I. INTRODUCTION

The Complaints in these matters involve allegations that WeBuildtheWall, Inc. (“WBTW”), a 501(c)(4) non-profit organization, made a prohibited in-kind corporate contribution to Kris Kobach and Kris Kobach for Senate and Elizabeth Curtis in her official capacity as treasurer (the “Committee”) by sending an email on August 1, 2019, to the WBTW email list, displaying the WBTW logo, and soliciting contributions for the Committee, in violation of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as amended (the “Act”).<sup>1</sup> The MUR 7628 Complaint also alleges that WBTW spent funds not subject to the limits, prohibitions, and

1 reporting requirements of the Act to disseminate the email.<sup>2</sup> Both the Committee and WBTW 2 deny the allegations, asserting that the Committee rented the WBTW email list for $2,000, which 3 they assert was the fair market value for the list, and that any other violations are the result of 4 vendor error.<sup>3</sup>

5 In Pre-MUR 628, the Committee filed a sua sponte Submission regarding an additional 6 email that was sent to the WBTW email list on July 18, 2019, soliciting contributions to the 7 Committee without the required disclaimer.<sup>4</sup> The Committee asserts that the omitted disclaimer
8 was the result of vendor error, the Committee discovered this earlier email while taking 9 “investigative and remedial action” with regard to the August 1, 2019, email, and it issued a 10 corrected email containing a disclaimer within 24 hours of discovering the error.<sup>5</sup>

11 As set forth below, we recommend that the Commission dismiss the disclaimer and soft 12 money allegations. We also recommend the Commission find reason to believe that the $2,000 13 rental for the WBTW email list was significantly below fair market value and therefore 14 constituted an in-kind and unreported corporate contribution to the Committee. We further 15 recommend that the Commission find reason to believe that the use of the WBTW logo was an 16 in-kind and unreported corporate contribution to the Committee. We recommend that the 17 Commission enter into pre-probable cause conciliation with Respondents.

II. FACTUAL BACKGROUND

Kris Kobach was a candidate for U.S. Senate in Kansas in 2020.<sup>6</sup> WBTW is a 501(c)(4) non-profit organization that raises money to build portions of a wall on the USA-Mexico border.<sup>7</sup> Kobach serves as general counsel for WBTW, and it is a paid position.<sup>8</sup> Brian Kolfage is the President of WBTW.<sup>9</sup> Dustin Stockton is a director of WBTW and President of Stockton Strategies, LLC (“Stockton Strategies”), a digital fundraising vendor retained by both the Committee and WBTW.<sup>10</sup>

On July 10, 2019, Stockton Strategies entered into an agreement “to rent from WBTW, at a cost of $2,000.00, use of its file of email addresses for purposes of prospecting contributions to

However, Kolfage reportedly subsequently determined the federal government would not be able to accept the money, at which point Kolfage created WBTW and gave contributors the choice of a refund or to have their contribution transferred to WBTW. Id. WBTW has four directors: Brian Kolfage (President), Amanda Shea (Secretary/Treasurer), Kris Kobach (Director), and Dustin Stockton (Director). Stockton sent emails to WBTW’s 295,000-person email list on July 18, 2019, and August 1, 2019, from the WBTW server. The July 18 email was sent from “Brian Kolfage—WeBuildTheWall, Inc. 1 email should have included a disclaimer, but did not.<sup>17</sup> The August 1, 2019, email was sent from 2 “Kris Kobach—WeBuildTheWall, Inc. info@webuildthewall.us” and contained the WBTW
 3 logo, and a letter, signed by Kobach as general counsel for WBTW, announcing his Senate 4 candidacy and soliciting support and contributions.<sup>18</sup>

5 The MUR 7628 Complaint alleges that WBTW made an in-kind corporate contribution to 6 the Committee by sending the August 1, 2019, email to the WBTW list and failing to include a 7 required disclaimer identifying who paid for the solicitation.<sup>19</sup> The MUR 7636 Complaint
 8 alleges that WBTW violated the corporate facilitation prohibition by using its logo and resources
 9 to send the email.<sup>20</sup> The Committee responds that it did not receive a contribution from WBTW, 10 but instead paid for the use of WBTW's email list by reimbursing Stockton Strategies for the 11 $2,000 list rental.<sup>21</sup> WBTW similarly responds that because it rented its list to Stockton 12 Strategies, it did not make an in-kind corporate contribution to the Committee.<sup>22</sup> Both the 13 Committee and WBTW respond that Stockton was responsible for failing to include the 14 disclaimer and using the WBTW email server,<sup>23</sup> and Stockton admits he was at fault.<sup>24</sup> The

3 III. LEGAL ANALYSIS

4 A. Disclaimer Allegations

5 The MUR 7628 Complaint alleges that the August 1, 2019, email failed to include a 6 required disclaimer identifying who paid for the solicitation.<sup>26</sup> The Committee acknowledges 7 that its August 1 email — as well as its July 18, 2019, email — failed to include a disclaimer.<sup>27</sup> 8 The Act and Commission regulations require a disclaimer whenever a political committee makes 9 a disbursement for the purpose of financing any public communication through any broadcast, 10 cable, satellite communication, newspaper, magazine, outdoor-advertising facility, mailing, or 11 any other type of general public political advertising.<sup>28</sup> If a communication requiring a 12 disclaimer is paid for and authorized by a candidate, a candidate's authorized committee, or its 13 agents, the disclaimer must clearly state that the communication was paid for by the authorized 14 committee.<sup>29</sup>

15 A disclaimer was required in this case because the Committee's July 18, 2019, and 16 August 1, 2019, emails were "electronic mail of more than 500 substantially similar 17 communications" sent by a political committee.<sup>30</sup> Respondents do not contest the allegation that the emails required a disclaimer.<sup>31</sup> Rather, Respondents blame the error on Stockton Strategies, which they describe as a vendor.<sup>32</sup> The Commission has generally not pursued disclaimer violations that resulted from inadvertent vendor error.<sup>33</sup> In this case, Stockton Strategies appears to be a vendor and Stockton asserts in his sworn affidavit that it was his inadvertent error.<sup>34</sup> The Committee also sent corrective emails including a proper disclaimer shortly after the emails issued and before their formal notification of the MUR 7628 Complaint.<sup>35</sup> Under these circumstances, we recommend that the Commission dismiss the disclaimer allegations.

B. Alleged In-Kind Contributions

The MUR 7628 Complaint alleges that the use of the WBTW email list constituted a prohibited in-kind corporate contribution. Corporations are prohibited from making a contribution to a candidate's committee, and candidates are prohibited from knowingly accepting or receiving a prohibited contribution.<sup>36</sup> A "contribution" includes "any gift, subscription, loan, advance, or deposit of money or anything of value made by any person for the purpose of <sup>33</sup> See Factual & Legal Analysis at 8, MUR 6846 (DeFazio for Congress) (dismissing disclaimer violation due to vendor error, noting that the respondent took remedial action and that the Commission has declined to pursue cases based on vendor error); Factual & Legal Analysis at 7, MUR 5991 (U.S. Term Limits) (same).

<sup>35</sup> Id. ¶11-12; see also Submission at 3, Pre-MUR 628. Respondents did issue corrective emails, but only after the Common Cause Press Release regarding their Complaint in MUR 7628. The corrected emails went out just minutes after the press release. See Submission at Ex. 5, Pre-MUR 628. Considering the time zone differences this email was sent 18 minutes after the Common Cause press release. See id. at Ex. 6. The correction email for the July 18 email has a time stamp of Aug. 2, 2019 at 3:09 PM. Considering the time zone differences this email was sent 23 minutes after the press release.

1 influencing any election for Federal office.”<sup>37</sup> “Anything of value” includes all in-kind 2 contributions, including the provision of goods or services without charge or at a charge that is 3 less than the usual and normal charge.<sup>38</sup> The Commission’s regulations define “usual and 4 normal charge” as “the price of those goods in the market from which they ordinarily would have 5 been purchased at the time of the contribution.”<sup>39</sup> Finally, the Act requires committee treasurers 6 to file reports of receipts and disbursements in accordance with the provisions of 52 U.S.C.
 7 § 30104.<sup>40</sup> Political committees are required to report the name and address of each person who 8 makes a contribution aggregating more than $200 per calendar year, or per election cycle for 9 authorized committees, as well as the date, amount, and purpose of such payments.<sup>41</sup>

10 As a corporation, WBTW is prohibited from making contributions to candidates for 11 federal office. If the $2,000 list rental price is the usual and normal charge for this list, then
 12 WBTW would have made no contribution to the Committee. As set forth below, the available 13 information indicates that the $2,000 list rental price was substantially below the usual and 14 normal charge for the list’s rental; therefore, WBTW appears to have made, and the Committee

appears to have accepted, an in-kind corporate contribution, and the Committee failed to report it.<sup>42</sup>

According to WBTW, the market rate for its email list containing 295,000 addresses was 1/10 of a cent per email per use (for six uses).<sup>43</sup> By contrast, the Committee states that the agreed-upon market rate was 2/3 of a cent per email (with no number of uses stated).<sup>44</sup> WBTW does not explain how it determined 1/10 of a cent per email address per use (for six uses) was the appropriate “market rate.” The Committee asserts that the rate was a fair price since the list did not consist of known contributors to any political campaign and had not yet been tested as a fundraising list for any political campaign.<sup>45</sup>

The Committee’s descriptions of the list as untested and non-political are questionable in light of the following facts. The list consisted of “all individuals who had made any donation, of any amount, to WBTW throughout its history” including the original “GoFundMe donors,” whose combined donations totaled $25 million for the border wall campaign.<sup>46</sup> Thus, the list was not an untested roster of potentially interested persons, but a list of people who had actually donated money for a specific cause. Further, the factual context suggests that the list is also

<sup>42</sup> See Factual & Legal Analysis at 5-6, MUR 5939 (MoveOn.org Political Action, et al.) (concluding the available information suggests that the $64,575 rate initially agreed upon by MOPA and The Times was less than the usual and normal price of $142,083 for an advertisement guaranteed to run on a particular day; the difference between these two figures, $77,508, would have constituted a corporate contribution from The Times to MOPA if MOPA had not paid the higher rate of $142,083 on September 24, 2007). 1 political in nature. The list use agreement between Stockton Strategies and WBTW stated that
 2 the list was “to be used by Stockton Strategies in conducting fundraising on behalf of political 3 candidates who support the construction of border fencing on the United States — Mexico 4 border by the federal government.”<sup>47</sup> The email list consisted of persons whose previous 5 donations indicate an interest in the same specific political issue — border security — as the 6 candidates on whose behalf Stockton Strategies would fundraise. Moreover, Kobach had been 7 part of WBTW since its formation, the solicitation emails identified candidate Kobach as 8 WBTW’s general counsel, and it appears that Kobach was the only candidate for which Stockton 9 used the list.

10 The WBTW list rental price appears to be significantly lower than other list rental prices
 11 cited in past Commission matters.<sup>48</sup> In MUR 6110 (Obama Victory Fund and Democratic 12 National Committee), a vendor was compensated “$3,000 for . . . use of the email list, which 13 contained 20,000 email addresses, and for use . . . of the internet.”<sup>49</sup> This equals 15 cents per 14 email address in 2008, or 18 cents per email address when adjusted for inflation.<sup>50</sup> In MUR
 15 6937 (NextGen Climate Action Committee), NextGen bought a political committee’s email list
 16 containing 111,136 names for $177,817.60 in 2015 for a “blended rate of $1.60 per name.”<sup>51</sup>

<sup>47</sup> Kobach and Committee Resp. to First Request for Information, Pre-MUR 628 at Ex. B.

<sup>48</sup> Understanding that the Commission hasn’t necessarily determined that the following list prices necessarily represent fair market value, a survey of the cited prices still provides a point for comparison.

https://www.bls.gov/data/inflation\_calculator.htm (last visited Aug. 2, 2021).

The Commission has deemed transactions permissible when the price is “determined by the market’s view of the value of the list.”<sup>52</sup> WBTW, however, did not provide any justification for how the market rate for the WBTW list was determined, but rather, Kolfage simply stated the “market rate is approximately 1/10 of a cent per email record.”<sup>53</sup> In previous matters, detailed factual records have been provided to establish a market rate and prove that a bargained-for exchange occurred. The parties here have not made a similar showing, and they even disagree as to what the agreed-upon market rate was.<sup>54</sup>

A review of publicly available information regarding list rental prices reveals a wide range, depending on the nature of the list, but all of these prices were significantly higher than rate WBTW charged the Committee. According to one 2019 article in Roll Call, “Each rented name could cost in the $2 to $3 range, depending on the vendor and the parameters of the deal.”<sup>55</sup> Names on a smaller, more localized or issue-specific campaign could cost between $5 and $8, <sup>52</sup> Id.; see also Factual & Legal Analysis at 27-28, MURs 4382/4401 (Dole for President) (finding the exchange of a mailing list for Dole’s signature endorsement was not a bargained for exchange and that the committee failed to establish the signature was something of equal value); Advisory Opinion 2012-31 at 4 (AT&T) (concluding the rate structure of text messaging services to political committees “reflects commercial considerations and does not reflect considerations outside of a business relationship.”). The Commission reiterated these considerations in numerous Advisory Opinions. 1 while names on a big national list could cost as little as 40 or 50 cents.”<sup>56</sup> One list broker,

 3 35,938-person email list consisting of contributors who made at least a $15 contribution to Ron
 4 Johnson for Senate for $120 per 1,000 emails.<sup>58</sup> This equates to 12 cents per email address,
 5 which is 120 times the rate used in the WBTW list rental agreement. One of the least expensive
 6 rates in the 2020 election cycle was offered by a company called Excelsior Strategies, which was
 7 renting 1,000 email addresses of Trump Supporters for $35.<sup>59</sup> Yet, this rate is still at least five
 8 times the WBTW rate. Moreover, the WBTW list rental was not for only one use, but for either 9 six uses, according to WBTW’s response, or unlimited use over a six-month period, according to 10 the list rental agreement.<sup>60</sup> Political Resources, Inc., is a list broker that displays prices for 11 specific email lists on its website in the range of $90-$110 per 1,000 email addresses, which is 12 90-110 times the WBTW rate.<sup>61</sup> Based on the highly targeted nature of the WBTW list, it is 13 doubtful that the list would have a market value 35 to 90 times lower than the low range of the 14 current rates for list rentals. The WBTW list is much more comparable to the Ron Johnson list 15 from Granite lists, which was listed for 120 times the rental rate of the WBTW list. According to 1 the Roll Call article, an issue-specific campaign could be charging five to eight dollars per 2 name.<sup>62</sup> Using these rates, the WBTW list would have a one-time rental market rate of at least 3 $70,000. Given this information, the $2,000 list price appears to be significantly lower than any 4 comparable market rate.

5 In addition, the presence of Kobach and Stockton on both sides of the transaction raises
6 further questions about its commercial reasonableness. The Committee initially indicated that
7 Kobach “did not participate” in the decision to rent WBTW’s email list to Stockton Strategies,
8 although the Committee asserts that Kobach drafted the agreement in his capacity as WBTW’s
9 general counsel.<sup>63</sup> Subsequently, the Committee indicated Kobach “was asked his opinion
10 concerning the list rental price,” and Kobach “agreed that $2,000 was within the market range
11 and was appropriate, given the untested nature of the non-political list.”<sup>64</sup> Ultimately, Kobach
12 received the rented email list for that price, as the Committee was the only entity that used the 13 list, and the Committee reimbursed Stockton Strategies for the entire rental price.<sup>65</sup> Further,
14 Stockton was a director of WBTW and the President of Stockton Strategies, which was retained 15 by both WBTW and the Committee, and Stockton was involved on both sides of the transaction.

In summary, the available information indicates that the $2,000 rental price was significantly below market rate, Respondents have been unable to articulate how the rate was determined, and WBTW and Kobach were on both sides of the rental transaction. Therefore, we recommend that the Commission find reason to believe that WBTW made an in-kind contribution, Kobach and the Committee knowingly received a corporate contribution, and the Committee failed to report it.<sup>69</sup>

C. Corporate Logo

The MUR 7636 Complaint alleges that WBTW violated the prohibition on corporate contributions by including the WBTW logo at the top of the August 1, 2019, solicitation email.<sup>70</sup> The sua sponte Submission also included copies of the earlier July 18, 2019, email, as well as

<sup>69</sup> Although Kobach, as a director of WBTW, could potentially be liable under 52 U.S.C. § 30118(a) for consenting to WBTW's corporate contribution, the available information regarding his involvement on the WBTW side of the transaction is unclear. See Kobach and Committee Resp. to Second Request for Information at 2, Pre-MUR 628. In addition, Kobach's role as general counsel of WBTW could raise issues of attorney-client privilege. Under these circumstances, and his clearer involvement as a candidate receiving the contribution, we do not make any recommendation as to Kobach possibly consenting to the contribution.

<sup>70</sup> The MUR 7636 Complaint alleges that the WBTW has thereby violated the prohibition on corporate facilitation. See 11 C.F.R. § 114.2(f)(1). However, the Commission has previously analyzed the use of corporate logos in candidate committee advertising under the section 52 U.S.C. § 30118(a) statutory prohibition on corporate contributions, and we do so here.

both “correction” emails showing that each email included the WBTW logo.<sup>71</sup> The Commission has previously determined that a corporation’s name, trade name, trademarks, and service marks are things of value owned by the corporation, and that allowing a committee to use them in a manner suggesting the corporation’s support or endorsement of a candidate may constitute an in-kind contribution.<sup>72</sup> The WBTW logo in these emails is significant in that it appears at the top of every email sent to the WBTW list. The WBTW logo has an underlying meaning and message that is distinguishable from previous corporate logo circumstances that the Commission has deemed to be de minimis.<sup>73</sup> Corporate logo scenarios that the Commission has deemed to be de minimis involve small business where the value of the corporate name was hard to calculate,<sup>74</sup> or where the use of the logo was to demonstrate the business acumen of the candidate.<sup>75</sup> In contrast, Kobach’s use of the WBTW logo signaled to WBTW contributors that contributing to and electing Kobach would advance WBTW’s border-security agenda. Under these circumstances, the WBTW corporate logo had substantial value.<sup>76</sup> Therefore, we recommend

1 that the Commission find reason to believe that WBTW made, and the Committee received, an 2 in-kind contribution through the use of the WBTW logo.

3 D. Soft Money

4 The MUR 7628 Complaint alleges that WBTW acted as an agent of the Committee and 5 spent soft money in connection with Kobach's federal campaign.<sup>77</sup> There is insufficient 6 information in the record to conclude that WBTW was acting as an agent of the Committee.
7 Further, the Commission has not previously analyzed in-kind corporate contributions to also be a 8 violation of the soft money provisions.<sup>78</sup> Therefore, we recommend that the Commission

6 I. INTRODUCTION

7 The Complaints in these matters involve allegations that WeBuildtheWall, Inc.
 8 (“WBTW”), a 501(c)(4) non-profit organization, made a prohibited in-kind corporate 9 contribution to Kris Kobach and Kris Kobach for Senate and Elizabeth Curtis in her official 10 capacity as treasurer (the “Committee”) by sending an email on August 1, 2019, to the WBTW 11 email list, displaying the WBTW logo, and soliciting contributions for the Committee, in 12 violation of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as amended (the “Act”).<sup>1</sup> The MUR 13 7628 Complaint also alleges that WBTW spent funds not subject to the limits, prohibitions, and 14 reporting requirements of the Act to disseminate the email.<sup>2</sup> The Committee denies the 15 allegations, asserting that it rented the WBTW email list for $2,000, which they assert was the 16 fair market value for the list, and that any other violations are the result of vendor error.<sup>3</sup>

17 In Pre-MUR 628, the Committee filed a sua sponte Submission regarding an additional 18 email that was sent to the WBTW email list on July 18, 2019, soliciting contributions to the
 19 Committee without the required disclaimer.<sup>4</sup> The Committee asserts that the omitted disclaimer

“investigative and remedial action” with regard to the August 1, 2019, email, and it issued a corrected email containing a disclaimer within 24 hours of discovering the error.<sup>5</sup>

As set forth below, the Commission dismisses the disclaimer and soft money allegations. Also, the Commission finds reason to believe that the $2,000 rental for the WBTW email list was significantly below fair market value and therefore constituted an in-kind and unreported corporate contribution to the Committee. The Commission finds reason to believe that the use of the WBTW logo was an in-kind and unreported corporate contribution to the Committee.

Stockton sent emails to WBTW’s 295,000-person email list on July 18, 2019, and August 1, 2019, from the WBTW server. The July 18 email was sent from “Brian Kolfage — WeBuildTheWall, Inc. info@webuildthewall.us” and included the WBTW logo, an announcement supporting Kobach’s Senate candidacy, a solicitation for campaign contributions to Kobach’s campaign, and the email was signed by Kolfage. The Committee concedes that this email should have included a disclaimer, but did not.<sup>17</sup> The August 1, 2019, email was sent from “Kris Kobach — WeBuildTheWall, Inc. The MUR 7628 Complaint alleges that WBTW made an in-kind corporate contribution to the Committee by sending the August 1, 2019, email to the WBTW list and failing to include a required disclaimer identifying who paid for the solicitation.<sup>19</sup> The MUR 7636 Complaint alleges that WBTW violated the corporate facilitation prohibition by using its logo and resources to send the email.<sup>20</sup> The Committee responds that it did not receive a contribution from WBTW, agents, the disclaimer must clearly state that the communication was paid for by the authorized committee.<sup>28</sup>

A disclaimer was required in this case because the Committee's July 18, 2019, and August 1, 2019, emails were "electronic mail of more than 500 substantially similar communications" sent by a political committee.<sup>29</sup> Respondents do not contest the allegation that the emails required a disclaimer.<sup>30</sup> Rather, Respondents blame the error on Stockton Strategies, which they describe as a vendor.<sup>31</sup> The Commission has generally not pursued disclaimer violations that resulted from inadvertent vendor error.<sup>32</sup> In this case, Stockton Strategies appears to be a vendor and Stockton asserts in his sworn affidavit that it was his inadvertent error.<sup>33</sup> The Committee also sent corrected emails including a proper disclaimer shortly after the emails issued and before their formal notification of the MUR 7628 Complaint.<sup>34</sup> Under these circumstances, the Commission dismisses the disclaimer allegations.

B. Alleged In-Kind Contributions

The MUR 7628 Complaint alleges that the use of the WBTW email list constituted a prohibited in-kind corporate contribution. Corporations are prohibited from making a contribution to a candidate's committee, and candidates are prohibited from knowingly accepting or receiving a prohibited contribution.<sup>35</sup> A "contribution" includes "any gift, subscription, loan, advance, or deposit of money or anything of value made by any person for the purpose of influencing any election for Federal office."<sup>36</sup> "Anything of value" includes all in-kind contributions, including the provision of goods or services without charge or at a charge that is less than the usual and normal charge.<sup>37</sup> The Commission's regulations define "usual and normal charge" as "the price of those goods in the market from which they ordinarily would have been purchased at the time of the contribution."<sup>38</sup> Finally, the Act requires committee treasurers to file reports of receipts and disbursements in accordance with the provisions of 52 U.S.C. § 30104.<sup>39</sup> Political committees are required to report the name and address of each person who

Counsel's Rpt. at 5 & Cert. ¶1, MUR 5682 (Bachmann for Congress) (finding the respondent assigned an appropriate valuation to a mailing list where the respondent had consulted with a "reputable list broker" regarding the "proper fair market value" of the list).

1 makes a contribution aggregating more than $200 per calendar year, or per election cycle for
2 authorized committees, as well as the date, amount, and purpose of such payments.<sup>40</sup>

3 As a corporation, WBTW is prohibited from making contributions to candidates for 4 federal office. If the $2,000 list rental price is the usual and normal charge for this list, then
5 WBTW would have made no contribution to the Committee. As set forth below, the available 6 information indicates that the $2,000 list rental price was substantially below the usual and 7 normal charge for the list's rental; therefore, WBTW appears to have made, and the Committee
8 appears to have accepted, an in-kind corporate contribution, and the Committee failed to report
9 it.<sup>41</sup>

10 According to information available to the Commission, WBTW believes the market rate 11 for its email list containing 295,000 addresses was 1/10 of a cent per email per use (for six uses).
12 By contrast, the Committee states that the agreed-upon market rate was 2/3 of a cent per email
13 (with no number of uses stated).<sup>42</sup> The Committee asserts that the rate was a fair price since the

1 list did not consist of known contributors to any political campaign and had not yet been tested
2 as a fundraising list for any political campaign.<sup>43</sup>

3 The Committee’s descriptions of the list as untested and non-political are questionable in 4 light of the following facts. The list consisted of “all individuals who had made any donation, of 5 any amount, to WBTW throughout its history” including the original “GoFundMe donors,”
6 whose combined donations totaled $25 million for the border wall campaign.<sup>44</sup> Thus, the list
7 was not an untested roster of potentially interested persons, but a list of people who had actually 8 donated money for a specific cause. Further, the factual context suggests that the list is also 9 political in nature. The list use agreement between Stockton Strategies and WBTW stated that 10 the list was “to be used by Stockton Strategies in conducting fundraising on behalf of political 11 candidates who support the construction of border fencing on the United States—Mexico border
12 by the federal government.”<sup>45</sup> The email list consisted of persons whose previous donations
13 indicate an interest in the same specific political issue — border security — as the candidates on 14 whose behalf Stockton Strategies would fundraise. Moreover, Kobach had been part of WBTW

1 since its formation, the solicitation emails identified candidate Kobach as WBTW’s general
2 counsel, and it appears that Kobach was the only candidate for which Stockton used the list.

3 The WBTW list rental price appears to be significantly lower than other list rental prices
4 cited in past Commission matters.<sup>46</sup> In MUR 6110 (Obama Victory Fund and Democratic 5 National Committee), a vendor was compensated “$3,000 for . . . use of the email list, which 6 contained 20,000 email addresses, and for use . . . of the internet.”<sup>47</sup> This equals 15 cents per
7 email address in 2008, or 18 cents per email address when adjusted for inflation.<sup>48</sup> In MUR
8 6937 (NextGen Climate Action Committee), NextGen bought a political committee’s email list
9 containing 111,136 names for $177,817.60 in 2015 for a “blended rate of $1.60 per name.”<sup>49</sup>

10 The Commission has deemed transactions permissible when the price is “determined by 11 the market’s view of the value of the list.”<sup>50</sup> In previous matters, detailed factual records have 12 been provided to establish a market rate and prove that a bargained-for exchange occurred. The 13 Committee here has not made a similar showing.<sup>51</sup>

<sup>46</sup> Understanding that the Commission hasn’t necessarily determined that the following list prices necessarily represent fair market value, a survey of the cited prices still provides a point for comparison.

The Commission reiterated these considerations in numerous Advisory Opinions. 1 A review of publicly available information regarding list rental prices reveals a wide 2 range, depending on the nature of the list, but all of these prices were significantly higher than 3 rate WBTW charged the Committee. According to one 2019 article in Roll Call, “Each rented 4 name could cost in the $2 to $3 range, depending on the vendor and the parameters of the deal.”<sup>52</sup>
5 Names on a smaller, more localized or issue-specific campaign could cost between $5 and $8, 6 while names on a big national list could cost as little as 40 or 50 cents.”<sup>53</sup> One list broker, 7 Granite Lists, markets very specific Republican lists.<sup>54</sup> One seemingly comparable example is a
8 35,938 person email list consisting of contributors who made at least a $15 contribution to Ron 9 Johnson for Senate for $120 per 1,000 emails.<sup>55</sup> This equates to 12 cents per email address,
10 which is 120 times the rate used in the WBTW list rental agreement. One of the least expensive
11 rates in the 2020 election cycle was offered by a company called Excelsior Strategies, which was 12 renting 1,000 email addresses of Trump Supporters for $35.<sup>56</sup> Yet, this rate is still at least five
13 times the WBTW rate. Moreover, the WBTW list rental was not for only one use, but for either 14 six uses, or unlimited use over a six-month period, according to the list rental agreement.<sup>57</sup>

1 Political Resources, Inc., is a list broker that displays prices for specific email lists on its website
2 in the range of $90-$110 per 1,000 email addresses, which is 90-110 times the WBTW rate.<sup>58</sup>
3 Based on the highly targeted nature of the WBTW list, it is doubtful that the list would have a
4 market value 35 to 90 times lower than the low range of the current rates for list rentals. The
5 WBTW list is much more comparable to the Ron Johnson list from Granite lists, which was 6 listed for 120 times the rental rate of the WBTW list. According to the Roll Call article, an 7 issue-specific campaign could be charging five to eight dollars per name.<sup>59</sup> Using these rates,
8 the WBTW list would have a one-time rental market rate of at least $70,000. Given this 9 information, the $2,000 list price appears to be significantly lower than any comparable market 10 rate.

11 In addition, the presence of Kobach and Stockton on both sides of the transaction raises
12 further questions about its commercial reasonableness. The Committee initially indicated that 13 Kobach “did not participate” in the decision to rent WBTW’s email list to Stockton Strategies,
14 although the Committee asserts that Kobach drafted the agreement in his capacity as WBTW’s
15 general counsel.<sup>60</sup> Subsequently, the Committee indicated Kobach “was asked his opinion
16 concerning the list rental price,” and Kobach “agreed that $2,000 was within the market range
17 and was appropriate, given the untested nature of the non-political list.”<sup>61</sup> Ultimately, Kobach
18 received the rented email list for that price, as the Committee was the only entity that used the list, and the Committee reimbursed Stockton Strategies for the entire rental price.<sup>62</sup> Further, Stockton was a director of WBTW and the President of Stockton Strategies, which was retained by both WBTW and the Committee, and Stockton was involved on both sides of the transaction.

Additional factors cast doubt on the commercial reasonableness of the list rental agreement. Although Respondents have provided copies of the July 10 agreement between WBTW and Stockton Strategies and the July 15 agreement between Stockton Strategies and the Committee, the agreements are unsigned.<sup>63</sup> The Committee responds that although it never signed the agreement, it was the intention of the parties for the agreements to be binding.<sup>64</sup> Further, Respondents could not provide any dated documented communications regarding the list rental agreement; they state that all such communication were oral.<sup>65</sup>

In summary, the available information indicates that the $2,000 rental price was significantly below market rate, the Committee has been unable to articulate how the rate was determined, and WBTW and Kobach were on both sides of the rental transaction. Therefore, the Commission finds reason to believe Kobach and the Committee knowingly received an in-kind corporate contribution from WBTW, and the Committee failed to report it.

C. Corporate Logo

1 The sua sponte Submission also included copies of the earlier July 18, 2019, email, as well as 2 both “correction” emails showing that each email included the WBTW logo.<sup>67</sup> The Commission 3 has previously determined that a corporation’s name, trade name, trademarks, and service marks 4 are things of value owned by the corporation, and that allowing a committee to use them in a 5 manner suggesting the corporation’s support or endorsement of a candidate may constitute an in-6 kind contribution.<sup>68</sup> The WBTW logo in these emails is significant in that it appears at the top of 7 every email sent to the WBTW list. The WBTW logo has an underlying meaning and message 8 that is distinguishable from previous corporate logo circumstances that the Commission has 9 deemed to be de minimis.<sup>69</sup> Corporate logo scenarios that the Commission has deemed to be de 10 minimis involve small business where the value of the corporate name was hard to calculate,<sup>70</sup> or 11 where the use of the logo was to demonstrate the business acumen of the candidate.<sup>71</sup> In 12 contrast, Kobach’s use of the WBTW logo signaled to WBTW contributors that contributing to 13 and electing Kobach would advance WBTW’s border-security agenda. Under these

FEDERAL ELECTION COMMISSION*FACTUAL AND LEGAL ANALYSIS

RESPONDENTS: Kris Kobach MUR 7628, 7636 & _____
 Kobach for Senate and Elizabeth Curtis in her official capacity as treasurer

I. INTRODUCTION

The Complaints in these matters involve allegations that WeBuildtheWall, Inc. (“WBTW”), a 501(c)(4) non-profit organization, made a prohibited in-kind corporate contribution to Kris Kobach and Kris Kobach for Senate and Elizabeth Curtis in her official capacity as treasurer (the “Committee”) by sending an email on August 1, 2019, to the WBTW email list, displaying the WBTW logo, and soliciting contributions for the Committee, in violation of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as amended (the “Act”).<sup>1</sup> The MUR 7628 Complaint also alleges that WBTW spent funds not subject to the limits, prohibitions, and reporting requirements of the Act to disseminate the email.<sup>2</sup> The Committee denies the allegations, asserting that it rented the WBTW email list for $2,000, which they assert was the fair market value for the list, and that any other violations are the result of vendor error.<sup>3</sup>

In Pre-MUR 628, the Committee filed a sua sponte Submission regarding an additional email that was sent to the WBTW email list on July 18, 2019, soliciting contributions to the Committee without the required disclaimer.<sup>4</sup> The Committee asserts that the omitted disclaimer was the result of vendor error, the Committee discovered this earlier email while taking

“investigative and remedial action” with regard to the August 1, 2019, email, and it issued a corrected email containing a disclaimer within 24 hours of discovering the error.<sup>5</sup>

As set forth below, the Commission dismisses the disclaimer and soft money allegations. Also, the Commission finds reason to believe that the $2,000 rental for the WBTW email list was significantly below fair market value and therefore constituted an in-kind and unreported corporate contribution to the Committee. The Commission finds reason to believe that the use of the WBTW logo was an in-kind and unreported corporate contribution to the Committee.

Stockton sent emails to WBTW’s 295,000-person email list on July 18, 2019, and August 1, 2019, from the WBTW server. The July 18 email was sent from “Brian Kolfage — WeBuildTheWall, Inc. info@webuildthewall.us” and included the WBTW logo, an announcement supporting Kobach’s Senate candidacy, a solicitation for campaign contributions to Kobach’s campaign, and the email was signed by Kolfage. The Committee concedes that this email should have included a disclaimer, but did not.<sup>17</sup> The August 1, 2019, email was sent from “Kris Kobach — WeBuildTheWall, Inc. info@webuildthewall.us” and contained the WBTW logo, and a letter, signed by Kobach as general counsel for WBTW, announcing his Senate candidacy and soliciting support and contributions.<sup>18</sup>

The MUR 7628 Complaint alleges that WBTW made an in-kind corporate contribution to the Committee by sending the August 1, 2019, email to the WBTW list and failing to include a required disclaimer identifying who paid for the solicitation.<sup>19</sup> The MUR 7636 Complaint alleges that WBTW violated the corporate facilitation prohibition by using its logo and resources to send the email.<sup>20</sup> The Committee responds that it did not receive a contribution from WBTW, but instead paid for the use of WBTW's email list by reimbursing Stockton Strategies for the $2,000 list rental.<sup>21</sup> The Committee asserts that Stockton was responsible for failing to include the disclaimer and using the WBTW email server,<sup>22</sup> and Stockton admits he was at fault.<sup>23</sup> The Committee further responds that once it became aware that the emails lacked a disclaimer, it issued corrected emails containing a disclaimer.<sup>24</sup>

A. Disclaimer Allegations

The MUR 7628 Complaint alleges that the August 1, 2019, email failed to include a required disclaimer identifying who paid for the solicitation.<sup>25</sup> The Committee acknowledges that its August 1 email — as well as its July 18, 2019, email — failed to include a disclaimer.<sup>26</sup> The Act and Commission regulations require a disclaimer whenever a political committee makes a disbursement for the purpose of financing any public communication through any broadcast, cable, satellite communication, newspaper, magazine, outdoor-advertising facility, mailing, or any other type of general public political advertising.<sup>27</sup> If a communication requiring a disclaimer is paid for and authorized by a candidate, a candidate's authorized committee, or its agents, the disclaimer must clearly state that the communication was paid for by the authorized committee.<sup>28</sup>

A disclaimer was required in this case because the Committee's July 18, 2019, and August 1, 2019, emails were "electronic mail of more than 500 substantially similar communications" sent by a political committee.<sup>29</sup> Respondents do not contest the allegation that the emails required a disclaimer.<sup>30</sup> Rather, Respondents blame the error on Stockton Strategies, which they describe as a vendor.<sup>31</sup> The Commission has generally not pursued disclaimer violations that resulted from inadvertent vendor error.<sup>32</sup> In this case, Stockton Strategies appears to be a vendor and Stockton asserts in his sworn affidavit that it was his inadvertent error.<sup>33</sup> The Committee also sent corrected emails including a proper disclaimer shortly after the emails issued and before their formal notification of the MUR 7628 Complaint.<sup>34</sup> Under these circumstances, the Commission dismisses the disclaimer allegations.

B. Alleged In-Kind Contributions

The MUR 7628 Complaint alleges that the use of the WBTW email list constituted a prohibited in-kind corporate contribution. Corporations are prohibited from making a contribution to a candidate's committee, and candidates are prohibited from knowingly accepting or receiving a prohibited contribution.<sup>35</sup> A "contribution" includes "any gift, subscription, loan, advance, or deposit of money or anything of value made by any person for the purpose of influencing any election for Federal office."<sup>36</sup> "Anything of value" includes all in-kind contributions, including the provision of goods or services without charge or at a charge that is less than the usual and normal charge.<sup>37</sup> The Commission's regulations define "usual and normal charge" as "the price of those goods in the market from which they ordinarily would have been purchased at the time of the contribution."<sup>38</sup> Finally, the Act requires committee treasurers to file reports of receipts and disbursements in accordance with the provisions of 52 U.S.C. § 30104.<sup>39</sup> Political committees are required to report the name and address of each person who

1 makes a contribution aggregating more than $200 per calendar year, or per election cycle for 2 authorized committees, as well as the date, amount, and purpose of such payments.<sup>40</sup>

3 As a corporation, WBTW is prohibited from making contributions to candidates for 4 federal office. If the $2,000 list rental price is the usual and normal charge for this list, then
5 WBTW would have made no contribution to the Committee. As set forth below, the available 6 information indicates that the $2,000 list rental price was substantially below the usual and 7 normal charge for the list's rental; therefore, WBTW appears to have made, and the Committee
8 appears to have accepted, an in-kind corporate contribution, and the Committee failed to report
9 it.<sup>41</sup>

10 According to information available to the Commission, WBTW believes the market rate 11 for its email list containing 295,000 addresses was 1/10 of a cent per email per use (for six uses).
12 By contrast, the Committee states that the agreed-upon market rate was 2/3 of a cent per email
13 (with no number of uses stated).<sup>42</sup> The Committee asserts that the rate was a fair price since the

1 list did not consist of known contributors to any political campaign and had not yet been tested
2 as a fundraising list for any political campaign.<sup>43</sup>

3 The Committee’s descriptions of the list as untested and non-political are questionable in 4 light of the following facts. The list consisted of “all individuals who had made any donation, of 5 any amount, to WBTW throughout its history” including the original “GoFundMe donors,”
6 whose combined donations totaled $25 million for the border wall campaign.<sup>44</sup> Thus, the list
7 was not an untested roster of potentially interested persons, but a list of people who had actually 8 donated money for a specific cause. Further, the factual context suggests that the list is also 9 political in nature. The list use agreement between Stockton Strategies and WBTW stated that 10 the list was “to be used by Stockton Strategies in conducting fundraising on behalf of political 11 candidates who support the construction of border fencing on the United States—Mexico border
12 by the federal government.”<sup>45</sup> The email list consisted of persons whose previous donations
13 indicate an interest in the same specific political issue — border security — as the candidates on 14 whose behalf Stockton Strategies would fundraise. Moreover, Kobach had been part of WBTW

1 since its formation, the solicitation emails identified candidate Kobach as WBTW’s general
2 counsel, and it appears that Kobach was the only candidate for which Stockton used the list.

3 The WBTW list rental price appears to be significantly lower than other list rental prices
4 cited in past Commission matters.<sup>46</sup> In MUR 6110 (Obama Victory Fund and Democratic 5 National Committee), a vendor was compensated “$3,000 for . . . use of the email list, which 6 contained 20,000 email addresses, and for use . . . of the internet.”<sup>47</sup> This equals 15 cents per
7 email address in 2008, or 18 cents per email address when adjusted for inflation.<sup>48</sup> In MUR
8 6937 (NextGen Climate Action Committee), NextGen bought a political committee’s email list
9 containing 111,136 names for $177,817.60 in 2015 for a “blended rate of $1.60 per name.”<sup>49</sup>

10 The Commission has deemed transactions permissible when the price is “determined by 11 the market’s view of the value of the list.”<sup>50</sup> In previous matters, detailed factual records have 12 been provided to establish a market rate and prove that a bargained-for exchange occurred. The 13 Committee here has not made a similar showing.<sup>51</sup>

<sup>46</sup> Understanding that the Commission hasn’t necessarily determined that the following list prices necessarily represent fair market value, a survey of the cited prices still provides a point for comparison.

The Commission reiterated these considerations in numerous Advisory Opinions. A review of publicly available information regarding list rental prices reveals a wide range, depending on the nature of the list, but all of these prices were significantly higher than rate WBTW charged the Committee. According to one 2019 article in Roll Call, “Each rented name could cost in the $2 to $3 range, depending on the vendor and the parameters of the deal. Names on a smaller, more localized or issue-specific campaign could cost between $5 and $8, while names on a big national list could cost as little as 40 or 50 cents.”<sup>52</sup> One list broker, Granite Lists, markets very specific Republican lists.<sup>53</sup> One seemingly comparable example is a 35,938 person email list consisting of contributors who made at least a $15 contribution to Ron Johnson for Senate for $120 per 1,000 emails.<sup>54</sup> This equates to 12 cents per email address, which is 120 times the rate used in the WBTW list rental agreement. One of the least expensive rates in the 2020 election cycle was offered by a company called Excelsior Strategies, which was renting 1,000 email addresses of Trump supporters for $35.<sup>55</sup> Yet, this rate is still at least five times the WBTW rate. Moreover, the WBTW list rental was not for only one use, but for either six uses, or unlimited use over a six-month period, according to the list rental agreement.<sup>56</sup> Political Resources, Inc., is a list broker that displays prices for specific email lists on its website

1 in the range of $90-$110 per 1,000 email addresses, which is 90-110 times the WBTW rate.<sup>57</sup>
 2 Based on the highly targeted nature of the WBTW list, it is doubtful that the list would have a
 3 market value 35 to 90 times lower than the low range of the current rates for list rentals. The
 4 WBTW list is much more comparable to the Ron Johnson list from Granite lists, which was 5 listed for 120 times the rental rate of the WBTW list. According to the Roll Call article, an 6 issue-specific campaign could be charging five to eight dollars per name.<sup>58</sup> Using these rates,
 7 the WBTW list would have a one-time rental market rate of at least $70,000. Given this 8 information, the $2,000 list price appears to be significantly lower than any comparable market
 9 rate.

10 In addition, the presence of Kobach and Stockton on both sides of the transaction raises
 11 further questions about its commercial reasonableness. The Committee initially indicated that 12 Kobach “did not participate” in the decision to rent WBTW’s email list to Stockton Strategies,
 13 although the Committee asserts that Kobach drafted the agreement in his capacity as WBTW’s
 14 general counsel.<sup>59</sup> Subsequently, the Committee indicated Kobach “was asked his opinion
 15 concerning the list rental price,” and Kobach “agreed that $2,000 was within the market range
 16 and was appropriate, given the untested nature of the non-political list.”<sup>60</sup> Ultimately, Kobach
 17 received the rented email list for that price, as the Committee was the only entity that used the list, and the Committee reimbursed Stockton Strategies for the entire rental price.<sup>61</sup> Further, Stockton was a director of WBTW and the President of Stockton Strategies, which was retained by both WBTW and the Committee, and Stockton was involved on both sides of the transaction.

Additional factors cast doubt on the commercial reasonableness of the list rental agreement. Although Respondents have provided copies of the July 10 agreement between WBTW and Stockton Strategies and the July 15 agreement between Stockton Strategies and the Committee, the agreements are unsigned.<sup>62</sup> The Committee responds that although it never signed the agreement, it was the intention of the parties for the agreements to be binding.<sup>63</sup> Further, Respondents could not provide any dated documented communications regarding the list rental agreement; they state that all such communication were oral.<sup>64</sup>

In summary, the available information indicates that the $2,000 rental price was significantly below market rate, the Committee has been unable to articulate how the rate was determined, and WBTW and Kobach were on both sides of the rental transaction. Therefore, the Commission finds reason to believe Kobach and the Committee knowingly received an in-kind corporate contribution from WBTW, and the Committee failed to report it.

The sua sponte Submission also included copies of the earlier July 18, 2019, email, as well as both “correction” emails showing that each email included the WBTW logo.<sup>66</sup> The Commission has previously determined that a corporation’s name, trade name, trademarks, and service marks are things of value owned by the corporation, and that allowing a committee to use them in a manner suggesting the corporation’s support or endorsement of a candidate may constitute an in-kind contribution.<sup>67</sup> The WBTW logo in these emails is significant in that it appears at the top of every email sent to the WBTW list. The WBTW logo has an underlying meaning and message that is distinguishable from previous corporate logo circumstances that the Commission has deemed to be de minimis.<sup>68</sup> Corporate logo scenarios that the Commission has deemed to be de minimis involve small business where the value of the corporate name was hard to calculate,<sup>69</sup> or where the use of the logo was to demonstrate the business acumen of the candidate.<sup>70</sup> In contrast, Kobach’s use of the WBTW logo signaled to WBTW contributors that contributing to and electing Kobach would advance WBTW’s border-security agenda. circumstances, the WBTW corporate logo had substantial value.<sup>71</sup> Therefore, the Commission finds reason to believe that the Committee received, an in-kind corporate contribution through the use of the WBTW logo and failed to report it.

The Act prohibits federal candidates, their agents, and entities that are directly or indirectly established, financed, maintained, or controlled by or acting on behalf of federal candidates and officeholders, from soliciting, receiving, directing, transferring, or spending funds in connection with a federal election “unless the funds are subject to the limitations, prohibitions, and reporting requirements of th[e] Act.”<sup>72</sup> Funds not subject to the limitations, prohibitions, and reporting requirements of the Act are colloquially referred to as “soft money.”

The MUR 7628 Complaint alleges that Kobach, through his agent WBTW, spent soft money raised by WBTW. Complainant’s allegation is premised on WBTW spending soft money to disseminate the August 1, 2019 fundraising email. As discussed above, the Commission analyzes the allegations regarding the use of WBTW’s email list under 52 U.S.C. § 30118 and finds reason to believe Kobach and the Committee received impermissible in-kind corporate contributions from WBTW in connection with the use of the email list. The Commission dismisses as a matter of prosecutorial discretion the allegation that Respondents violated 52 U.S.C. § 30125(e)(1)(A).<sup>73</sup>

<sup>71</sup> See Advisory Opinion 2007-10 at 2 (Reyes) (recognizing an individual contributor’s corporate employer by displaying the corporate logo at each hole at a gold fundraiser would be a violation of the Act).
