RE: Violation of Federal Election Laws. No disclaimer on a mailing advocating for one candidate or against another.

Dear Sirs:

This mailer is related to the Republican Primary for Virginia's 2nd Congressional District and concerns if a candidate is pro-life or not:

The piece advocates for one candidate, Mr. Jarome Bell. There no disclaimer on the piece as required by federal law.

The piece also advocates against one candidate, Sen. Jen Kiggans and a disclaimer is also required.

I do not believe Mr. Bell's campaign is the source of this mailer but I have no direct proof. In the upper left-hand corner of the mailer on the side containing the mailing address is a small logo. The logo is very small but says, "Allied Printing Trade Council, Union Label, Washington." I believe that the company that printed and mailed the document was Mt. Vernon Printing. I do not know who paid for this document.

My home address is [REDACTED] Virginia Beach, VA 23456. My phone number is [REDACTED]
 [REDACTED] My E-mail is [REDACTED]

Sincerely

 Dennis E. Free

Which candidate shares your values?

JAROME BELL

100% Pro-Life

Believes life begins at conception without exception, supports defunding Planned Parenthood, and will fight to restrict abortion at every opportunity.¹

JEN KIGGANS

Criticized by pro-life leaders

Voted for the Equal Rights Amendment, which pro-life groups say could "lead to unrestricted abortions" and removed language promising to fight "infanticide" from her website.²
