I INTRODUCTION

35 The Reports Analysis Division (“RAD”) referred John James for Senate, Inc. and Bradley
36 T. Crate in his official capacity as treasurer (the “Committee”) to the Office of General Counsel
37 (“OGC”) for knowingly accepting excessive and prohibited 2020 primary and general election
38 contributions, totaling $587,406.72, in violation of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971,

1 as amended (the “Act”).¹ According to the Referral, the Committee untimely refunded all of the 2 excessive and prohibited contributions within between 62 and 1,293 days of receipt.² The
3 Committee does not dispute the untimely refunds and attributes their lateness to “a historic 4 anomaly that is unlikely to repeat itself[,]” due to direct mail delays during the COVID-19
5 pandemic and further notes the late refunds only make up a small percentage of the total
6 contributions received.³ In consideration of these reasons and because the contributions have 7 been refunded, the Committee asks the Commission to dismiss the matter.⁴

8 For the reasons discussed below, we recommend that the Commission open a matter
9 under review (“MUR”), find reason to believe that the Committee violated 52 U.S.C. § 30116(f)
10 and 11 C.F.R. § 110.9 by knowingly accepting excessive contributions and 52 U.S.C. § 30118(a)
11 and 11 C.F.R. § 114.2(d) by knowingly accepting corporate contributions, authorize pre-probable
12 cause conciliation with the Committee, [REDACTED]

2 The Committee is an authorized committee and the principal campaign committee for 3 John James, a candidate in the 2020 election for the U.S. Senate in Michigan.⁵ The Committee's 4 treasurer is Bradley T. Crate.⁶ According to the Referral, the Committee failed to timely refund
 5 $587,406.72 in excessive and prohibited contributions received during the 2020 election cycle.⁷
 6 The Referral describes $578,306.72 in excessive contributions and $9,100 in prohibited

1 contributions cited in the RFAs (there were no reattributions or redesignations).¹⁴ On the same
2 day, the Committee filed an additional FEC Form 99 summarizing the refunds.¹⁵

3 The Committee acknowledges accepting the excessive and prohibited contributions and 4 that its refunds were not timely, but requests a dismissal on the basis of an “historic anomaly that 5 is unlikely to repeat itself[,]” due to the delay of direct mail during the COVID-19 pandemic and 6 because all of the contributions in question have been refunded.¹⁶ The Committee states that it
7 received a large proportion of contributions via direct mail but the postal service was hampered
8 by the COVID-19 pandemic, delaying its time for recording the contributions.¹⁷ The Committee 9 further states that it attempted to refund excessive contributions as quickly as possible under the 10 circumstances, and also points out that the late refunds made up only a small portion of overall
11 contributions (1.21%).¹⁸ Lastly, the Committee provides that it has replaced its volunteer 12 treasurer with a professional from Red Curve Solutions, a campaign management service, and 13 updated contact information to clarify communication with FEC staff.¹⁹

¹⁴ The Committee filed an Amended 2020 October Quarterly report on May 30, 2023, itemizing an additional excessive contribution refund that was previously included in the unitemized total. Referral at 5.

1 III. LEGAL ANALYSIS

2 During the 2020 election cycle, the Act and Commission regulations limited an 3 authorized committee to accepting a total of $2,800 per election from any individual.²⁰ The Act
 4 also prohibits corporations from making contributions to federal candidates, and likewise bars 5 candidates and political committees (other than independent expenditure-only political 6 committees and committees with hybrid accounts) from knowingly accepting or receiving 7 corporate contributions.²¹ Commission regulations allow receipt of contributions from LLCs
 8 provided the LLC is treated as a partnership for tax purposes and has not elected to be treated as 9 a corporation by the Internal Revenue Service.²² LLCs that claim corporate status or those that 10 are publicly traded are treated as corporations for purposes of the Act.²³

11 A committee's treasurer is responsible for examining all contributions received for 12 evidence of illegality and for ascertaining whether contributions received, when aggregated with 13 other contributions from the same contributor, exceed the Act's contribution limits.²⁴
 14 Contributions that present genuine questions as to whether they were made by a corporation
 15 may, within ten days of receipt, be either deposited or refunded.²⁵ If deposited, the treasurer

1 must make their best efforts to determine the legality of the contribution.²⁶ If the legality of the 2 contribution cannot be determined, the treasurer shall, within 30 days, refund the contribution.²⁷

3 Contributions which on their face exceed the contribution limits, and contributions which 4 do not appear on their face to exceed the contribution limits but exceed contribution limits when
 5 aggregated with other contributions, and which cannot be accepted under the net debts
 6 outstanding provisions, may be returned to the contributor or deposited.²⁸ If deposited, excessive
 7 contributions must be: (1) redesignated in accordance with 11 C.F.R. §§ 110.1(b)(5) or 8 110.2(b)(5); (2) reattributed in accordance with 11 C.F.R. § 110.1(k)(3); or (3) refunded within 9 60 days of the date that the committee has actual notice of the need to refund, redesignate or
 10 reattribute the contributions.²⁹

11 As an authorized committee, the Committee was limited to accepting $2,800 per election
 12 from individuals and was prohibited from accepting any corporate contribution. The Committee,
 13 however, received $578,306.72 in excessive contributions and $9,100.00 in prohibited corporate
 14 contributions across five disclosure reports: the 2020 April Quarterly Report, 2020 July 15 Quarterly, 2020 October Quarterly, 2020 12-Day Pre-General, and the 2020 30-Day Post-
 16 General Reports.³⁰ Although the Committee ultimately refunded the $578,306.72 in excessive 17 contributions that it received, it did not do so until between 76 and 1293 days after receipt,
 18 beyond the 60-day period set forth in the regulations.³¹ Similarly, although the Committee

1 refunded the $9,100.00 in corporate contributions that it received, it did not do so until between

2 62 and 242 days after receipt, outside the 30-day period set forth in the regulations.³²

3 The Committee does not dispute its failure to make timely refunds but asserts that

4 because all contributions have been remedied, the Referral should be dismissed.³³ Additionally,

5 the Committee asserts that despite, as its claims, delays in receiving notification of contributions

6 in need of refunds due to the slow delivery of direct mail during the COVID-19 pandemic, it

7 acted diligently to ensure compliance and notes the late-refunds only made up a small portion of

9 The Reports Analysis Division (“RAD”) referred John James for Senate, Inc. and Bradley
10 T. Crate in his official capacity as treasurer (the “Committee”) to the Office of General Counsel
11 (“OGC”) for knowingly accepting excessive and prohibited 2020 primary and general election
12 contributions, totaling $587,406.72, in violation of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as 13 amended (the “Act”).¹ According to the Referral, the Committee untimely refunded all of the 14 excessive and prohibited contributions within between 62 and 1,293 days of receipt.² The 15 Committee does not dispute the untimely refunds and attributes their lateness to “a historic

17 pandemic and further notes the late refunds only make up a small percentage of the total
18 contributions received.³ In consideration of these reasons and because the contributions have

1 their best efforts to determine the legality of the contribution.²⁶ If the legality of the contribution
 2 cannot be determined, the treasurer shall, within 30 days, refund the contribution.²⁷

3 Contributions which on their face exceed the contribution limits, and contributions which 4 do not appear on their face to exceed the contribution limits but exceed contribution limits when
 5 aggregated with other contributions, and which cannot be accepted under the net debts
 6 outstanding provisions, may be returned to the contributor or deposited.²⁸ If deposited, excessive
 7 contributions must be: (1) redesignated in accordance with 11 C.F.R. §§ 110.1(b)(5) or
 8 110.2(b)(5); (2) reattributed in accordance with 11 C.F.R. § 110.1(k)(3); or (3) refunded within 60
 9 days of the date that the committee has actual notice of the need to refund, redesignate or
 10 reattribute the contributions.²⁹

11 As an authorized committee, the Committee was limited to accepting $2,800 per election
 12 from individuals and was prohibited from accepting any corporate contribution. The Committee,
 13 however, received $578,306.72 in excessive contributions and $9,100.00 in prohibited corporate
 14 contributions across five disclosure reports: the 2020 April Quarterly, 2020 July Quarterly, 2020
 15 October Quarterly, 2020 12-Day Pre-General, and 2020 30-Day Post-General Reports.³⁰
 16 Although the Committee ultimately refunded the $578,306.72 in excessive contributions that it
 17 received, it did not do so until between 76 and 1293 days after receipt, beyond the 60-day period

1 set forth in the regulations.³¹ Similarly, although the Committee refunded the $9,100.00 in 2 corporate contributions that it received, it did not do so until between 62 and 242 days after 3 receipt, outside the 30-day period set forth in the regulations.³²

4 The Committee does not dispute its failure to make timely refunds but asserts that because 5 all contributions have been remedied, the Referral should be dismissed.³³ Additionally, the 6 Committee asserts that despite, as its claims, delays in receiving notification of contributions in 7 need of refunds due to the slow delivery of direct mail during the COVID-19 pandemic, it acted 8 diligently to ensure compliance and notes the late-refunds only made up a small portion of overall 9 contributions.³⁴

10 Therefore, the Commission finds reason to believe that John James for Senate, Inc. and 11 Bradley T. Crate in his official capacity as treasurer violated 52 U.S.C. §§ 30116(f) and 30118(a)
12 and 11 C.F.R. §§ 110.9 and 114.2(d) by knowingly accepting excessive and prohibited corporate 13 contributions.
