FEC RELEASES INFORMATION ON 1987 PRESIDENTIAL SPENDING

WASHINGTON -- Eighteen presidential candidates raised $103.5 million and spent $91.6 million in 1987. Nearly $6 million of this amount was raised and spent by three candidates who have already withdrawn from the race.

The Federal Election Commission today released pre-election year summary figures for the 1988 presidential campaigns. The summary includes all campaigns which have been declared eligible to receive federal matching funds, as well as other campaigns which had significant financial activity in 1987.

In 1983, ten major party candidates had raised $30 million and spent $27 million. Of course, the fact that there is no incumbent running in 1988, is a factor which would impact on any attempt to compare finances for the 1988 presidential race and any prior presidential election cycles.

FEC figures on the following pages have been adjusted for contribution refunds, loan repayments and offsets to operating expenditures, affording the reader a more realistic look at monies raised and spent. A table is provided with comparable figures for the 1983-84 race.

State spending by each campaign is provided, along with maps to graphically depict the variations and/or spending patterns.

A new set of graphs has been included to show the receipts of each campaign, by source, for each reporting period in 1987.

PAUL SIMON

The preceding tables and maps represent state-by-state expenditures as reported by the 1988 Presidential campaigns. Before attempting to draw any conclusions about either state-by-state spending, or any campaign's financial activity, it is important to consider the following:

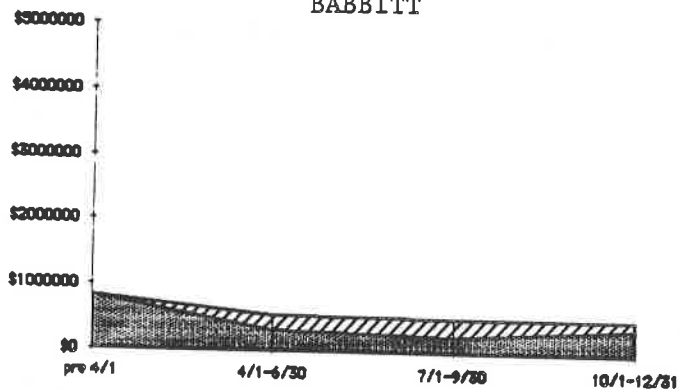

- The figures presented must be considered preliminary, since reports to the FEC are often amended due to omissions, errors, and/or changes in the data over time.
- Data for different campaigns may not be comparable. Although FEC regulations require state-by-state allocation of money spent for media, staff, equipment, etc., each campaign employs its own method for determining the distribution of those expenses. Certain expenditures may not be allocated to any state, since they more closely relate to the campaign's "national" effort.
