Congress Committee).

This committee has been established by Bill Cobey as the principal campaign committee for Bill Cobey's bid for reelection to Congress in 1986. Upon information and belief, Bill Cobey has established this Committee to enable him to raise contributions for his 1986 reelection and to avoid using incoming contributions to pay the existing debts of previous campaigns. The 1984 Bill

8704540304

Cobey for Congress Committee has approximately $35,000.00 of unpaid debts to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company which arose from the 1982 Cobey campaign.

4. Jefferson Marketing, Inc.

Jefferson Marketing, Inc. is a North Carolina corporation that engages in the business of political campaign consulting and advertising. Jefferson Marketing provided credit for direct mail fundraising and campaign services to the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee, the 1984 Cobey for Congress Committee, and upon information and belief, it will provide credit for such services to the 1986 Cobey for Congress Committee. At the conclusion of the 1982 election, the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee owed Jefferson Marketing over $30,000 and that debt remained unpaid at the conclusion of the 1984 election. Campaign services were provided by Jefferson Marketing, Inc. to the 1984 Cobey for Congress Committee despite the large unpaid debt of the 1982 campaign. As the 1986 elections begin, a sum of over $17,000.00 remains unpaid by the Cobey for Congress Committees for direct mail services provided by Jefferson Marketing, Inc.

5. Bedford Printing Company.

Upon information and belief, Bedford Printing Company is a North Carolina corporation that engages in the printing business including the printing of campaign materials for candidates. Bedford Printing Company extended credit to the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee, the 1984 Cobey for Congress Committee, and, upon information and belief, it will provide credit for such services to the 1986 Cobey for Congress Committee for the printing of campaign materals. Bedford Printing Company extended over $40,000.00 of credit to the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee for the printing of campaign materials. Bedford Printing Company received only a nominal payment from the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee for almost two years following this extension of credit. As the 1986 campaign begins, over $18,000.00 of the original credit extended to the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee remains unpaid.

Background

Bill Cobey first sought election to Congress from the Fourth Congressional District of North Carolina in 1982 when he ran unsuccessfully as a Republican candidate against incumbent Democratic Congressman Ike Andrews. Following his unsuccessful bid for election to Congress, the 1982 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee filed their 1982 year end contributions and expenditures report which showed $125,448.23 in debts and obligations owed by the Committee. (See Exhibit A.) Of the total debt owed by the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee, approximately $80,000.00 or two-thirds of this debt was owed to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company. During calendar year 1983, no payments were made against the debts to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and only a nominal payment was made to Bedford Printing Company despite the fact that the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee received $50,778.50 in contributions in 1983. (See Exhibits B and C.) Furthermore, at a time when Jefferson Marketing, Inc. was owed $34,185.06 and had not received any payment against its debt for more than thirty days, Jefferson Marketing, Inc. advanced an additional $16,734.43 in services or goods to the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee. (See Exhibit A and Exhibit B.)

Bedford Printing Company, which has a policy of trying to collect bad debts after they have been on the books from 90 to 180 days, apparently took no action to collect its debt from the 1982 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee even though it received only a nominal payment during a period of more than two years after credit was extended and the debt incurred. (See Exhibit D.)

At the beginning of calendar year 1984, the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee owed $43,865.07 to Bedford Printing Company and $50,430.37 to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. (See Exhibits D and E.) When Bill Cobey again sought election to Congress in 1984 from the Fourth Congressional District of North Carolina, he established a separate campaign committee for his 1984 election bid and virtually ignored his debts to Bedford Printing Company and Jefferson Marketing, Inc.

The 1984 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee raised $404,254.73 during 1984 through the general election reporting period. (See Exhibit F.) Yet, of this sum, only $7,985.00 was paid on the Jefferson Marketing, Inc. debt prior to the 1984 general election. (See Exhibits F, G and H.) After Bill Cobey's election $2,216.30 was paid to Bedford Printing Company from surplus campaign contributions. No surplus campaign contributions were paid to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. after the 1984 election. (See Exhibit F.)

Candidate Bill Cobey received much better treatment during this period than these creditors. Bill Cobey received $8,000.00 in 1984 from his Committee, for payment in full of a loan he made to his 1982 campaign committee. (See Exhibit G and F.) The balance owed to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company exceeded $65,000.00 when the 1984 Cobey for Congress Committee elected to repay their candidate instead of these corporate or business creditors. (See Exhibits G and F.)

Whether Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company were extending credit to the Cobey for Congress Committees in the normal course of business is further brought into question by the continuing role of these companies in Bill Cobey's 1984 campaign effort. Jefferson Marketing continued to provide substantial direct mail services and Bedford Printing Company continued to provide substantial printing services to Bill Cobey when significant debts were outstanding to both corporations and when no significant payments were being made on these debts by the 1982 or 1984 Cobey for Congress Comittees. (See Exhibits Q, R, and S). The cavalier attitude towards these debts by the Cobey Committees and the vendors belies an arms-length business relationship from which credit was extended in the usual and customary course of business for the usual and customary length of time.

AVERAGE 2 OZ

(Prior to the 1982 campaign, Jefferson Marketing, Inc. wrote off a $21,339.00 campaign debt arising from Bill Cobey's unsuccessful campaign for Lt. Governor of North Carolina. (See Exhibit T). Jefferson Marketing, Inc. then proceeded to extend new credit for a new campaign to the same candidate or customer who was unable to pay his debts from the previous campaign. By 1983, over $50,000.00 of new credit was extended by Jefferson Marketing, Inc. that remained unpaid by the 1982 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee. These facts raise serious questions concerning whether the Cobey for Congress Committees and Jefferson Marketing, Inc. are bargaining at arms-length in the ordinary course of business.)

After the 1984 election success, the 1982 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee terminated and its $101,281.00 debt was assumed by the 1984 Cobey for Congress Committee. (See Exhibit F.) During 1985, the 1984 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee raised $93,366.70 and reduced the 1982 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee's debt to Bedford Printing Company to $18,138.40 and the debt to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. to $17,241.22. (See Exhibits J and K.) On June 28, 1985 Bill Cobey filed his Statement of Candidacy for the 1986 Congressional race for

Congress in the Fourth Congressional District of North Carolina and a 1986 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee was formed. (See Exhibits L and M.)

However, as early as January, 1985, the Bill Cobey campaign was separating contributions for use in a 1986 campaign from contributions for payment on past debts. (See Exhibits M and N.)

The 1986 Bill Cobey for Congress Campaign raised $46,830.53 during 1985, enough to pay all the 1982 debts in full. (See Exhibit M.) The 1986 Cobey for Congress Committee even reported a surplus of cash on hand in the amount of $16,760.61 as of December 31, 1985. (See Exhibit M.) Today, candidate Bill Cobey and his campaign committees are actively raising contributions which could pay the debts that were incurred almost four years ago but a conscious decision not to pay those debts from incoming contributions has been made. (See Exhibit O.) Candidate Bill Cobey states that "we are systematically paying off our campaign debts to the best of our ability", but his campaign committees have raised over one-half million dollars in campaign contributions over the past four years and the debts to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company remain unpaid.

The Bill Cobey Committees' decision not to pay these debts is clearly willful and deliberate and the failure of Jefferson Marketing, Inc. or Bedford Printing Company to take any action to collect payment for these debts is not commercially reasonable.

LAW

2 USC 431(8) (A) The term "contribution" includes-
(i) any gift, subscription, loan, advance, or deposit of money or anything of value made by any person for the purpose of influencing any election for Federal office.

2 USC 441b. (a) It is un lawful for any national bank, or any corporation organized by authority of any law of Congress, to make a contribution or expenditure in connection with any election to any political office, or in connection with any primary election or political convention or caucus held to select candidates for any political office, or for any corporation whatever, or any labor organization, to make a contribution or expenditure in connection with any election at which presidential and vice presidential electors or a Senator or Representative in, or a Delegate or Resident Commissioner to, Congress are to be voted for, or in connection with any primary election or political conventions or caucus held to select candidates for any of the foregoing offices, or for any candidate, political committee, or other person knowingly to accept or receive any contribution prohibited by this section, or any officer or any director of any corporation or any national bank, or any officer of any labor organization to consent to any contribution or expenditure by the corporation, national bank, or labor union, as the case may be prohibited by this section.

2 USC 441b (b) (2) For purposes of this section and section 79(h) of title 15, the term "contribution or expenditure" shall include any direct or indirect payment, distribution, loan, advance, deposit, or gift of money, or any services, or anything of value (except a loan of money by a national or State bank made in accordance with the applicable banking laws and regulations and in the ordinary course of business) to any candidate, campaign committee, or political party or organization, in connection with any election to any of the offices referred to in this section. (Emphasis added.)

2 USC 441 a (a)(1)(A) No person shall make contributions to any candidate and his authorized political committees with respect to any election or Federal office which, in the aggregate, exceed $1,000.00.

11 CFR 100.7 (a)(B)(4) The extension of credit by any person for a length of time beyond normal business or trade practice is a contribution, unless the creditor has made a commercially reasonable attempt to collect the debt. (See 11 CFR 114.10.) A debt owed by a political committee which is forgiven or settled for less than the amount owed is a contribution unless such debt is settled in accordance with the standards set forth at 11 CFR 114.10.

11 CFR 114.10 (a) A corporation may extend credit to a candidate, political committee, or other person in connection with a Federal election provided that the credit is extended in the ordinary course of the corporation's business and the terms are substantially similar to extensions of credit to nonpolitical debtors which are of similar risk and size of obligation. Nothing in this section modifies regulations prescribed by the Civil Aeronautics Board, the Federal Communications Commission or the Interstate Commerce Commission issued pursuant to 2 USC 451 or any other regulations prescribed by other Federal agencies with regard to credit extended by the regulated corporations.

(b) Except as specifically provided in paragraph (c) of this section, a corporation may not forgive prior debts or settle debts which have been incurred by a candidate or political committee or other person for use in connection with a Federal election for less than the amount owed on the debt.

(c) A corporation may settle or forgive a debt if the creditor has treated the outstanding debt in a commercially reasonable manner. A settlement will be considered commercially reasonable if -

(1) The initial extension of credit was made in accordance with regulations issued pursuant to 2 USC 451 or paragraph (a) of this section.

(2) The candidate or political committee or person has undertaken all commercially reasonable efforts to satisfy the outstanding debt; and

(3) The corporate creditor has pursued its remedies in a manner similar in intensity to that employed by the corporation in pursuit of a non-political debtor, including lawsuits if filed in similar circumstances.

The corporation and/or the debtor must file a statement of settlement with the Commission including the initial terms of credit, the steps the debtor has taken to satisfy the debt, and remedies pursued by the creditor. This statement must be filed prior to the termination of the reporting status of the debtor and the settlement of the debtor is subject to Commission review.

VIOLATIONS

Upon information and belief:

1. Jefferson Marketing, Inc. has made an unlawful corporate contribution to the Cobey for Congress Committees

(1982, 1984, 1986) by extending credit for a length of time beyond the normal business or trade practice and by failing to make a commercially reasonable attempt to collect the debt. Jefferson Marketing, Inc. is an alleged for-profit corporation and it is incredible that any company owed over $50,000.00 would take no legal action against a debtor who made no payments against a debt of that amount for over a year. It is more incredible that a creditor would take no action to collect the total debt owed when the debtor was raising and spending approximately one-half million dollars on a new campaign. The extension of credit by Jefferson Marketing appears to have been made on a "pay us when you feel like it" basis and such credit is not a normal extension of credit by a corporation. Jefferson Marketing, Inc.'s actions amount to an interest-free corporate loan or advance for a period of time surpassing four years. Jefferson Marketing, Inc. has violated 2 USC 441b and 11 CFR 100.7(a)(4).

2. Bedford Printing Company has made an unlawful contribution to the Cobey for Congress Committees (1982, 1984, 1986) by extending credit for a length of time beyond normal business or trade practice and by failing to make a commercially reasonable attempt to collect the debt. Archie R. Bedford, President of Bedford Printing Company, has admitted that his company does not normally carry debts as long as the Cobey debt (See Exhibit P) and that bad debts are normally carried for 90 to

Evidently, no attempts to collect the Cobey debt have been made by Bedford Printing Company during the past four years despite the fact that the Cobey for Congress Committee has raised sufficient contributions to pay the debt in full. Bedford Printing Company's extension of credit amounts to an interest-free loan or advance to the Cobey for Congress Committee in excess of the contribution limitations of 2 USC 441(a). Upon information and belief, the extension of credit by Bedford Printing Company also constitutes an unlawful corporate contribution in violation of 2 USC 441b.

3. The Cobey for Congress Committees have knowingly accepted unlawful corporate contributions and excessive contributions from Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company in violation of 2 USC 441a(f) and 2 USC 441b. Over the past four years, two additional Cobey for Congress Committees have been established to enable Bill Cobey and his campaign committees to raise and spend money on new campaigns and to avoid timely payment of substantial debts to corporate creditors. The Committees are aware that these debts exist but campaign contributions are applied as needed and previous campaign debts appear to be the lowest of priorities. The debts at issue receive attention only in off-election periods or when surplus contributions exist. (See Exhibits N, O, F, and G.)

The Cobey for Congress Committees should not be allowed to ignore outstanding debts when the Committees have the ability to satisfy the debts. Contributions are being raised by the 1988 Cobey for Congress Committee which could pay these corporate debts in full and the Commission should demand immediate payment to avoid a continuing mockery of the Federal Election Campaign Act by the Cobey for Congress Committees.

CONCLUSION

As Chairman of the Democratic Party of North Carolina, I respectfully request that the Commission conduct an immediate investigation into these facts to determine if violations of the Federal Campaign Act have occurred. I further request that the Commission act with dispatch so that the 1986 Congressional election in the Fourth Congressional District is not tainted by unlawful contributions.

Cobey's '82 debts to club-linked firms remain unpaid

By MICHAEL WHITELEY
Times staff writer

William W. Cobey Jr.'s 1982 congressional campaign ran up more than $94,000 in debts to two private corporations tied to the National Congressional Club, Cobey's campaign reports show.

In an interview yesterday, Thomas H. Fetzer, who manages Cobey's 1984 congressional campaign, said much of the 1982 debt remains unpaid. He also said Cobey failed to file a year-end 1983 report listing the debts.

Cobey

"It was my responsibility to file the (December 1983) report. It was just a mental lapse," Fetzer said.

Fetzer, a former Congressional Club official, said he is preparing a report that will show payment of a portion of the debts for the last half of 1983. But he said it would not reflect a "substantial reduction" of the debt.

"We are going to make a continuing effort to retire that debt," he said. "The oldest debts are the hardest to retire. It's harder to raise money."

APR 25 '84 T

Cobey lost the 1980 race to Lt. Gov. James C. Green and challenged incumbent Ike Andrews for the U.S. House seat in 1982. He raised nearly $700,000 in his losing 1982 effort against Andrews.

A report filed in August, covering the first six months of 1983, showed that the Cobey for Congress in '82 Committee still owed $122,944.56 to private companies. Forty-one percent of that money was owed to Jefferson Marketing Inc., a Raleigh-based advertising firm whose stock is owned by Congressional Club officials.

Cobey's 1982 campaign owed another $43,865.67 to Bedford Printing Co., a Raleigh-based printing house that has served Congressional Club-backed candidates. Cobey's campaign also owed $33,700 to Arthur J. Finkelstein Associates Inc., a Mount Kisko, N.Y., company that performs political surveys.

Bedford Printing, chartered in Raleigh in 1975, is owned by Archie K. Bedford. Bedford is a founding member of the Congressional Club.

Bedford said he and other North Carolinians paid $500 each in 1975 to form the club to retire the campaign debts of U.S. Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C.

The club since has expanded its role to support conservative candidates and causes.

Bedford said he continues to be a dues-paying member of the Congressional Club. But he said his company has done printing work for candidates of many political strtipes.

He said he had debts outstanding with several Congressional Club candidates.

"This one (the Cobey campaign) has been the worst," Bedford said. "It's a high-risk business. If a candidate did win, you may have a problem. If he didn't win, you definitely have a problem."

Bedford said he normally carries bad debts on his books from 90 to 180 days before they are paid or he tries to collect them.

Federal campaign regulations specify that "an extension of credit by any person for a length of time beyond normal business or trade practice is a contribution, unless the creditor has made a commercially reasonable attempt to collect the debt."

FEC Public Affairs Director Frederick Eiland said Thursday that the FEC requires the debt to be paid or a settlement submitted to the FEC for approval. But Eiland said the codes do not say how long candidates may go without paying for services provided by private companies.

"We require them to report those debts regularly until the time they are paid," Eiland said. "We want to ensure that those debts are not contributions from the companies."

Cobey also did not include the outstanding debts in a spending report filed last week in his 1984 race against Democrat Andrews.

Eiland said the failure to file the report violates campaign regulations, and the FEC will send Cobey a letter requesting that the report for the last half of 1983 be filed.

Cobey said he was unaware of that the proper documents had not been filed with the FEC.

Fetzer disputed claims that the debt should have been carried over to the new campaign.

"Those are two separate campaigns and two separate committees," Fetzer said.

Ties between the National Congressional Club and JMI are under investigation by the FEC, stemming from a 1982 complaint by Rep. Charles G. Rose III, D-7th District, that JMI provided cut-rate advertising to two of his opponents in the 1982 races. Rose charged that the Congressional Club used JMI as a contributing arm despite the state and federal ban on corporate giving.

The state Board of Elections plans May 21 to discuss deals made in which JMI wrote off debts owed by Cobey's 1980 campaign for lieutenant governor and the 1980 gubernatorial campaign of I. Beverly Lake Jr. The debts were erased in exchange for campaign mailing lists from the Lake and Cobey campaigns.

Both state and federal laws prohibit corporations from donating cash or services to political candidates.

Dear Sir:

Enclosed please find the "Thirtieth day report following the General Election on November 6, 1984 in the State of North Carolina" for the Bill Cobey for Congress Committee. This report covers activity for the period October 18, 1984 through November 26, 1984.

In addition, there are several points which need mentioning. The Bill Cobey for Congress 1984 Committee (#11148) is assuming the $101,281.00 debt of the Bill Cobey for Congress 1982 Committee (#099732). The 1982 Committee is hereby terminated. A report designating such action is filed under separate cover.

Since assuming this debt, the Bill Cobey for Congress 1984 Committee has made a total of $10,216.30 in payments -- $4,716.30 in vendor payments (see page 9 of 10 - line 17) and $5,500.00 in repayment of the loan (see page 1 of 1 - line 19). This brings the debt to the current level of $90,565.69. All the above activity is outlined in the report following.

Dear Sirs:

The enclosed is a photocopy of the Statement of Candidacy and Statement of Organization filed by Representative Bill Cobey for the 1986 re-election campaign. I would like to make a few corrections on this form, but I do not have any blank forms, and I was told to send them with our year end report. Therefore, I will explain our errors in this letter, and file amended statements when I receive new forms.

First of all, we apparently erred when we filled in the FEC identification number. When I called the office yesterday, I was told that the only number assigned to us is the one for our 1984 Committee, and because we filled it in on our Statement of Candidacy we were not assigned a number for 1986. Therefore, please strike our identification number from the statements.

Secondly, we will change the name of the Committee to the Cobey for Congress Re-Election Committee, and the address to P.O. Box 1986, instead of P.O. Box 1984. Apex, NC 27502 remains the same.

All the other information is correct. I hope this will clear up our mistakes. Please assign us a number for our 1986 Committee, and send me FEC Forms 1 and 2 so I can make the changes if you request so. The enclosed year end report is the first one to be filed for this Committee.

Sincerely,

Lisa Sutherlin

Dear Friends:

Just a short note to inform you about our campaign debt situation. Although we finished our winning campaign in '84 with a small surplus, we still have a debt of nearly $80,000 from our 1982 campaign. I hope that you will contribute to this debt elimination effort. If this is a problem, we have activated a 1986 committee for your convenience. Please indicate your preference on the enclosed reply form.

I look forward to seeing you on the 28th.

Cobey launches re-election bid for House seat

By JOHN DRESCHER JR.
Staff Writer

U.S. Rep. William W. Cobey Jr. of Chapel Hill kicked off his re-election campaign Tuesday night, and both he and friends said he was needed in Congress to continue the policies of President Reagan.

"I hope I don't have to say 'minority' too much longer, Trent," Cobey said to one of his guests, fellow Republican U.S. Rep. Trent Lott of Mississippi, the House minority whip.

Cobey, who is seeking his second term, called 1986 a referendum on the future between Reagan's economic growth policies and the liberal welfare state mentality of Democrats.

"We're going to run a very positive, vigorous campaign," he told a crowd of 400 at the James E. Holshouser Building at the N.C. State Fairgrounds. "We're not going to concede anything in this campaign."

Cobey said he would make a pitch for votes from all races. He also stressed the importance of courting Democrats, who outnumber Republicans in the 4th Congressional District by more than 2 to 1.

Among those attending the $15-a-plate barbecue dinner were U.S. Sen. Jesse A. Helms and Gov. James G. Martin. Both Republicans, considered by many as the leaders of different factions in the North Carolina GOP, praised Cobey's conservatism.

"Bill Cobey is needed by Ronald Reagan," Helms said. "Ronald Reagan has told me what he thinks of Bill Cobey. I'm proud of Bill Cobey."

Martin said Cobey had "down-to-earth, conscientious conservatism. You won't lose that and you won't lose because of that."

Helms is considered by many as the leader of the New Right wing of the party, and Martin the leader of the more traditional wing. Each praised the other at the dinner.

Democrats running for Cobey's seat have accused him of being a pawn of the National Congressional Club, a political organization with close ties to Helms.

In an interview, Cobey said he was independent from the club.

"I need the support of all groups, including the Congressional Club," he said. But he added: "Our campaign is independent. They (the Democrats) are trying to ride an issue that's not going to work."

Before the dinner, about 150 people attended a $250-a-couple fund-raiser at the North Raleigh home of Joseph H. Call, a real estate investor. Cobey still owes about $35,000 from his unsuccessful 1982 campaign. Money raised Tuesday will be used to finance Cobey's 1986 campaign, not to pay off the 1982 debt, Daniel C. Hoover, Cobey's campaign manager, said in an interview.

Much of Cobey's debt is owed to Jefferson Marketing Inc., the advertising arm of the Congressional Club. The congressional campaign of Democrat David E. Price has said that Cobey's debt to Jefferson Marketing is evidence of Cobey's ties to the Congressional Club, and that the club has subsidized Cobey's campaign by extending his loan.

Price questions Cobey's 1982 campaign debts

By DAVE SIMPSON
Times staff writer

A Democratic challenger Friday raised questions about two campaign debts totaling about $35,000 that U.S. Rep. William C. Cobey Jr. owes to two corporations with connections to the National Congressional Club.

David E. Price, who's running for the Democratic nomination for 4th Congressional District, said Cobey's 1982 campaign has not paid those debts, violating federal election laws.

"My understanding of the federal election law is that carrying this kind of debt is clearly illegal," Price said in an interview. "It goes far beyond normal business practices and amounts to a large, interest-free loan."

Price said the debts show that Cobey has ties to the Congressional Club.

Cobey, a Republican, said Price "doesn't know what he's talking about."

Cobey said in an interview he was regularly paying off the 1982 debts. He also said he was running a campaign independent of the Congressional Club.

Cobey still owes $35,377 from his unsuccessful 1982 campaign for the 4th District, according to his latest spending report to the Federal Election Commission, Price said. Of that, Price said, $17,241 is owed to Jefferson Marketing Inc., a Raleigh-based advertising firm whose stock is owned by Congressional Club officials, and the remaining $18,136 is owed to Bedford Printing Co., a Raleigh-based printing company that has done work for Congressional Club-backed candidates.

'My understanding of the federal election law is that carrying this kind of debt is clearly illegal. It goes far beyond normal business practices and amounts to a large, interest-free loan.'
David E. Price

Price, former chairman of the state Democratic Party, said the debt was illegal because it amounted to a corporate contribution. Both state and federal laws prohibit corporations from donating cash or services to candidates.

Federal campaign regulations specify that "an extension of credit by any person for a length of time beyond normal business or trade practice is a contribution, unless the creditor has made a commercially reasonable attempt to collect the debt."

Price said, "It's not a normal business practice for this kind of credit to be extended, and Cobey has done business with these firms since then without clearing up the debt as would be ordinary business practices."

Price said he may file a complaint with the Federal Election Commission to resolve the matter.

Sharon L. Snyder, assistant press officer for the FEC, said the FEC required the debt to be paid or a settlement submitted to the FEC for approval. But she said the codes didn't say how long candidates may go without paying for services provided by private companies.

"When you owe debts to a corporate entity they have to be paid," she said by telephone from Washington. "The length of time a debt is outstanding is certainly a factor in determining whether or not there has been a contribution made to the candidate, but it is not unusual to see campaigns go for long periods of time without being able to pay corporate creditors."

Cobey isn't getting preferential treatment, said Archie R. Bedford, owner of Bedford Printing, which was chartered in Raleigh in 1975. Bedford was a founding member of the National Congressional Club and he continues to be a dues-paying member.

The Raleigh-based Congressional Club is the political organization of U.S. Sen. Jesse A. Helms, R-N.C.

Bedford said that Cobey had taken much longer than expected to retire the 1982 debt. "If I had known it would take so long to pay it off," he said, "I probably would not have printed (campaign materials) for him. We don't normally carry debts this long."

Bedford said Cobey never had asked him to reduce the amount of the debt and that he had no intention of doing so. He said he had done printing for candidates of both parties and that sometimes candidates in unsuccessful campaigns don't pay off their debts. Bedford said he had written off those debts as losses, rather than take court action to try to collect them.

Bedford said Cobey's bill from the 1982 campaign now was "a little under $17,000." Bedford said he received a check nearly every month from Cobey toward paying off the debt.

Cobey said, "We are systematically paying off our campaign debts to the best of our ability and will continue to do that."

Carter Wrenn, executive director of the National Congressional Club, denied that Cobey was getting special favors.

"That's not true and David Price knows it's not true," he said. "It's just a political charge and it's a real shame that he would stoop to that level.

Cobey, like two of his campaign spokesmen, declined further comment. They said Price should be concentrating on the Democratic primary since he is not the party's nominee.

"I'd just like the Democrats to get on with their primary so we can have at 'em," said Daniel C. Hoover, Cobey's campaign manager.

Cobey, 46, is seeking a second term for the 4th District, which includes Wake, Orange, Chatham, Franklin and Randolph counties.

He has Republican opposition in the May 6 primary from Jo Ann Austell of Raleigh.

Democrats seeking the nomination are Price; state Sen. Wilma C. Woodard of Garner; Kirsten A. Nyrop of Hillsborough, former executive director of the N.C. Technological Development Authority; and W. Woodard "Woody" Webb, who lives in Chapel Hill and practices law in Raleigh and Chapel Hill.

Deals by Helms groups raise contribution questions

By MICHAEL WHITELEY
Times staff writer

Organizations tied to U.S. Sen. Jesse A. Helms, R-N.C., have made campaign financing agreements with one another that raise questions whether state laws banning corporate political contributions have been violated.

The questions arise at a time when the Federal Election Commission is investigating the relationship between the National Congressional Club and Jefferson Marketing Inc., an advertising agency now owned by the Educational Support Foundation Inc. The latter is a non-profit, tax-exempt organization controlled by two officials of the Congressional Club — Thomas F. Ellis, chairman, and R.B. Carter Wrenn, executive director.

JMI took these actions under the agreements:

• Wrote off a $75,220.20 campaign debt in 1982 owed by I. Beverly Lake Jr. in exchange for Lake's campaign mailing list. Lake's 1980 gubernatorial candidacy was backed by the club.

• Wrote off a $21,339 debt from William W. Cobey Jr., the 1980 Republican lieutenant governor candidate, in exchange for his mailing list, a list of volunteer workers and other, unspecified assets of his campaign.

A memo given to The Raleigh Times that bears the name of an accountant who audited JMI's books says JMI continued to provide services to Lake during the 1980 campaign, although club officials said the campaign debt could not be paid. State law and federal election regulations prohibit corporations to give cash or services to political candidates.

Wrenn acknowledged in an interview that the Lake and Cobey mailing lists had been accepted by JMI in lieu of the full amounts of the outstanding debts. Wrenn said no one outside the Congressional Club had appraised the lists.

Wrenn maintained that JMI had done nothing to violate state or federal election laws that forbid private corporations such as JMI to donate cash or services to candidates.

Ruth T. Semaschko, a state Board of Elections member from Hendersonville, said JMI's handling of the Lake debt could have constituted an illegal campaign contribution. She said she would ask the board to investigate the matter at its next meeting, scheduled May 21 in Raleigh.

"It seems to be a definite contribution," she said. "You mean they thought a mailing list was worth $75,000?"

William G. Oldaker, former general counsel of the Federal Election Commission, agreed with her conclusion.

"That would be a pretty clear violation (of prohibitions on corporate giving)," Oldaker said in a telephone interview. "If you had JMI giving services to candidates for which it knew it could not be paid, that would be a contribution."

Oldaker, now practicing law in Washington, has been hired by U.S. Rep. Charles G. Rose III of Fayetteville to handle a 1982 complaint by Rose that JMI provided a cut-rate television advertisement to his opponents during the 1982 elections. It was Rose's complaint that led to the FEC inquiry.

The Congressional Club was formed in 1972 by Helms and Thomas F. Ellis, a Helms strategist. Its purpose was to retire the debts from Helms' 1972 campaign. The club since has grown into a political action committee, which funnels millions of dollars to conservative causes and the campaigns of conservative candidates.

JMI, a private corporation, handles advertising for political campaigns and provides consulting services to candidates. Both the Congressional Club and JMI have offices at 3825 Barrett Drive in Raleigh.

Papers that appear to be accounting records of JMI covering the period from December 1979 to September 1983 were given to The Raleigh Times by a person who expressed concern about the apparent links the records show between JMI and the Congressional Club. The person asked not to be identified.

The Times showed the records to officials of Ernst and Whinney, an accounting firm that has worked for JMI, and to Congressional Club attorneys and officials. They neither would confirm nor deny the authenticity of the records.

But in interviews, Wrenn, Lake and Cobey verified the accuracy of some of the records that detail campaign debts owed to JMI.

Lake and Wrenn gave different answers to who ran Lake's 1980 gubernatorial campaign.

Lake said he had depended on the Congressional Club to operate his campaign. "I don't know if there was a debt," Lake said. "The Congressional Club handled the advertising and the organizational work. I just worked through the Congressional Club."

Wrenn, in a separate interview, said the Lake campaign had been operated by the Campaign Committee, listed in JMI's books as an operating division of JMI.

Lake's campaign reports filed with the state Board of Elections show that during 1979 and 1980 he paid JMI and the Campaign Committee $143,000 for mailing, consulting, computer runs and other services.

Wrenn said JMI had proposed accepting Lake's mailing list in place of the campaign debt and that Lake signed an agreement to that settlement.

Wrenn said JMI now rents the mailing list to the Congressional Club. He refused to say how much JMI is paid for the rental.

The Lake and Cobey mailing lists turned over to JMI were compiled by JMI as part of its services to the two campaigns, Wrenn acknowledged.

But he denied that the settlements involved JMI accepting lists that it already owned.

"Jefferson didn't pay for creating the list," he said. "The actual development of it, the cost, would have been borne by Lake." The lists belonged to the Lake and Cobey campaigns until turned over to JMI, he said.

Wrenn said JMI had drawn the names on the Lake list from several sources, including contributors to the gubernatorial campaigns of Lake's father, I. Beverly Lake, and petitions signed by supporters of conservative causes Lake backed while a state legislator.

A memorandum included in the papers given to The Times says that before JMI accepted the mailing list from Lake, Congressional Club officials worried that doing so could raise questions about ties between JMI and the campaigns. The memo bears the name of P. Ann Buddenhagen, an accountant who worked at the time in the Raleigh office of Ernst and Whinney.

The memo says its purpose is to detail a conversation with Katherine Hardison Waldrop, the Congressional Club bookkeeper, and Rick Miller, a former club employee. The conversation concerned proposed methods for removing Lake's debt from JMI's list of accounts receivable, or unpaid bills.

The memo says the meeting took place on Sept. 25, 1980. That was a little more than a month before the November general election in which Lake lost to Democrat James B. Hunt Jr.

In the meeting, Mrs. Waldrop and Miller rejected the idea of setting up a reserve fund for the Lake debt, the memo says.

"Cathy (Kathy Hardison Waldrop) and Rick were both hesitant to set up such a reserve due to the delicate relationship between JMI and the campaigns," the memo says.

"They feared JMI would be accused of non-arms-length transactions because they continued to provide services for the Lake campaign even after it could no longer pay the invoiced billings."

Another memo to the files, dated Sept. 2, 1982, and bearing Miss Buddenhagen's name, recounts a conversation with Wrenn, the Congressional Club's executive director.

The memo says Wrenn rejected the idea of removing the Lake bill as a bad debt.

"Carter Wrenn does not wish to take the bad debt deduction for the $75,000 because he is afraid that such a large bad debt deduction will trigger an audit of JMI, which could in turn disclose the relationship between the campaigns and JMI," the memo says.

When called at home, Miss Buddenhagen said she would have no comment on the memos or the financial records. Ernst and Whinney officials advised her it would be unethical to discuss client business, she said.

Officials of JMI and the Congressional Club at first refused to be interviewed about the matter. But Wrenn agreed to an interview last week, after The Times showed the records to him, Mrs. Waldrop and club attorneys.

Wrenn would not verify the validity of the records but confirmed that he had repeatedly discussed the Lake campaign debt with Miss Buddenhagen.

Of the memo, Wrenn said, "That wasn't my language. That was Ann's summation."

Asked whether Miss Buddenhagen's summary was accurate, Wrenn said, "I don't even remember. I couldn't begin to reconstruct it.

"It struck me as just peculiar language in that everything gets reported," he said. "So how the heck can you not disclose a relationship where you're reporting the contributions?

"You put me in the position of where in a way you want me to in essence say Ann may not have reported truthfully," Wrenn told a reporter. "I don't want to say that. I think maybe in her summation she just summarized it inaccurately."

Wrenn said Miller and Mrs. Waldrop were being cautious about JMI's status with its campaign clients when they talked to Miss Buddenhagen.

"The club and Jefferson Marketing ...have to right much ...go two steps beyond what may be necessary in order to protect their credibility and not be questioned," Wrenn said.

The 1982 memo says that Miss Buddenhagen made another suggestion to Wrenn — that JMI swap its debt for something of value from the Lake campaign.

The memo says that Miss Buddenhagen had suggested the Lake mailing list be valued by an independent appraiser.

Wrenn said that JMI had not had the list appraised because the list was not used for tax purposes.

He said JMI had accepted the lists in full payment for the debts.

Wrenn said JMI officials had conferred with attorneys from the Washington law firm of Covington and Burling about how to dispose of the campaign debts.

Wrenn said club officials had been told that FEC regulations allow private companies to settle debts with candidates after attempts were made to collect them.

He said North Carolina laws, while they prohibit private, profit-making companies from contributing to candidates, do not speak to how companies must collect their debts. (See story above on this page.)

Wrenn said that he had been involved in discussions about accepting the mailing list but that the decision ultimately had been left to Douglas M. Davidson, JMI president, and other JMI officials.

In a separate interview, Davidson said the JMI board would have made the decision.

"I was working for JMI, but I was not on the board at the time," Davidson said.

He refused to comment when asked who had made the decision to accept the mailing lists.

Asked if Wrenn had been an officer or director of JMI at the time, Davidson said he didn't know.

Davidson said he and Elizabeth W. Smith, JMI treasurer, now serve as the only officers and directors of JMI.

The charter establishing JMI, filed in 1978 with the N.C. Secretary of State, listed no officers or directors.

Charles B. Neely Jr., an attorney with Ellis' law firm, and Alejandro Castellanos of Arlington, Va., who has worked for the Congressional Club, were listed as resident agents. Resident agents, commonly attorneys, normally are not decision-makers in a corporation.

Wrenn said neither Ellis nor Helms was involved in the decision to settle Lake's debt.

"I don't think Jesse Helms knows about any of this," Wrenn said.

Claude Allen, spokesman for the Helms re-election campaign, also said Helms was unaware of the debt settlements. "He knows nothing about the operations of JMI, period," Allen said in an interview. "He has nothing to do with that organization."

JMI is wholly owned by Educational Support Foundation Inc., a non-profit tax-exempt organization chartered as a civic league with the Internal Revenue Service, Wrenn said.

The foundation was chartered in North Carolina in July 1983, after the Lake and Cobey mailing lists were accepted by JMI.

In September, Wrenn told the FEC that the foundation was controlled by a board composed of him; Ellis, the Congressional Club chairman, and Terrence Boyle, Ellis' son-in-law who has been nominated for a federal district judgeship.

RE: Unlawful Contributions to the Cobey for Congress Committees (1982, 1984, 1986)

Dear Commissioner McGarry:

As Chairman of the North Carolina Democratic Party, I write this letter pursuant to the provisions of 2 USC 437g as a formal complaint against the Cobey for Congress Committees (1982, 1984, 1986). I respectfully request that the Commission conduct an immediate investigation of certain debts of the Cobey for Congress Committees to determine if the Committees are the beneficiaries of illegal corporate contributions and excessive contributions from Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company.

UPON INFORMATION AND BELIEF, I ALLEGE:

Parties

The following political committees and corporations are the subject of this complaint:

1. Bill Cobey for Congress Committee (1982) FEC# C00175604; FEC#0099732 (hereinafter referred to as the 1982 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee).

This committee was originally established as the principal campaign committee for Bill Cobey when he sought election to

8704043 6

Congress from North Carolina in 1982. This committee purportedly terminated in 1984 when it transferred its outstanding debts of over $100,000 to another Bill Cobey for Congress Committee that was established to operate Bill Cobey's campaign for Congress in 1984.

2. Bill Cobey for Congress Committee (1984) FEC# C00151589; FEC# 11148 (hereinafter referred to as the 1984 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee).

This committee was established by Bill Cobey as his principal campaign committee when he sought election to Congress from North Carolina in 1984. The 1984 committee coexisted with the 1982 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee. Upon information and belief, the 1984 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee was established to enable Bill Cobey to raise money for his 1984 election bid and to avoid paying the existing debts of the previous campaign with incoming contributions.

3. Cobey for Congress Reelection Committee (1986) FEC# C00202952 (hereinafter referred to as the 1986 Cobey for Congress Committee).

This committee has been established by Bill Cobey as the principal campaign committee for Bill Cobey's bid for reelection to Congress in 1986. Upon information and belief, Bill Cobey has established this Committee to enable him to raise contributions for his 1986 reelection and to avoid using incoming contributions to pay the existing debts of previous campaigns. The 1984 Bill

8704043437

Cobey for Congress Committee has approximately $35,000.00 of unpaid debts to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company which arose from the 1982 Cobey campaign.

4. Jefferson Marketing, Inc.

Jefferson Marketing, Inc. is a North Carolina corporation that engages in the business of political campaign consulting and advertising. Jefferson Marketing provided credit for direct mail fundraising and campaign services to the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee, the 1984 Cobey for Congress Committee, and upon information and belief, it will provide credit for such services to the 1986 Cobey for Congress Committee. At the conclusion of the 1982 election, the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee owed Jefferson Marketing over $30,000 and that debt remained unpaid at the conclusion of the 1984 election. Campaign services were provided by Jefferson Marketing, Inc. to the 1984 Cobey for Congress Committee despite the large unpaid debt of the 1982 campaign. As the 1986 elections begin, a sum of over $17,000.00 remains unpaid by the Cobey for Congress Committees for direct mail services provided by Jefferson Marketing, Inc.

5. Bedford Printing Company.

Upon information and belief, Bedford Printing Company is a North Carolina corporation that engages in the printing business including the printing of campaign materials for candidates. Bedford Printing Company extended credit to the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee, the 1984 Cobey for Congress Committee, and, upon information and belief, it will provide credit for such services to the 1986 Cobey for Congress Committee for the printing of campaign materals. Bedford Printing Company extended over $40,000.00 of credit to the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee for the printing of campaign materials. Bedford Printing Company received only a nominal payment from the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee for almost two years following this extension of credit. As the 1986 campaign begins, over $18,000.00 of the original credit extended to the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee remains unpaid.

Background

Bill Cobey first sought election to Congress from the Fourth Congressional District of North Carolina in 1982 when he ran unsuccessfully as a Republican candidate against incumbent Democratic Congressman Ike Andrews. Following his unsuccessful bid for election to Congress, the 1982 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee filed their 1982 year end contributions and expenditures report which showed $125,448.23 in debts and obligations owed by the Committee. (See Exhibit A.) Of the total debt owed by the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee, approximately $80,000.00 or two-thirds of this debt was owed to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company. During calendar year 1983, no payments were made against the debts to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and only a nominal payment was made to Bedford Printing Company despite the fact that the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee received $50,778.50 in contributions in 1983. (See Exhibits B and C.) Furthermore, at a time when Jefferson Marketing, Inc. was owed $34,185.06 and had not received any payment against its debt for more than thirty days, Jefferson Marketing, Inc. advanced an additional $16,734.43 in services or goods to the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee. (See Exhibit A and Exhibit B.)

Bedford Printing Company, which has a policy of trying to collect bad debts after they have been on the books from 90 to 180 days, apparently took no action to collect its debt from the 1982 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee even though it received only a nominal payment during a period of more than two years after credit was extended and the debt incurred. (See Exhibit D.)

At the beginning of calendar year 1984, the 1982 Cobey for Congress Committee owed $43,865.07 to Bedford Printing Company and $50,430.37 to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. (See Exhibits D and E.) When Bill Cobey again sought election to Congress in 1984 from the Fourth Congressional District of North Carolina, he established a separate campaign committee for his 1984 election bid and virtually ignored his debts to Bedford Printing Company and Jefferson Marketing, Inc.

The 1984 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee raised $404,254.73 during 1984 through the general election reporting period. (See Exhibit F.) Yet, of this sum, only $7,985.00 was paid on the Jefferson Marketing, Inc. debt prior to the 1984 general election. (See Exhibits F, G and H.) After Bill Cobey's election $2,216.30 was paid to Bedford Printing Company from surplus campaign contributions. No surplus campaign contributions were paid to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. after the 1984 election. (See Exhibit F.)

Candidate Bill Cobey received much better treatment during this period than these creditors. Bill Cobey received $8,000.00 in 1984 from his Committee, for payment in full of a loan he made to his 1982 campaign committee. (See Exhibit G and F.) The balance owed to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company exceeded $65,000.00 when the 1984 Cobey for Congress Committee elected to repay their candidate instead of these corporate or business creditors. (See Exhibits G and F.)

Whether Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company were extending credit to the Cobey for Congress Committees in the normal course of business is further brought into question by the continuing role of these companies in Bill Cobey's 1984 campaign effort. Jefferson Marketing continued to provide substantial direct mail services and Bedford Printing Company continued to provide substantial printing services to Bill Cobey when significant debts were outstanding to both corporations and when no significant payments were being made on these debts by the 1982 or 1984 Cobey for Congress Comittees. (See Exhibits Q, R, and S). The cavalier attitude towards these debts by the Cobey Committees and the vendors belies an arms-length business relationship from which credit was extended in the usual and customary course of business for the usual and customary length of time.

(Prior to the 1982 campaign, Jefferson Marketing, Inc. wrote off a $21,339.00 campaign debt arising from Bill Cobey's unsuccessful campaign for Lt. Governor of North Carolina. (See Exhibit T). Jefferson Marketing, Inc. then proceeded to extend new credit for a new campaign to the same candidate or customer who was unable to pay his debts from the previous campaign. By 1983, over $50,000.00 of new credit was extended by Jefferson Marketing, Inc. that remained unpaid by the 1982 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee. These facts raise serious questions concerning whether the Cobey for Congress Committees and Jefferson Marketing, Inc. are bargaining at arms-length in the ordinary course of business.)

After the 1984 election success, the 1982 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee terminated and its $101,281.00 debt was assumed by the 1984 Cobey for Congress Committee. (See Exhibit F.) During 1985, the 1984 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee raised $93,366.70 and reduced the 1982 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee's debt to Bedford Printing Company to $18,138.40 and the debt to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. to $17,241.22. (See Exhibits J and K.) On June 28, 1985 Bill Cobey filed his Statement of Candidacy for the 1986 Congressional race for

Congress in the Fourth Congressional District of North Carolina and a 1986 Bill Cobey for Congress Committee was formed. (See Exhibits L and M.)

However, as early as January, 1985, the Bill Cobey campaign was separating contributions for use in a 1986 campaign from contributions for payment on past debts. (See Exhibits M and N.)

The 1986 Bill Cobey for Congress Campaign raised $46,830.53 during 1985, enough to pay all the 1982 debts in full. (See Exhibit M.) The 1986 Cobey for Congress Committee even reported a surplus of cash on hand in the amount of $16,760.61 as of December 31, 1985. (See Exhibit M.) Today, candidate Bill Cobey and his campaign committees are actively raising contributions which could pay the debts that were incurred almost four years ago but a conscious decision not to pay those debts from incoming contributions has been made. (See Exhibit O.) Candidate Bill Cobey states that "we are systematically paying off our campaign debts to the best of our ability", but his campaign committees have raised over one-half million dollars in campaign contributions over the past four years and the debts to Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company remain unpaid.

The Bill Cobey Committees' decision not to pay these debts is clearly willful and deliberate and the failure of Jefferson Marketing, Inc. or Bedford Printing Company to take any action to collect payment for these debts is not commercially reasonable.

LAW

2 USC 431(8) (A) The term "contribution" includes-
(i) any gift, subscription, loan, advance, or deposit of money or anything of value made by any person for the purpose of influencing any election for Federal office.

2 USC 441b. (a) It is un lawful for any national bank, or any corporation organized by authority of any law of Congress, to make a contribution or expenditure in connection with any election to any political office, or in connection with any primary election or political convention or caucus held to select candidates for any political office, or for any corporation whatever, or any labor organization, to make a contribution or expenditure in connection with any election at which presidential and vice presidential electors or a Senator or Representative in, or a Delegate or Resident Commissioner to, Congress are to be voted for, or in connection with any primary election or political conventions or caucus held to select candidates for any of the foregoing offices, or for any candidate, political committee, or other person knowingly to accept or receive any contribution prohibited by this section, or any officer or any director of any corporation or any national bank, or any officer of any labor organization to consent to any contribution or expenditure by the corporation, national bank, or labor union, as the case may be prohibited by this section.

2 USC 441b (b) (2) For purposes of this section and section 79(h) of title 15, the term "contribution or expenditure" shall include any direct or indirect payment, distribution, loan, advance, deposit, or gift of money, or any services, or anything of value (except a loan of money by a national or State bank made in accordance with the applicable banking laws and regulations and in the ordinary course of business) to any candidate, campaign committee, or political party or organization, in connection with any election to any of the offices referred to in this section. (Emphasis added.)

2 USC 441 a (a)(1)(A) No person shall make contributions to any candidate and his authorized political committees with respect to any election or Federal office which, in the aggregate, exceed $1,000.00.

11 CFR 100.7 (a)(B)(4) The extension of credit by any person for a length of time beyond normal business or trade practice is a contribution, unless the creditor has made a commercially reasonable attempt to collect the debt. (See 11 CFR 114.10.) A debt owed by a political committee which is forgiven or settled for less than the amount owed is a contribution unless such debt is settled in accordance with the standards set forth at 11 CFR 114.10.

11 CFR 114.10 (a) A corporation may extend credit to a candidate, political committee, or other person in connection with a Federal election provided that the credit is extended in the ordinary course of the corporation's business and the terms are substantially similar to extensions of credit to nonpolitical debtors which are of similar risk and size of obligation. Nothing in this section modifies regulations prescribed by the Civil Aeronautics Board, the Federal Communications Commission or the Interstate Commerce Commission issued pursuant to 2 USC 451 or any other regulations prescribed by other Federal agencies with regard to credit extended by the regulated corporations.

(b) Except as specifically provided in paragraph (c) of this section, a corporation may not forgive prior debts or settle debts which have been incurred by a candidate or political committee or other person for use in connection with a Federal election for less than the amount owed on the debt.

(c) A corporation may settle or forgive a debt if the creditor has treated the outstanding debt in a commercially reasonable manner. A settlement will be considered commercially reasonable if -

(1) The initial extension of credit was made in accordance with regulations issued pursuant to 2 USC 451 or paragraph (a) of this section.

(2) The candidate or political committee or person has undertaken all commercially reasonable efforts to satisfy the outstanding debt; and

(3) The corporate creditor has pursued its remedies in a manner similar in intensity to that employed by the corporation in pursuit of a non-political debtor, including lawsuits if filed in similar circumstances.

The corporation and/or the debtor must file a statement of settlement with the Commission including the initial terms of credit, the steps the debtor has taken to satisfy the debt, and remedies pursued by the creditor. This statement must be filed prior to the termination of the reporting status of the debtor and the settlement of the debtor is subject to Commission review.

VIOLATIONS

Upon information and belief:

1. Jefferson Marketing, Inc. has made an unlawful corporate contribution to the Cobey for Congress Committees

(1982, 1984, 1986) by extending credit for a length of time beyond the normal business or trade practice and by failing to make a commercially reasonable attempt to collect the debt. Jefferson Marketing, Inc. is an alleged for-profit corporation and it is incredible that any company owed over $50,000.00 would take no legal action against a debtor who made no payments against a debt of that amount for over a year. It is more incredible that a creditor would take no action to collect the total debt owed when the debtor was raising and spending approximately one-half million dollars on a new campaign. The extension of credit by Jefferson Marketing appears to have been made on a "pay us when you feel like it" basis and such credit is not a normal extension of credit by a corporation. Jefferson Marketing, Inc.'s actions amount to an interest-free corporate loan or advance for a period of time surpassing four years. Jefferson Marketing, Inc. has violated 2 USC 441b and 11 CFR 100.7(a)(4).

2. Bedford Printing Company has made an unlawful contribution to the Cobey for Congress Committees (1982, 1984, 1986) by extending credit for a length of time beyond normal business or trade practice and by failing to make a commercially reasonable attempt to collect the debt. Archie R. Bedford, President of Bedford Printing Company, has admitted that his company does not normally carry debts as long as the Cobey debt (See Exhibit P) and that bad debts are normally carried for 90 to

180 days before he tries to collect them. (See Exhibit D.)

Evidently, no attempts to collect the Cobey debt have been made by Bedford Printing Company during the past four years despite the fact that the Cobey for Congress Committee has raised sufficient contributions to pay the debt in full. Bedford Printing Company's extension of credit amounts to an interest-free loan or advance to the Cobey for Congress Committee in excess of the contribution limitations of 2 USC 441(a). Upon information and belief, the extension of credit by Bedford Printing Company also constitutes an unlawful corporate contribution in violation of 2 USC 441b.

3. The Cobey for Congress Committees have knowingly accepted unlawful corporate contributions and excessive contributions from Jefferson Marketing, Inc. and Bedford Printing Company in violation of 2 USC 441a(f) and 2 USC 441b. Over the past four years, two additional Cobey for Congress Committees have been established to enable Bill Cobey and his campaign committees to raise and spend money on new campaigns and to avoid timely payment of substantial debts to corporate creditors. The Committees are aware that these debts exist but campaign contributions are applied as needed and previous campaign debts appear to be the lowest of priorities. The debts at issue receive attention only in off-election periods or when surplus contributions exist. (See Exhibits N, O, F, and G.)

ignore outstanding debts when the Committees have the ability to satisfy the debts. Contributions are being raised by the 1988 Cobey for Congress Committee which could pay these corporate debts in full and the Commission should demand immediate payment to avoid a continuing mockery of the Federal Election Campaign Act by the Cobey for Congress Committees.

CONCLUSION

As Chairman of the Democratic Party of North Carolina, I respectfully request that the Commission conduct an immediate investigation into these facts to determine if violations of the Federal Campaign Act have occurred. I further request that the Commission act with dispatch so that the 1986 Congressional election in the Fourth Congressional District is not tainted by unlawful contributions.

This is the 6th day of March, 1986.

Cobey's '82 debts to club-linked firms remain unpaid

By MICHAEL WHITELEY
Times staff writer

William W. Cobey Jr.'s 1982 congressional campaign ran up more than $94,000 in debts to two private corporations tied to the National Congressional Club, Cobey's campaign reports show.

In an interview yesterday, Thomas H. Fetzer, who manages Cobey's 1984 congressional campaign, said much of the 1982 debt remains unpaid. He also said Cobey failed to file a year-end FEC report listing the debts.

"It was my responsibility to file the (December 1983) report. It was just a mental lapse," Fetzer said.

Cobey

Fetzer, a former Congressional Club official, said he is preparing a report that will show payment of a portion of the debts for the last half of 1983. But he said it would not reflect a "substantial reduction" of the debt.

"We are going to make a continuing effort to retire that debt," he said. "The oldest debts are the hardest to retire. It's harder to raise money."

APR 25 '84 T

Cobey lost the 1980 race to Lt. Gov. James C. Green and challenged incumbent Ike Andrews for the U.S. House seat in 1982. He raised nearly $700,000 in his losing 1982 effort against Andrews.

A report filed in August, covering the first six months of 1983, showed that the Cobey for Congress in '82 Committee still owed $122,844.56 to private companies. Forty-one percent of that money was owed to Jefferson Marketing Inc., a Raleigh-based [illegible] is owned by Congressio[illegible] Club officials.

Cobey's 1982 campaign owed another $43,885.07 to Bedford Printing Co., a Raleigh-based printing house that has served Congressional Club-backed candidates. Cobey's campaign also owed $35,700 to Arthur J. Finkelstein Associates Inc., a Mount Kisko, N.Y., company that performs political surveys.

Bedford Printing, chartered in Raleigh in 1975, is owned by Archie R. Bedford. Bedford is a founding member of the Congressional Club.

Bedford said he and other North Carolinians paid $100 each to help set up [illegible] campaign debts [illegible] FEC.

The club since has expanded its role to support conservative candidates and causes.

Bedford said he continues to be a dues-paying member of the Congressional Club. But he said his company has done printing work for candidates of many political strtipes.

He said he had debts outstanding with several Congressional Club candidates.

"This one (the Cobey campaign) has been the worst," Bedford said. "It's a high-risk business. If a candidate did win, you may have a problem. If he didn't win, you definitely have a problem."

Bedford said he normally carries bad debts on his books from 90 to 180 days before they are paid or he tries to collect them.

Federal campaign regulations specify that "an extension of credit by any person for a length of time beyond normal business or trade practice is a contribution, unless the creditor has made a commercially reasonable attempt to collect the debt."

FEC Public Affairs Director Frederick Eiland said Thursday that the FEC requires the debt to be paid or a settlement submitted to the FEC for approval. But Eiland said the codes do not say how long candidates may go without paying for services provided by private companies.

"We require them to report those debts regularly until the time they are paid," Eiland said. "We want to ensure that those debts are not contributions from the companies."

Cobey also did not include the outstanding debts in a spending report filed last week in his 1984 race against Democrat Andrews.

Eiland said the failure to file the report violates campaign regulations, and the FEC will send Cobey a letter requesting that the report for the last half of 1983 be filed.

Cobey said he was unaware of that the proper documents had not been filed with the FEC.

Fetzer disputed claims that the debt should have been carried over to the new campaign.

"Those are two separate campaigns and two separate committees," Fetzer said.

Ties between the National Congressional Club and JMI are under investigation by the FEC, stemming from a 1982 complaint by Rep. Charles G. Rose III, D-7th District, that JMI provided cut-rate advertising to two of his opponents in the 1982 races. Rose charged that the Congressional Club used JMI as a contributing arm despite the state and federal ban on corporate giving.

The state Board of Elections plans May 21 to discuss deals made in which JMI wrote off debts owed by Cobey's 1980 campaign for lieutenant governor and the 1982 [illegible] campaign of [illegible] Lake Jr. The debts were erased in exchange for campaign mailing lists from the Lake and Cobey campaigns.

Both state and federal laws prohibit corporations from donating cash or services to political candidates.

Dear Sir:

Enclosed please find the "Thirtieth day report following the General Election on November 6, 1984 in the State of North Carolina" for the Bill Cobey for Congress Committee. This report covers activity for the period October 18, 1984 through November 26, 1984.

In addition, there are several points which need mentioning. The Bill Cobey for Congress 1984 Committee (#11148) is assuming the $101,281.00 debt of the Bill Cobey for Congress 1982 Committee (#099732). The 1982 Committee is hereby terminated. A report designating such action is filed under separate cover.

Since assuming this debt, the Bill Cobey for Congress 1984 Committee has made a total of $10,216.30 in payments -- $4,716.30 in vendor payments (see page 9 of 10 - line 17) and $5,500.00 in repayment of the loan (see page 1 of 1 - line 19). This brings the debt to the current level of $90,565.69. All the above activity is outlined in the report following.

Dear Sirs:

The enclosed is a photocopy of the Statement of Candidacy and Statement of Organization filed by Representative Bill Cobey for the 1986 re-election campaign. I would like to make a few corrections on this form, but I do not have any blank forms, and I was told to send them with our year end report. Therefore, I will explain our errors in this letter, and file amended statements when I receive new forms.

First of all, we apparently erred when we filled in the FEC identification number. When I called the office yesterday, I was told that the only number assigned to us is the one for our 1984 Committee, and because we filled it in on our Statement of Candidacy we were not assigned a number for 1986. Therefore, please strike our identification number from the statements.

Secondly, we will change the name of the Committee to the Cobey for Congress Re-Election Committee, and the address to P.O. Box 1986, instead of P.O. Box 1984. Apex, NC 27502 remains the same.

All the other information is correct. I hope this will clear up our mistakes. Please assign us a number for our 1986 Committee, and send me FEC Forms 1 and 2 so I can make the changes if you request so. The enclosed year end report is the first one to be filed for this Committee.

Sincerely,

Lisa Sutherlin

Congressman William W. Cobey, Jr.
North Carolina — 4

Dear Friends:

Just a short note to inform you about our campaign debt situation. Although we finished our winning campaign in '84 with a small surplus, we still have a debt of nearly $80,000 from our 1982 campaign. I hope that you will contribute to this debt elimination effort. If this is a problem, we have activated a 1986 committee for your convenience. Please indicate your preference on the enclosed reply form.

I look forward to seeing you on the 28th.

Cobey launches re-election bid for House seat

By JOHN DRESCHER JR.
Staff Writer

U.S. Rep. William W. Cobey Jr. of Chapel Hill kicked off his re-election campaign Tuesday night, and both he and friends said he was needed in Congress to continue the policies of President Reagan.

"I hope I don't have to say 'minority' too much longer, Trent," Cobey said to one of his guests, fellow Republican U.S. Rep. Trent Lott of Mississippi, the House minority whip.

Cobey, who is seeking his second term, called 1986 a referendum on the future between Reagan's economic growth policies and the liberal welfare state mentality of Democrats.

"We're going to run a very positive, vigorous campaign," he told a crowd of 400 at the James E. Holshouser Building at the N.C. State Fairgrounds. "We're not going to concede anything in this campaign."

Cobey said he would make a pitch for votes from all races. He also stressed the importance of courting Democrats, who outnumber Republicans in the 4th Congressional District by more than 2 to 1.

Among those attending the $15-a-plate barbecue dinner were U.S. Sen. Jesse A. Helms and Gov. James G. Martin. Both Republicans, considered by many as the leaders of different factions in the North Carolina GOP, praised Cobey's conservatism.

"Bill Cobey is needed by Ronald Reagan," Helms said. "Ronald Reagan has told me what he thinks of Bill Cobey. I'm proud of Bill Cobey."

Martin said Cobey had "down-to-earth, conscientious conservatism. You won't lose that and you won't lose because of that."

Helms is considered by many as the leader of the New Right wing of the party, and Martin the leader of the more traditional wing. Each praised the other at the dinner.

Democrats running for Cobey's seat have accused him of being a pawn of the National Congressional Club, a political organization with close ties to Helms.

In an interview, Cobey said he was independent from the club.

"I need the support of all groups, including the Congressional Club," he said. But he added: "Our campaign is independent. They (the Democrats) are trying to ride an issue that's not going to work."

Before the dinner, about 150 people attended a $250-a-couple fund-raiser at the North Raleigh home of Joseph H. Call, a real estate investor. Cobey still owes about $35,000 from his unsuccessful 1982 campaign. Money raised Tuesday will be used to finance Cobey's 1986 campaign, not to pay off the 1982 debt, Daniel C. Hoover, Cobey's campaign manager, said in an interview.

Much of Cobey's debt is owed to Jefferson Marketing Inc., the advertising arm of the Congressional Club. The congressional campaign of Democrat David E. Price has said that Cobey's debt to Jefferson Marketing is evidence of Cobey's ties to the Congressional Club, and that the club has subsidized Cobey's campaign by extending his loan.

Price questions Cobey's 1982 campaign debts

By DAVE SIMPSON
Times staff writer

A Democratic challenger Friday raised questions about two campaign debts totaling about $35,000 that U.S. Rep. William C. Cobey Jr. owes to two corporations with connections to the National Congressional Club.

David E. Price, who's running for the Democratic nomination for 4th Congressional District, said Cobey's 1982 campaign has not paid those debts, violating federal election laws.

"My understanding of the federal election law is that carrying this kind of debt is clearly illegal," Price said in an interview. "It goes far beyond normal business practices and amounts to a large, interest-free loan."

Price said the debts show that Cobey has ties to the Congressional Club.

Cobey, a Republican, said Price "doesn't know what he's talking about."

Cobey said in an interview he was regularly paying off the 1982 debts. He also said he was running a campaign independent of the Congressional Club.

Cobey still owes $35,377 from his unsuccessful 1982 campaign for the 4th District, according to his latest spending report to the Federal Election Commission, Price said. Of that, Price said, $17,241 is owed to Jefferson Marketing Inc., a Raleigh-based advertising firm whose stock is owned by Congressional Club officials, and the remaining $18,136 is owed to Bedford Printing Co., a Raleigh-based printing company that has done work for Congressional Club-backed candidates.

Price, former chairman of the state Democratic Party, said the debt was illegal because it amounted to a corporate contribution. Both state and federal laws prohibit corporations from donating cash or services to candidates.

Federal campaign regulations specify that "an extension of credit by any person for a length of time beyond normal business or trade practice is a contribution

'My understanding of the federal election law is that carrying this kind of debt is clearly illegal. It goes far beyond normal business practices and amounts to a large, interest-free loan.'

Bedford said that Cobey had taken much longer than expected to retire the 1982 debt. "If I had known it would take so long to pay it off," he said, "I probably would not have printed (campaign materials) for him. We don't normally carry debts this long."

Bedford said Cobey never had asked him to reduce the amount of the debt and that he had no intention of doing so. He said he had done printing for candidates of both parties and that sometimes candidates in unsuccessful campaigns don't pay off their debts. Bedford said he had written off those debts as losses, rather than take court action to try to collect them.

Bedford said Cobey's bill from the 1982 campaign now was "a little under $17,000." Bedford said he received a check nearly every month from Cobey toward paying off the debt.

Cobey said, "We are systematically paying off our campaign debts to the best of our ability and will continue to do that."

Carter Wrenn, executive director of the National Congressional Club, denied that Cobey was getting special favors.

"That's not true and David Price knows it's not true," he said. "It's just a political charge and it's a real shame that he would stoop to that level.

Cobey, like two of his campaign spokesmen, declined further comment. They said Price should be concentrating on the Democratic primary since he is not the party's nominee.

"I'd just like the Democrats to printing company that has done work for Congressional Club-backed candidates.

Price, former chairman of the state Democratic Party, said the debt was illegal because it amounted to a corporate contribution. Both state and federal laws prohibit corporations from donating cash or services to candidates.

Federal campaign regulations specify that "an extension of credit by any person for a length of time beyond normal business or trade practice is a contribution, unless the creditor has made a commercially reasonable attempt to collect the debt."

Price said, "It's not a normal business practice for this kind of credit to be extended, and Cobey has done business with these firms since then without clearing up the debt as would be ordinary business practices."

Price said he may file a complaint with the Federal Election Commission to resolve the matter.

Sharon L. Snyder, assistant press officer for the FEC, said the FEC required the debt to be paid or a settlement submitted to the FEC for approval. But she said the codes didn't say how long candidates may go without paying for services provided by private companies.

"When you owe debts to a corporate entity they have to be paid," she said by telephone from Washington. "The length of time a debt is outstanding is certainly a factor in determining whether or not there has been a contribution made to the candidate, but it is not unusual to see campaigns go for long periods of time without being able to pay corporate creditors."

Cobey isn't getting preferential treatment, said Archie R. Bedford, owner of Bedford Printing, which was chartered in Raleigh in 1975. Bedford was a founding member of the National Congressional Club and he continues to be a dues-paying member.

The Raleigh-based Congressional Club is the political organization of U.S. Sen. Jesse A. Helms, Club, denied that Co[illegible] was getting special favors.

"That's not true and David Price knows it's not true," he said. "It's just a political charge and it's a real shame that he would stoop to that level.

Cobey, like two of his campaign spokesmen, declined further comment. They said Price should be concentrating on the Democratic primary since he is not the party's nominee.

"I'd just like the Democrats to get on with their primary so we can have at 'em," said Daniel C. Hoover, Cobey's campaign manager.

Cobey, 46, is seeking a second term for the 4th District, which includes Wake, Orange, Chatham, Franklin and Randolph counties.

He has Republican opposition in the May 6 primary from Jo Ann Austell of Raleigh.

Democrats seeking the nomination are Price; state Sen. Wilma C. Woodard of Garner; Kirsten A. Nyrop of Hillsborough, former executive director of the N.C. Technological Development Authority; and W. Woodard "Woody" Webb, who lives in Chapel Hill and practices law in Raleigh and Chapel Hill.

Deals by Helms groups raise contribution questions

By MICHAEL WHITELEY
Times staff writer

Organizations tied to U.S. Sen. Jesse A. Helms, R-N.C., have made campaign financing agreements with one another that raise questions whether state laws banning corporate political contributions have been violated.

The questions arise at a time when the Federal Election Commission is investigating the relationship between the National Congressional Club and Jefferson Marketing Inc., an advertising agency now owned by the Educational Support Foundation Inc. The latter is a non-profit, tax-exempt organization controlled by two officials of the Congressional Club — Thomas F. Ellis, chairman, and R.E. Carter Wrenn, executive director.

JMI took these actions under the agreements:

• Wrote off a $75,229.20 campaign debt in 1982 owed by I. Beverly Lake Jr. in exchange for Lake's campaign mailing list. Lake's 1980 gubernatorial candidacy was backed by the club.

• Wrote off a $21,339 debt from William W. Cobey Jr., the 1980 Republican lieutenant governor candidate, in exchange for his mailing list, a list of volunteer workers and other, unspecified assets of his campaign.

A memo given to The Raleigh Times that bears the name of an accountant who audited JMI's books says JMI continued to provide services to Lake during the 1980 campaign, although club officials said the campaign debt could not be paid. State law and federal election regulations prohibit corporations to give cash or services to political candidates.

Wrenn acknowledged in an interview that the Lake and Cobey mailing lists had been accepted by JMI in lieu of the full amounts of the outstanding debts. Wrenn said no one outside the Congressional Club had appraised the lists.

Wrenn maintained that JMI had done nothing to violate state or federal election laws that forbid private corporations such as JMI to donate cash or services to candidates.

Ruth T. Semaschko, a state Board of Elections member from Hendersonville, said JMI's handling of the Lake debt could have constituted an illegal campaign contribution. She said she would ask the board to investigate the matter at its next meeting, scheduled May 21 in Raleigh.

"It seems to be a definite contribution," she said. "You mean they thought a mailing list was worth $75,000?"

William G. Oldaker, former general counsel of the Federal Election Commission, agreed with her conclusion.

"That would be a pretty clear violation (of prohibitions on corporate giving)," Oldaker said in a telephone interview. "If you had JMI giving services to candidates for which it knew it could not be paid, that would be a contribution."

Oldaker, now practicing law in Washington, has been hired by U.S. Rep. Charles G. Rose III of Fayetteville to handle a 1982 complaint by Rose that JMI provided a cut rate television advertisement to his opponents during the 1982 elections. It was Rose's complaint that led to the FEC inquiry.

The Congressional Club was formed in 1972 by Helms and Thomas F. Ellis, a Helms strategist. Its purpose was to retire the debts from Helms' 1972 campaign. The club since has grown into a political action committee, which funnels millions of dollars to conservative causes and the campaigns of conservative candidates.

JMI, a private corporation, handles advertising for political campaigns and provides consulting services to candidates. Both the Congressional Club and JMI have offices at 3825 Barrett Drive in Raleigh.

Papers that appear to be accounting records of JMI covering the period from December 1979 to September 1983 were given to The Raleigh Times by a person who expressed concern about the apparent links the records show between JMI and the Congressional Club. The person asked not to be identified.

The Times showed the records to officials of Ernst and Whinney, an accounting firm that has worked for JMI, and to Congressional Club attorneys and officials. They neither would confirm nor deny the authenticity of the records.

But in interviews, Wrenn, Lake and Cobey verified the accuracy of some of the records that detail campaign debts owed to JMI.

Lake and Wrenn gave different answers to who ran Lake's 1980 gubernatorial campaign.

Lake said he had depended on the Congressional Club to operate his campaign. "I don't know if there was a debt," Lake said. "The Congressional Club handled the advertising and the organizational work. I just worked through the Congressional Club."

Wrenn, in a separate interview, said the Lake campaign had been operated by the Campaign Committee, listed in JMI's books as an operating division of JMI.

Lake's campaign reports filed with the state Board of Elections show that during 1979 and 1980 he paid JMI and the Campaign Committee $143,000 for mailing, consulting, computer runs and other services.

Wrenn said JMI had proposed accepting Lake's mailing list in place of the campaign debt and that Lake signed an agreement to that settlement.

Wrenn said JMI now rents the mailing list to the Congressional Club. He refused to say how much JMI is paid for the rental.

The Lake and Cobey mailing lists turned over to JMI were compiled by JMI as part of its services to the two campaigns, Wrenn acknowledged.

But he denied that the settlements involved JMI accepting lists that it already owned.

"Jefferson didn't pay for creating the list," he said. "The actual development of it, the cost, would have been borne by Lake." The lists belonged to the Lake and Cobey campaigns until turned over to JMI, he said.

Wrenn said JMI had drawn the names on the Lake list from several sources, including contributors to the gubernatorial campaigns of Lake's father, I. Beverly Lake, and petitions signed by supporters of conservative causes Lake backed while a state legislator.

A memorandum included in the papers given to The Times says that before JMI accepted the mailing list from Lake, Congressional Club officials worried that doing so could raise questions about ties between JMI and the campaigns. The memo bears the name of P. Ann Buddenhagen, an accountant who worked at the time in the Raleigh office of Ernst and Whinney.

The memo says its purpose is to detail a conversation with Katherine Hardison Waldrop, the Congressional Club bookkeeper, and Rick Miller, a former club employee. The conversation concerned proposed methods for removing Lake's debt from JMI's list of accounts receivable, or unpaid bills.

The memo says the meeting took place on Sept. 25, 1980. That was a little more than a month before the November general election in which Lake lost to Democrat James B. Hunt Jr.

In the meeting, Mrs. Waldrop and Miller rejected the idea of setting up a reserve fund for the Lake debt, the memo says.

"Cathy (Kathy Hardison Waldrop) and Rick were both hesitant to set up such a reserve due to the delicate relationship between JMI and the campaigns," the memo says.

"They feared JMI would be accused of non-arms-length transactions because they continued to provide services for the Lake campaign even after it could no longer pay the invoiced billings."

Another memo to the files, dated Sept. 2, 1982, and bearing Miss Buddenhagen's name, recounts a conversation with Wrenn, the Congressional Club's executive director.

The memo says Wrenn rejected the idea of removing the Lake bill as a bad debt.

"Carter Wrenn does not wish to take the bad debt deduction for the $75,000 because he is afraid that such a large bad debt deduction will trigger an audit of JMI, which could in turn disclose the relationship between the campaigns and JMI," the memo says.

When called at home, Miss Buddenhagen said she would have no comment on the memos or the financial records. Ernst and Whinney officials advised her it would be unethical to discuss client business, she said.

Officials of JMI and the Congressional Club at first refused to be interviewed about the matter. But Wrenn agreed to an interview last week, after The Times showed the records to him, Mrs. Waldrop and club attorneys.

Wrenn would not verify the validity of the records but confirmed that he had repeatedly discussed the Lake campaign debt with Miss Buddenhagen.

Of the memo, Wrenn said, "That wasn't my language. That was Ann's summation."

Asked whether Miss Buddenhagen's summary was accurate, Wrenn said, "I don't even remember. I couldn't begin to reconstruct it.

"It struck me as just peculiar language in that everything gets reported," he said. "So how the heck can you not disclose a relationship where you're reporting the contributions?

"You put me in the position of where in a way you want me to in essence say Ann may not have reported truthfully," Wrenn told a reporter. "I don't want to say that. I think maybe in her summation she just summarized it inaccurately."

Wrenn said Miller and Mrs. Waldrop were being cautious about JMI's status with its campaign clients when they talked to Miss Buddenhagen.

"The club and Jefferson Marketing ... have to right much ... go two steps beyond what may be necessary in order to protect their credibility and not be questioned," Wrenn said.

The 1982 memo says that Miss Buddenhagen made another suggestion to Wrenn — that JMI swap its debt for something of value from the Lake campaign.

The memo says that Miss Buddenhagen had suggested the Lake mailing list be valued by an independent appraiser.

Wrenn said that JMI had not had the list appraised because the list was not used for tax purposes.

He said JMI had accepted the lists in full payment for the debts.

Wrenn said JMI officials had conferred with attorneys from the Washington law firm of Covington and Burling about how to dispose of the campaign debts.

Wrenn said club officials had been told that FEC regulations allow private companies to settle debts with candidates after attempts were made to collect them.

He said North Carolina laws, while they prohibit private, profit-making companies from contributing to candidates, do not speak to how companies must collect their debts. (See story above on this page.)

Wrenn said that he had been involved in discussions about accepting the mailing list but that the decision ultimately had been left to Douglas M. Davidson, JMI president, and other JMI officials.

In a separate interview, Davidson said the JMI board would have made the decision.

"I was working for JMI, but I was not on the board at the time," Davidson said.

He refused to comment when asked who had made the decision to accept the mailing lists.

Asked if Wrenn had been an officer or director of JMI at the time, Davidson said he didn't know.

Davidson said he and Elizabeth W. Smith, JMI treasurer, now serve as the only officers and directors of JMI.

The charter establishing JMI, filed in 1978 with the N.C. Secretary of State, listed no officers or directors.

Charles B. Neely Jr., an attorney with Ellis law firm, and Alejandro Castellanos of Arlington, Va., who has worked for the Congressional Club, were listed as resident agents. Resident agents, commonly attorneys, normally are not decision-makers in a corporation.

Wrenn said neither Ellis nor Helms was involved in the decision to settle Lake's debt.

"I don't think Jesse Helms knows about any of this," Wrenn said.

Claude Allen, spokesman for the Helms re-election campaign, also said Helms was unaware of the debt settlements. "He knows nothing about the operations of JMI, period," Allen said in an interview. "He has nothing to do with that organization."

JMI is wholly owned by Educational Support Foundation Inc., a non-profit tax-exempt organization chartered as a civic league with the Internal Revenue Service, Wrenn said.

The foundation was chartered in North Carolina in July 1983, after the Lake and Cobey mailing lists were accepted by JMI.

In September, Wrenn told the FEC that the foundation was controlled by a board composed of him, Ellis, the Congressional Club chairman, and Terrence Boyle, Ellis' son-in-law who has been nominated for a federal district judgeship.
