23 I. INTRODUCTION

24 These matters involve allegations that Facebook, Inc. (“Facebook”), violated the Federal 25 Election Campaign Act of 1971, as amended (the “Act”), by “fact-checking” and reducing the 26 distribution of posts by users on its platform linking to articles critical of 2020 presidential 27 candidate Joseph Biden and vice-presidential candidate Kamala Harris. The Complaints 28 specifically allege that Facebook labeled several posts with links to articles critical of Harris as 29 “False Information” or “False News” and provided alternative links to articles published by 30 Facebook’s fact-checking partners explaining why the original articles were deemed false.<sup>2</sup> The 31 Complaints also allege that Facebook reduced the distribution of articles that were critical of 1 Biden, specifically pointing to an article in the New York Post relating to allegations of illegal

2 activity by Biden's son, Hunter Biden.<sup>3</sup>

3         The Complaints allege that, in posting these fact-checking articles and allegedly reducing 4 the distribution of certain news stories, Facebook made excessive and prohibited in-kind 5 corporate contributions to Biden for President and Andrea Wise in her official capacity as 6 treasurer (the "Biden Committee")<sup>4</sup> or, in the alternative, that Facebook made independent 7 expenditures in support of Biden, without providing required disclaimers or reporting the 8 independent expenditures to the Commission.<sup>5</sup> The Complaints in MURs 7812 and 7869 also 9 allege that the Biden Committee violated the Act by knowingly accepting the excessive and 10 prohibited in-kind corporate contributions from Facebook.<sup>6</sup> Finally, the Complaint in MUR
11 7812 alleges that Agence France-Presse ("AFP"), a foreign media outlet and fact-checking 12 partner of Facebook, made prohibited in-kind foreign national contributions to the Biden 13 Committee.<sup>7</sup>

14         Respondents deny the allegations. Facebook asserts that its actions were part of its 15 "broader, well-publicized effort to combat misinformation on its platform for independent 16 business reasons," and were not undertaken "for the purpose of influencing any election for 17 Federal office."<sup>8</sup> In addition, Facebook asserts that there is no evidence of coordination between <sup>4</sup> See MUR 7812 Compl. at 19-21; MUR 7825 Compl. at 5-6; MUR 7869 Compl. at 3. Though the Complaints in MURs 7812 and 7825 frame these contributions as to Harris, because Harris was the vice-presidential candidate running on the same ticket as presidential candidate Joe Biden, the entity receiving any alleged contribution would be the Biden for President committee.

1 Facebook and any candidate,<sup>9</sup> and it argues that the fact-checking articles at issue were not 2 “independent expenditures” because they did not include express advocacy.<sup>10</sup> The Biden
3 Committee similarly asserts that the Complaints fail to provide any facts that suggest that it
4 coordinated with Facebook or AFP.<sup>11</sup> Finally, AFP responds noting the absence of evidence 5 suggesting AFP coordinated with any federal candidate, its general journalistic purposes and 6 asserting that, although it is a foreign corporation, its activities are covered by the Act’s media 7 exemption and therefore are not contributions or expenditures.<sup>12</sup>

8 As explained below, based on the available information, Facebook’s conduct does not 9 appear to constitute a contribution under the Act because Facebook has credibly explained that it 10 has a commercial, rather than electoral, motivation underlying the fact-checking program and 11 related activities at issue in these Complaints. Moreover, there is no basis to reasonably 12 conclude that Facebook or AFP coordinated with the Biden Committee. Further, the fact-13 checking articles at issue do not satisfy the meaning of independent expenditure because they do 14 not expressly advocate for the election or defeat of any candidate. Finally, AFP’s activities 15 appear to have been done for journalistic purposes rather than for the purpose of influencing an 16 election; in any event, these activities appear to be excluded from the definition of contribution 17 under the Act’s media exemption.

18 Accordingly, we recommend that the Commission find no reason to believe that 19 Facebook violated 52 U.S.C. §§ 30116(a), 30118(a) by making excessive or prohibited in-kind

2 to report or provide required disclaimers on independent expenditures. Further, we recommend 3 that the Commission find no reason to believe that the Biden Committee violated 52 U.S.C.
4 §§ 30116(f), 30118(a) by knowingly accepting or receiving prohibited corporate or excessive
5 contributions. Finally, we recommend that the Commission find no reason to believe that AFP

7 II. FACTUAL BACKGROUND

8 The Complaints identify three Facebook posts that were flagged by Facebook's fact-9 checking program as "False Information" or "False News," and appended with articles written by 10 Facebook's fact-checking partners. In addition, the Complaints point to Facebook's actions to 11 limit the distribution of posts containing a link to a New York Post article that had been flagged 12 for fact-checking. Based on these actions, described below, the Complaints allege that Facebook 13 made in-kind contributions to the Biden Committee, and that AFP, the author of one of the fact-14 checking posts, made a foreign national in-kind contribution.

15 The Complaint in MUR 7812 alleges that Facebook "censored and removed" posts 16 linking to an article by Cam Edwards, published on BearingArms.com, entitled "Kamala Harris 17 Doesn't Think You Have The Right To Own A Gun" ("Edwards Article").<sup>13</sup> The Complaint 18 states that Facebook "visually and functionally superimposed" a fact-check article published by 19 AFP in its place, such that "while a user could see that the [original] article had been posted, it 20 was impossible to click on that article (or the original post) without being redirected to the AFP

1 Fact Check Article.”<sup>14</sup> Below is an example provided by the Complaint depicting how this fact 2 check article allegedly appeared:<sup>15</sup>

3
 4 The Complaint states that the Edwards Article was “accurately stated and well-sourced” and that 5 AFP’s fact-check article was “deceptive and misleading.”<sup>16</sup> The Complainant also states that he 6 posted his opinion of these articles in a private Facebook group, but that Facebook “deleted and 7 rendered inaccessible” his post shortly thereafter.<sup>17</sup> The Complainant further states that he 8 posted a link to an amicus brief signed by Harris which supported his belief that the Edwards 9 Article was not false news and that this post was also “superimposed with the AFP Fact Check 10 Article.”<sup>18</sup> The Complainant states that, in response, he emailed Facebook disputing these <sup>17</sup> Id. Based on the Complainant’s descriptions of Facebooks actions, it is unclear whether the post disappeared entirely or was treated in the same fashion as the other post that were fact-checked. Id. The Complainant states that he is a former Facebook employee and that group was made up of current and former employees. He states that current Facebook employees told him that they would “raise the issue internally.” Id.

1 decisions and that shortly afterward he was notified by Facebook that his account had been 2 disabled.<sup>19</sup>

3 Similarly, the Complaint in MUR 7812 alleges that Facebook fact checked another article 4 criticizing Harris, by Rachel Malone, published on HoustonCourant.com, entitled “Kamala 5 Harris is the Gun Owner’s Worst Nightmare” (“Malone Article”).<sup>20</sup> Again, the article was also 6 labeled “False Information” by Facebook and superimposed with an image linking to the same 7 fact-checking article as shown above.<sup>21</sup> The MUR 7812 Complaint also states that those sharing 8 the Malone Article had the distribution of their posts limited by Facebook.<sup>22</sup> According to the 9 Complaint, after “much criticism for its removal of the Malone Article that article apparently 10 was reviewed internally within Facebook, and the AFP Fact Check designation as ‘false news’
11 was reversed.”<sup>23</sup> The Complaint states that Facebook also “restored” the distribution of posts 12 from the users who had shared the article.<sup>24</sup>

13 The Complainant in MUR 7825, Liberty Counsel, states that on October 12, 2020, it 14 posted an article, published on LifeNews.com, and entitled “Kamala Harris Tried to Put Pro-15 Lifers in Jail Who Exposed Planned Parenthood Selling Baby Parts” (“Liberty Counsel Article”)

 2 labeled it “False Information” and “Checked by independent fact-checkers” with two links
 3 labeled “See Why” and “See Link.”<sup>26</sup> The Complaint states that if a user clicked on the “See 4 Why” label a window with the title “False” appeared with the title of and a link to an article by 5 PolitiFact, another Facebook fact-checking partner, entitled “Social Media Push False Claims 6 About Kamala Harris And Planned Parenthood.”<sup>27</sup>

7
 8 In addition to the three articles above that were the subject of Facebook fact-checking, 9 the Complaints in MUR 7825 and MUR 7869 further allege that Facebook blocked or reduced 10 the distribution of an article in the New York Post (“New York Post Article”) that contained

1 allegations of impropriety regarding Hunter Biden, the son of then-presidential candidate Joe 2 Biden.<sup>28</sup> As referenced by the Complaint in MUR 7825, Facebook tweeted a statement shortly
 3 after the New York Post Article was published announcing that it had deemed the article “eligible 4 to be fact checked” and “[i]n the meantime, we are reducing its distribution on our platform.”<sup>29</sup> 5 Facebook described this as “part of our standard process to reduce the spread of 6 misinformation . . . temporarily reduc[ing] distribution pending fact-checker review.”<sup>30</sup>

7 The Complaints suggest that each of the activities by Facebook described above were 8 made for the purpose of assisting the Biden Committee, evidenced by alleged bias exhibited by 9 Facebook, its employees, and contractors. For instance, the MUR 7812 Complaint relies on the 10 disparity in contributions made by Facebook employees to Democrats compared to Republicans, 11 such that “it can reasonably be concluded” that the Facebook’s fact-checking program is “not 12 intended to protect the public against ‘false news,’ but rather to ensure that the public is not 13 exposed to information critical of the Democratic political candidates.”<sup>31</sup> Similarly, without 14 providing any specific support, the MUR 7869 Complaint alleges that Facebook’s blocking of 15 the New York Post article was “not an isolated incident” and that Facebook selectively fact-

3 “content moderator” employed by Cognizant, a Facebook contractor apparently no longer 4 associated with Facebook, who states that some of his co-workers were politically biased and 5 may have moderated content in a biased manner.<sup>33</sup>

6 Finally, the MUR 7869 Complaint alleges that Facebook coordinated its activities with 7 the Biden Committee, specifically pointing to the Biden transition team’s hiring Jessica Hertz, 8 Facebook’s former Associate General Counsel for Regulatory Affairs, as the transition team’s 9 General Counsel.<sup>34</sup> The Biden Committee denies any coordination with Facebook.<sup>35</sup>

10 In Response, Facebook states that it launched its third-party fact-checking program in 11 December 2016 “to prevent the spread of viral misinformation and help users better understand 12 what they see online”<sup>36</sup> because “[m]isinformation is bad for our community and bad for our

4 users have flagged the content as being potentially false, and whether the post is being shared by 5 a user or page that has spread false news before.”<sup>38</sup> Facebook puts the identified posts into a 6 queue for fact-checking by their third-party fact-checking partners, who may also independently
7 identify content for fact-checking.<sup>39</sup> Facebook asserts that it temporarily reduces the distribution 8 of such posts while they are awaiting fact-checking, and, if ultimately deemed to contain false 9 content, the post is labeled, showing the fact-check article and its distribution remains reduced.<sup>40</sup>

10 Facebook’s third-party fact-checking partners include the Associated Press, Reuters, and 14 Facebook asserts that its fact-checking program applies not only to political subjects but

3 false, and thus subjected to reduction in distribution and labeling as false.<sup>44</sup>

4 Regarding the Complainant in MUR 7812's other allegations regarding his account being 5 disabled, Facebook states that the Complaint “does not assert any alleged FECA violations based 6 on these alleged occurrences.”<sup>45</sup> Facebook also points to its “well-publicized rules governing

4 III. LEGAL ANALYSIS

5 A. The Commission Should Find No Reason to Believe that Facebook Made, or 6 the Biden Committee Knowingly Accepted, Prohibited or Excessive In-Kind 7 Contributions

8 The Act and Commission regulations prohibit any corporation from making contributions 9 to a candidate’s principal campaign committee.<sup>50</sup> Further, no person shall make contributions to 10 any candidate, his or her authorized committee, or their agents with respect to any election for 11 federal office which, in the aggregate, exceed $2,800 during the 2020 election cycle.<sup>51</sup>

12 A “[c]ontribution” is defined to include any gift of money or “anything of value” for the 13 purpose of influencing a federal election.<sup>52</sup> The Commission has previously concluded that a 14 commercial vendor providing services to political committees does not make a contribution for 15 the purpose of influencing an election when its business activity “reflects commercial 16 considerations and does not reflect considerations outside the business relationship.”<sup>53</sup> A 17 commercial vendor need not make its services available to committees representing all political

3 The Commission has long considered activity engaged in for bona fide commercial

 5 expenditure under section 30118(a).<sup>55</sup> This is true even if a candidate benefitted from the 6 commercial activity.<sup>56</sup>

3 As explained below, the record before the Commission does not provide a reasonable 4 basis to conclude Facebook’s alleged actions undertaken in connection with its fact-checking 5 program were made for the purpose of influencing a federal election. Neither the Complaint nor 6 other available information indicate that Facebook’s application of its fact-checking program, as 7 alleged, was motivated by something other than a commercial interest.

8 As an initial matter, Facebook’s actions appear consistent with its general fact-checking 9 program and its asserted commercial purposes. As described above, Facebook apparently 10 identified the Edwards, Malone, and Liberty Counsel Articles as potentially containing 11 misinformation; its fact-checking partners assessed the articles, determined that they were 12 “false,” and appended fact-check articles to explain why the articles were considered 13 misinformation.<sup>59</sup> As for Facebook’s reduction of the distribution of posts containing the link to 14 the New York Post article, Facebook states that it similarly identified the article as potentially 15 containing misinformation and limited dissemination of the article on its platform while it 16 conducted a fact-check.<sup>60</sup> Facebook states that it has assessed that misinformation “is bad for 17 our community and bad for our business,” and that it implemented fact-checking procedures “to 18 combat misinformation on its platform for independent business reasons,” not “for the purpose of 19 influencing any election for Federal office.”<sup>61</sup>

<sup>61</sup> MUR 7812 Facebook Resp. at 2; MUR 7825 Facebook Resp. at 2; MUR 7869 Facebook Resp. at 1-2; see Hard Questions: How Is Facebook’s Fact-Checking Program Working?, FACEBOOK NEWSROOM (June 14, 2018), <https://newsroom.fb.com/news/2018/06/hard-questions-fact-checking/>.

1           The Complaints argue that Facebook's purpose was electoral, based on an alleged 2 imbalance in political contributions made by individual Facebook employees in their personal 3 capacities to Republican and Democratic campaigns generally, as well as allegations of bias 4 underlying Facebook's policy decisions governing content selected for fact-checking and 5 reduced distribution.<sup>62</sup> However, a disparity in contributions by Facebook employees may 6 reflect the partisan leanings of these employees on their own time, but it does not indicate that 7 the purpose of Facebook's operations in question was electoral. Further, although the Complaint
8 in MUR 7869 cites to allegations of bias by a content moderator of a former Facebook 9 contractor, the available information provided by this individual does not point to any policy or 10 actions on the part of Facebook itself directing bias in the application of its content moderation.<sup>63</sup>
11 Accordingly, without more, these statements are of limited value and do not provide indication 12 of the underlying purpose of Facebook's fact-checking program generally, or specifically 13 regarding the purpose of its actions that are the subject of the Complaints.<sup>64</sup>

14           Further, the premise that Facebook has undertaken its fact-checking program for the 15 purpose of influencing an election should be considered in the context of the scope of the overall 16 program. Facebook states that the political subjects of posts that have been fact-checked "span 17 the political spectrum," and it submits several examples of negative statements about Trump, 18 Biden's opponent, that were fact-checked in the same fashion as the negative articles about <sup>63</sup>       MUR 7869 Compl. at 1-2; see supra note 33 (describing allegations by former content moderator at Facebook contractor Cognizant).

<sup>64</sup>       This conclusion also applies to the Complainant in MUR 7812's allegation that his post was deleted, and his account was disabled. Neither the Complaint nor other available information indicate that Facebook's actions were motivated by an electoral interest rather than applying its Community Standards "in order to ensure the integrity of the user experience on its platform." MUR 7812 Facebook Resp. at 2 n.3.

1 Biden and Harris at issue here.<sup>65</sup> And, in one instance, relating to the Malone Article, Facebook 2 apparently reviewed and reversed its determination that the article was false and restored the 3 ability of users to post the article without any fact-check labeling.<sup>66</sup> Such a decision would 4 conflict with, not support, the alleged purpose of supporting Biden/Harris's election. On the 5 other hand, restoring the Malone Article to normal treatment once it was determined not to be 6 misinformation is consistent with Facebook's asserted purposes and policies. Moreover, 7 Facebook also states that it applies these same fact-checking policies to various subjects 8 unrelated to elections, such as misinformation surrounding public health issues including 9 COVID-19, and false statements about other public figures,<sup>67</sup> adding credibility to Facebook's 10 position that misinformation about candidates is one type of misinformation it is seeking to 11 address for business reasons. Further, Facebook's use of third parties to assess the veracity of 12 posts creates a layer of separation between Facebook and the ultimate content of the fact-13 checking that appears on its platform, thereby reducing the potential that Facebook could 14 unilaterally act in order to favor a particular candidate or be perceived to do so. In sum, the 15 information concerning the scope and structure of the Facebook's fact-checking program 16 provides credible support to Facebook's asserted commercial motivation.

17 In addition, there is no indication that Facebook coordinated its activities with Biden or 18 his campaign. Though the Complainant in MUR 7812 acknowledges that he "know[s] of no 19 direct evidence" of coordination, he provides what he describes as circumstantial evidence in the 20 form of: (1) the hiring of Facebook Director and Associate General Counsel Jessica Hertz by the

1 Biden Transition team;<sup>68</sup> (2) a disparity between the amount of contributions Facebook 2 employees have made in past elections to Democrats compared to Republicans;<sup>69</sup> and (3) the 3 Biden campaign's alleged highly critical treatment of Facebook, which the Complainant asserts 4 was a "cover for coordination."<sup>70</sup> The MUR 7869 Complaint similarly points to the hiring of 5 Hertz, as well as Biden's Innovation Policy Committee including "at least eight people who 6 work for Facebook, Amazon, Google and Apple."<sup>71</sup> But none of this information provides a 7 reasonable basis to infer that the Biden Committee coordinated with Facebook regarding the 8 specific activities alleged in the Complaint.

9       In light of the above, the available information indicates that the actions taken by 10 Facebook to fact-check and reduce the distribution of potential misinformation appear to reflect 11 commercial considerations, rather than an effort to influence a federal election. Moreover, there 12 is no basis to reasonably conclude that Facebook coordinated its activities with the Biden 13 Committee. Therefore, we recommend that the Commission find no reason to believe that 14 Facebook violated 52 U.S.C. §§ 30116(a) or 30118(a) by making a prohibited or excessive in-15 kind contribution to the Biden Committee and find no reason to believe that the Biden 16 Committee violated 52 U.S.C. §§ 30116(f) or 30118(a) by knowingly accepting or receiving 17 such a contribution.

1           B.       The Commission Should Find No Reason to Believe that Facebook Made
2           Unreported Independent Expenditures Supporting the Biden Committee

3           In the alternative to the allegation that Facebook's activities resulted in Facebook making 4 in-kind contributions to the Biden Committee, the Complaint in MUR 7812 alleges that 5 Facebook "was conducting an Independent Expenditure in support of Kamala Harris for Vice 6 President by removing anti-Harris posts or posting favorable articles about candidate Harris."<sup>72</sup>

7           An "independent expenditure" is an expenditure "for a communication expressly 8 advocating the election or defeat of a clearly identified candidate" that is not coordinated with 9 the candidate or the candidate's committee.<sup>73</sup> The term "expressly advocating" means any 10 communication that: (1) uses phrases or words such as "vote for," "elect," "defeat," etc., "which 11 in context can have no other reasonable meaning than to urge the election or defeat of one or 12 more clearly identified candidate(s)"; or (2) "[w]hen taken as a whole and with limited reference 13 to external events, such as the proximity to the election, could only be interpreted by a 14 reasonable person as containing advocacy of the election or defeat of one or more clearly 15 identified candidate(s)."<sup>74</sup>

16           Every person (other than a political committee) who makes independent expenditures in 17 an aggregate amount or value in excess of $250 during a calendar year shall file a statement with 18 the Commission.<sup>75</sup> The Act further requires that all "public communications" by a person that

1 expressly advocates the election or defeat of a federal candidate must contain appropriate 2 disclaimers.<sup>76</sup>

3 The only communication discussed in the MUR 7812 Complaint is the AFP fact-4 checking article. While the Complaint disputes the accuracy and fairness of the AFP fact-5 checking article in comparison to the Edwards Article, it does not point to any instance of the 6 AFP fact-checking article expressly advocating for Harris (or Biden), nor has our review
7 revealed any such statements.<sup>77</sup> Instead, the AFP fact-checking article discusses Harris's 8 positions and statements regarding gun ownership, gun violence, and Second Amendment rights 9 generally.

10 Absent express advocacy, the AFP fact-checking article does not constitute an 11 independent expenditure. Accordingly, we recommend that the Commission find no reason to 12 believe that Facebook violated 52 U.S.C. § 30104(c)(1) by failing to report independent 13 expenditures, or 52 U.S.C. § 30120(a) by failing to provide required disclaimers on independent 14 expenditures.

1 “foreign national” from directly or indirectly making a contribution or donation of money or 2 other thing of value, or an expenditure, independent expenditure, or disbursement, in connection 3 with a federal, state, or local election.<sup>79</sup>

4 At the outset, the Complaint does not allege and there is no information to suggest that 5 AFP acted in coordination with the Biden Committee, and thus there is no basis to conclude that 6 a contribution resulted from AFP's activities. Moreover, there is no information to suggest that 7 AFP acted with the purpose of influencing the election of Biden, Harris, or any other candidate.
8 Rather, AFP asserts that its activities are part of its journalistic efforts “to seek[] the truth by 9 questioning sources and verifying the facts.”<sup>80</sup> Further supporting AFP's assertion that its 10 purpose was journalistic and not supporting Biden's or Harris's election, AFP identifies 11 numerous articles on the AFP Fact-Check Blog that “debunked false claims about Donald 12 Trump, his family, and the Trump campaign.”<sup>81</sup> Finally, even if AFP's activities were otherwise 13 considered contributions under the Act, notwithstanding AFP's status as a foreign national, it 14 appears that the media exemption would likely apply to AFP.<sup>82</sup>

4 V. RECOMMENDATIONS

- 5           1. Find no reason to believe that Facebook, Inc., violated 52 U.S.C. §§ 30116(a), 6           30118(a) by making excessive or prohibited in-kind corporate contributions;
- 7           2. Find no reason to believe that Facebook, Inc., violated 52 U.S.C. §§ 30104(c)(1), 8           30120(a) by failing to report or provide required disclaimers on independent 9           expenditures;
- 10          3. Find no reason to believe that the Biden for President and Andrea Wise in her 11          official capacity as treasurer violated 52 U.S.C. §§ 30116(f), 30118(a) by 12          knowingly accepting or receiving prohibited corporate or excessive contributions;
- 13          4. Find no reason to believe that Agence France-Presse violated the 52 U.S.C.
 14          § 30121 by making prohibited foreign national contributions;
- 15          5. Approve the attached Factual and Legal Analysis; facilities are owned or controlled by any political party, political committee, or candidate.” 52 U.S.C. § 30101(9)(B)(i); see also 11 C.F.R. § 100.132. Commission regulations contain a parallel exemption to the definition of contribution. Id. § 100.73.

To determine whether the media exemption applies, the Commission first assesses whether the entity that engaged in the challenged activity is a press entity. See, e.g., AO 2010-08; Advisory Op. 2005-16 (Fired Up!) (“AO 2005-16”); Advisory Op. 1996-16 (Bloomberg). The Commission then determines the scope of the exemption by applying the two-part analysis presented in Reader’s Digest Ass’n v. FEC: (1) is the entity owned or controlled by a political party, political committee, or candidate; and (2) is the entity acting within its “legitimate press function” in conducting the activity that is the subject of the complaint. See Reader’s Digest Ass’n v. FEC, 509 F. Supp. 1210, 1215 (S.D.N.Y. 1981); Advisory Op. 2016-01 (Ethiq). To determine whether the press entity is acting within its legitimate press function, the Commission considers whether the entity’s materials are available to the general public and whether the materials are comparable in form to those ordinarily issued by the entity. AO 2010-08 at 6 (Citizens United).

First, it appears that AFP is a “press entity.” AFP states that it “traces its roots to 1835, when its precursor was founded as the world’s first international news agency” and that it is now “a leading global news agency” whose mission is “to provide accurate, balanced, and impartial coverage of news wherever and whenever it happens in the world.” AFP Resp. at 1. Second, AFP asserts that it is not owned by a political party, political committee, or candidate and there is no suggestion in the Complaints or indication in the record to the contrary. Third, it appears that AFP was acting within its “legitimate press function.” There is no dispute that the fact-checking article was accessible to the public via the link on Facebook or on AFP Fact Check’s blog, nor that it appeared in the blog alongside myriad similar fact-checking articles posted over since 2017. Moreover, the article appears to include original commentary, an activity specifically protected by the Act’s statutory text. See 52 U.S.C. § 30101(9)(B)(i) (providing that the exemption applies to “any news story, commentary, or editorial”).
