FEC / OIG Strategic Plan – Fiscal Years 2010 - 2015

FEDERAL ELECTION COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, D.C. 20463

Office of Inspector General

A Message from the Inspector General

I am pleased to present to the Commission the Office of Inspector General's (OIG) fiscal year (FY) 2014 Annual Work Plan. This work plan includes a description of audit, inspections, investigative and special projects planned for FY 2014. The plan also sets forth the OIG's formal strategy for identifying priority issues and managing its workload and resources for FY 2014. Successful execution of this plan will enable the OIG to provide the highest quality work products to our stakeholders and to assist the FEC in meeting its strategic mission, goals and objectives.

The OIG substantially completed the work planned for FY 2013 in the audit and investigative programs, as well as special projects; some of the assignments are in process spanning fiscal years 2013 and 2014. Among the audits completed in FY 2013 were the Audit of the FEC's Fiscal Year 2012 Financial Statements, and the Audit of the FEC's Office of Human Resources. In addition to these audits, the OIG also contracted with an independent public accounting firm to conduct an inspection of the FEC's disaster recovery plan and continuity of operations plans. These audits and the inspection yielded numerous recommendations improve FEC operations. The OIG also devoted resources this past FY to audit follow-up with the goal of closing outstanding Inspector General recommendations.

In addition to the accomplishments in the audit program, the investigative program accomplished much of the work planned for 2013, to include responding to hotline complaints, OIG briefings to new employees, oversight of the OIG's hotline service, among other projects. In 2013, my office also voluntarily participated in a relatively new program to have the office's investigative program peer reviewed. The peer review is an independent assessment of the effectiveness of the office's investigative program and is conducted by another OIG. The review provides reasonable assurance on whether the office is adhering to applicable investigative standards and policies. I am pleased to report that in late September 2013 my office received a "compliant" peer review rating, also known as an unqualified clean opinion, from the Securities and Exchange Commission OIG.

In addition to the investigative program, the OIG staff was actively involved in several professional working groups during the FY, to include the Council of the Inspectors General on Integrity and Efficiency (CIGIE) Professional Development Committee, the Inspector General (IG) Candidate Recommendations Panel Committee, the IG Council of Counsels, among others. I also assumed the role of Vice Chair of CIGIE starting in fiscal year 2013. At the start of FY 2014, the OIG is fully staffed with six professional staff members, and therefore, I anticipate the OIG will successfully complete the FY 2014 work plan that follows.

The U.S. Federal Election Commission's (FEC) mission statement is "to prevent corruption in the Federal campaign process by administering, enforcing and formulating policy with respect to Federal campaign finance statutes." The OIG is committed to ensuring the integrity of FEC programs and operations. The development and continual updating of the OIG's work plan is a critical aspect of accomplishing the OIG's objectives to promote economy and efficiency in FEC programs and to detect and prevent fraud, waste and abuse. Effective work planning ensures that audit and investigative resources are used effectively and efficiently. I look forward to a successful year of providing the highest quality of audit and investigative support and service to our stakeholders.

The Federal Election Commission

In 1975, Congress created the Federal Election Commission (FEC) to administer and enforce the Federal Election Campaign Act (FECA). The duties of the FEC, an independent regulatory agency, are to disclose campaign finance information; enforce the provisions of the law; and oversee the public funding of Presidential elections.

The Commission is made up of six members, who are appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate. Each member serves a six-year term, and two seats are subject to appointment every two years. By law, no more than three Commissioners can be members of the same political party, and at least four votes are required for any official Commission action. The Chairmanship of the Commission rotates among the members each year, with no member serving as Chairman more than once during his or her term. Currently the FEC has four sitting Commissioners – Chair Ellen L. Weintraub; and Commissioners Caroline C. Hunter, Matthew S. Petersen and Steven T. Walther. On September 23, 2013, the U.S. Senate confirmed two new members to the Commission, Ann Ravel and Lee Goodman. As a result, the agency will soon have a full-compliment of six Commissioners serving on the Commission.

Office of Inspector General

The Inspector General Act of 1978 (P.L. 100-504), as amended, states that the Inspector General is responsible for: 1) conducting and supervising audits and investigations relating to the Federal Election Commission's programs and operations; 2) detecting and preventing fraud, waste, and abuse of agency programs and operations while providing leadership and coordination; 3) recommending policies designed to promote economy, efficiency, and effectiveness of the establishment; and 4) keeping the Commission and Congress fully and currently informed about problems and deficiencies in FEC agency programs and operations, and the need for corrective action. The OIG budget request for FY 2014 was $ 1,110,500, an amount necessary to cover salaries and related expenses for six staff members, to include audit contracts and training. Exhibit 1 on the following page contains the OIG's organizational chart.

OIG Strategic Planning

Strategic Plan

To enhance the effectiveness of the OIG and to ensure effective audit and investigative coverage of the Commission's programs and operations, the OIG has a strategic plan that covers the period 2010 through 2015. Three major categories of OIG-wide goals and objectives are included in the strategic plan, which are as follows:

- OIG Products: To provide products and services that promotes positive change in FEC policies, programs, and operations.
- OIG Processes: To develop and implement processes, policies, and procedures to ensure the most effective and appropriate use of OIG resources in support of our people and products.
- OIG Staff: To maintain a skilled and motivated work force in an environment that fosters accountability, communications, teamwork, and personal and professional growth.

In addition, strategies and performance measures for each objective are included in the strategic plan. For example, an OIG performance measure for audits includes using feedback from stakeholder surveys to continually improve the OIG's audit process. At the conclusion of each audit/inspection/review, the OIG distributes a stakeholder survey to the program officials to solicit their feedback on the usefulness of the completed OIG assignment and their overall satisfaction with the process.

The OIG strategic plan will continue to evolve and will be reviewed and updated as necessary to ensure maximum effectiveness in meeting the changing needs of the FEC, consistent with the OIG's statutory responsibilities. A detailed illustrative version of the OIG's strategic plan can be found as an attachment of this annual work plan.

Annual Planning and Methodology Strategies

The planning methodology adopted by the OIG is based on a formal risk assessment process. The purpose of the risk assessment process is to better align OIG resources to areas that will provide the most value to the FEC. A risk assessment is a process to identify, assess, respond to, and report on opportunities and threats that affect the achievement of objectives. The OIG also solicits feedback and ideas from stakeholders throughout the year. The annual work plan will, of course, require periodic updates to reflect changes, such as new priorities, as well as any changes in OIG resources.

In the summer of 2013, the OIG conducted our annual planning process that involved a series of OIG planning meetings to discuss the upcoming fiscal year and OIG work assignments. In addition to planning based on risk, the OIG planning process is also designed to yield work assignments that will identify opportunities for economy, efficiency and effectiveness in FEC programs and operations; and detect and prevent fraud, waste, abuse and mismanagement. The priority for conducting work assignments is based on (1) mandatory legislative requirements; (2) emphasis by the President, Congress, and the Commission; (3) a program's susceptibility to fraud, manipulation, or other irregularities; (4) dollar magnitude or resources involved in the proposed area; (5) management needs identified through consultation with primary organization heads; (6) newness, changed conditions, or sensitivity of an organization; (7) the extent of outstanding issues resulting from prior audit coverage or review by the OIG or other oversight body; and (8) the adequacy of internal control systems in place for the program or other factors.

Based on the results of the OIG's planning process, the OIG's annual work plan is divided into three primary categories:

- (1) Audits/Inspections/Reviews;
- (2) Investigative Program; and
- (3) Special Projects.

OIG 2014 Work Plan

AUDITS/INSPECTIONS/REVIEWS

The term "audit" is used to describe work performed by auditors in examining financial statements, as well as work performed in reviewing compliance with applicable laws and regulations, the economy and efficiency of operations, and the effectiveness in achieving program results. These audits are prepared in accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards and vary in scope and complexity. Inspections and reviews are conducted in accordance with quality standards issued by the federal Inspector General community.

For fiscal year 2014, the following assignments are planned:

1. Audit of the Federal Election Commission's 2013 and 2014 Financial Statements.

In accordance with the Accountability of Tax Dollars Act of 2002, the FEC is required to prepare annual financial statements in accordance with Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular No. A-136, Financial Reporting Requirements. The Chief Financial Officers Act of 1990, as amended, requires the FEC Inspector General, or an independent external auditor selected by the IG, to audit the agency financial statements.

We will oversee the fiscal year 2013 audit conducted by the OIG's independent public accounting firm Leon Snead & Company. The OIG is responsible for 1) reviewing the auditor's approach and planning of the audit; 2) evaluating the qualifications and independence of the auditors; 3) monitoring the work of the auditors; 4) examining audit documents and reports to ensure compliance with government auditing standards, and OMB Bulletin No. 07-04, Audit Requirements for Federal Financial Statements, as revised; and 5) other procedures the OIG deems necessary to oversee the contract and audit.

The OIG's contract with Leon Snead & Company ends at the completion of the FY 2013 audit. Therefore, the OIG will devote resources in late calendar year 2013 to solicit and review bids to award a new audit contract for future years.

*Planned period of audit: May 2013 – November 2013;
May 2014 – November 2014.*

2. Audit of the Federal Election Commission's Civil Penalties Program.

The OIG will conduct an audit of the FEC's Civil Penalties Program. The Federal Election Campaign Act (FECA) of 1971, as amended, created the FEC, and also established civil penalties for violations of FECA and other statutes within the Commission's jurisdiction. The OIG audit objectives will determine whether the program is being administered by the agency in accordance with federal law, regulations, and FEC policies and procedures. The OIG will also assess the internal controls over the program and provide recommendations to management, if warranted.

Planned period of audit: April – July 2014.

3. On-Going Audit Follow-up.

An important responsibility of the OIG is to follow-up on previously issued audit reports with outstanding audit recommendations. At the beginning of FY 2014, there were numerous outstanding recommendations representing five audits and two inspections. On-going audit follow-up during FY 2014 will consist of the following responsibilities: (1) review implemented audit recommendations to ensure the audit finding has been resolved; (2) review and comment on management's corrective action plans that detail plans for resolving outstanding audit recommendations; and (3) conduct regular meetings throughout the FY with management to discuss progress to implement audit recommendations.

Planned period of audit followup: On-going throughout FY 2014.

4. Audit Peer Review.

The OIG will be peer reviewed by another OIG during FY 2014 as part of the Council of Inspectors General on Integrity and Efficiency's audit peer review program. Government auditing standards require audit organizations to have an external review of their quality control system at least every three years.

Planned period of audit peer review: First half of fiscal year 2014.

5. Limited Scope Inspections.

The OIG is planning to conduct two to four limited scope, or short-term, inspections of FEC programs during FY 2014. The goal of the short-term inspections will be to focus OIG resources on high-risk areas and provide rapid, up-to-date information to FEC management and the Commission on the efficiency and effectiveness of FEC programs.

- An inspection related to the Office of Equal Employment Opportunity was started in a prior period and is expected to be completed by March 2014.
- Planning for an inspection on the FEC's compliance with the Federal Managers' Financial Integrity Act (FMFIA) has begun and the inspection is planned for the first quarter of fiscal year 2014.
- Another inspection is planned for the first half of FY 2014 on the financial management services received by the FEC from the General Services Administration line of business.
- Additional inspections on the FEC's off-site records storage, travel/purchase cards, and information technology security may be performed, time permitting.

6. Additional Work Assignments.

Additional work assignments may be undertaken during FY 2014 based on available OIG resources, benefit to the agency, and other relevant factors. Priorities may be adjusted to reflect emerging issues during the FY.

INVESTIGATIVE PROGRAM

The OIG's investigative program is intended to add value to the agency's programs and operations by identifying and investigating allegations of fraud, waste, abuse and misconduct leading to criminal, civil, and administrative penalties and recoveries. Investigations typically originate as hotline complaints and may result in formal investigations if the OIG believes an investigation is warranted. The OIG's investigative program also provides for initiatives designed to monitor specific high-risk areas within FEC programs and operations in order to proactively identify vulnerabilities in order to prevent fraud, waste and abuse.

For fiscal year 2014, the following investigative assignments are planned:

1. Manage Hotline Complaints and Investigation Caseload.

The OIG will respond to hotline complaints during the FY and report in a timely manner to the appropriate officials on the resolution of hotline complaints and investigations.

2. Proactive Investigative Initiatives.

The OIG will initiate proactive reviews involving high-dollar and high-risk programs and operations of the agency. In addition, the OIG has identified several agency data systems, such as financial related systems, and will continue to pursue direct read-access for OIG personnel as part of the OIG's proactive initiatives to prevent fraud, waste, abuse and misconduct.

3. Outreach.

In FY 2011, the OIG conducted a series of OIG briefings with FEC division management and staff. The briefings were intended to educate FEC staff about the mission and authority of the OIG, and how to report fraud, waste, abuse or mismanagement to the OIG. The OIG plans to provide fraud briefings to contractor personnel in FY 2014. Discussion and education on fraud will help contractors to identify and report suspected fraud and help reduce the number of fraud cases. The briefings will also discuss the OIG's hotline service and how contract personnel can report fraud, waste and abuse to the OIG.

In addition, the OIG will continue the new employee orientation program to meet with all new employees to discuss the purpose and mission of the OIG. Lastly, the OIG will review and revise, as necessary, the OIG's FECNet (intranet) site, public Web site, OIG brochure, fraud poster, and other outreach initiatives.

SPECIAL PROJECTS

In addition to the OIG's audit and investigative responsibilities, the OIG will be responsible for numerous additional projects and activities during FY 2014. For example, as required by the Inspector General Act of 1978, as amended, all legislation compiled by the Commission's Congressional Affairs Office is reviewed by the Inspector General. The Inspector General and staff also participate in several federal Inspectors General community working groups on topics related to law, audits, and investigations. All of these activities contribute to the success and mission of the OIG. Additional special projects will arise throughout the FY and the OIG will prioritize our workload to respond to the additional requirements.

For fiscal year 2014, the following are examples of the special projects and activities planned by the OIG:

1. Participate and Attend Professional Working Group and Other Meetings.

The Inspector General or OIG staff will regularly attend the following Council of the Inspectors General on Integrity and Efficiency (CIGIE) professional working group meetings: monthly CIGIE meetings; Executive Council of CIGIE; CIGIE Professional Development Committee; IG Candidate Recommendations Panel Committee; IG Council of Counsels; Assistant Inspector General for Investigations; Federal Audit Executive Council; and Financial Statement Audit Network Group.

In addition to CIGIE professional working group meetings, the Inspector General or staff will regularly attend FEC director level meetings, and management and FEC town-hall meetings during the FY.

2. Semiannual and Quarterly Reporting.

In accordance with the Inspector General Act of 1978, as amended, the OIG will prepare and transmit to the Congress semiannual reports on the activities of the OIG. Semiannual reports summarize OIG activities during the immediately preceding six-month periods ending March 31st and September 30th of each year. OIG semiannual reports are also provided to the Commission. The OIG will also report on a quarterly basis to the Commission on the activities of the office.

3. Professional Development and Training.

The goal of the OIG's training program is to provide cost effective training to increase professional knowledge and proficiency, and ensure staff meet continuing professional educational requirements. As a result, the OIG staff will attend professional training during the fiscal year to maintain and improve their knowledge, skills and abilities.
