RE: Larry Morgan
MUR 4818

Dear Mr. Pinegar:

I do not have any authority to waive any statute of limitations defense that may already exist. It is my understanding that if the Statute of Limitations has not already expired on the action against Larry Morgan on behalf of the Federal Election Commission this would extend the statute for thirty days. If the statute has already expired, this agreement does not revive the statute or agree that it has not expired. The defense of the Statute of Limitations for any action accruing before this date is not waived or abandoned.

What my understanding is that this agreement extends the time for conciliation or thirty days, and if the statute of limitations has not expired, does extend the time for filing your suit thirty additional days. If this is not correct, then I have no authority to agree to any extension.

Yours truly,

Warren Gotcher
