I. INTRODUCTION

The Complaints in these two related matters make numerous allegations that the authorized committee of Ron DeSantis for Governor (“DeSantis for Governor”) and the Republican Party of Florida (“RPOF”) accepted prohibited contributions or donations from foreign nationals in violation of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as amended (the “Act”). The Complaints allege that these contributions or donations were generally in the form of voter suppression activity and artificial social media support.¹ Specifically, in MUR 7561, the Complaint alleges that DeSantis for Governor, through its campaign manager Bradley Herold, contracted with foreign nationals in Russia, Romania, and possibly other nations in Eastern and Central Europe to provide social media services, masking the payments to a purported Romanian

1 firm through payments to domestic vendors.² In addition, the Second Amended Complaint in 2 MUR 7561 claims that Susan Wiles, DeSantis for Governor’s campaign chair, obtained foreign 3 donations from the Russian government through a foreign lobbyist, Rinat Akhmetshin.³ The 4 MUR 7563 Complaint also claims that the RPOF made payments for social media services to 5 foreign nationals through firms controlled by Herold⁴

6 DeSantis for Governor, RPOF, Akhmetshin, Wiles, and the September Group, LLC
 7 (“September Group”) — one of the vendors alleged to have masked foreign payments — 8 submitted responses denying the allegations. They contend that the Complaints rely entirely on 9 speculation rather than any concrete evidence. Both DeSantis for Governor and RPOF deny 10 soliciting, accepting, or receiving any contribution or donation from a foreign national or having 11 paid foreign nationals for campaign messaging through an intermediary.⁵ Akhmetshin denies 12 any involvement in the circumstances described in the Complaints,⁶ and Wiles submitted an 13 affidavit denying ever soliciting or receiving a contribution, or ever interacting with a foreign 14 agent for the purpose of obtaining campaign assistance.⁷ Two of the responses assert that the 15 complainant has a history of sending unsubstantiated complaints to the Florida Elections
 16 Commission.⁸

 Factual and Legal Analysis

As set forth below, there is not a sufficient factual basis to support these allegations. The Commission therefore dismisses the allegations that: (1) DeSantis for Governor and RPOF violated 52 U.S.C. § 30121(a)(2) and 11 C.F.R. § 110.20(g) by soliciting, accepting, or receiving a contribution or donation from a foreign national; (2) BlueInsight, a Romanian IT firm, violated 52 U.S.C. § 30121(a)(1) by making a prohibited contribution or donation to DeSantis for Governor or RPOF; and (3) Wiles, Herold, Akhmetshin, and September Group, as well as Parabellum Strategies and Venture Media Partners, Inc. — two other firms alleged to have masked foreign payments — violated 52 U.S.C. § 30121(a)(2) and 11 C.F.R. § 110.20(h) by substantially assisting in making or accepting a foreign contribution or donation.

II. FACTUAL BACKGROUND

A. Alleged Donations from Foreign Nationals to DeSantis for Governor and Friends of Ron DeSantis

Ron DeSantis was the Republican candidate for Governor of Florida in the 2018 general election, and DeSantis for Governor was his campaign organization. Friends of Ron DeSantis was (and is) a state political committee supporting Governor DeSantis. The MUR 7561 Complaint alleges that Bradley Herold served as campaign manager for DeSantis for Governor and held high-level positions in media and consulting firms named Parabellum Strategies and Something Else Strategies,⁹ both of which received disbursements from Friends of Ron DeSantis.¹⁰

During the 2018 gubernatorial campaign, DeSantis for Governor maintained an official Twitter account, @GovRonDeSantis. The Complaints allege that on December 12, 2017, a

⁹ Neither Herold nor Parabellum Strategies submitted a response to any of the Complaints to confirm or deny this information.

 Factual and Legal Analysis

1 Twitter user with the handle @MihaiBasarab made an offer of foreign assistance to DeSantis by 2 replying to @GovRonDeSantis and an account with the handle @repdesantis — which the 3 Complaints allege is a handle connected to Herold or the DeSantis campaign — “Rs need to play 4 the same game. We’re loaded with preeminent IT guys in Romania ready willing and able if 5 called upon.”¹¹ The MUR 7561 Complaint attaches screenshots of the @MihaiBasarab Twitter
 6 profile identifying the accountholder as “Romania America.”¹²

7 The MUR 7561 Complaint also alleges that DeSantis accepted this offer of assistance
 8 through his purported campaign manager Herold, who allegedly enlisted a Romanian IT firm 9 called BlueInsight. In support of this allegation, the Complaint observes that an account with the 10 handle @blueinsight33 followed @repdesantis on Twitter.¹³ The MUR 7561 Complaint does 11 not explain the basis for the assertion that the @blueinsight33 handle belongs to the Romanian 12 company BlueInsight, and the screenshots of the Romanian company’s website attached to the 13 Complaint do not show a link to any Twitter account. Nor does the MUR 7561 Complaint 14 explain the basis for the conclusion that the @repdesantis handle, which a screenshot shows had 15 10 followers at the time it was taken,¹⁴ is controlled by Herold, or that it otherwise tweeted or 16 acted on behalf of the DeSantis campaign.

17 The Complaint in MUR 7561 also alleges that DeSantis for Governor’s and Friends of 18 Ron DeSantis’s payments to vendors Parabellum Strategies and Something Else Strategies, which the Complaint alleges are associated with Herold, masked payments to BlueInsight.¹⁵ The MUR 7561 Complaint alleges that these payments “preceded increased messaging by foreign, Romanian and other potential BLUEINSIGHT accounts”¹⁶ on Twitter, including from @MihaiBasarab, who authored a number of disparaging tweets about DeSantis’s opponent, Andrew Gillum, and Democratic donor George Soros.¹⁷ The Complaint does not provide sufficient information to assess whether there was in fact any increase in messaging — foreign or otherwise — following the payments to Parabellum Strategies and Something Else Strategies.

The MUR 7561 Complaint also attempts to link the DeSantis campaign and Romanian nationals by citing an article from the publication Foreign Policy reporting that certain internet content critical of Soros was created by “right-wing groups” in Eastern and Central Europe.¹⁸ The Complaint states that both the @MihaiBasarab handle and a number of other apparently foreign Twitter accounts authored negative tweets about Gillum and Soros,¹⁹ and that DeSantis for Governor used anti-Soros rhetoric in an email sent to supporters.²⁰ The MUR 7561 Complaint offers no other factual basis to indicate that these messages were connected.

Finally, the Complaint in MUR 7561 alleges that Susan Wiles, who became chair of DeSantis for Governor in September 2018,²¹ was in contact with the Russian Intelligence Service

 4 Russia aided the DeSantis campaign,²⁴ though it does not provide any details to support this 5 allegation. In response to these allegations, Wiles submitted a sworn affidavit denying the 6 allegations.²⁵ Akhmetshin also submitted a response denying the allegations, stating that the

 2 Specifically, on October 28, 2017, the purported Ingoglia account tweeted, “[i]f anyone cares

 4 retweeted a WikiLeaks post saying “Pompeo is not credible. Even so, parse it: ‘non state’=not a

 6 7563 Complaint also notes that Ingoglia and his wife, Julie Ingoglia, follow WikiLeaks on 7 Twitter, and attaches screenshots from the Ingoglias’ purported Twitter accounts in support of 8 this statement.³⁰

9 In addition, the Complaint in MUR 7563 alleges that RPOF accepted prohibited 10 contributions and donations from @MihaiBasarah “and other foreign profiles” in the form of 11 online support for 23 federal and state candidates,³¹ and by incorporating anti-Soros content
 12 originating in Eastern and Central Europe into RPOF’s official messaging.³²

 10 provide substantial assistance” in the solicitation, making, acceptance, or receipt of a prohibited or service “may be nominal or difficult to ascertain,” such contributions are nevertheless banned.³⁸

Commission regulations implementing the Act’s foreign national prohibition provide:

A foreign national shall not direct, dictate, control, or directly or indirectly participate in the decision-making process of any person, such as a . . . political committee, or political organization with regard to such person’s Federal or non-Federal election-related activities, such as decisions concerning the making of contributions, donations, expenditures, or disbursements . . . or decisions concerning the administration of a political committee.³⁹

The Commission has explained that this provision also bars foreign nationals from “involvement in the management of a political committee.”⁴⁰

In light of these provisions, Commission regulations permit any person or company — foreign or domestic — to provide goods or services to a political committee, without making a contribution, if that person or company does so as a “commercial vendor,” i.e., in the ordinary course of business, and at the usual and normal charge, as long as foreign nationals do not directly or indirectly participate in any committee’s management or decision-making process in connection with its election-related activities.⁴¹

B. The Commission Dismisses the Allegations That DeSantis for Governor or Friends of Ron DeSantis Solicited, Accepted, or Received Donations from Foreign Nationals

The MUR 7561 Complaint appears to allege that DeSantis for Governor and Friends of Ron DeSantis solicited and accepted foreign nationals' social media services in exchange for payments that were masked as payments to domestic commercial vendors. The MUR 7561 Complaint does not allege that BlueInsight or any other foreign national made donations to DeSantis for Governor or Friends of Ron DeSantis by providing services outside their ordinary course of business or "at a charge that is less than the usual and normal charge,"⁴² and the available information does not support such a finding. Moreover, the MUR 7561 Complaint does not credibly allege that any foreign national directly or indirectly participated in DeSantis for Governor or Friends of Ron DeSantis's decision-making process in connection with its election-related spending. Therefore, as further explained below, the available information is insufficient to support finding reason to believe that DeSantis for Governor or Friends of Ron DeSantis violated 52 U.S.C. § 30121.

First, the MUR 7561 Complaint's allegation that DeSantis for Governor or Friends of Ron DeSantis paid BlueInsight (or other foreign nationals) through Herold via Parabellum Strategies and Something Else Strategies is not supported by the available information. The allegation is premised on a series of assumptions: that Herold was the DeSantis campaign manager; that the @repdesantis handle is Herold's; that the @blueinsight33 handle is the Romanian company BlueInsight's; that Herold owned or controlled Parabellum Strategies and Something Else Strategies; and, most importantly, that DeSantis for Governor and Friends of

MUR 7561, 7563
Ron DeSantis for Governor, et al.
Factual and Legal Analysis

1 Ron DeSantis's payments to Parabellum Strategies and Something Else Strategies were not for 2 legitimate services. Though DeSantis for Governor and Friends of Ron DeSantis appear to have 3 made a number of large payments to these vendors, there is no credible information in the record 4 that these payments were in fact diverted to other payees.⁴³ These alleged conduits are domestic 5 entities, with no information linking them to foreign nationals.

6 To the extent that the MUR 7561 Complaint alleges that DeSantis for Governor or 7 Friends of Ron DeSantis solicited donations from BlueInsight or other foreign nationals via 8 tweeted "signals" to engage in paid or unpaid social media campaigns to benefit DeSantis, the 9 Complaint provides insufficient information to support that allegation. The allegation appears to 10 rest on a handful of tweets from alleged foreign nationals either tagging the purported and actual 11 DeSantis campaign Twitter accounts or discussing subjects relevant to the DeSantis campaign.
12 But without more information indicating that there was actually a connection between the 13 DeSantis campaign and foreign nationals, the allegation that DeSantis for Governor or Friends of 14 Ron DeSantis used social media to solicit foreign nationals to provide services at less than the 15 usual or normal cost or to participate directly or indirectly in the decision-making process in 16 connection with election-related spending is speculative.

17 Similarly, the information before the Commission does not support the allegations that 18 Susan Wiles or anyone else from DeSantis for Governor solicited donations from, or paid 19 Akhmetshin or other Russian nationals through, Wiles's husband, September Group, LLC, or 20 Venture Media Partners, Inc. The only supporting information for these allegations is a news
21 article reporting that Lanny Wiles paid Akhmetshin on an apparently unrelated contract in 2017,

⁴³ See Am. Compl. at 2, MUR 7561.

Ron DeSantis for Governor, et al.
Factual and Legal Analysis

1 and the fact that disbursements were made to the September Group and Venture Media Partners,
2 Inc., which the MUR 7561 Complaint suggests are shell companies. The September Group filed 3 a response asserting that it is a “well-respected, reputable political consulting firm.”⁴⁴ There is 4 no information before the Commission that would contradict the September Group’s Response, 5 and the allegation that the September Group was used as a conduit for foreign payments is 6 speculative and not credible. There is also insufficient information to support the inference that 7 anyone connected with DeSantis for Governor or Friends of Ron DeSantis was funneling money
8 to foreign nationals based on the news report about Akhmetshin’s business dealings with Lanny
9 Wiles. That work appears to have been unconnected to the Florida gubernatorial race, and no 10 information suggests the relationship extended to that election.

11 Finally, the “anti-Soros” messaging used by the DeSantis campaign does not raise a 12 reasonable inference that the campaign accepted a donation from a foreign national. The text of 13 the DeSantis campaign material included in the MUR 7561 Complaint reads: “[W]hile my 14 radical left-wing Democrats can count on limousine liberal billionaires like George Soros to fill 15 their campaign war chests”⁴⁵ The MUR 7561 Complaint mentions that alleged foreign 16 nationals also made attacks on Soros, but there is no indication in the record that these facts are 17 connected. The allegedly foreign messages cited in the MUR 7561 Complaint bear no similarity 18 to the purported DeSantis statement beyond generally disparaging Soros, and most of the 19 examples are many months removed from the official DeSantis statement included in the Complaint.⁴⁶ Considering the overall context, the existence of messaging on a similar theme is insufficient in this case to support allegations that a foreign national participated directly or indirectly in the decision-making process in connection with DeSantis for Governor's election-related spending or otherwise made a prohibited donation.

For these reasons, the available information is insufficient to indicate that DeSantis for Governor or Friends of Ron DeSantis violated 52 U.S.C. § 30121(a)(2) or 11 C.F.R. § 110.20(g) by accepting a donation from a foreign national, that BlueInsight violated 52 U.S.C. § 30121(a)(1) or 11 C.F.R. § 110.20(c) by making a prohibited donation, or that Wiles, Herold, September Group, Venture Media Partners, Inc., or Akhmetshin violated 52 U.S.C. § 30121(a) or 11 C.F.R. § 110.20(h) by substantially assisting in the making of a prohibited foreign donation. Accordingly, the Commission dismisses these allegations.

C. The Commission Dismisses the Allegations That the RPOF Solicited, Accepted, or Received Contributions or Donations from Foreign Nationals

The available information also does not support the allegations that RPOF solicited, accepted, or received contributions or donations from foreign nationals. The Complaint in MUR 7563 makes very similar allegations with regard to payments RPOF made to the same general entities (BlueInsight and other unknown other eastern and central European nationals) in the same manner (secret payments through firms owned by Herold) and for the same purpose (social media support).

None of the activity that the MUR 7563 Complaint details is sufficient to support finding reason to believe that RPOF violated the ban on foreign contributions and donations. For

1 example, with respect to RPOF Chairman Ingoglia’s retweet of an exchange between WikiLeaks
 2 and Jake Tapper of CNN concerning Secretary of State Pompeo,⁴⁷ there does not appear to be 3 anything election-related about either the WikiLeaks tweet cited in the Complaint or Ingoglia’s 4 retweet about it. The MUR 7563 Complaint notes that RPOF used anti-Soros rhetoric — for 5 example, “Billionaire Democrat extremist, George Soros, paid $500K to the group that harassed
 6 Florida Attorney General Pam Bondi at a movie theater.”⁴⁸ But, like that of the DeSantis 7 campaign, this messaging strategy does not suggest that a foreign national participated directly or 8 indirectly in the decision-making process in connection with RPOF’s election-related spending 9 or otherwise made a prohibited contribution or donation.

10 Moreover, for the same reasons detailed above with regard to DeSantis for Governor and 11 Friends of Ron DeSantis, there is insufficient information to indicate that any of RPOF’s 12 payments to Herold’s firms were diverted to other payees or that these firms are linked to foreign 13 nationals, let alone foreign nationals providing services outside their ordinary course of business
 14 or at less than the usual and normal charge, or who directly or indirectly participated in RPOF’s 15 decision-making process in connection with its election-related spending.

16 For these reasons, the information is insufficient to indicate that RPOF or Ingoglia
 17 violated 52 U.S.C. § 30121(a)(2) or 11 C.F.R. § 110.20(g) by soliciting or accepting prohibited
 18 contributions or donations from a foreign national, that BlueInsight violated 52 U.S.C.
