Re: MUR 6123

Dear General Counsel:

This firm has been retained to represent Robinson for Congress and Scott Shaeffer, Treasurer (collectively herein referred to as "the Committee") with respect to the above matter.

The complaint filed by Doug Preisse, the Chairman of the Franklin County Republican Party, alleges that the Committee accepted contributions above the $2,300 aggregate limit from a David Robinson of Worthington, who is not the same as the Committee's candidate, David Robinson. However, all of the contributions referenced in the Complaint were in fact from David Robinson of 816 Summit Street, Columbus, Ohio, the Committee's candidate. Unfortunately, the Committee used the wrong address in reporting these contributions and the $5,000 debt. The mistake occurred because the Committee had in its database more than one David Robinson, including the one referred to by Mr. Preisse as David Robinson of Worthington, and staff preparing the Committee's reports selected the wrong David Robinson when entering the contributions and debt. However, in reporting the contributions the Committee correctly coded them as Line 11d, Contributions from the candidate; separating them from contributions by individuals who were not the candidate.

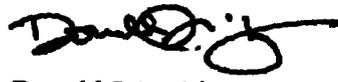

As soon as Mr. Preisse issued his press release regarding his Complaint to the FEC, the Committee verified that it had made a clerical error with respect to the address listed for David Robinson, the candidate, and on October 31, 2008 promptly amended its 2008 July and October quarterly reports and its 2008 pre-general election report. The Committee regrets this clerical error. However, in that all of the contributions were from the Committee's candidate, which are not limited by law, the Committee did not illegally accept contributions above the individual $2,300 limit.

For the above reasons, the Committee respectfully requests that you find that no action should be taken with respect to the matter under review. If you wish any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact me.
