&lt;sup>2</sup> Due to an administrative oversight, Heidi Cruz was not notified of the MUR 7002 complaint. The matter was activated shortly after the audit was completed, the oversight was identified, and Heidi Cruz was notified of the complaint. Heidi Cruz then provided a 30-day tolling agreement in exchange for additional time to reply to the notification, which extended the statute of limitations for her potential violation to October 1, 2017.

INTRODUCTION I.

18 MURs 7001, 7002, 7003 and 7009 involve allegations that Senator Rafael Edward "Ted" Cruz and Ted Cruz for Senate and Bradley Knippa in his official capacity as treasurer (the 19 20 "Committee"), violated the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as amended (the "Act"), by 21 misreporting that loans Cruz made to his 2012 Senate campaign were funded with Cruz's 22 "personal funds," rather than a line of credit with Citibank and a margin loan from a Goldman 23 Sachs brokerage account that he owned jointly with his wife. In MUR 7003, the Complaint 24 alleges that the violations were knowing and willful. In RAD Referral 16L-09, the Reports. 25 Analysis Division ("RAD") also referred the Committee to the Office of General Counsel ("OGC") for failing to properly report those loans.<sup>3</sup> Additionally, the Complaint in MUR 7002 26 27 alleges that Senator Cruz and the Committee knowingly accepted excessive contributions from 28 Heidi Cruz, the Senator's wife, because her ownership share of the assets in the Goldman Sachs 29 account was used to secure the margin loan.

See Memorandum from Patricia C. Orrock, Chief Compliance Officer, FEC, to Daniel A. Petalas, Acting General Counsel, FEC (June 2, 2016).

2 loans to the Committee with a line of credit from Citibank and a margin loan from a Goldman 3 Sachs brokerage account. The Cruz Respondents also admit that the Committee failed to disclose those loan sources on the reports the Committee filed with the Commission.<sup>4</sup> The Cruz 4 5 Respondents nevertheless argue that the Commission should dismiss the violations because the 6 overall reporting of the loans in Senator Cruz's 2012 Senate Financial Disclosure Report and in a 7 Miscellaneous Text Document (Form 99) filed with the Commission in 2016, was substantially correct.<sup>5</sup> In addition, Heidi Cruz denies that she made an excessive contribution to the 8 9 Committee because the Senator was entitled to use all of the funds in the Goldman Sachs account under Texas state law.<sup>6</sup> 10 The available information shows that the Committee inaccurately reported that the source 11 12 of candidate loans totaling $1,064,000 was Senator Cruz's personal funds, and that it failed to 13 report required information about the true underlying sources of the loans. Accordingly, we 14 recommend that the Commission find reason to believe that Ted Cruz for Senate violated 15 52 U.S.C. § 30104(b)(3)(E) and 11 C.F.R. § 104.3(d)(4) and authorize pre-probable cause 16 conciliation with the Committee. We also recommend that the Commission find no reason to 17 believe that Senator Cruz individually violated 52 U.S.C. § 30104(b)(3)(E) and 11 C.F.R. 18 § 104.3(d)(4).

The Committee and Senator Cruz ("Cruz Respondents") admit that Senator Cruz funded

Finally, for the reasons discussed below, we recommend that the Commission exercise its prosecutorial discretion and dismiss the allegation that Heidi Cruz made, and the Committee accepted, an excessive contribution to the Committee.<sup>7</sup>

4 II. FACTS

In 2012, Senator Ted Cruz was a U.S. Senate candidate in Texas and Ted Cruz for Senate 5 6 was his authorized campaign committee. During the 2012 Senate campaign, the Committee's 7 disclosure reports showed that Cruz made loans to the Committee totaling $1.43 million from "personal funds."<sup>8</sup> Most of the loans were provided shortly before the primary election on May 8 9 29, 2012, and the primary runoff election on July 31, 2012. In a 2013 interview with the New 10 York Times, Senator Cruz reportedly stated that he and his wife, Heidi Cruz, a managing director at Goldman Sachs, agreed to "liquidate" their "entire net worth" to free up the funds necessary 11 12 for the candidate loans.<sup>9</sup> 13 Senator Cruz filed his United States Senate Financial Disclosure Reports for 2012 ("2012

14 Senate Report") on May 15, 2013.<sup>10</sup> The 2012 Senate Report shows that Senator Cruz took out

15 two loans in 2012: a "line of credit" from Citibank and a "margin loan" from Goldman Sachs.<sup>11</sup>

Each loan is listed in the $250,000 to $500,000 range,<sup>12</sup> with an interest rate of "prime floating" 1 the Citibank loan and "3% floating" for the margin loan from Goldman Sachs.<sup>13</sup> The Report 2 does not explain the purpose of the loans or indicate that the loans are connected to the Senate 3 4 campaign. On January 13, 2016, almost four years after Senator Cruz made the loans in question to 5 his campaign, the New York Times reported that the 2012 Senate Report contradicted his story 6 about having liquidated family assets to fund the campaign loans made during the 2012 7 election.<sup>14</sup> Specifically, the New York Times reported that a Goldman Sachs margin loan and a 8 9 Citibank line of credit, which both appear on the 2012 Senate Report but not on any FEC disclosure reports, were the underlying sources of his candidate loans.<sup>15</sup> 10 11 On January 14, 2016, the day after the New York Times article was published, the 12 Committee filed a Miscellaneous Text Document (Form 99) with the Commission stating that 13 the margin loan and line of credit had been "inadvertently omitted" from the relevant 2012 FEC disclosure reports.<sup>16</sup> The Form 99 also provided the following information on the loans: 14

 Credit, Incurred in 2012, Prime plus floating Interest Rate."<sup>17</sup>

Following receipt of the Form 99, RAD spoke to the Committee's treasurer, assistant 3 4 treasurer, or counsel on multiple occasions, instructed them on reporting requirements for loans funded by a financial institution, and urged them to amend the Committee's disclosure reports to 5 6 correctly disclose the required information for each loan on Schedules C (Loans) and C-1 (Loans and Lines of Credit from Lending Institutions).<sup>18</sup> The Committee initially agreed to file the 7 amendments, requesting additional time to gather the documentation, but then told RAD that it 8 9 was hesitant to do so given that complaints had been filed and an enforcement process initiated.<sup>19</sup> 10 RAD instructed the Committee that it should still file amendments to the reports in which the 11 loans were disclosed and sent the Committee Requests for Additional Information for the 2012 July Quarterly and 2012 October Quarterly Reports, which covered the periods when the loans 12 13. were incurred.

14 The Committee showed the loans in question as first 15 incurred during the 2012 July Quarterly and October Quarterly reporting periods. Because of 16 this, the RFAIs were sent on these two reports. However, RAD advised the committee to amend 17 all reports in which the loans were disclosed to make corrections.<sup>20</sup> The RFAIs requested that 18 the Committee amend its reports to provide correct loan information and submit the appropriate

The Commission also conducted an audit of the Committee's 2012 election cycle activity 6 and the Commission issued the Final Audit Report ("FAR") on June 22, 2017.<sup>25</sup> The 7 8 Commission approved a finding that the Committee "failed to properly disclose $1,064,000 in 9 candidate loans that originated with commercial lenders and failed to file the correct schedules C and C-1."<sup>26</sup> The FAR determined that of the $1.43 million in loans that Senator Cruz reported as 10 11 having come from his personal funds, he actually borrowed $800,000 from Goldman Sachs 12 ($400,000 on 5/18/12; $250,000 on 7/23/12; and $150,000 on 8/7/12) and $264,000 (on 5/22/12) from Citibank ($1,064,000 total).<sup>27</sup> Specifically, Senator Cruz obtained the $800,000 from 13 14 Goldman Sachs via three margin loans with a 3% floating interest rate secured by assets in a brokerage account jointly held with his wife, Heidi Cruz.<sup>28</sup> Senator Cruz obtained the line of 15

A. Alleged Failure to Disclose Required Information about Candidate Loans

11 The candidate's principal campaign committee must report all loans derived from an 12 advance on the candidate's brokerage account, credit card, home equity line of credit, or other 13 line of credit available to the candidate.<sup>32</sup> The disclosure report must identify the person who 14 makes a loan to the committee during the reporting period, together with the identification of any 15 endorser or guarantor of such loan, and the date and amount or value of such loans.<sup>33</sup> 16 Commission regulations provide that a committee must disclose information about loans from the candidate to the campaign on Schedules C and C-1.<sup>34</sup> If the candidate finances a loan to the campaign with an underlying loan or line of credit, section 104.3(d)(4) of the Commission's regulations requires the committee to disclose on Schedule C-1, among other things: (1) date, amount, and interest rate of the loan or line of credit; (2) name and address of the lending institution; and (3) types and value of collateral or other sources of repayment that secured the loan.<sup>35</sup>

Although Senator Cruz used funds borrowed from Citibank and Goldman Sachs to make loans totaling $1,064,000 to his 2012 Senate campaign, the Committee inaccurately reported on Schedule C that he made the loans to the Committee with his "personal funds," and failed to file a Schedule C-1 to properly disclose the details of the margin loan and line of credit. Thus, the Committee did not comply with the reporting requirements of the Act or the Commission's regulations.
The Cruz Respondents admit that the Committee failed to provide the required

14 information regarding the loans and concede that they have yet to amend their reports.<sup>36</sup> They 15 argue, however, that the matter should be dismissed because the public record has been corrected 16 as a result of the information disclosed in the 2012 Senate Report filed in May 2013, and in the 17 Form 99 filed in January 2016.<sup>37</sup> Respondents specifically cite to MUR 5421 (Kerry for

1 President) and argue that their reporting meets the "substantially correct" standard set forth in

2 that matter<sup>38</sup>

In MUR 5421, the Commission approved a recommendation to dismiss the committee's 3 inaccurate reporting of a series of loans the candidate made to his principal campaign committee 4 5 where it inaccurately reported the date on which the candidate accessed the loan instead of the date he incurred one of the loans, and inaccurately reported the total fair market value of the 6 collateral for the loan rather than simply the candidate's share of the property.<sup>39</sup> The General 7 8 Counsel's Report recommended, and the Commission approved, no further action on the 9 inaccurate reporting because the reporting was substantially correct in that it "overall reporting of the loans otherwise accurately disclosed the precise flow of money" from the bank to the 10 campaign.40 11 In this matter, unlike MUR 5421, the overall reporting of the loans was not substantially 12 13 correct and did not disclose the flow of the money. The Committee erroneously reported on a Schedule C that the source of the loans was the candidate's "personal funds" when the funds 14

15 were actually derived from Citibank and Goldman Sachs. Although Cruz reported the existence

16 of the loans on his 2012 Senate Report filed in May 2013, the reports do not include all the Id.; see also Second General Counsel's Rpt. at 9, MUR 5421 (John Kerry for President) (concluding that the reporting of the loan in question was substantially correct because the reporting of the loan was "accurate in most respects"). Respondents also cite MUR 6386 (Steve Fincher for Congress) for the proposition that a civil penalty is unwarranted for "this type of reporting error" for a legal loan with subsequent clarification. Resp. at 3. But, this matter is distinguishable from MUR 6386, where the Commission could not agree as to whether it should impose a civil penalty after the committee had amended its report to disclose the required loan information. See First General Counsel's Report at 6, MUR 6386; Certification, MUR 6386 (June 4, 2011). See also MUR 5198 (Cantwell) (no civil penalty where Committee amended reports prior to initiation of matter).

details about the terms of the loans, nor does it disclose that Cruz used those loans to finance his 1 campaign.<sup>41</sup> In fact, at the time Senator Cruz made the loans to his campaign, he reportedly 2 made a public statement indicating that he financed his campaign by liquidating assets, and not 3 by taking out loans against assets.<sup>42</sup> Thus, it was not until 2016 that the Committee first linked 4 5 the Citibank and Goldman Sachs loans to Cruz's campaign. Further, the Committee has yet to amend any of the relevant FEC disclosure reports, has never filed a Schedule C-1 for the loans, 6 and the Form 99 lacks some of the information required to be disclosed on Schedule C-1, 7 8 including: (1) the dates and amounts of the loans; and (2) the types and value of collateral or 9 other sources of repayment that secured the loan.<sup>43</sup> We therefore recommend that the Commission find reason to believe that Ted Cruz for 10 11 Senate violated 52 U.S.C. § 30104(b)(3)(E) and 11 C.F.R. § 104.3(d)(4) by failing to disclose 12 accurate information about $1,064,000 in candidate loans in its initial filings for the loans on the 2012 July and October Quarterly Reports and in subsequent reports detailing the loans. Further, 13 because the complaints did not articulate any factual or legal basis for finding Senator Cruz 14 15 personally liable for the reporting violation, and we see no basis under the facts of this case to 16 hold the candidate individually responsible for filing accurate and complete disclosure reports, 17 we recommend that the Commission find no reason to believe that Senator Cruz violated 18 52 U.S.C. § 30104(b)(3)(E) and 11 C.F.R. § 104.3(d)(4).44

We do not recommend that the Commission find that the Committee's reporting violations are knowing and willful as alleged by the Complaint in MUR 7003. That Complaint does not allege sufficient facts to demonstrate that the Respondents intentionally failed to disclose the underlying sources despite a known legal obligation.<sup>45</sup> Further, it does not appear that the Senator "secretly"<sup>46</sup> took out the loans from Goldman Sachs and Citibank as alleged, given that he disclosed them on his Senate Financial Disclosure Report.

B. Alleged Excessive Contributions By Candidate's Spouse

No person, including a candidate's family members, shall make contributions to any 9 candidate or authorized committee with respect to any election which, in the aggregate, exceed

10 the Act's contribution limit, which was $2,500 during the 2012 election cycle.<sup>47</sup> Moreover, no violations because Complainant did not articulate any factual or legal basis for finding the candidate personally liable).

<sup>45</sup> A violation of the Act is knowing and willful when the "acts were committed with full knowledge of all the relevant facts and a recognition that the action is prohibited by law." 122 Cong. Rec. H3778 (daily ed. May 3, 1976). This does not require proving knowledge of the specific statute or regulation the respondent allegedly violated. See United States v. Danielczyk, 917 F. Supp. 2d 573, 579 (E.D. Va. 2013) (citing Bryan v. United States, 524 U.S. 184, 195 & n.23 (1998) (holding that, to establish that a violation is willful, the government needs to show only that the defendant acted with knowledge that her conduct was unlawful, not knowledge of the specific statutory provision violated)). Rather, it is sufficient to demonstrate that a respondent "acted voluntarily and was aware that his conduct was unlawful." Id. (internal quotation marks omitted). This awareness may be shown through circumstantial evidence, such as a "defendant's elaborate scheme for disguising" her actions, or other "facts and circumstances from which the jury reasonably could infer. [the defendant] knew her conduct was unauthorized and illegal." United States v. Hopkins, 916 F.2d 207, 213-15 (5th Cir. 1990) (internal quotation marks omitted). As the Hopkins court noted, "It has long been recognized that 'efforts at concealment [may] be reasonably explainable only in terms of motivation to evade' lawful obligations." Id. at 214 (quoting Ingram v. United States, 360 U.S. 672, 679 (1959)).

See Buckley, 424 U.S. at 51 n.57, 53 n.59 (upholding the constitutionality of contribution limits as to family members, reasoning that, "[a]lthough the risk of improper influence is somewhat diminished in the case of large contributions from immediate family members, we cannot say that the danger is sufficiently reduced to bar Congress from subjecting family members to the same limitations as nonfamily contributors").

candidate or political committee shall "knowingly accept" a contribution that exceeds the applicable contribution limit.<sup>48</sup>

Federal candidates, however, may make unlimited contributions from their own "personal 3 funds" to their authorized campaign committees.<sup>49</sup> The Act and Commission regulations provide 4 5 that "personal funds" are (a) amounts derived from any asset that, under applicable State law, at the time the individual became a candidate, the candidate had legal right of access to or control 6 7 over, and with respect to which the candidate had legal and rightful title; or an equitable interest; 8 and (b) income received during the current election cycle of the candidate, including a salary and 9 other earned income from bona fide employment; dividends and proceeds from the sale of the 10 candidate's stocks or other investments; gifts of a personal nature that had been customarily 11 received by the candidate prior to the beginning of the election cycle; and, a portion of assets that 12 are jointly owned by the candidate and the candidate's spouse equal to the candidate's share of the asset under the instrument of conveyance or ownership, but if no specific share is indicated 13 by an instrument of conveyance or ownership, the value of <sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> of the property."<sup>50</sup> 14 15 When a candidate uses "personal funds" derived from assets that are jointly owned with 16 his spouse, the amount is limited to "the candidate's share of the asset under the instrument of 17 conveyance or ownership;" if the instrument is silent, the Commission will presume that the

18 candidate holds a one-half ownership interest.<sup>51</sup> A candidate's spouse is permitted to act as the

&lt;sup>51</sup> . 52 U.S.C. § 30101(26)(C); 11 C.F.R. § 100.33(c). In some past matters, the Commission has determined that joint bank accounts are not subject to the one-half ownership presumption at 52 U.S.C. § 30101(26)(C) and the candidate may utilize the entire amount as "personal funds" because each account holder of the joint bank account had access and control over the whole account under the applicable state law. See, e.g., MURs 2754 (Lowey) 2292

endorser, guarantor, or co-signor of a loan obtained by the candidate but is deemed to have 1 contributed an amount equal to the portion of the loan for which he or she agreed to be liable.<sup>52</sup> 2 But in the case of a secured brokerage loan or line of credit, there is no contribution from 3 the spouse if the candidate's share of the collateral equals or exceeds the amount of the loan used 4 for the campaign.<sup>53</sup> For example, in MUR 5421 (Kerry for President), the complaint alleged that 5 the candidate's spouse made excessive contributions to the Committee when the candidate made 6 a loan to his campaign that was funded with a line of credit secured by a piece of property he 7 owned jointly with his wife. The Commission found reason to believe that the candidate's 8 9 authorized committee accepted an excessive contribution from the spouse because the factual 10 record available at that time indicated that the candidate's interest in the jointly owned collateral property may have been less than the amount of the loan.<sup>54</sup> In MURs 4830 and 4845 (Udall). 11 which, like the current matter, involved loans secured by a brokerage account owned jointly by 12 the candidate and his wife, the Commission determined that the loans from the candidate to the 13 campaign "were based entirely on [the candidate's] half of the assets jointly controlled with" his 14

(Stein) and 3505 (Klink). See also OGC Comments on Bauer for President 2000, Inc. – Proposed Audit Report (LRA #543), May 6, 2002, at 6 (discussing history of joint bank account exception to the one-half ownership presumption). But the Commission has not so concluded in cases involving loans obtained by a candidate using jointly owned assets, as reflected in MURs 5421, 4530, and 4845, which are discussed below. See OGC Memorandum to Commission on Revision of Regulation Pertaining to Candidate's Use of Property in Which Spouse Has an Interest, Agenda Doc. #81-181, Oct. 30, 1981, at 7 n.3.

spouse.<sup>55</sup> Thus, the Commission found no reason to believe that the spouse made an excessive contribution to the candidate's authorized committee.<sup>56</sup>

In this matter, the Commission's audit of the Committee confirmed that Senator Cruz 3 made three loans to the campaign totaling $800,000 using assets from a Goldman Sachs 4 brokerage account owned jointly with his wife, Heidi Cruz, as security.<sup>57</sup> As explained above, if 5 Senator Cruz's ownership share of the assets used as security for the loan is less than the amount 6 7 of the loan used for the campaign, then his wife will have made a contribution to the campaign. 8 The available record, including documents and information obtained through the 9 Commission's recently concluded audit of the Committee, does not include the instrument of conveyance or ownership for the Goldman Sachs account.<sup>58</sup> The unsworn Response of Heidi 10 Cruz asserts that the assets used to collateralize the margin loans were acquired during the 11 marriage and were subject to the community property rules of Texas.<sup>59</sup> If true, Senator Cruz 12 would have a full ownership interest over the entire amount in the account and no excessive 13 contribution would result. It is unclear, however, whether those assets were in fact community 14

<sup>58</sup> In analyzing the issue of whether Heidi Cruz may have made an excessive contribution to the Committee as a result of the Goldman Sachs loan, the Audit Division assigned one-half of the value of the account to the candidate. See Supplemental Comments on Resubmitted Draft Final Audit Report – Ted Cruz for Senate (LRA #976) at 2, 3 (Feb. 24, 2017). Based on that analysis, the Audit Division identified only one instance where an amount exceeding 50 percent of the value of the account was used, and that deficit was quickly remedied (within 60 days) when a loan payments was made. Id. Thus, there was no recommended finding on this issue. The analysis in this report does not assign one-half the value of the account to Senator Cruz, instead relying on the plain language of the regulations at 11 C.F.R. §§ 100.33(c) and 100.52(b)(4) and MURs 5124 and 4830/4845 which examine whether the candidate's actual share of the collateral equals or exceeds the amount of the loan used for the campaign.

Account Statements for the period March through July 2012, shows account activity consisting mostly of dividends or interest on stocks, funds, and bonds. Account documentation states that the agreement shall be governed by New York law without reference to its choice of law doctrine, however, and it is unclear whether such statements in the documentation would supersede Texas law. See Access Telecom, Inc. v. MCI Telecomm. Corp., 197 F.3d 694, 705 (5th Cir. 1999) ("Texas contractual choice-of-law provisions are ordinarily enforced if the chosen forum has a substantial relationship to the parties and the transaction" (citing De Santis v. "However, a choice-of-law provision will not be applied if another jurisdiction has a materially greater interest than the chosen state, and the jurisdiction's fundamental policy would be contravened by the application of the law of the chosen state." Id. at 705. Texas courts rely on Restatement (Second) of Conflict of Laws § 187 to decide whether other considerations trump the parties' choice of law. DeSantis v. Wackenhut, 793 S.W.2d at 677-78.

Code Ann. § 113.102 (as to "all parties to a joint account, the account belongs to the parties in proportion to the net contributions by each party to the sums on deposit unless there is clear and convincing evidence of a different intent"); see In re Marriage of McNelly, No. 14-13-00281-CV (Tex. App. – Houston [14th Dist.] May 15, 2014) (mem. op.) (citing to Tex. Est. Code Ann. § 113.102 and holding that a spouse does not acquire a one-half ownership interest in the other spouse's separate property just because that property was deposited into a joint brokerage account); see also Hicks v. State, 419 S.W.3d 555, 559 (2013) (holding that though a party to a joint account is authorized to withdraw funds from the account, it does not establish that the party owns the funds or divest title from the actual owner).

&lt;sup>60</sup> Even property acquired during the marriage can be characterized as separate property. For example, if during the marriage, property is acquired by gift, will, or inheritance, or property is purchased with proceeds from separate property, such property is considered separate property, not community property. Texas Const. Art. XVI § 15; Tex. Fam. Code Ann. § 3.001(2). Further, salary, wages and income from separate property earned during the marriage, although community property, are the sole management community property of the spouse who earned the wages or owns the property. Tex. Fam. Code Ann. § 3.102(a). In addressing fraud perpetrated by one spouse in disposing of the other spouse's interest in community property, Texas courts have stated that "[e]ach spouse owns an undivided one-half interest in all community assets and funds regardless of which spouse has management and control." Massey v. Massey, 807 S.W. 2d 391, 401-02 (Tex. App. 1991) (citing Carnes v. Meador, 533 S.W.2d 365, 371 (Tex.App.1975)).

an excessive contribution to the campaign. We do not recommend, however, that the Commission further pursue this allegation. The Commission has already conducted an audit of the Committee, considered this issue, and made no findings. Under these circumstances, we do not think that it would be a prudent use of the Commission's resources to further investigate the ownership of the account. Accordingly, we recommend that the Commission dismiss as a matter of prosecutorial discretion the allegations that Senator Cruz and the Committee violated 52 U.S.C. § 30116(f) and 11 C.F.R. § 110.9 by knowingly accepting excessive contributions and that Heidi Cruz violated 52 U.S.C. § 30116(a)(1)(A) by making excessive contributions to Ted Cruz for Senate.

1. General Agreement. This Agreement sets forth the respective rights and obligations of GSSCo. and you in connection with each of your Accounts (Including Accounts held individually, jointly or in other combinations), it includes the application that you submit to open your Account and the supplements, statements, disclosures and other agreements (each a "Supplement") for the products and services for which you have applied. GSECo, reserves the right to amend or terminate any such Supplement at any time. Both the Agreement and any applicable Supplement are subject to GSECo.'s approval. This Agreement supercedes any previous agreements made by you individually with GS&Co. relating to any of your Accounts, and if your Account is held jointly or in other combinations, it supercedes any previous agreements made by the s parties to this Agreement with GS&Co. relating to your Accounts, to the extent the subject matter is covered in this Agreement. GS&Co. reserves the right to decline any request to open an Account or for any features,

"GS&Co.," "we," "us" or "our" means Goldman, Sachs & Co., its present and future affiliates, and their respective partners, officers, directors, employees and agents. "You" or "your" means each natural person or legal entity indicated in the little to the Account and on whose behalf this Adree nent has been slaned. Your "Account refers to each brokerage or other account, includ ing managed and custody accounts, at GS6Co. that is established in your name atone, or in your name together with others, or in which you have a beneficial interest. The basic brokerage account provided by GS&Co. will be a "cash account." in which you make all purchases for cash settlement, without credit. You may apply and be approved for a "margin account," in which you will be able to make purchases with funds borrawed, or to receive credit, from GSSCo., using allohie securities or cash as collateral for the credit. You may be charged execution charges (such as commissions, commission equivalents mark-ups, mark-downs and spreads) as described In this Agreement. A "commission" generally is the emount charged by a broker for purchasing or selling securitles or other investments as an agent for the customer. A "commission envivalent" is an amount charged by a dealer for our chasing ar selling securities or other investments in certain "riskiess principal" transactions (Le. a transaction in which a dealer, after having received an order to buy from a customer, purchases the security from another person to offset a contemporaneous sale to such customer or, after having received an order to sell from a cus lomer, sells the security to another person to offset a contemporaneous purchase from such customer). A "mark-up" is the price charged to a cus tomer, less the prevailing market price and a "mark-down" is the prevailing market price, less the amount a dealer pays to purchase the security from the customer. The "spread" for a security is the difference between the current purchase or bid price (that is, the price someone is willing to pay) and the current ask or offer price (that is, the price at which someone is willing to sell). The difference or spread narrows or widens in response to the supply and demand levels of the security. In addition, in connection with your Account, you and persons designated by you may be provided with access to "Electronic Services," which include the various websiles owned and operated by GSECo., through which it offers brokarage, financial and other services, as well as any other electronic means by which GSECo. may now or in the future offer these services.

2. Ownership. You agree that all Securities and Other Property (as defined below) held for your Account will be held in the manner indicated in the title to the Account, with all the legal and equitable rights and subject to all the obligations and conditions that the form of ownership imposes. You represent that no one has an interest in your Account except you or others that you have previously disclosed to GSECo, as part of your application to open an Account or in a manner uthorized by GS&Co. "Securities and Other Properly" includes cash, stocks, bonds, mutual lunds, money market lunds, financial instruments, onlines and related contracts and any other securities, whether certificated or uncertificated, securities entitlements, securities accounts, commodity contracts, commodity accounts, currency contracts, swap contracts and related options thereon, and any other assets and the proceeds thereof. This definition includes Securities and Other Property currently or in the Juture held, carried or maintained by GS&Co., or in the possession or control of GS&Co., in or for any of your current or future accounts, including any account in which you may have an interest, and regardless of the purpose for which the secu rilies and other property are so held, carried, maintained, possessed or controlled

3. Services Previded by GS&Co. You agree that GS&Co. may provide certain brokkrage or other services to you with or through its affiliates. This Agreement is entered into by GS&Co. on its own behall and on behall of its affiliates. All rights and ilmitations of liability and obligations of GS&Co. in this Agreement are for the benefit of GS&Co. and each of its present and future affiliales. You forther agree and krevocably appoint GS&Co. with full power as your true and lawful attorney-infact, to the extent permitted by law, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this Agreement.

Gredit and Background Check. You authorize GS&Co. and any agent or service provider to use, verily and confirm any of the information that you provide, including conducting background checks, abtaining reports concerning your credit standing and business conduct (and your spouso's if you live in a community property state) and to share all such information with their successors, assigns, agents and service providers to determine your eligibility for an Account or Any leature or otherwise. Upon your written request, we will inform you whether we have obtained credit reports, and, if so, we will provide you with the name and address of the reporting agency that furnished the reports. You agree that, without notifying you, we may request a new credit report in connection with any revie extension, or renowal of the Account. You further agree that GS&Co, may submit information reliecting an your credit record to a credit reporting agency.
