PAC'S CONTRIBUTE OVER $63 MILLION TO 1989-90 CONGRESSIONAL CAMPAIGNS

WASHINGTON -- Political action committees contributed more than $63 million to federal candidates during the first 15 months of the 1989-90 election cycle, up $7 million, or 13%, over the same period in 1987-88, and an increase of $21 million, or 51%, over 1985-86, according to a report issued today by the Federal Election Commission.

The report, which is based on the activity of 4,517 registered political action committees, found that PAC's raised $219 million and spent $173 million from January 1, 1989, through March 31, 1990. This represents a 2% increase in fundraising and a 7% increase over the same 15-month period in 1987-88.

PAC's also reported giving $10.3 million to national, state and local political party committees involved in federal elections.

Fifty-seven percent of all registered PAC's reported contributions to federal candidates. For the same time period in 1987-88, 59%, or 2,671 PAC's out of 4,527, reported direct support of federal candidates.

Much of the increase in direct support by PAC's occurred in House races, which received 18% more money than in 1988. Senate candidates saw a modest increase of 3%. Contributions to House candidates totalled $43.6 million, while Senate candidates received $20 million.

The tables on the following pages provide comparative information on PAC finances for several election cycles. The first table compares 15-month totals for the '90, '88 and '86 elections. The second shows PAC contributions by candidate status (incumbent, challenger, open seat) for 1977 through 1990. The last table details contributions by PAC's during the current cycle, including statistics for PAC activity with regard to all federal candidates and the contributions made only to those candidates seeking election this cycle. (Several million PAC dollars are contributed each cycle to candidates seeking to retire debts or raise money for future elections.)

Rankings of the largest PAC's follow the tables.

NOTE: Figures and percentages on this release differ from those on the FEC's summary of 15-month Congressional activity. This is because the information comes from different reports. While PAC's may have reported making contributions, candidate committees may not have to report receipt of those funds until the next filing deadline. Also, the line on campaign reports indicating PAC receipts may include money from other sources, such as state and federal candidates' committees.
