

FEC Operations

April 15, 2021

The Federal Election Commission offices remain closed to visitors and most of the agency's employees continue to telework in an effort to limit the spread of coronavirus (COVID-19).

At this time, the FEC will continue processing mail delivered via USPS, UPS, DHL, and FedEx (collectively, "mail"). The agency will not accept or process any documents or correspondence delivered by courier. Incoming mail, including non-electronically filed reports, advisory opinion requests, enforcement complaints, and court-case documents, will typically be processed on a weekly basis. Outgoing mail will be processed on a similar schedule. The effects of these delays are addressed below. Please note that some FEC offices may continue to not have access to mail at this time. However, all FEC staff have access to phone and email. Additionally, the FEC's website, web-based programs, and electronic filing systems are all still online.

If you have pending or new business before the FEC, please contact staff electronically or by telephone. Please visit our Contact page for details. Please review the following information to determine the specific impact to FEC services and operations.

Campaign Finance Reports

Filers should consult the dates and deadlines web page for the latest updates on reporting dates and deadlines associated with 2021 runoff and special elections. In the event states set dates for runoff or special elections in 2021 and then change those dates due to developments in the COVID-19 pandemic, filers should check back with that web page for updated filing dates and deadlines.

The Commission continues to receive, review and make available to the public campaign finance reports filed electronically. Those filings comprise approximately 94% of the reports filed with the FEC, and electronic filing is mandatory for all filers who receive contributions or make expenditures that exceed $50,000 in a calendar year, or have reason to expect to do so.

The Commission will continue to process campaign finance reports filed by mail, though processing will not occur on a daily basis until the agency resumes normal mail operations. As a result, paper filers may continue to receive non-filer letters. Nevertheless, filers should continue to file their reports on time. Reports sent by registered mail, overnight delivery, or certified mail, are considered filed with the FEC as of the date of the postmark. Reports submitted by first-class mail will be considered filed when actually received by Commission staff, subject to delays resulting from the agency's limited mail processing. The Commission will not be able to receive or process reports filed by courier service during this time. The FEC does not have statutory authority to extend filing deadlines, but it may choose not to pursue administrative fines against filers prevented from filing by reasonably unforeseen circumstances beyond their control. See 11 CFR 111.35. Please note that Reports Analysis Division (RAD) will continue to email all Requests for Additional Information (RFAs) to ensure timely delivery. We encourage filers to submit an amended Statement of Organization (Form 1) with an updated email address, if needed.

Enforcement Complaints

Complaints alleging a violation of any statute or regulation within the Commission's jurisdiction must be filed in writing, with the contents sworn to and signed in the presence of a notary. Complaints must be sent to the General Counsel at the FEC's street address. During this time, FEC staff will be able to receive complaints sent by mail, but not on a daily basis. Staff will not receive complaints sent by courier service. To avoid potential mail processing delays, the Commission continues to ask that, if you file a complaint by mail you also send an electronic copy of the complaint to EnfComplaint@fec.gov. The FEC encourages the use of electronic signatures on, and electronic notarizations of, such electronically submitted complaints from states in which electronic notarization is available. Electronically submitted copies of complaints that otherwise appear to be in order will be deemed received on the date the copy was electronically received by staff. Complaints filed only by mail will be deemed received when actually received by OGC staff, subject to possible mail processing delays.

Other Enforcement Materials

You may continue to submit other enforcement materials to the FEC, such as responses or discovery materials, electronically at cela@fec.gov, or to the staff attorney assigned to the matter, as applicable. Enforcement-related materials submitted only by mail will be deemed received when actually received by OGC staff, subject to possible delays due to the intermittent processing of mail. At that time, agency staff will determine if any adjustments to deadlines are necessary or warranted.

Requests for Legal Consideration

If you have received a request for corrective action from the Reports Analysis Division or the Audit Division, you may continue to request the Commission's consideration of legal questions. See Policy Statement Regarding a Program for Requesting Consideration of Legal Questions by the Commission, 84 FR 36,602 (July 29, 2019). You are encouraged to submit such requests electronically, to LegalRequestProgram@fec.gov, to ensure timely receipt while the FEC is unable to process mail. Any requests for legal consideration that are submitted by mail only will be considered to have been received by the Commission Secretary within 24 hours after the agency resumes normal mail operations.

Advisory Opinion Requests

You may continue to seek advisory opinions from the Commission. Advisory opinion requests must be submitted in writing. At this time OGC staff will not be able to access or process AORs sent by mail on a daily basis, and courier service will not be accepted until the agency resumes normal mail operations. To avoid potential delays, requestors should send electronic copies of their AORs to ao@fec.gov. Any AOR sent by email will be considered received on the date staff receives the electronic copy. AORs submitted by mail only may experience delay and will be considered received by the Office of General Counsel when actually received by OGC staff.

Litigation Documents

For documents connected to court cases that may be served through mail or delivery services, the serving party is asked to send a courtesy copy to ecf.notices@fec.gov to facilitate the litigation.

Office of Inspector General

The FEC OIG is processing mail on an intermittent basis, and strongly encourages you to file all inquiries and/or complaints through the FEC OIG Hotline Portal. Please visit the FEC OIG webpage to learn more about the OIG mission and how best to contact the OIG.

Other Business

If you submit other materials to the FEC, you may wish to submit these materials electronically to ensure agency staff can access your submission and to avoid potential delays in mail processing. When the FEC resumes normal mail operations, agency staff will determine if any adjustments to deadlines are necessary or warranted. General inquiries may be sent to info@fec.gov; email addresses for specific inquiries are available at <https://www.fec.gov/contact/>.
