FEC RELEASES 15-MONTH CONGRESSIONAL ELECTION FIGURES Financial Activity Records Moderate Increase

WASHINGTON -- Candidates for 1990 U.S. Senate and House seats have raised more than $192 million, spent $127 million, and have remaining campaign war chests of over $138 million, according to a Federal Election Commission report issued today. The compilation was based on the financial activity of 1,269 congressional campaigns.

The FEC report covers activity from January 1, 1989, through March 31, 1990, and shows campaign receipts for the 1990 races climbed seven percent, or $12.6 million, while spending increased 12 percent, or $13.9 million, when compared to the same election period for 1988 contests.

Highlights of the FEC report include:

* 1151 House candidates

- Raised $109.2 million and spent $79.7 million
- Received $52.4 million from individuals
- Received $41.9 million from PAC's
- Loaned their campaigns $4.5 million
- Began the second quarter of 1990 with $89.1 million cash-on-hand

* 118 Senate candidates

- Raised $83 million and spent $47 million
- Received $56.2 million from individuals
- Received $19.6 million from PAC's
- Loaned their campaigns $2 million
- Began the second quarter of 1990 with $49.4 million cash-on-hand

Tables attached to this release offer summary data for Senate and House candidates by political party as well as by candidate status (incumbent, challenger, or open seat.) Comparable information is provided for 1988 and 1986.

Senate candidates are listed with information on their financial activity dating back to 1985. Some of this activity may relate to prior elections and should not automatically be presumed to be part of the candidates' 1990 election effort.

All House candidates are listed, with separate pages detailing the amounts raised and spent by candidates involved in the 10 special elections held thus far.

Rankings are provided for both Senate and House candidates, with separate rankings for House incumbents, challengers, and open seat candidates.
