Dear Mr. Petalas,

This is in response to your very long letter dated October 11, 2012 + refers to MURs 6486 + 6491 (whatever that is). I had no idea there were disclaimers & reporting requirements contained in the Federal Election Commission laws that you mentioned in your letter. How could I? I am an 82 year old widow. I will probably have to find someone to help me understand all the allegations that you have made to me + what to do.

In the meantime, I can say that what I did was not made with help or suggestions from any candidate or political party. I copied the billboard from one I saw on the internet - with no disclaimer. I am simply very distressed at the national debt + not plan to reduce it. I have 5 grand children + 5 grandkids that will be strapped with it.

I have looked at the information you sent to me and have looked at the internet. I have wonder if these 2 bill boards are exceptions to the rule because putting a disclaimer on a billboard would be impractical.

In any event - I sincerely want to resolve this matter. Please let me know what can be done in a speedy + practical manner. I have health issues and have good + bad days.

I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,
